You still awaiting that "Premium RX", Gregg? How long does it take? Is it being shipped from Mars? I have several of my top receivers being repaired by a tech in Michigan, for free. I bet I get my radios back before you "claim" to receive your's.

Had my pictures taken today by a professional photo-grapher for the award I'm receiving as the state's Most Dramatic Lecturer. But I couldn't help thinking about you. You deserve an award as the Most Dramatic Nit-Wit in Radio History!

Now, don't forget to suck up to Lare, today! You need to impress your troll sock puppets...

[Yawn...]

Sheesh, I just notice all kinds of misspellings and grammatical errors. At least I have a reason, I type fast and I type with emotion.
You type....errr try an type like someone educated and trying to prove

What are you trying to say Mike? I think I know. Are you saying Obama's is retarded for the Afghan war or Steele for saying what he did....or both of them are "window lickers"? Which I wouldn't disagree on either front. ;-)

Steele reminds me of Baghdad Bob... Most everything he says is such an OBVIOUS lie that it's really sort of funny. And every time he does tell the truth, Limbaugh drags him out for it.

The Aghan war (in this incarnation) started about two weeks after 9/11/2001.
Pretty hard for that to be "Obama's war", just because it got put on the back burner so that we could go kill people in Iraq. Definate piss poor set of priorities there..

Where's Bin Laden?

Dude, you are truly psychotic. Over the edge. What you claimed (and I made fun of) was not that the USSR would collapse.
They collapsed in about 1990. Our discussion was after 2000!!
You claimed that Revelations foretold the re-emergence of the Soviets and that they were the "Magog" mentioned in Revelations that would usher in Armageddon. You can't even keep your nonsense straight. Are you smoking dope? Must be...

The point is that the GOP supports Obama's policy of involvement in Afghanistan! You can't even keep straight what the Republican Party supports! Steele flip-flopped from earlier statements he had made defending an expansion of troops in Afghanistan.
It is REPUBLICANS that are now demanding he resign. QUICK, send them your stupid Biblical analysis, so they'll recognize the error of their ways...

As a Tea Party sign might read - You are truly a "Moran"!

And that's not a misspelling!

LOL, you're a lying fool. Just proven.

You really think that's a subliminal compliment on my part?
Wow. Given what I have clearly expressed about your intellectual capabilities, I think anyone with a modicum (run and look it up) of intelligence will recognize it as an insult to a troll. Saying that they're stupider than you is hardly complimenting your obviously low IQ. Perhaps more English and logic courses back in high school might have been recommended for you, Gregg.

Have a nice day, little guy!

Is Bryant so stoned out of his mind that he thinks "If they come in my house, they're likely to think they've stumbled into KGB master control center." ?

He then of course moved on to receiving an award for being a "Dramatic Lecturer" and then the "Neanderthals".

Somewhere in the mix, he mentioned "psychotic", which of course he is!

Still trying trying to master reading comprehension, Steve? Don't worry, I'm sure you won't really ever need it....

Funny story related to the KGB Master Center: When I lived out in Utah, my landlord lived in the apartment above me. He had just gone through a nasty custody battle in his divorce and he also had the habit of using his master key to enter apartments unannounced. Once when I was gone for about a week traveling with my debate team, I got back to find an eviction notice tacked to my door. When I asked why he was attempting to evict me, he let me know he had entered my apartment and seen what he called "all the surveillance equipment". He said it was obvious that I was a private investigator hired by his wife to keep tabs on him. Took several days a phone calls from my university to finally convince him I really was a teacher.

And you are clearly a "Neanderthal". You prove it daily. Mike from Canada is the one in charge of recording your daily idiocies. He does a damn good job!

I'll save a copy of the article of the magazine article mentioning my academic awards. It's coming out in the August edition.

Keep drinking, Steve. The weekend's just beginning!

Dramatic lecturing is looked on as a good quality in teaching, as it keeps the students paying attention. Much unlike your very Well, my sister is a lawyer, but not one handling defamation cases. She's an administrative lawyer with the state of KY, handling state enforcement of laws against coal companies caught violating their mining permits. You'd probably even like her, Steve, because she's a very right-wing Republican.

But there's no shortage of lawyers, Steve. And with the new internet harassment laws recently put into effect, I can only urge you to keep talking, Steve.

Three days to explore the inner recesses of Steve Lare's mind.
I think this could be fun!

Let's turn this into a drinking game (beverage choice of your own). We all have to take a drink every time Steve posts with a one-line response. Twice when he also uses the word "'tard".

Gregg, you better stick to something non-alcoholic. You're stupid enough, already. You couldn't possibly afford any decrease in IQ brought on by drunkenness.

MWB here I thought that "DX" meant 'Distance'

Distance from Auckland NZ to Louisville KY

-or- 7100 Nautical Miles roughly a 1/3 of the way around the world sure do sound like 'dx' to me ~ RHF

One tip for you, clown 'tard academic: If one claims to be "harassed", one blows one's case totally away by urging that individual that one feels "harassed" by to keep talking.

Check that out with your "sister" whom you claim is a "lawyer".

You can "absolutely guarantee" me nothing pal. I can PROMISE you this Mike, if you had the info of what I KNOW - - not only of what went down "out there" - - but other pertininent info on you - -if it was all reversed around you would have said something longgggg ago.....just be careful. And I will admit this much, when I was new to the computer you "scared me" - not in the "you are going to whoop my ass" - because that....how do I say it? Me on my worst day and you on your best....ain't happening. But I was new and was warned of lunatics and spiteful people and in some cases - things got "literally" personal on usenet from what I was told/warned at times and I knew enough about your writing and style (through my years of studying said things) that I wanted to know what I may be dealing with. Of course, I found out what a nut you are from your own vitriol, not the dangerous kind - but simply someone who wants to be even bigger than they really are - like I guess most of us do at times in all honesty. And my checking started before, not right before.....but close to five months before your last fiasco with me when I decided enough was enough and Krypsie was introduced into the crotch of your pants and vice versa.

Because I know MY character in comparison towards yours. If you knew about me what I know about you.....you would be changing screen names and going through an anonymous newsgroup and "dumping it" for everyone to see.

Like I have said over five times (I think) - it is just your nature. It isn't mine. But I know nothing is slander if it's the truth. That IS the bottom LEGAL line and trust me....please if you haven't ever listened to anyone on usenet before.....trust me....I am the wrong one to mess with when it comes to getting info. Now if you want to employ the ole' challenge you did to Ace a while back - I will accept that challenge on my own timetable and "dump it" when I see fit and how I see fit and to who I see fit. Kinda like my fake "Premium RX' ;-) This isn't me "getting with friends to find out info" or a "49.99 Info Check" or all the stupid kinds of background checks on the internet. Those are childs play and show nothing to me that I can't find out on my own in one hour to an hour an a half of my own time. Those kinds of checks only scratch the surface and in some cases - if someone was busted for something years back - that doesn't mean that is how they are today and I don't hold that against them. EVERYONE (including me) has skeletons in their closet. EVERYONE (including me) try an "show their best face" in meeting someone for the first time. But I learned a while back that people aren't always what they appear to be (burned-not since though) and I find it fascinating.....and I'll even go as far as to say (like I said with The Bankok Banger and don't get a big head) that I find you fascinating also. I really do.

I let you do it to me for yearssss and took your pot shots at not just me (I can handle that) but you took them at my faith and you took them at my God and yours - - and I'm not even including the political crap which in a way.....neither poster or postee is going to change anyones mind. No one changes anyones mind on usenet, there may be a few - my mind was changed on one subject matter some years back - but it doesn't happen much in regards to anyones thought process.

> I'm tired > of your lies suggesting I do.

Watch it. ;-) And it depends on what you mean "suggesting" means.

> Personally, I don't think there's > anything wrong with doing so

Of course. We all know that by your actions where you had no choice BUT to admit it. But why was it that - for years before you got busted out at Weber St. with the male student (Danny) in your hotel room that you railed and railed on anyone that did drugs in RRS and other groups? Now, I don't know THAT for a fact, but I know it was said time and time again that you spoke up against drugs till you got busted and that's why many reveled in your bust and called you a hypocrite (I could waste more of my time to find it- if you say otherwise though) If I am wrong or slightly mistaken about that....I expect you to correct me and I will apologize, because I don't like when things are said about me <heh> that aren't true and posted by 'someone' that is attempting to make the group feel it is someone else. ;-)

> but I make sure my students know > that if they do, they need to stop.

Huh? Either you are FLAT OUT LYING AGAIN or one or more of your students questioned you about the facts they know about you from Weber St. in Utah where you were arrested on a school sponsored event and found to be in possesion of pot and paraphenalia in a hotel room with a male student.

I don't like to tell much of my personal history, because - well....that is my personal history. I did seven years in college (not in a row) and NOT ONE TIME did I ever have a teacher ......or know of one who had a teacher (and I would have known-bank on it) that said "I make sure my students know if they do (drugs)....they need to stop".

Why is it that in my short time of knowing you - that I reach a lot of "firsts"? Like I said a couple of days ago, I have NEVER heard of a teacher....and I will add....or know of someone that knows someone that is a PROVEN teacher.....on usenet that spouts off about awards.....or even that they are a college teacher and ESPECIALLY with your history on usenet and the personal vendettas and outright mean and spiteful things you say about ANYONE that does not agree with you or questions you and you don't like it.

Huh? ROTF - why was it that my teacher/teachers NEVER said anything to anyone (that I know of) about substance abuse or randoms? And the advantage I have over you in saying this - is that I DO KNOW what you do for a living and you DON'T know what I do. I'm in one of MANY fields (from my schooling) that deal with liars everyday - it's just part of the job, from itty bitty white lies -- --too lying by omission - - too looking you square in the eyes and lying to your face". Nothing was ever said to anyone of us about randoms/testing because it's freeking common sense UNLESS the one telling you is "giving you the low down" so too speak from personal experience because they don't want to happen to you what happened to them....lol.

> If you send me your address, I'll be happy to send you copies

Do you really think for a minute Michael, that I would send you my address? I mean, really do you? Of course not.<rolling my eyes> This is simply another ploy or head game to try an convince people in this group and "others" that "may be" reading your mumbo jumbo to buy what you're trying to sell. I know what you're capable of if push came to shove.....just via internet - (I see what you have said to and about Steve/Peter/Kevin and countless others over the years- worse in vitriol than Kramer). You made fun of Peter losing use of a leg and you made fun of someones family member commiting suicide - not face to face though - no matter how skilled you feel you are in debating. I don't debate. I deal with facts and there is no debate or grey area when dealing with me when it comes to someone such as yourself. There is NO WAY POSSIBLE anyone could EVER bring a defamation case against me via usenet through my ISP or in real life face to face dealings - because I go overboard in showing what I know and it makes it very easy for a judge if the idiot is unrepresented and/or if he/she is represented and their attorney takes a look in the "discovery" process - it will stop right there unless I then want to flip things around.

>These tests > have to be certified and will prove to you that you ought to Number one buddy (and I don't mean it literally FWIW) - you better watch that fresh mouth of yours. You aren't scaring me with that type of talk. Know what the legal definition of slander is in both states and in both states via internet. And not to get all technical with you...lol....but the tests (drugs) aren't "certified" either - and I'll go even further (not that it's that big a deal) in saying that I don't buy that they draw blood either. It's just a urine. I mean, did you just make a mistake in using that word (certified) or did you think by using that word that it was going to make it that more believable? I'll be honest AGAIN with you Michael, I don't know if you get high. I really don't. It's not "up there" on my "thing to do list". But I could. Ohhhhh believe me - when I say I could. :-) That isn't a threat either, because I have no reason or inclination to find out if you do, to be quite frank I could freeking care less. If you didn't learn your lesson from the time you were caught till now.....and be honest with ALL OF US IN HERE ......it's not like that was the first time you ever got high while teaching at Weber St. was it? I mean, lets get all our "honesty cards" out on the table, I smoked pot before - I will be honest about it. I had to not only submit a blood test but also a polygraph test with a follow up after that. I think the last time I got high was when I was between nineteen and twenty years old. I know I wasn't twenty one, I know that for a fact. Because I grew up and came to the consensus THAT IT IS ILLEGAL!!! But you just don't turn off at your age that "I am going to stop because this is illegal or my livelihood". Studies actually show that it entrenches that person EVEN MORE into it (if they get busted), with the thinking of "no one is going to tell me what to do" - - - and they make efforts to "work around it".....not saying you're doing that either.....but most do. I am sure you are the ones that gave it up. I truly hope you did.

Ha! Damn, you've brought it up more than I have. You'd think you were getting it. I know the list of your "top receivers" and NOT ONE is considered a "Premium RX" - - again - - that there is the facts. Forget my receiver Michael, this is all about you. :-)

Yeah, Kramer maybe? <snort> Michael, do you "really" think any of us care....I mean "really"? LOL - I know I don't....lol...I see enough of your "dramatics" and shuck and jive in here. Like I said before, you could win Ky. Teacher Of The Century award and I wouldn't look at you any different than I do now. That is a fact and I am sorry (truly I am - really) if it hurts your feelings or doesn't give you the lift or emotional jolt you were looking for when you typed that and hit the send buttom.

> But I couldn't help thinking about you.

I have got to ask you this....lol.<sigh> Do you "really" think about Steve and myself like you say you do in many of your posts? I'm being serious. I mean, when you're out in your world - do you HONESTLY think of me? I don't feel flattered if the answer is yes, it really kinda creeps me out, not in a scary way.....but I guess in a sad way. Please Michael, when you get all these awards that you have worked so hard for and finally attained - please don't think of me. Just think of how many......errr never mind. But I can PROMISE YOU that I won't think about you again till I log on and check my lists emails and two other sites AND THEN I will log onto google. But this is the third group I check, there are two others that take priority over this. THEN - I will think of you when I am reading your crap.

Mary Hopkin, definitely and without a doubt! Dragged out an old LP just to hear her voice again singing that song!!

Never liked the Cream version. Odd style!

They still play Mary's old song on the radio here every now and then! That said, AM station 3MP was one of the stations that played this sort of music and I notice, with quite some dismay, that it is going to the "talk radio" format!!!!!

http://radionews.com.au/?p=2983

AM seems to be relegated to either talk, sport or cultural formats these days. 3MP was pretty much the last holdout! The FM stations just don't have quite the same mix as 3MP.

I've an LP here by Mary Hopkin (Apple Records) entitled Earth Song/Ocean Song.
My favourite tune on it is 'Streets of London'.

Ugh, I can't get it - I don't think. :-(I get 880 but not 890.

Maybe if I fire up the Hammarlund, but I couldn't find 880 on my

Have you thought that he might just not be lying (in the ethical sense).
You see, he might truly believe in the garbage he spouts. Technically, it's not a lie per se. Misguided? Possibly! Delusional? Definitely but not really a lie!

There exists on this earth people who believe garbage no matter how much evidence to the contrary you throw their way. Gregg is living proof of that!

I think it's the weed he's smoking!

Yes, our 'rezident' clown 'tard academic, (you know, the one with the 'KGB master control center' in his home), is totally clueless as to the law.

He really needs to get in touch with his "sister", the "lawyer".

What the heck, Bryant, our clown 'tard homeboy, spent a lot of time trying to obtain a PhD, but, he could not. However, he certainly felt compelled to lie about having one.

BA - I don't follow enough of Steele to have an opinion one way or the other but I do know this much- whenever anyone tells me "here, you can CLEARLY see this" Red Flags Go Up or in your case you said " 'Most' everything he says is such an 'OBVIOUS' lie that it's really sort of funny". It kind of makes me do a double take. And then you say " EVERY TIME he DOES tell the truth, Limbaugh drags it out of him".

So which is it? Is it "most every thing is such an obvious lie" OR "EVERY TIME he DOES tell the truth" etc. Like I said, I don't have a dog in this fight, I was just asking Mike2 about his post and he hasn't even answered it yet. ;-)

Gregg, that was because they didn't expect a kindergarten dropout to be aware of such things and deemed it unnecessary!

Man, this is one hell of a convoluted sentence Gregg! Did you not learn anything about sentence structure in your remedial literacy classes?
Certainly you learnt naught of punctuation!

Drug tests are "certified" if they are carried out by qualified and licensed medical practitioners in an approved manner!

Oh I get it. When you are under 21, it is legal to smoke dope in your country. Once you turn 21, it becomes illegal. That's why you felt compelled to stop smoking dope!

Between you and Batman and Robin I swear you are all bent. I never said that you big fat (and yes you are over weight) liar. There is no "re-emergence of the Soviet Union" because they never totally collapsed to have to re emerge you tool. You're not arguing with me here pal. And after all this crap you have been spewing, who in the heck are you to be talking about "smoking dope"? You freeking stoner...lol...<rolling my eyes> Here it is, you have been busted for smoking pot with a male student in a hotel room on a school sponsored trip....lol....and you're talking to someone that doesn't even smoke cigarettes? I knew it wouldn't take long for your knife-wielding "Rambo" alter-ego to emerge! Here's another thing I teach students:
conciseness. Never take five thousand words to say what you mean. It conveys uncertainty and outright deception.

I'll try to keep this response short. It should be easy.

1. You're an idiot. You might be an idiot with bluster, but you're an idiot.

2. You should know that they can detect THC via either urine or blood. Both of mine are checked every two months by my doctor for the last five years. Remember, I had a stroke five years ago. Use your super-sleuth powers, Greggbo. My insurance company requires certification of the results. The offer stands. Give me a post office box if you don't want to give out your address.

3. I'm also tired of your inferences that I'm gay. While there is nothing wrong with being gay, I am not. None of your awesome detection has produced any evidence to the contrary. My daughter still lives at home. I was a debate coach for over 20 years. That profession involves extensive travel to tournaments on a fixed budget. All debate coaches share rooms with their debaters while on the road, often with four or five people packed in a room. That's a fact that you could easily find out about.

4. I tell my students not to smoke pot (or do other drugs) because I teach Job Interviewing skills to inner city students who are about to be starting high-tech jobs.
Many of them don't know that most jobs in KY require drug screening and random testing. Those are also facts.
I do admit to them that I've smoked pot, but try to share with them the professional necessity of not doing so.
Many of them have thanked me for being being direct and honest with them. You have alluded to my Linked In bio.
If you have read it, you should know what my students
(of both genders) say about me.

5. I have never made fun of Maus for losing his legs.
I don't why you say such horrible things. I never even knew this until you pointed it out. I also find it very amazing that you seem to be fixated on my past, but have no problem at all with Strom being an avowed Nazi that has served actual time in prison for child pornography, a crime that I accused him of way back of in the 1990's. Even other Nazis say he's too sexually weird for them to tolerate. But, hey, that's no problem for you, right?

That's enough. You're a fool. But you're also psychotic.
Psychotics need to be dealt with before they have a chance to hurt others. You don't scare me. But, please keep on talking. Others need to see you for exactly what you really are.

The fact that you align yourself with Steve Lare and the trolls, by itself, tells most people all they need to know about you.

I'd still love to meet you face-to-face. Place or venue of your choice. You've got nothing to worry about. I can hardly walk, much less threaten you physically! So, why are you such a cowardly, sniveling, cyber-bully? Men should have the courage to throw their insults face-to-face.

I wonder if she is as "spot on" as you told me she was years back when I started in here.;-) I wished you could refresh me on the details of that.....hmmm...<thinking hard> yep - I bet you don't remember - but I do. :-) That's what I'm talking about, you're such a bullshitter AND you teach our kids <shaking my head> and people in this country wonder what is going wrong. 1. I am not gay.
2. You're the one that appears to have sexual identity problems. You accuse other of being gay, constantly.
3. Bear is a family name attached to the Bryant family. Paul "Bear Bryant, the former coach at Alabama, is a distant relative and I assure you that despite showering with other men, he was not gay.
4. Use your super-sleuth powers to look it up. Other Bryants use to be on RRS before people, like you, drove them off. It's one of the most common surnames in KY.

Can you act any more like a 13-year old?

Heck, that's nothing to brag about, had your 'daughter' attended the Sullivan College of Technology & Design she'd now be gainfully employed like the other '95%' of the graduates and she'd have had her own place to live!

Difficulty of reception factors into whether a log is considered DX, RHF. Australia is even further away, but I don't consider 9580 in the local mornings to be true DX. It booms in like a local station. Now, Australian broadcasts on 13630 or 11660 in the middle of the local afternoon are considered DX, in my opinion.

Definitely, Mary Hopkins. I hadn't heard that recording in Hey, clown 'tard, your 'opinion' no longer matters.

Best you just hunker down in your 'KGB master control center' and wait for the big one.

Yes they did!

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ussr

A referendum for the preservation of the USSR was held on March 17, 1991, with the majority of the population voting for preservation of the Union in nine out of 15 republics. The referendum gave Gorbachev a minor boost, and, in the summer of 1991, the New Union Treaty was designed and agreed upon by eight republics which would have turned the Soviet Union into a much looser federation.
The signing of the treaty, however, was interrupted by the August Coupï¿½an attempted coup d'ï¿½tat against Gorbachev by hardline Communist Party members of the government and the KGB, who sought to reverse Gorbachev's reforms and reassert the central government's control over the republics. After the coup collapsed, Yeltsinï¿½who had publicly opposed itï¿½came out as a hero while Gorbachev's power was effectively ended. The balance of power tipped significantly towards the republics.
In August 1991, Latvia and Estonia immediately declared restoration of full independence (following Lithuania's 1990 example), while the other twelve republics continued discussing new, increasingly looser, models of the Union.

On December 8, 1991, the presidents of Russia, Ukraine and Belarus signed the Belavezha Accords which declared the Soviet Union dissolved and established the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) in its place. While doubts remained over the authority of the Belavezha Accords to dissolve the Union, on December 21, 1991, the representatives of all Soviet republics except Georgia, including those republics that had signed the Belavezha Accords, signed the Alma-Ata Protocol, which confirmed the dismemberment and consequential extinction of the USSR and restated the establishment of the CIS. The summit of Alma-Ata also agreed on several other practical measures consequential to the extinction of the Union. On December 25, 1991, Gorbachev yielded to the inevitable and resigned as the president of the USSR, declaring the office extinct. He turned the powers that until then were vested in the presidency over to Boris Yeltsin, president of Russia.

The following day, the Supreme Soviet, the highest governmental body of the Soviet Union, recognized the bankruptcy and collapse of the Soviet Union and dissolved itself. This is generally recognized as the official, final dissolution of the Soviet Union as a functioning state. Many organizations such as the Soviet Army and police forces continued to remain in place in the early months of 1992 but were slowly phased out and either withdrawn from or absorbed by the newly independent states.

Following the dissolution of the Soviet Union on December 25, 1991, Russia was internationally recognized[31] to be the legal successor to the Soviet state on the international stage. To that end, Russia voluntarily accepted all Soviet foreign debt, and claimed overseas Soviet properties as its own. Since then the Russian Federation has been exercising its rights and fulfilling its obligations.

Well, Gregg, if you've read the excerpt from Wikipedia that I pasted in above, you may come to the realisation, as we all have, that it is you who is spewing crap. Pay particular attention to the line above which states;
"Following the dissolution of the Soviet Union on December 25, 1991,"

You don't smoke cigarettes because they wouldn't allow that in kinder,

Gregg, as I look on these recent posts today and yesterday, I see that YOU and your troll friends figure quite highly in the posting ratios.
You are the troublemaker here Gregg. You only post radio stuff now and then to build up a little credibility and then you, and your new troll friends, set out to blast your perceived enemies.

You are truly a sad (mad) case!

Yes, I think I've always agreed with BrendaAnn, with the possible exception of us disagreeing over whether a woman has the right to choose to have an abortion. As a matter of fact, I think YOU were the one that backchanneled me asking, in the manner of a 12 year old, whether BA was really a "she". Given my long and documentable history of defending GLBT rights on RRS, I believe I responded that she is what she chooses to be.

You, on the other hand, are a lying idiot, no matter what other you seek to don.

Yep, the typos and bellicose rhetoric seem to be accelerating. All typical signs of frustration in a

Yeah, most people might be considered to be the 'little guy' when compared to you, fat boy.

Heck, you most likely drip grease when you walk around, and are probably more of a pollution hazard than BP's leaking well.

Krypsis,

Gregg is one of those folks that never let actual facts get in their way of twisting reality to their own ends. He constantly makes up facts and then cites himself as the source.

Also, notice how over the last 12 hours that even the trolls seem hesitant to defend Gregg? What comraderie!

4083. Antenna Question For Handhelds

Newsgroup: rec.radio.shortwave

Hello,

Enjoy sw listening, but frankly not all that sharp re antennas.

Over the past few months, I have seen several ads for those handheld sw receivers and transceivers. From different mfgs.
About the size of the typical hand-held scanner receiver.

They all seem to cover up to at least 30 MHz, and most beyond.

Got to thinking about this a bit.
What do they use for an antenna for 30 MHz and below ?

I have a long end fed antenna for my listening.
Obviously they have a shosrt "something".

How effective is a short "something" around 5 to 10 MHz, e.g. ?

How can it work down there at all ?

Or, do they expect you to hook up something "decent" to it, even though it is supposed to be portable, and is very small ?

Any technical explanation on this would be mosgt appreciated.

Thanks,
Bob

No, unlike you, I wanted to get out there and start working.
It might be old-fashioned about me, but I feel that earning my wages is the right thing to do. And, I never found the lack of a doctorate degree to get in the way of academic jobs.

But, of course, you can't understand that.

Not to pick nits, I make the same mistake regularly. I'll get this out while while it's still fresh in my mind ....A slander is committed in spoken form. Libel happens when the same lie or defamation is done in print. You would be launching a Libel action against him.

OK, so you claim to have had a 'stroke' five years ago. Just how does that explain the fact that you claimed to have had a PhD c. ten years ago?

OK, but that still doesn't explain why you 'claimed' to have that PhD, Mr. Debate!

I really did have a stroke five years ago that left me unable to walk, talk, or even swallow. Took a while to come back, but since then I have gone through extensive therapy and medical monitoring. Ask your cousin, Burr. I explained it all to him during my rehab, when he was asking me to return to posting on RRS. I disagree strongly with Burr's politics, but he does have a heart. I respect him in a way that I don't think I could ever respect you. He's always made the effort to check on me, whether I was posting to RRS or not.

But my stroke and my level of educational attainment have absolutely no connection. Why should they? Even your insults are nonsensical, Steve.

Well, one will have to check that statement out with not only your postings on RRS but with your employer as well.

Interesting "stories" told by Steve Lare:

1. I'm employed. (Disproven and finally admitted to after caught posting logs 24 hours a day.)

2. I'm announcing that I am leaving this newsgroup. (Didn't leave for a single day!)

3. While in the Navy, I actually helped in the search for Pol Pot. (Later denied)

4. I just got through a long motorcycle trip.
(Later retracted after it was pointed out that it might disqualify him from receiving disability)

5. I'm a Native American from the Miami tribe,
I don't worship God, but Native spirits, instead.
(Hogwash, you don't worship anything besides your Drakes!)

We won't get into your supposed degrees or what others have backchanneled me about your departure from the Armed Forces.

You're sick, Steve. When you decide to finally seek help, let me know. I'll do whatever I can to help you.

It's the same theory as GWB's tax cuts. Putting more income in their hands increases the demand for goods and services, thus creating jobs.

As usual, ignoring the fact that Pelosi's plan to stimulate the

What do you think the unemployed do with UE benefits?
They spend the money, just like income. Stimulating demand and jobs in the same fashion.

Explain what's wrong with the logic, Mr. Economics Degree.

No, the Reagan and Bush tax cuts allowed people to keep their own money that they had previously had to pay to the government.

Unemployment 'checks' are merely a 'handout' from the government.
What I would like to see, in this era of 'extended' unemployment benefits is a requirement for the recipients to perform some sort of work.

ummm, looks like RHF missed the boat on this one.

Now RHF, seeing as you are on a roll, why don't you go straighten out Mr. Steele about "Obama's Afghanistan war" -- that happened to have been started by G.W. Bush. Better do it quick though -- even a majority of the Repubs are talking about dumping that moron. Even they are getting tired of somone with such an intractable case of foot-in-mouth disease.

Hold on though...Steele really is quite entertaining. Maybe they should keep him around for a bit.

Bwahahahahahaha....

What the heck, the Democrats kept Byrd 'hanging' around for a long time too.

He was certainly eligible for embalming many, many years ago.

Will you ever break down and tell us what disability you have that justifies YOU receiving handouts from the gov't?

I think people on disability checks should have to perform some type of work. Are you a quadriplegic?

Hey, Mr. PhD, explain why your 'daughter' is still living at home.

No degree? No job opportunities? Drug use, and/or drug abuse?

Certainly, an individual who once 'claimed' to have a PhD would have found her some type of work.

No, Social Security Disability (and Social Security itself) is a benefit one pays for via extraction from ones paycheck.

http://3950.net/2010/07/liberty-net-june-26-2010/

by Kevin Strom, WB4AIO

SOME VERY DEEP analysis of world events was heard this week on amateur radioï¿½s most exciting net, the Liberty Net ï¿½ along with strong dissenting views. Intentional interference was almost entirely absent, as the jammer identified during the last net session has apparently slunk away in shame.

Here is a small sampling of what youï¿½ll hear on this weekï¿½s recording (the times given are when the subject was brought up, timed from the beginning of the recording):

ï¿½ An 86-year-old woman was recently tasered in her bed by a police-uniformed thug who didnï¿½t like her ï¿½attitude.ï¿½ Is such evil a consequence of the brutalization of our young men, caused by ordering them to commit atrocities in the Middle East? (3 hours 50 minutes)

ï¿½ Are private financial entities going to be acquiring large parts of sovereign nations in order to ï¿½foreclose ï¿½ on their unpayable ï¿½debtsï¿½? (1 hour 12 minutes)

ï¿½ Do the financial oligarchs have an agenda to eliminate the traditional American single family home? (1 hour 14 minutes)

ï¿½ Why has the regime in Washington rejected the help of the Belgians and the Danes in cleaning up the Gulf oil spill? And why has it similarly rejected the use of Kevin Costnerï¿½s oil/water separation technology, which is known to work effectively? (1 hour 31 minutes)

ï¿½ The election of Obama ï¿½ and the flooding of our nation with those to whom Constitutional liberty and the rule of law are alien concepts ï¿½ presage the end of our freedom. America may continue to exist in name only, but not in any meaningful sense. (2 hours 17 minutes)

ï¿½ Is possible to sink any lower than a society wherein the government claims the right to assassinate its citizens at will? That is what has happened right here in the former United States of America. (2 hours 32 minutes)

ï¿½ If we suddenly ï¿½wonï¿½ our losing war in Afghanistan, what exactly would we have ï¿½wonï¿½ that is of any use whatever to the American people? Does anyone even know why we are there? (Except, of course, the Zionists, who know very well: they are the motivating and controlling force behind the Washington regimeï¿½s illegal invasion and murder campaign there.) (3 hours 46 minutes)

ï¿½ Obama is only an employee of the international oligarchs. His bankster employers hate free-thinking, armed White Americans and they hate the original American republic ï¿½ and they intend on converting us, and all nations, into a kibbutz-style slave plantation. (4 hours 3 minutes)

ï¿½ The ethnically-distinct oligarchs who misrule us have no love for racial minorities ï¿½ but they use them for cheap labor, and to Balkanize us and racemix us out of existence. They have not yet successfully Balkanized or created a ï¿½minorityï¿½ problem in China, however. (4 hours 20 minutes)

ï¿½ Has a secret ï¿½Balfour Declarationï¿½ been agreed to by our illegal rulers, giving possession of the United States to foreign powers? Will ethnic cleansing be used here, just as it has in Palestine? (4 hours 27 minutes)

The Liberty Net is on the air every Saturday night at 10PM Eastern Time on or near (within 10 kHz or so) 3950 kHz lower sideband.

All our thanks go to N2SAG and N2IRJ and especially W1WCR for their hard work which makes the Liberty Net and its Internet adjuncts possible. Remember, you can download the Net right here at http://3950.net and listen in your gym or on your way to work or anywhere you choose.

And, as i recall, Social Security, and, Medicare taxes are NOT extracted from unemployment benefits, further proof that it is not considered to be 'income', regardless what your Clown 'Tard in Chief, Boy Barry thinks.

It's an active antenna. A rod less than a quarter wave long at the highest frequency of interest (including any lead) connected to an FET impedance converter/First RF amp. See superheterodyne receiver.

If you're thinking about buying one, be warned that most wide-coverage

Steele and Obama are both a couple of affirmative action clowns who, in a saner world, would still be living in Africa with flies crawling

I've first hand experience with that in Africa. Like another poster here, who works or did work for VOA, I myself visited several countries and certainly saw flies crawling over peoples faces.

Along the same lines, I think my absolute saddest experience was seeing the abject poverty of those in Haiti in the mid 70's.

BA - I don't follow enough of Steele to have an opinion one way or the other but I do know this much- whenever anyone tells me "here, you can CLEARLY see this" Red Flags Go Up or in your case you said " 'Most' everything he says is such an 'OBVIOUS' lie that it's really sort of funny". It kind of makes me do a double take. And then you say " EVERY TIME he DOES tell the truth, Limbaugh drags it out of him".

So which is it? Is it "most every thing is such an obvious lie" OR "EVERY TIME he DOES tell the truth" etc.

1) The two statements are not mutually exclusive.

2) It's not "drags it out of him", it's "drags him out for it (i.e. pulls him up on the carpet).

3) Even his own party has had reason to cringe most every time he takes the podium... this time nearly 100% of Republicans want him fired.

Radio First Termer - 6930 kHz USB - 2200UTC - ongoing / Weak at times. One rant about North Koreans blowing up tuna with missle tests. Gave a number of web sites: www.radiofirsttermer.com and www.daverabbit.podomatic.com and a few others I do not recall.
Continued with another bit by "Dave Rabbit" about computer repair call
- had Tiny Tim playing in the background. Still on - 2237UT.

Never lied to get a job. Lare took a conversation out of context. I have been in a doctorate program and finished all my doctorate classes with a 4.0 GPA.

> ~ Fired from Weber State...?

Actional defamation. I have never been fired from a job.

> ~ Smoking pot with students...?

I was never charged for that.

> ~ Bashing dxAce on rec.radio for calling you out...?

Steve Lare has been insulting people without justification since first entering this newsgroup. Our differences started long before.

> ~ Trying to hide and then coming back to UseNet in a blaze of > glory...?

I announced I was leaving and have left for significant periods of time, twice. My departure did nothing to stop constant attacks from Lare and the troll calling himself "Gregg". Lare announced his departure and was back the next day. He can't survive without constantly insulting people.

So, Rod, why are you here? I bet you don't even own a sort-wave radio! Go back to your bridge, troll. You stink.

Well Dave/Steve as you well know Robert Johnson is well known in Chiang Mai not as the person you like to describe him as but as a well known and respected business operator and a very generous supporter of local charities.
A fact that I can personally attest to.

Humble people like that don't seek to make a name for themselves, don't make up web pages boasting of their supposed talents, don't take out adverts in local papers blowing their own trumpets, don't invent various identities on the internet to try and run someone out of town all because they will NEVER reach the same status and respect in a community as Robert Johnson.

The fact that the Chiang Mai community finally saw through your hollow man act is a credit to them and to this day you are the laughing stock of the town.

Remember Dave/Steve that it's YOUR photo thats all over the net, proof of that special day YOU were arrested by the Thai Police for interferring with Thai citizens going about their daily work.

YOU are the guilty party here Dave/Steve and all the sock puppets in the world won't change that.

Keep trying though, we all enjoy laughing at you.

The best you could do, clown 'tard, was lie about having a PhD.

How does your daughter feel, about having poppa telling lies?

Have the bitch send me the letter!

Hey, 'Edurado', have your daughter get in touch with me, amigo

I just asked you to have the cunt send me a letter, boy.

Have the bitch send me a letter on her firms letterhead, boy.

Hey, have the bitch send me a letter

Have the bitch send me a f00kin letter!

I'll be waiting for that letter from your daughter, asshole!

Canucks need to be castrated.

Shame? Sorry, I'm not a dumbass Canuck. Blow me, boy.

Hey, buttfuck boy... try to pay attention, you little piece of non-listening excrement.

Why are the retards mostly dumbass Canucks?

Run along little Canucky dweeb.

One of my nicknames, starting around 1975 or so has been 'Raoul'

Well, now you know them, and you know me, Karl Mauritania!

Obviously you're just a retard boy who failed as a corporate manager.

Did I say it was, shit for brains?

Because you're a moron, Druggie!

Ace is doing ok!

They don't call me 'Ace' for nothing!

And you, just another retard on the short bus.

All of my DX is better than your DX no matter what I do.

Tenacity makes a great DX'er.

Well, I cann assure most everyone here that I've done 100% of my DX'ing without the help from anyone here, and I've had a moderate amount of success.

Then you yourself must be an even dumber clown DXer, 'tard boy!

You claim to be 'Cherokee'... I think you're just 'Wannabee'...

No need to do anything more productive than cash the checks, invest the money, do some DX'ing, and rile up the mentally ill Canucks!

Why is it that you queers always seem to SIGH a lot? (1)

LOLOLOLOLOLOL... what a damn dumb cunt you are!

Now get your homo ass working on that documentation, boy!

Give it a shot queer boys, I dare ya!Very tasty!

Cocksuckers such as your self.

Toss 'em all, especially the Canucks!

So, just why is it that you queers always seem to SIGH a lot? (2)

Now go suck on some sushi, you little miscreant.

I just asked you to have the cunt send me a letter, boy.

So, just why is it that you queers always seem to SIGH a lot? (3)

"I'm so obese I had to get the extra heavy duty plastic blow-up doll"

Let me sum up, you Canucks are assholes!

So, just why is it that you queers always seem to SIGH a lot? (4)

Hit the road, drug addled fool.

Shame on CanaDuh for killing thousands of people every day.

Be sure to tell the bitch to send me that letter, faggot!

get your bitch daughter to send me a letter

Inquiring minds want to know just why is it that you queers always seem to SIGH a lot? (5)

Have the bitch send me the letter!

Well, go tell your other cocksucking countrymen.

Hey, have the bitch send me a letter

You still haven't told us just why your 'daughter' is still living with you.

I can show her mine, and she can show me yours?

Ain't gonna happen, ya got no air farce, ya got no ne vuy, va goy nuthitin?

If you think for a moment that they'll listen to a drunken dumbass Canuck you'd be sadly mistaken!

Have the bitch send me a f00kin letter!

Now run along to wherever it is you little debutantes run off to...

I'll be waiting for that letter from your daughter, asshole!

Oh yeah, tell me baby...

Hey, little pussy boy, we spell it "cunt" out here, just like I think I spelled it originally, boy.

Never touched the skanky,,,

If I don't get that letter, boy, then you and your daughter must both be drunk, eh?

Finally shut you up, eh boy?

Have the bitch send me a letter on whatever letterhead YOU might make up.

Ain't that just speshul! He's got to go find somewun to fake him a lettter.

Have the bitch send me a letter on her firms letterhead, boy.

Great, then get your bitch daughter to send me a letter on her firms letterhead within the next two weeks!

Have your daughter draw up a contract, BOY!

Hey, 'Edurado', have your daughter get in touch with me, amigo

Guess that shut the little boy up!

I'm LMFAO, since I've busted the f00kin faggot!

You are after all a drug addled 'tard boy who obviously knows little about the SWL/DX hobby.

Go blow some IBO Cock, and leave the real radio hobbyists alone, OK?

Let the faggot boy prove it!

LMFAO at the f00kin faggot

Yes, I learn more and more with each passing day!

LMFAO at the pathological liar!

Lying 'tard boy, much like the other debutante, malcontent, faux boys who inhabit the lace we call RRS.

You, on the other hand are nothing more than a sorry little homosexual 'tard

And you are nothing more than the typical Liberal/Democrat/Marxist/Socialist clown 'tard, boy!

Liar, liar, pantalunes on fire! (1)

New history will be made when we crush CanaDuh!

Kan you just imagining that, you little faggot Cannucky boy?

Anybody, even Bozo, is worth more than some dumbass, faggot, Canuck!

Get busy, boy!

But you can't prove it, retard boy!

I know you faggots have dreams

Blow it out your ass, you dumbass Canadian! You and the rest of your dumbass countrymen, and women too!

You'd not be very happy if I returned, little bitch boy!

Go get some IBOCock, 'tard boy, and bring home a taste for yer mama.

Go give your boyfriend a blow job!

Talk about misery, you're in f00kin CanaDuh, boy!

Poor little cocksucker just had it handed to him

Eh? You sum dumass Canucuy bithyboy...

As long as it screws you Canucks, I'm a happy camper!

That's because you're a fucking liar!

Cry me a f00kin river.

Awwwww... the poor whiny dumbass Canuck is back at it again today.

Huh... you be just another stupid white boy outta Cleveland...

I suggest you get together with your "significant other" and bump butt with each other,

Because I hate White Boy Canucks who suck cock...

Best you shuffle down the alley! That's what your mama wanted!

Crazy Retarded Australian People?

"Even 2 cents is more than a totally worthless Canuck"

You can preDICK all you want, you fraudulent cock sucking, pathologically lying old bastard boy!

Hey, dumbfuck Canuck, I was not asked to leave!

I don't use Chink stuff

I went and bought ammo... I still gots it case them tard boys such as edweena gets stirred up.

And 10,000 rounds isn't a lot.

It was Russian ammo. I don't like the Chinese stuff.

Now where did I put that other case of ammo..

I don't use Chink ammo.

That's not Canuckian, boy!

Kiss my ass, pedant!

I'm LMFAO, Mr. Gay-Lick!

Obfuscate, you little prancer!

Thing is, you 'tards are pretty fixated upon one set of parameters.
That is after all why you are considered to be 'tards!

As always, your head is up your f00kin ass.

You fuckin' Liberal asswipes are always ready to give somebodys else's goodies away...

And, hopefully, my dumbass cousin in Mill Valley will leave me her Corvette.

Obviously, you leep your head up your f00kin ass all day long.

Liar, liar, pantalunes on fire! (2)

Apparently you are the 'bendover boy'....

Oh, I certainly have, time after time.

At least I went farther than you!

Good lubricant for you and the boys?

It's what dxAce uses!

A circle jerk, if you will.

that's good enough for me!

One can never slide the BS by dxAce

Not as well as you, fudge pack.

Go for it, dumbass!

Oh come on... it's Fall forward and Spring back. Everyone knows that!

Hit the road, drug addled fool.

Hey, I love kickin' gay-lick ass!

Pretty much what I indicated to you a while back, you f00kin prancer.

The only thing you know about short wave is that that is what your mother gave you when she sent your f00kin ass packin' outta Cleveland.

Screw the drug addled retards.

Nah, I only attack the messenger when he/she/it is obviously drug addled.

Well, in you, we have a drug addled retard in our midst.

Get over it, you fake Hispanic piece of excrement.

And when you do confront HD, you'll have Cocksucker Dave and
The Prancer Boys to thank for it.

Damn... I'm of mixed race ancestry myself, what ever should I do?

Next time we come over the pond once again to save your sorry ass's we'll have to dismantle that stuff.

Heck, I bought 1000 shares of FSEAX the other day.

Don't do business with the Huntington Investment Company, in particular a fellow named Joseph Klein.

Not at all, we are both Miami Indians. ya got a problem with that, boy?

Then hit the road, you drug addled retard.

Just like you wish that you worked for me, retard!

Proven time and time again, fudge pack.

Dey done unnerstannn that us nateev boyyys R real Mericans!

I sure he is.

Insert your Gay-Lick reply here, boy:

And yet another Liberal rant

Nah, he was fake little cock sucker like you!

Your pathological lying is an offense to me, and more than likely an offense to God as well.

No medications here, cock sucker boy..

Stuff a watermelon up it

But that stuff isn't what dxAce uses!

Come on now, you being a nice Liberal, Carbon Footprint, Al Gore, Cock Sucking kinda Canuck Bastard..

I won R plantation up nord, dat dem dum ass Canuckys be oween us, ya be 'standin me?

CanaDuh is stupidity!

Stupid little pussy faggot!

Liar, liar, pantalunes on fire! (3)

Mr. Edweenie, the forces of Good are gonna come visit your sorry fake Hispanic White Boy Ass if you keep it up!

Pay attention, cock sucker...

You've done this before, cock sucker...

LMFAO at yet another dumb friggin Canuck..

I spit a wee bit of Guinness earlier!

Oh damn, I guess we pissed another wanker off, Cuz..

I get my ride be fixed, I be cruisin to be givin ya da shake, yu be knowin, eh?

Try again, shithead.....

Dem Canucky boyz are dumaz rasissts..

Nah, I'm just more intelligent than you are.

We gone be sen u to sumplac bad boy... u be so bad weben the reel Canuckys won wan u.

Fookin bustards! Like Edweenie!

Best you wake up soon... fookin retard leetle beetch..

Indeed, I'm now at WAR with Canuckistan..

May the Great Spirit help the hapless bastards.

At any rate, I'd bet it beats the Canucky Third World state of care...

CanaDuh sucks...

Wanna go to war, shit head?

You folk really think ya got balls?

Think you might win? Think you got a chance?

If you don't... I'd keep my fookin Canucky mouth shut, boy...

Meanwhile, I plan for the Spring campaign, looking forward to the Blind River Massacre.

I collect stamps!

Many SW portables do have adequate sensitivity to perform well below 30 Mhz with the built-in whip, or a fairly short length of wire. More than 20 feet on many can lead to overload issues on some rigs.

But for handheld widebands, an longer antenna is needed. There are many options available. I've seen and used whips of a meter or more in length for HF on my R-10. A bit cumbersome, but not bad performance. An external antenna that connects to the BNC mount on the rig is useful for mobile monitoring. And some fixed base operations.

For a while, Grove made a rubber ducky with an amplifier for HF that works quite well on better handheld widebands, like those by ICOM and AOR, Yupiteru and others. I have one and it's a nice performer down to MW. No longer made, but the circuit is fairly simple. It can easily be replicated.

Hiding? Have you tried sending him an e-mail? He answered mine in less than 12 hours. I wrote to the address in his web page. His ISP is Loxinfo based in Thailand. If THAT is what you call 'hiding.'

You trolls are pretty dumb.

They are available to everyone to see. Advanced Google search and eliminate Usenet from the results. That removes all your troll posts and leaves the facts. Easy enough to do for anyone.

Sorry, but the evidence is overwhelming. Larbgai you lie.

*REALLY????? I notice Dave/Steve that you are not denying any of the other allegations.
Well of course you aren't, like the photo all are true.
Please post urls that prove differently.

I've read that many of those so called 'DC to Daylight' portables aren't that hot on shortwave. Have you heard of anything in that I know. It didn't make sense yesterday, I can get 890 - but for some reason yesterday something was going on. I don't know. But I can hear it right now just like WLW, go figure. {?}

George Soros http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=977 has his Shadow Party. http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6706

The Backbone Campaign, the Progressive Government Institute, and a coalition of so-called "grassroots organizations" has a shadow government – The Backbone Cabinet, a "virtual Progressive Parallel Administration." http://www.backbonecampaign.org/cabinet/

The Backbone Campaign describes itself as a "grassroots effort to embolden citizens and elected officials to stand up for progressive values" which is "expanding the political dialogue by providing creative tools for citizens and the progressive movement. The backbone symbolizes an interlocking agenda, a coalition, and the personal courage necessary to fight for a future worthy of our children."
http://www.backbonecampaign.org/index.cfm

The Backbone Campaign is a member organization of United For Peace and Justice,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6166
the antiwar coalition led by Leslie Cagan,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=629
a "longtime committed socialist who proudly aligns her politics with those of Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba."
The Backbone Campaign's staff is headed by Bill Moyer (not the Bill Moyers of PBS fame), who founded The Backbone Campaign in 2003.
http://www.backbonecampaign.org/page.cfm?id=30

According to David Horowitz's Discover the Networks
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupprofile.asp?grpid=7228

•Opposes the Patriot Act
•Supports racial and ethnic preferences in employment and academia •Opposes death penalty and racial profiling •Supports "permanent legal status, and ultimately citizenship, for all of the 8 to 12 million undocumented immigrants who reside in the U.S."

The composition of The Backbone Campaign's board of directors is illuminating.
http://www.backbonecampaign.org/page.cfm?id=30

•Annie Brule is a Vashon, Washington community organizer.

•John Sellers http://activistcash.com/biography.cfm/b/2675-john-sellers is president of the radical activist "direct action" group, The Ruckus Society.

http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6714
The Society is infamous for the same Seattle WTO riots of which Van Jones,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=2406
the avowed communist leader of the radical group STORM
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7491
and former POTUS Obama “Green Jobs Czar”, is so proud.

•Jim Diers has a “passion for Alinsky-style community organization” http://home.comcast.net/~jimdiers/bio.html and is a member of the Asset-Based Community Development Institute.
http://www.abcdinstitute.org/

Asset-Based Community Development Institute’s John L. McKnight is one of Barack Obama’s Gamaliel Foundation Alinsky-ite trainers.

http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7004
McKnight is also known for having drafted a letter of recommendation for Obama’s application to Harvard Law School.

•David Swanson is “the Washington Director of Democrats.com and of ImpeachPAC.org. He is co-founder of the AfterDowningStreet.org coalition, creator of MeetWithCindy.org, and a board member of Progressive Democrats of America.”

•Ellen Kritzman is a Vashon, Washington activist.

Also dating from 2003, the website of the Progressive Government Institute (PGI) is no longer active. The Wayback Machine shows PGI as:

… an online model of the Executive Branch that educates people about the unelected political appointees in the federal government who make decisions that affect the lives of Americans and people around the world. The Institute studies and articulates progressive values and policies.
http://web.archive.org/web/20031022160530/http://www.progressivegovernment.org/

PGI’s Progressive Shadow Government:

… advocates for progressive change in U.S. government by establishing an ideal presidential cabinet composed of notable spokespeople that offer original policy viewpoints based on a fresh progressive platform. The cabinet will include progressive leaders from academic, political, business, entertainment and nonprofit sectors. We’re also creating a dream presidential Cabinet to help us imagine, “what if?”
Contribute to the new progressive platform at the Policy Forum, learn about our board of directors, and nominate someone to serve in the

http://web.archive.org/web/20040216090058/www.progressivegovernment.org/shadow/

The first choice nominees for members of Dream Shadow Cabinet in 2004 included Jim Hightower, member of Progressive Democrats of America, for Secretary of Agriculture; Gary Hart, former Senator and former presidential candidate, as Secretary of Defense; then-House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi for Secretary of Housing and Urban Development; former New York governor, Mario Cuomo, as Attorney General; former U.S. Senator and player for the New York Knicks, Bill Bradley, as Secretary of State; former President Jimmy Carter as Ambassador to the United Nations; and former Massachusetts governor and presidential candidate Michael Dukakis as Secretary of the Treasury.
http://web.archive.org/web/20040205190018/www.progressivegovernment.org/shadow/the_dream_cabinet/index.cfm

http://web.archive.org/web/20061011082224/www.progressivegovernment.org/prog.php and in June 2008
here http://web.archive.org/web/20080621131306/www.progressivegovernment.org/prog.php Note that in 2008
http://web.archive.org/web/20080416211055/www.backbonecampaign.org/cabinet/position.cfm?agency=1200
the nominees for Shadow Cabinet Secretary of State were in a dead heat: Bill Moyers, Bill Clinton, Jimmy Carter, Bill Richardson, Joe Biden (didn't they know he was running as VP?), and a long list of other familiar names, including Code Pink's Medea Benjamin.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=626
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6149

Following the links for PGI we learn that PGI's site "design and functionality" was created by CTSG, a "Progressive Government Project action partner." CTSG is the Carol/Trevalyn Strategy Group. CTSG clients include "large national organizations such as the Service Employees Internation Union (SEIU), the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), and Amnesty International USA."
http://web.archive.org/web/20040218114435/www.ctsg.com/about/clients/index.cfm
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6535
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6898
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6185

It takes no time at all to discover that the "Carol" is Dan Carol, a familiar name for those who have read The Manchurian President.
http://web.archive.org/web/20040218073947/www.ctsg.com/about/people/index.cfm

As my co-author, Aaron Klein and I wrote, Dan Carol is a co-founder of the Apollo Alliance.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7490
Carol is a former research director for the Democratic National Committee and worked as a strategist for the Obama for America campaign, MoveOn.org, True Majority, and other "grassroots" efforts.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6201

http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7290

It’s no surprise to find Carol’s fingerprints here.

The Cabinet’s “sponsors” will come as no surprise. They include several of the usual suspects:

•Progressive Democrats of America
http://therealbarackobama.wordpress.com/2008/10/22/obama-and-the-marxist-socialist-radical-members-of-congress/

•Democrats.com (See the “Aggressive Democrats” history.)
http://www.democrats.com/history

•ProgressNow http://www.progressnow.org/

http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6151

•Code Pink: Women for Peace (antiwar organization found by Medea Benjamin; Obama bundler Jodi Evans is a member)
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6149

As Discover The Networks reports,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupprofile.asp?grpid=7228
“antiwar groups” Code Pink for Peace and Global Exchange both “maintain strong ties” to the Communist Workers World Party and the “anti-war coalition” United For Peace and Justice.

The function of this Cabinet, you ask? Well, it’s all quite simple. It has initiated a “process” to “empower citizens to nominate, comment on, and rate progressive leaders” to serve in this “virtual” Administration that, the Cabinet assures us, will not be “content” with just “running campaigns, but [which is] preparing to run the country.”

In other words, this is a not-so-obvious way of putting voters to the test to see who might surface in the unsuspecting public’s eye, at least, as viable candidates for future Progressive radical-Left cabinet officers — an indirect way of creating the right radical-Leftist short list, so to speak.

When names like Dan Carol appear connected with schemes like the now-inactive Progressive Government Institute and The Backbone Campaign, one must take notice and not dismiss them out of hand. There’s always an unseen motive at work.

Oh, one last thing of interest: on the final archived page for PGI, dated August 2, 2008,
http://web.archive.org/web/20080802054426/http://www.progressivegovernment.org/

we find a far-left assortment of real and imagined cabinet posts and nominees that includes Dr. Quentin D. Young,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=2439 POTUS Obama’s favorite single-payer health insurance advocate, as a nominee for Health;
Tom Hayden http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=1334 for Peace, Department of State; Bill Fletcher Jr., Labor and Justice; Dolores Huerta, http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=2074
Agriculture, Labor;
the late Howard Zinn, http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=939 Educating for Justice; and Noam Chomsky, http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=1232 Peace, Defense, State. (Wonder why nobody considered Bill and Bernie as viable candidates?)

When are you going to understand Robin? I DO NOT read your posts....lol...as soon as I see it is you in response to me I automatically scroll to the bottom and either spank your bottom or simply don't respond. I am just telling you this because if you REALLY REALLY feel that ole' Gregg is actually reading your post.<sigh> it ain't happening. You present no challenge whatsoever (I gave you your shot), you are like two days ago garbage when it comes to your stink.
I don't want to smell it and I don't want to see it. So keep typing away and hitting the send button you moron because I know YOU READ EVERYTHING I type in EVERY group I post in.<heh> Whats that really say? Ha! And again, don't bother answering unless you're trying to impress your boyfriends. Ha Ha- supposed 70 + yr. old playing on Gregg, you do read my posts. You are a troll! You get your jollies from the havoc you wreak in newsgroups. It's an imperative that you read and reread the fruits of your labours. It's what you live for. Shortwave radio is a secondary matter with you.

> automatically scroll to the bottom and either spank your bottom or

> simply don't respond. I am just telling you this because if you REALLY

I'll give you a clue Gregg! I don't give a damn whether YOU read my posts! Others do and, by now, have worked out what a troll you really are. I must admit, you haven't made it too difficult!

> ain't happening. You present no challenge whatsoever (I gave you your Sticks and stones!

You may not want to but you cannot resist!

Not every group Gregg! No need! You crosspost the same posts to multiple newsgroups so there's no need to read multiple iterations of the same post.

Gregg, it's you who have boyfriends! You and your troll buddies. In fact, you're obsessed by "boyfriends". You can't get your mind away from the concept! You must have recently "come out"!

> Ha Ha- supposed 70 + yr. old playing on

I hadn't realised that the USA had an age limit on usenet. We don't appear to have such a thing here in Australia!

From what I can determine, most people of middle age or greater tend to usenet as a means of discourse. People of more tender years tend to facebook like forums and web chatrooms. That's why I'm surprised to see you here in usenet!

Be careful about shaking that head so much. It seems to be barely attached. No shock here that you dont (/can't) read posts. No, not surprising, at all.

Bush was a Stalinist Commie. The Red Chinese are going to build him a

As I said, the antenna is usually too short. Sensitivity is actually quite good, though. Comparable to a decent desktop. But antenna capture area is insufficient. So, SW performance out of the box is pretty lame. My R-10 was worthless on SW until I began using a larger antenna.

That said, all but the Yupiteru are too wide for SW. Sometimes as much as 12Khz on AM. SSB, though the IF bandwidth is usually acceptable.

For highly portable SW, I'll slip my HF-150 into my camera bag, with a whip, and tote it out into the woods.

Huh? Rambo? Really? Count how many words you have typed in this post...lol...I have read posts of yours where I am literally just left speechless and shaking my head. And to think you're using the ole' noggin again...lol... to people that aren't that bright and make them think the more someone types it conveys uncertainty or deception. You are suchhhhhh a bullshitter. There are NO credible studies done in that area that prove what you just said -- - like it was the truth. There are in face to face studies but not in via communications by the internet or even post a notes for that matter.You are a fraud and you are lying again!! It's funny that you used to love me and I was your pal (like Batman) when I was either not saying anything about you or disagreeing with ones that spoke harshly about you. Why is that? I mean, I know the answer but I want to see the crap you spew in answering that simple question and it IS simple. :-) rolling my eyes - and that is all you have to offer Brybaby? Clean the orange Cheetos stains off your fingers and try again. Hint...lol...I'm using an ole' "debate strategy". ;-)

No it isn't....lol.... but it is easy.

> 2. You should know that they can detect THC via either urine

AGAIN. You are lying. I will just leave it at that unless you don't know what I know - - which I feel is why you either #1 Said what you said or #2 In case "someone" is reading this - you can play like Dumbo. I bet you told your "students"......errrr you're "friends" more than what you just said here....lol. You may not like me pal because I can call you on your bullshit - but I am a trained "bullshit sniffer" and you qualify in that segment.

> Both of mine are checked every two months by > my doctor for the last five years.

Huh? For what? Pot? BOTH your blood AND your urine as you just stated above? Oh quit it...lol...tell it to someone else that qualifies as a "window licker". If what you just said is true (which it isn't) then it isn't a "random" as you said before.....come on Brybaby - shuck and jive - move to the left and move to the right -

I'm a paid Hound Dog Bullshitter.<sniff sniff>

> Remember, I had a

No, I don't remember and I don't care. Try that technique on someone else or when you "warm up" for a debate and shout it into your tape recorder.<shaking my head>

> Use your super-sleuth powers,
> Greggbo. My insurance company requires certification

AGAIN!!! You are full of shit. Learn to use the "simple" correct words, they won't give the "dramatic" effect that you are fishing for and the emotional tugs - - - but you will be respected more<heh> by the reader.

> The offer stands. Give me a post office box

LOLOL - I'm not spending one nickel for a PO Box...lol. Buddy, I know ALL ABOUT PO Boxes. There are things I know that I can promise you - you don't. Or your phone number or your cell number or your license plate and at least four other things I won't share here.

> 3. I'm also tired of your inferences that I'm gay.

And you do know the definition of said word inference in via communications by the internet or even post a notes for that matter.You are a fraud and you are lying again!! It's funny that you used to love me and I was your pal (like Batman) when I was either not saying anything about you or disagreeing with ones that spoke harshly about you. Why is that? I mean, I know the answer but I want to see the crap you spew in answering that simple question and it IS simple. :-)

> While
> there is nothing wrong with being gay, I am not.

I have NEVER once said you liked to swallow another man's cum or have your butt penetrated by another man's penis. Like you said, there nothing wrong with that. ;-) Oh quit it you big fat ding dong headed liar. Yes, there is SOMETHING very wrong with it in the word OF GOD.
I'm not going to get all biblical about it, but the Lord said (HIMSELF) that not only is it not right. But IT IS AN ABOMINATION!!!!
Does you simple computer Bible text/defintion check * find out what that word itself means in that EXACT context in (in the Hebrew) what he stated and get back with me. Not that there is anything wrong with that....spoken like the typical liberal....and I hate tagging specific political affiliates because in the grand scheme of things - everyone is lying to everyone else (just like the Bible said would happen) and this country is going down to hell in a big ole' handbasket.

> None
> of your awesome detection has produced any evidence

I love google, just for the fact that is shows the bullshitters like you......even ten/fifteen years from now. Or someone will "bump one of your threads" though you are rotting in the grave and have already answered to your Lord and Savior. Your words and posts of vindictiveness will be your usenet legacy. Me on the other hand, has tried to be as nice as I can possibly be to anyone unless my repeated requests go without <snapping my fingers> - can't think of the word and won't be a phoney and type it in later.....but you know what I mean. ;-) Then and only then - do I speak up. I'll let someone, both in face to face dealings and via usenet mess with me. I'm all for having a good time and making friends or letting someone think they have the drop on me, but long ago you mistook my kindness as my weakness and you couldn't have been farther from the the truth.

Evidence? Really? Are we gonna dance Mike? Give me the word here on usenet. I will be "above board" and I will never say a thing here about it in RRS. That just means - just what it means. Think it through slowly, really think about it and try an swallow a tad of whatever pride you have left down your gullet and try an not make this too personal. It isn't going to hurt me, I can promise you that. I can just dissapear from here or either ignore you and do the radio thing and "dump it" and when I say that.....I mean just that. You will go running to your fake attorney sister (I will find out about that also ;-) And you will scream and bitch - but it will be through enough anonymous servers in correlation with each other you wouldn't know if your "garbage man" (catch that) posted it or a student in your own class.<heh> This (I PRAYYYYY you believe me) - is the wrong person at the wrong time you want to play reindeer games with. Really Michael. I am being as nice as I can and trying to give you a way to save face. Send me an email, and I will dissapear from RRS if you do for an amount of time.. I pwomise.<heh>

> My daughter still lives at home.

I don't care, but thanks for sharing I guess? <rolling my eyes> Another part of the bullshit you have infested this group with? Now you are going to include the daughter, I know psychology speaking what that means.<snicker> NOTHING could/would ever surprise me about you....lol. I could NEVER find out anything about you and in my mind say ""Damn, I can't believe that". That says alot - believe me it does. A daughter, but no wife living presently with you?<trap laid> A daughter ALWAYS (in over 83% of studied cases) wants to be with their Mommy. <deeply thinking and accessing read material>

AND YOU CHOSE THAT profession!!!!! I would have NEVER chosen that. I am just a saved sinner and life is hard enough and I keep "prayed up" - and I wouldn't put myself in that spot. You put yourself in a spot that not "just doesn't look good" - but decided "Hey- I am just like you kids". That is why teachers or pastors or people in power keep the doors open with any type of sex nowadays....lol. ANY look of impropriety is just that, if you KNEW HOW IT WOULD LOOK BUT CHOSE to do it your way. Shuck and jive don't work here.

And AGAIN - I say "why"? No one ever said anything to any of my classmates about that. Someone I have KNOWN PERSONALLY for eleven years is part of that (KY job) and he was never told. He now (at least till nine months ago- I can make a phone call and check) was a part of the BATF in Louisville. It's a rather new "occupied area for them." When you go down 71s and get off at the 2nd loop of GS - you continue to go straight and you pass the big Ford Plant on your left side. I know you know where I mean. ;-) On the right hand side of the HW you will see (I think) three crosses for three dead boys that (of course) died there.....and the next exit is a big loop and you have to be careful and slow down - even on a sunny day....you come to a stop sign.

You take a left and the small neighborhood is on your right and then you go over a set of RR tracks - right after that you take a left into the "business park". The first driveway on your right is to the loading area of the BATF on the right side. You can't get more high tech than what he did even BEFORE he went there.<snicker> We NEVER had someone gives us the "low down" on drug tests..lol. But yet, you did your students.<shaking my head>

Yeah, whatever. Is that short of enough for you? ;-P

Uh huh. I will leave it at that. Just watch yourself. ;-)

I don't know (on that Linkd site) and I don't care. I didn't "join" because I don't have to- to find out infoBUT I DO KNOW what some of your "former students" think of yourself. Do you wanna play? People (in general) like to talk.....especially when they know they're getting older (and they have their own families and values) that "they feel they were played". Many have developed their own belief systems without a master'de'bator paving their minds driveway so too speak. Do you want me to say names (from back then) - that I could only know unless I only knew...lol. Or would you go personally and professionally after them also? I bet you would. It is just your nature. Two of the names (that I know of) are now changed....because they are now changed. ;-) I truly think it would be in your best interest

Robert Johnson was a well-respected popular businessman selling wonderful food in Chiang Mai before Kraven came along. Somehow, Kraven convinced the ENTIRE city of Chiang Mai (second largest city in Thailand) to stop buying Robert's products completely, forcing Robert to sell his business. Kraven did such a good job convincing 1,600,000 people that Robert's products (or Robert himself) were no good so he had to sell his recipes, all his food production machines, delivery trucks, etc., for less than the price of a used car. He even convinced Robert's neighbors to dump all their garbage in Robert's yard, forcing Johnson to have to install five high security cameras around his property. I don't know how he did this, but he sure is a bully.

This same bully did a job on David Leonard Arthur too. David also was a respected member of Chiang Mai society until Kraven convinced the Thai government and the Australian Federal Police to work together. I don't understand how Kraven had the ability to get them to do this, but they did. They threw Arthur out of Thailand simply because Arthur had two previous convictions for Child Sexual Abuse and was a known pedophile sex offender. When the Royal Thai Police captured him, he was with several under aged hill tribe boys. That's two people we respect that Kraven bullied. He needs to be stopped.

Cheesy Bob needs us to defend him. His neighbors poisoned his dogs, no doubt at Kraven's suggestion too. He is such a humble man that the newspapers and magazines never realized how good a person he was.

Can you imagine? Why would they deport a nice guy like Arthur and make Kraven a member of their Tourist Police Force? They have to be nuts. At least WE trolls know who the good guys are.

 Seems the old fool has taken to copying our identities and using them to forment trouble amongst the DTS.

Suits me down to the ground. Like most people I can read headers and see who the real ones are and who are the sock puppets.

Shows that the old fool has'nt got the heart left for a good rollicking.
By posting details of Kramers best mate, David Leonard Arthur someone seems to have ruffled a few feathers.
Closer inspection however will show the relationship that these 2 had whilst together in Chiang Mai.
Was that the reason for your visit to the Royal Thai Police Steve???
Is that why you were photographed sitting there shitting your pants with your dirty old hat on and smelling of a weeks unwashed body odour???

Hmmmmmmm Steve Kramer (photographer) and David Leonard Arthur (Paedophile)..... Interesting.

You only respect him because you feel he has the brains of a salad

RESPECT ANYONE on usenet unless you feel there is an advantage to you.

Well respected? Surely you jest? He was the butt of all the jokes in the expat community in Chiang Mai and was known to all Thais as "that crazy farang"!

> wonderful food in Chiang Mai before Kraven came along. Somehow, Kraven

The food wasn't all that bad. Would have been a lot better if Johnson had taken into account some basic food hygiene practices. That may have prevented a few outbreaks of food poisoning.

> convinced the ENTIRE city of Chiang Mai (second largest city in > Thailand) to stop buying Robert's products completely, forcing Robert to

The entire city? Johnson's products were not targeted at Thai people. The products were more suited to western tastes and would only have been bought by Thais who wanted to be seen to be living a western lifestyle. Most of the Thai people I know have yet to be convinced that western food is better than Thai food. Having tried Thai food myself, I can see why.
I reckon you need to figure in the food poisoning outbreaks as a prime factor in the sales decline!

> Kraven did such a good job convincing 1,600,000 people that Robert's > products (or Robert himself) were no good

I wonder how one person manages to convince over a million and a half people that a particular product is no good? Take over the newspapers? The TV and radio stations? Send out flyers to every home? Strange that I never heard of a foreign takeover of the media in Northern Thailand! Now that would have made the news worldwide. After all, a bunch of Thais taking over a few city blocks recently managed to attract worldwide media attention.
No, I think it was Robert Johnson himself, with all his weird antics, who convinced the people of Chiang Mai, Thailand that his products were no good.

> so he had to sell his recipes, all his food production machines, > delivery trucks, etc., for less than the price of a used car.

Food production machines?? What rot! Since when does a row of Thai women working at a long bench constitute a "machine"?? I notice you used the plural in "delivery trucks". Since when does one beat up old truck deserve pluralising?? Anyway, he did well out of the sale. After all, his truck, the long bench, the tureens and a few grinders weren't worth all that much anyway. Note, the women weren't included in the "machinery" sale!

> He even convinced Robert's neighbors to dump all their garbage in > Robert's yard,

Yes, Asian people do that to those for whom they have lost all respect! Robert Johnson, through his alcoholism and subsequent abuse of Thai citizens, offended his neighbours and was the cause of his own problems.

> forcing Johnson to have to install five high security cameras around his > property.

Johnson's neighbours hated him and he knew this. It was Johnson's fear of retribution that forced him to have to install security cameras.

I don't > know how he did this, but he sure is a bully.

If you don't know, why assume? To be fair, a little logic, a whole load of common sense, and some knowledge of Robert Johnson should make it rather easy to figure out! In this instance, Robert Johnson was his own worst enemy.

? So what are you interested in ?

1 - A Handheld "Transceiver" that will cover the Shortwave (SW) Radio Bands ?
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/ht/1596.html
These are mainly Amateur [Ham] 2m & 440 Mhz VHF & UHF Transceivers that do not cover the Shortwave [HF] Bands.

1A - Technically Handheld CB Transceivers are in the Shortwave [HF] Bands. [10m & 11m]

2 - A 'portable' Scanner Receiver {Hand Size Scanner} that will cover Shortwave (SW) Radio Bands ?
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/scanners/4195.html
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/scanners/2206.html
* If the Receiver has a BNC Connector for the Antenna then use a external and Scanner type of Antenna :
Mag Mount Whip on the top of a Car.
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/scanants/2616.html
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/scanants/1190.html

3 - A 'portable' AM/FM Shortwave (SW) Radio {Hand Size Radio} that will cover Shortwave (SW) Radio Bands ?
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/portable/3300.html
* Simply Wrap 5~10 Turns of the end of a 10 Foot piece of Insulated Wire around the Whip Antenna and stretch-out the Wire as your Shortwave Antenna.

hope this helps - iane ~ RHF

-historical-context- Prez Obama has become like LBJ after JFK in Vietnam; and Afghanistan has become Obama's War in that respect.

? So Vietnam was JFK's War : NOT !

-point-of-fact- It was IKE who started the US 'involvement' in Vietnam "Conflict".

-but- It was LBJ that escalated the Vietnam "Conflict" into a WAR and the level of Killing increase greatly.

Prez Obama 'chose' to make Afghanistan
His {Obama's} War and it is Prez Obama that has escalated the Afghanistan "Conflict" into a WAR and the level of Killing increase greatly.

The simple fact is that the Afghanistan War is now Prez Obama's War in the minds of many/most of the American Public {Voters} because Prez Obama has Escalated Level of the War in Afghanistan.

Hay Hay Hay President O-Bomb-My-A !

I think Burr knows that I don't think he has the "brains of a salad bowl". I do, however, find you to be "fruit loops"-crazy! Since I see you speaking for "others in RRS," I have to ask: Are you now hearing voices

Gregg,

Keep talking. I've never wore cuffs. I've never been in a jail. I certainly have never served a felony term in prison for child porno. I have never "rolled" or implicated anyone for a crime of any sort. I have never had an ex-wife be paid to do a "tell-all" special on the History Channel. I have never been accused of "sexual weirdness" by former associates. I have never received a "mail-order bride" from Eastern Europe. I have never bragged about being second-in-command of one of the nation's most infamous Nazi groups. I don't run a white supremacy web-page. Kevin has done all those things. I don't think most people with those credentials would be allowed internet access. But that probably is the type of person you would respect..

I have a lawyer. Not my sister. He says that it will be easy to subpoena Earthlink.

Bwahahahah.

I do several shows a year at the old MGM lot in Culver City (now Sony Pictures Entertainment). They haven't cleaned some parts since Wallace Beery stumbled down the narrow breezeways. They do Jeopardy from there.

I get Reno and San Francisco better at night than I do Los Angeles stations. Depending on the target's transmitting antenna situation, there is a cancellation null somewhere between about 30 miles and 80-90 or so miles out, where the groundwave and the skywave meet out of phase.

KNX has a real nasty null into Palm Springs at night.

My AR8200MKIIIB works OK on HFBC. It has an AM Narrow filter, which virtually all other wideband handhelds lack. The antenna need only be a few feet long for worldwide reception. Works great on SSB, too.

I think I may be able to get a copy of 7 Professional at employee pricing. $40 is a fair price for DirectX 10, which I need to run a DSP panoramic display. I have absolutely no need for anything else in POS Windows.

Well, thank you for proving that H.L. Mencken was right when he said "You'll never go broke underestimating the stupidity of the American public".

1) B-O-T-H wars (Iraq, Afghanistan) were STARTED by G. W. BUSH. Period.

2) Bush the senior said he did not go into Baghdad after the first Gulf war because "there was NO EXIT STRATEGY".

3) For Iraq and Afghanistan, there is STILL NO EXIT STRATEGY. Period.

4) No matter who is president (Obama, McCain) and no matter what is done, escalate or leave, we are damned if we stay, damned if we leave. Negative consequences no matter what is done by whatever political party. Period.

Thanks for the great inheritance you left for the country, W. Five thousand dead Americans, many more horribly mutilated and a TRILLION dollars gone from our Treasury...all for nothing. Heck of a job, Georgie!

This is interesting. But for accuracy's sake, he's a chronically unemployed machinist, not a mechanic.

Very interesting again, though I like the choice of names. Rick Armstrong sounds very manly, almost sounds related to that effiminate guy with malignant balls who takes drugs to win bicycle races and convinces other manly Americans to wear effiminate yellow bracelets.

Thanks to our beloved Supreme Court, Americans don't need licenses for any sort of firearm anymore. We're all born with the birthright of needing guns to survive, it's been reported that 1 out of every 12 American fetuses emerge from the womb with revolver in hand!

We need millions more like him, and millions fewer of those who are congenitally incapable of understanding him.

It seems to me that vast numbers of Americans -- those from a progressive background _and_ those from a conservative background -- are coming to see that we are ruled by a criminal financial oligarchy that controls both political parties.

But both kinds of these increasingly enlightened folk retain some vestiges of party feeling:

Those who come from a Left background tend to have some emotional attachment to the Democrats and occasionally entertain hopes that one will emerge who will finally end the depradations of the multinational corporations and end these insane wars.

Those who come from a Right background still have an anachronistic nostalgia for Republicans and imagine that some day one of them really will do something to restrain the power of the Great Satan in Washington. (Strangely, while correctly seeing the evil of the Washington regime's dictatorial powers, they think it is just fine and dandy for that same Great Satan to have, and use with abandon, a bigger military than the rest of world combined.)

Both kinds of nostalgia and party feeling are counterproductive and very nearly delusional.

You're being played by the billionaires when you fall into the trap of believing that the Republicans or the Democrats are "your team" or "the good guys."

The multinationals and the ethnically-based mafia that dominate our financial system _own_ our major media and control _both_ major parties. They move in with their money whenever a new movement threatens to become popular, as they have done with the Tea Parties.

We have to get wise to what is really happening.

We need to abandon all loyalty -- _all_ loyalty -- to the rigged system and start afresh.

For independence,

Kevin Alfred Strom.

Comes in like a 'local' here during the day. Sometimes, at night, and more often in winter, I do get some selective fading at times.

I listen to WLS for a good many hours during the day.

Thinking about the 'brain stem' thing, I kinda miss Jay Marvin on WLS. He was/is a Liberal, and when irritated with a caller he would refer to them as a 'brain stem'.

As if we didn't know, the Communist Party is backing the Democrats and their claimed "friend" Barack Obama, against the Republicans in this year's Mid term elections. The communists also claim to be "joining" organizations like Obama's Organizing for America and MoveOn.

Communist Party agenda for 2010 is to help the Democrats and Obama win

Even if so, that does not indicate that Obama himself is communist or even socialist. They're backing what they feel is the lesser of evils, knowing they will never get what they actually want. Kind of like the Tea Party backing republicans because it's the closest they're going to get to what they want.

I listened to WLS around 1960, then after I moved to California they became not only a non-clear channel broadcaster but changed their venue from new rock and roll to an adults themed boredom station. PFFFTTT.

I used to get their top of the chart "Silver Dollar Surveys" from about 1958 to 1962, which of course got lost in the move to Crapofornia.

Please, if you must insult me, do so. But don't insult my research. The Advanced Search function of Google, when used proplerly can find some wonderful things. For example, I discovered that in less than 48 hours, the photo of Scott Koplin with the machine gun with silencer that he made had been removed from the directory with the other photos. That directory is located at http://www.jor.com/strokes/archive/ When I posted on July 2nd, there were two photos of Scott Koplin. Going back there today, I saw that one of them had been removed. But don't worry...

I copied it two days ago, knowing how you trolls operate, and posted it to http://img694.imageshack.us/i/scottgun.jpg/

I do apologize for calling you a mechanic rather than a machinist. I understand now how you are able to make machine guns and silencers. Do you still also make the conversion kits to turn regular semi-auto rifles into full auto?

Obama denies his economic policies are 'socialism'. While evidence indicates president formerly was member of socialist party

http://therealbarackobama.wordpress.com/2010/02/26/klein-obama-denies-his-economic-policies-are-socialism-while-evidence-indicates-president-formerly-was-member-of-socialist-party/

Barack Obama did not rise to prominence solely on his own merits
His career has been supported for many years by a socialist network, based in Chicago, but now reaching into every state of the US.

http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/02/obama-file-16-obama-and-legacy-of.html

The network is an activist matrix led by former members of the '60s radical organisation Students for a Democratic Society (SDS)
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6723

and supporters of Democratic Socialists of America (DSA),
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6428
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/01/obama-file-7-barack-obama-and.html

Communist Party USA (CPUSA)
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/02/obama-file-18-will-obama-be-communist.html and the Committees of Correspondence for Democracy and Socialism (CCDS).

http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/08/obama-file-25-ccds-marxist-leninists.html

The network has links to hundreds of leftist organisations including the

Black Radical Congress,
http://www.blackradicalcongress.org

Progressive Democrats of America,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7123

United For Peace & Justice,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6166

USAction,
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6729

ACORN
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6968

and several major trade unions.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6535

The network has been co-operating since at least the early 1980s. Parts of it came together behind Jesse Jackson's failed 1988 US presidential bid and again in the late '90s New Party
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7434
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/08/obama-file-22-barack-obama-danny-k.html which helped launch Barack Obama's successful bid for the Illinois State Senate.

http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/01/obama-file-4-obama-was-endorsed-by-far.html

Now the network has come together to put Barack Obama in the White House.

Their ambition doesn't end there however. The network wants to build a movement that will be able to pressure an Obama presidency into legislating for massive social change. They want to relive the 1930s and 1960s with a new "New Deal" and a new civil rights movement.

One prominent tip of the socialist iceberg is a comparitively new organisation–Progressives for Obama (PFO).

According to the PFO website

"We agree that Barack Obama is our best option for President in 2008, and that an independent grassroots effort can help strengthen his campaign.

"It can also strengthen the mandate for his programs for stopping war, promoting global justice and securing our rights, liberties, and economic well-being. More important, independent organization at the base is needed for compelling social change no matter who is in the White House.

"We have understood, from the beginning, that Senator Obama is not a consistent progressive, and often speaks to and from the center of our country's political spectrum–sometimes well, sometimes not. All the more reason, we think, to organize a strong progressive pole, independent of his campaign, to counter rightward drift and push him to do better on issues that will win him more solid and wider support.

"We don't attempt to define 'progressive' here. We're open to all trends, from the socialist left to moderate liberals, who want not only to defeat McCain, but also build the grassroots organizations and networks for wider and deeper change over the longer term.

Writing in The Nation, March 24, 2008,

http://www.thenation.com/doc/20080407/hayden_et_al

PGO founder Tom Hayden, Bill Fletcher Jr., Danny Glover and Barbara Ehrenreich explained

"During past progressive peaks in our political history — the late Thirties, the early Sixties — social movements have provided the relentless pressure and innovative ideas that allowed centrist leaders to embrace visionary solutions. We find ourselves in just such a situation today.

"We intend to join and engage with our brothers and sisters in the vast rainbow of social movements to come together in support of Obama's unprecedented campaign and candidacy. Even though it is candidate-centered, there is no doubt that the campaign is a social movement, one greater than the candidate himself ever imagined.

The four founders of PFO are:

TOM HAYDEN – Author of Ending the War in Iraq, a five-time Democratic convention delegate, former state senator, and board member of the Progressive Democrats of America. Hayden was also a founder in 1964 of SDS. According to Discover the Networks http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=1334

During the Vietnam War, Hayden traveled many times to North Vietnam, Czechoslovakia, and Paris to strategize with Communist North Vietnamese and Viet Cong leaders on how to defeat America's anti-Communist efforts. He came back from Hanoi proclaiming he had seen "rice roots democracy at work." According to people who were present at the time…Hayden offered advice on conducting psychological warfare against the U.S.

BILL FLETCHER – Originator of the call for founding "Progressives for Obama", is the executive editor of Black Commentator, and founder of the Center for Labor Renewal.

Fletcher is a former Maoist and is currently a leader of Democratic Socialists of America (DSA). In 1998 he was also a founding member of the Communist Party USA (CPUSA) / CCDS / DSA dominated Black Radical Congress.
http://www.blackradicalcongress.org/index.html

BARBARA EHRENREICH – With Hayden, Ehrenreich is a member of The Nation's editorial board. She is an honorary chairman of DSA and was formerly active in the New American Movement-led largely by former SDS and CPUSA activists. According to Discover the Networks http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=1058

When the Communist Manifesto was re-released on its 150th anniversary in 1998, Ehrenreich celebrated the event. She noted that in producing the Manifesto as a commercial product, capitalists were – as Lenin had once predicted – providing the rope that eventually would hang them.

DANNY GLOVER – An actor, activist, and chairman of the board of TransAfrica – where he works with two former Communist Party front activists Harry Belafonte and Johnetta Cole.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=837
Glover is also close to former Berkely mayor Gus Newport, once linked to CPUSA and now active in both DSA and CCDS. He has also been involved with the Black Radical Congress. Glover has close ties to Cuba and according to Discover the Network

"On several occasions, Glover has visited Venezuela and made guest appearances on President Hugo Chavez's television and radio talk show, Hello, President. Glover is a Board member of Venezuela's "TeleSUR" news network, which Chavez created in 2005.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=1119

The list of endorsers on the Progressives for Obama website further illustrates the socialist nature of the organisation

They include:

Rosalyn Baxandall – Marxist.

Paul Buhle – A former member of SDS, one time editor of the original SDS journal Radical America. Currently a DSA leader.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=2020

Malcolm Burnstein – Progressive Caucus, California Democratic Party. Formerly active in the communist front National Lawyers Guild. Formerly a partner in the CPUSA linked San Francisco Bay Area law firm of Truehaft, Walker and Burnstein, that once employed a young Hillary Rodham (Clinton)
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=18

Duane Campbell – Sacramento Progressive Alliance, Anti-Racism and Latino Commission of DSA.
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/02/obama-file-19-obama-08-all-way-with-dsa.html

Jim Campbell – CCDS National Co-chair

Steve Cobble – Progressive Democrats of America, formerly with the New Party and affiliated with the ultra radical, Cuban linked, Institute for Policy Studies.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6991

Barry Cohen – NJ Institute of Technology, CCDS member, formerly with Communist Partry USA.

Carl Davidson – PFO webmaster. Former SDS, later involved with Maoist groups and in the '90s with Barack Obama in the New Party. On the national council of CCDS.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=2322
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/01/obama-file-5-barack-obama-courted.html

Peter Dreier –Occidental College, DSA member.

Thorne Dreyer – former SDS member Mickey Flacks – former SDS member.
Richard Flacks – Husband of Mickey, former SDS member. Active in Santa Barbara DSA.

Jane Fonda (”Hanoi Jane”) – former wife of Tom Hayden. [see above]
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=1326

Aviva Futorian – Associated with Obama in the DSA infiltrated Independent Voters of Illinois.
Christine George – Researcher and Unversity Teacher. Associated with Chicago DSA.

Todd Gitlin – Columbia University. Former SDS leader.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/individualProfile.asp?indid=2210

Jorge Gonzalez – Cuba Journal.
Thomas Good – Communist turned anarchist.
David Hamilton – ex SDS

Harold Jacobs – historian of the SDS terrorist offshot, the Weather Underground.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=7320

Michael James – Heartland Cafe, 49th Ward Democrats Chicago. Former SDS member.

Zenobia Johnson – Black National Organisation of African-Americans in Housing, Chicago. Wife of Obama’s friend and supporter Timuel Black of the CCDS Advisory Board.
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/02/obama-file-15-socialist-octagenarians.html

Marilyn Katz – Former Chicago SDS chief of security. Helped found Chicagoans Against War on Iraq, with Carl Davidson [see above]. The pair organised the 2002 peace rally where Obama came out publicly against the Iraq War.

Robin D.G. Kelly – Historian. Formerly a member of the Communist Workers party. Now close to CPUSA and active in the Black Radical Congress.

Fred Klonsky – former SDS member, son of leading CPUSA member Robert Klonsky.
Susan Klonsky – Chicago based education writer, former SDS member.

Jay Mazur – A leader of the CPUSA/DSA infiltrated New York Working Families Party.
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6965

Joe Moore – 49th Ward Alderman, Chicago.
http://newzeal.blogspot.com/2008/09/obama-file-26-william-mcnary-yet.html

Frances Fox Piven – DSA honorary chairman, formerly active in the New Party and closely linked to ACORN.

Christine Riddiough – A former Chicago DSA activist and national leader. Active in soliciting gay support for the Obama campaign.

Mark Rudd – A former leader of both SDS and the terrorist Weather Underground.
Jay Schaffner – Local 802 American Federation of Musicians. Active in CCDS, formerly a member of the Chicago Communist Party USA.

Andrew Stern

Who is Mike Klonsky?

Mike Klonsky is one of the founders of Communist Party (Marxist-Leninist) (USA) and the Students for a Democratic Society a fervent Obama supporter, friend and former member of the terrorist group the Weatherman.
http://www.theminorityreportblog.com/story/steven_foley/2008/06/25/introducing_mike_klonsky_another_communist_terrorist_friend_of_obama

(...) a notorious ally of Bill Ayers for many years, Mike Klonsky, is an open member of the Obama campaign. Klonsky runs a blog on the official Obama website here where he claims to be a "professor of education"... and says he blogs for Obama on "education politics and teaching for social justice."

Who is Mike Klonsky? Well, on one level, he might just appear to be a protege of Bill Ayers in the education world. He received, as I detail below, a $175,000 grant from the Ayers/Obama-led Annenberg Challenge to run the Small Schools Workshop that he and Ayers started in Chicago to push their school reform agenda.

But that is only half the story. Klonsky was one of the most destructive hardline maoists in the SDS in the late 60's who emerged from SDS to form a pro-Chinese sect called the October League that later became the Beijing-recognized Communist Party (Marxist-Leninist). As chairman of the party, Klonsky travelled to Beijing itself in 1977 and, literally, toasted the Chinese stalinist leadership who, in turn, "hailed the formation of the CP(ML) as 'reflecting the aspirations of the proletariat and working people,' effectively recognizing the group as the all-but-official US Maoist party." (Elbaum, Revolution in the Air, 228).

I know of no indications that Klonsky has ever expressed any regrets about that activity. Perhaps like his SDS comrade, Ayers, he, too, thinks he did not do enough back then. In my view they did more than enough.

An excellent profile of that maoist milieu is available in a book called Revolution in the Air by Max Elbaum, http://www.amazon.com/Revolution-Air-Sixties-Radicals-Lenin/dp/1844675637/ref=sr_1_13?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1214282892&sr=8-13
a first hand participant whose sympathy for the maoism of the period does not get in the way of an excellent account of these idiot savants of the left.

How is it possible that someone of Klonsky's ilk would now be playing a visible role in the Obama campaign itself on such an important issue as education policy - apparently with free reign to push his authoritarian "social justice" agenda?

The Obama Nation: Leftist Politics and the Cult of Personality

About the Author
DR. JEROME CORSI received a Ph.D. from Harvard University in political science in 1972

Scrupulously sourced with more than 600 footnotes, THE OBAMA NATION is the result of that research. By tracing Obama's career and influences from his early years in Hawaii and Indonesia, the beginnings of his political career in Chicago, his voting record in the Illinois legislature, his religious training and his adoption of Christianity through to his recent involvement in Kenyan politics, his political advisors and fundraising associates and his meteoric campaign for president, Jerome Corsi shows that an Obama presidency would, in his words, be “a repeat of the failed extremist politics that have characterized and plagued Democratic Party politics since the late 1960s.”

In this stunning and comprehensive new book, the reader will learn about: -Obama's extensive connections with Islam and radical politics, from his father and step-father's Islamic backgrounds, to his Communist and socialist mentors in Hawaii and Chicago, to his long-term and close associations with former Weather Underground heroes William Ayers and Bernadette Dohrn—associations much closer than heretofore revealed by the press

-Barack and Michelle's 20-year-long religious affiliation with the black-liberation theology of former Trinity United Church of Christ Reverend Jeremiah Wright, whose sermons have always been steeped in a rage first expressed by Franz Fanon , Stokely Carmichael and Malcolm X, a rage that Corsi shows has deep meaning for Obama

-Obama's continuing connections with Kenya, the homeland of his father, through his support for the candidacy of Raila Odinga, the radical socialist presidential contender who came to power amid Islamist violence and church burnings

-Obama's involvement in the slum-landlord empire of the Chicago political fixer Tony Rezko, who helped to bankroll Obama's initial campaigns and to purchase of Barack and Michelle's dream-home property.

-the background and techniques of the Obama campaign's cult of personality, including the derivation of the words “hope” and change”

-Obama's far-left domestic policy, his controversial votes on abortion, his history of opposition to the Second Amendment, his determination to raise capital-gains taxes, his impractical plan to achieve universal health care, and his radical plan to tax Americans to fund a global-poverty-reduction program

-Obama's naïve, anti-war, anti-nuclear foreign-policy, predicated on the reduction of the military, the eradication of nuclear weapons and an overconfidence in the power of his personality, as if belief in change alone could somehow transform international politics, achieve nuclear-weapons disarmament and withdrawal from Iraq without adverse consequences, for us, for the Iraqis or for Israel.

Meticulously researched and documented, THE OBAMA NATION is the definitive source for information on why and how Barack Obama must be defeated—not by invective and general attacks, but by detailed arguments that are well-researched and fact-based.

Communist Party National Chair Lays Out Communist Agenda for Obama Administration

Barack Obama has been beholden to the Communist Party USA for decades. From the boyhood mentoring he received from Frank Marshall Davis, to support for his 2004 Senate campaign, ongoing work in Chicago and massive party support in his 2008 presidential run.

Now its payback time.

The Party wants Obama to deliver a new “New Deal” – a massive extension of government and union power that will permanently transform US society.

By using pressure from the “bottom up and the top down”, the Communist Party aims to squeeze the US middle class into accepting its socialist program.

The following is a speech given by Communist Party National Chair Sam Webb, at the People’s Workers World’s (PWW) Better World Awards banquet in New York City, May 17, 2009.

The Obama Socialist / Marxist / Communist Reader

http://therealbarackobama.wordpress.com/2009/01/03/the-obama-socialist-marxist-communist-reader/

THE AUTHOR has spent about half his adult life in his native Austria, in close touch with German thought, and the other half in the United States and England. In the latter period he has become increasingly convinced that some of the forces which destroyed freedom in Germany are also at work her. The very magnitude of the outrages committed by the National Socialists has strengthened the assurance that a totalitarian system cannot happen here. But let us remember that [70] years ago the possibility of such a thing happening in Germany would have appeared just as fantastic not only to nine tenths of the Germans themselves but also to the most hostile foreign observer.

There are many features which were then regarded as "typically German" which are now equally familiar in America and England, and many symptoms that point to a further development in the same direction: the increasing veneration for the state, the fatalistic acceptance of "inevitable trends," the enthusiasm for "organization" of everything (we now call it "planning").

The character of the danger is, if possible, even less understood here than it was in Germany. The supreme tragedy is still not seen that in Germany it was largely people of good will, who, by their socialist policies, prepared the way for the forces which stand for everything they detest. Few recognize that the rise of fascism and Nazism was not a reaction against the socialist trends of the preceding period but a necessary outcome of those tendencies. Yet it is significant that many of the leaders of these movements, from Mussolini down (and including Laval and Quisling) began as socialists and ended as fascists or Nazis. In the democracies at present, many who sincerely hate all of Nazism's manifestations are working for ideals whose realization would lead straight to the abhorred tyranny. Most of the people whose views influence developments are in some measure socialists. They believe that our economic life should be "consciously directed," that we should substitute "economic planning" for the competitive system. Yet is there a greater tragedy imaginable than that, in our endeavor consciously to shape our future in accordance with high ideals, we should in fact unwittingly produce the very opposite of what we have been striving for? - Friedrich A. Hayek (1899-1992)

All forms of collectivism lead logically and inevitably to tyranny. The Soviet Union and Nazi Germany are examples of countries which had gone down “the road to serfdom” and reached tyranny. Within a centrally planned economic system, the distribution and allocation of all resources and goods would devolve onto a small group, which would be incapable of processing all the information pertinent to the appropriate distribution of the resources and goods at the central planners’ disposal. Disagreement about the practical implementation of any economic plan combined with the inadequacy of the central planners’ resource management would invariably necessitate coercion (force) in order for anything to be achieved.

Socialism was bound to fail as an economic system because only free markets--powered by individuals wheeling and dealing in their own interest--could generate the information necessary to intelligently coordinate social behavior. In other words, freedom is a necessary input into a prosperous economy.

And the possibility of rational economic planning under socialism? Yes, we ran that experiment as well. The Third World tried it and promptly dropped to income levels last recorded in the Pleistocene Epoch. The Second (Communist) World tried it in massive police-state doses and...well...dissolved.

"Sometimes you have to live a long time just to be proved right."

I sincerely hope that most of you live through what may very possibly become the worst socialist experiment in human history, Barack Hussein Obama.

Dave (errrr, Steve) hit the Google Advance Search and came up with the following wild @$$ guesses...

"...Again using the Advanced search function of Google, I began looking up the names of the people listed in another post, again removing posts made by these trolls from the search results.

Quite a few hits for David Leonard Arthur. Twice convicted of child sexual abuse in Australia, page one on Australia's Sex Offender's list.

Several hits about Scott Koplin. Besides being a drain on the state and chronically unemployed, he started his own business making some scuba related item but the business went belly up. I guess he got fired from his own business too.

Plenty of hits about Robert Johnson. It looks as if he was pretty much run out of business on a rail by the local business people in Chiang Mai, his business selling for next to nothing. He had to be physically removed from a meeting of the 'Chiang Mai Expats Club' when he threatened the lives of its members.

Not too much about Young, other than some comments made about him when he tried claiming knowledge of Micronesian cultural norms and got it completely wrong. I guess he was laughed out of the groups. There are 6 different listings for Michael Young in the Belleview, Washington area, but this being a weekend, I figure I'd wait until Monday to try calling.

If you are not a Eureka fan then this is the time to start. SyFy has let it be known that there will be some crossover episodes. Including some crossover romance.

Nothing so exotic. Simply human from Eureka meets opposite sex human from Warehouse 13 and they fall in love.

It's called crossover because it crosses over from show to show and will feature in several episides of both shows.

there is a certain ying&yang to both

People with NO Money to Spend add little to the Flow-of-Cash in a Consumer Economy.
-so- Yes Un-Employment 'money' does put 'money' into the hands of the cash-less :
Thus making the Un-Employed into Spenders and Contributors to the Flow-of-Cash of a Consumer Economy.
* But the Un-employed are only 10%~15% of the population -so- the resulting Flow-of-Cash in a consumer economy is only increased by roughly that much.

Reduced Taxes for All : Keeps The Money in the Hands of All Consumers {Tax Payers} and also adds to the Flow-of-Cash in a Consumer Economy.
-so- Yes Reduced Taxes {Tax Cut Money} does put 'money' into the hands of the many hands of All Tax Payers :
Thus making the All Tax Payers into Enhanced Spenders and Bigger Contributors to an expanded Flow-of-Cash of a ever expanding Consumer Economy.
* But-if- the Un-employed rate is only 10%~15% of the population -then- the Employment Rate {Tax Payers} most be around 85%~90% -so- The Resulting Flow-of-Cash in a Consumer Economy is greatly increased by roughly 5X~ 9X as much.

Conclusion : Reduced Taxes for All would have the Greater Impact over Extended Un-Employment for the Few. --- its simply logical ~ RHF

Hi David,

Your research IS correct - there never was any arrest of Steve Kramer in Thailand, the U.S or anywhere else in the world for that matter. As you've so succinctly written, if anybody DOES take the time to have a quick look through the archives, they will find Steve has many friends both online and in real life. Not that the trolls would know anything about that - real life or having friends grin

I was a youngster in the 60's,when we visited my cousins in Dowagiac Mi.
they always had WLS playing.

Was it Larry Glick, or was it someone else at that time.

I will say that WBZ comes in not too well anymore for some reason, not like it did back in the 80's.

I can think of a good reason they are taking so long...
There is NO EVIDENCE for them to post! None. Nothing.
Not a single solitary mention in any Thai or American newspaper, not a single solitary mention in any Thai or western magazine, and not a single solitary mention of any arrest and deportation by anyone EXCEPT BY THESE SAME TROLLS posting in Usenet. Nothing else.

With all the redundancy given by the publications of the arrest and deportation of so many other foreigners in Thailand, there can be only one reason why there was nothing written about Kramer. He was never arrested and he was never deported. In fact, he was invited to join the Thai Tourist Police AFTER the incident at the police station incorrectly reported by the trolls. I just don't think that the Royal Thai Police would invite someone into their ranks who was not even allowed in their country! Are the trolls really as dumb as they appear to be? They just keep digging themselves deeper and deeper.

THIS is Robert Johnson. He will spend the next 187 days doing very little except thinking about Steve Kramer. Judging by his posting history, he has done very little except think about Kramer for the past 6-7 years.

I could be mistaken but that doesn't seem to be sound mental health.

David if you need to contact Steve and for some reason he does not answer you, I believe he has another address for when he is not in Bangkok but rather at his Singapore home. I am obviously not going to post it here, but I'm sure he will pass it on to you if required. He may not respond immediately as I believe he is often busy working between Bangkok and Singapore.

Hi David,

Johnson is well known amongst the expat community in northern Thailand for his love of a drink or 30. Don't worry too much about his mental health though, spare a thought instead for his poor wife who by various reports was sent away to a psychiatric ward after copping years of ridicule as a result of Bob's alcoholism.

Really is sad isn't it. Although the funny/scary thing is they actually do seem to believe in what they write. One only wonders if they replicate the same type of behavior in real life. Have to feel

I think they just want to see people react to them. Any reaction will be OK as far as they are concerned. Positive or negative. Like the 'bad boys' in primary school, acting out just to get some attention from the teachers because they don't get any attention at home. In this case, these trolls have no 'real life.' They don't have friends to interact with, they can't establish friendships on the Internet newsgroups because there are too many people so they don't get noticed. Only by acting out are people aware of them, and even though everyone is laughing at them, or shaking their heads pitying them, that's good enough for them.

This is why the Internet Suggestions say not to 'feed the trolls.' Usually this is good advice because then they go away. But this group is different. They don't go away even when they promise to go away. They simply lie about everything. This group isn't bad. It's sick.

Extremely well written and thought provoking post David. Unfortunately your expertise/knowledge will be wasted on most here. Thought your analogy of the schoolyard bullies is very apt in this case. Watch them run a mile if their victim had the chance to face them in person. Anyway, thanks again for your analysis.

- I have only got WBZ for about 30 second during the
- last 15 years. That was my favorite middle of the - night station, any body remember the name of the
- host that was on at about 2 am back then?

AMDX,

KTWO came on 1030 kHz in 1967 and WBZ's Clear Channel Signal on 1030 kHz was no longer 'protected' nationwide; especially to the west and southwest.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/KTWO_%28AM%29

Some also claim that WBZ has changed it's Antenna http://www.wbz1030.com/
Signal Pattern to better cover it's local along the East Coast Market Area North-to-South and less East (out-to-sea); while also reducing it's Western Signal http://www.fcc.gov/fcc-bin/amq?list=0&facid=25444
* Antenna Mode : Directional - 1 Pattern

WBZ-AM 1030 kHz -Station History-

WBZ is no longer 'alone' on the Frequency : There are now or soon to be around 35 AM Radio Stations on 1030 kHz; and most to the West or South of WBZ.
WBZ only has the right to a 750 Mile Signal before it becomes and Interference issue with the other AM Stations on the Frequency.

FWIW - Back in the early 1960s I managed to receive "WBZ" in Boston using a Hitachi TH-812 (TRF AM/MW Portable Radio) with an outboard 'inductively coupled' Tunable Ferrite Rod Antenna Feed by a 65 Foot

By Dr. William Pierce

Last Saturday George Bush addressed the United Nations General Assembly, urging all of the member nations to join the United States in bringing pressure to bear against all countries that sponsor terrorism or harbor terrorists. He did it in his standard mock-serious way, barely suppressing a smirk. Everyone applauded, including the representative of a country that from its founding until the present day has sponsored terrorism. That country, of course, is Israel.

The prime minister of Israel, Ariel Sharon, is a war criminal, a mass murderer, with the blood of thousands of women and children on his hands. He is being sought now for trial by the same Hague Tribunal that succeeded in extraditing former Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic for trial on charges of crimes against humanity in Kosovo, the same Hague Tribunal that already has tried and sentenced soldiers who raped and murdered in Bosnia and in Rwanda.

In 1982, during Israel's invasion of Lebanon, Ariel Sharon was Israel's defense minister. After the bloody terror-bombing of civilian neighborhoods in Beirut that killed thousands of Lebanese and Palestinian civilians -- terror bombing carried out by Jews flying military aircraft supplied to Israel by the United States - Sharon arranged for the evacuation of Palestinian fighters from Lebanon.

Palestinian women, children, and old people were left behind in refugee camps, with their safety guaranteed by the United States. On the night of September 16, 1982, Sharon sent murder squads into two Palestinian refugee camps, Sabra and Chatila, in West Beirut to kill the unarmed Palestinian civilians in the camps. With Israeli tanks and troops surrounding the camps to prevent any of the Palestinians from escaping, Sharon's murder squads shot, knifed, and bludgeoned Palestinian civilians all that night and the next day and the following night, while the Israelis around the camps listened gleefully to the shots and screams coming from inside. Then Sharon sent in bulldozers to scoop out mass burial pits and cover up the corpses of more than 2,000 Palestinian women and children.

Many Palestinians remained unburied, however, and Red Cross workers found whole families in their homes with their throats cut and other families who had been lined up and machine-gunned, from small children to elderly grandparents. One infant had been stomped to death by a man wearing spiked boots.

This was Ariel Sharon's work, but only a part of his work. He is a man who believes the teaching of the Talmud that only Jews are human beings, and that all who are not Jews were put on this earth only to serve the Jews, and that anyone who opposes the Jews deserves to be killed, and he has acted in accord with this belief all his life. There are a dozen major atrocities for which he could be tried by the Hague Tribunal, but the one with which he is charged now is the mass murder he implemented, as Israel's defense minister, in West Beirut in September 1982. And the U.S. government, which clamored for Slobodan Milosevic to be turned over to the Hague Tribunal for trial, pretends that it knows nothing about Sharon's genocidal crimes against humanity.

In the 1950s Israel's Mossad, the equivalent of the CIA in the United States, sent hundreds of letter bombs to German scientists working in Egypt and Syria, killing a number of them.

In 1967, during Israel's war against Egypt, the Israeli army carried out a number of mass executions of Egyptian prisoners of war in the Sinai, forcing them to dig ditches, then lining them up and shooting them. Dozens of eyewitnesses to these mass executions have reported what they saw, but the world's politicians and media bosses pretend not to know.

Also in 1967 Israel attacked the U.S. Navy ship, the U.S.S. Liberty, attempting to sink it and kill its crew and then blame the sinking on the Egyptians.

Israeli agents have carried out assassinations and other terrorist operations around the world. One of the most colorful of these operations -- and one of the few that received major media coverage - was the attempt to murder a prominent Muslim cleric in Jordan in 1997. Two Israeli agents sprayed poison in the ear of Khaled Meshal as they walked past him on a sidewalk in Amman. Fortunately, Meshal's bodyguards were able to catch the two Jews as they ran away, and so the assassination attempt was publicized.

Israel has stolen nuclear materials and nuclear weapons technology from the United States to build an illegal nuclear arsenal. Israel also is known to have developed an arsenal of biological and chemical weapons of mass destruction.

None of these Israeli activities is secret. Those I've mentioned are just a few of the ones that were found out and publicized. Not publicized very much, of course. In fact, they all were dropped from the news pretty quickly. Still, everyone attending Mr. Bush's speech at the United Nations last Saturday knew about them. And yet, no one stood up and booed. No one walked out in protest. Bush's speech was covered by all of the major newspapers and television networks in the world, but no reporter for any news medium operating in the West commented on his hypocrisy. No one mentioned Israel's terrorism. Everyone knew, but everyone played along.

These people weren't lemmings. Lemmings really don't know any better. Lemmings are essentially moral creatures; in fact they are compulsively moral. To lemmings it is essential to feel and think and act the way they believe they are expected to feel and think and act. That's morality. Most groups of lemmings believe that it is bad to lie, to deceive, to be hypocritical. If during George Bush's speech at the United Nations a substantial part of the audience had walked out in disgust, and at the end the remaining delegates had stood up and booed him loudly, and if the media commentators then had remarked with scorn to their television audiences that Bush is a hypocrite who talks about stopping state-sponsored terrorism while continuing to finance Israeli terrorism, the lemmings would have booed him too.

But Bush's lies and hypocrisy were ignored by the media and by the other delegates. Instead of booing, they applauded him. And so the lemmings applauded him too. It was all an act for the benefit of the lemmings. Nearly all politics these days, nearly every speech or public appearance by a politician or a government official, is an act of showmanship. What is said has relatively little relationship to what the politician actually is thinking.

Certainly, last Saturday George Bush wasn't really thinking about waging war on countries that sponsor terrorism or harbor terrorists. He was thinking first and foremost about the importance of pleasing the Jewish media with his speech. He may have been keeping his fingers crossed and hoping that no Arab delegate would jump up during his speech and shout at him, "What about Israel? You say that we should wage war on states that sponsor terrorism. Israel engages in state-sponsored terrorism more than Afghanistan and all the other countries in the Middle East combined. When will you send your B-52s to carpet-bomb Tel Aviv and Jerusalem?" And at the end he must have marveled to himself how smoothly the act went and how easy it is to deceive the public.

Crookedness of this sort has been going on for a long time. There are only two things that make this latest crookedness noteworthy. First, it is being used to justify yet another war that is not in the interests of the American people. It is being used to justify dropping cluster bombs on villagers whom we have no good reason to kill. And second, it is a lot more obviously crooked than usual. Osama bin Laden caught the Bush government and the media by surprise, and they didn't have time to refine and polish their lies. All they could do was pretend that they had no idea why he would attack the United States and then claim that it must be because he hates our freedom. They didn't have time to put up their usual smokescreen of obfuscation. They simply launched their denunciations of terrorism and terrorists and of governments that tolerate terrorism and hoped that no one would say anything about Israel or Ariel Sharon or Israel's policies of assassination and torture.

Because the crookedness is more obvious now than usual, more perceptive people than usual are noticing it and saying something about it, and that's good. But these perceptive few who are unhappy enough about the crookedness to speak out have little or no voice in the mass media, and so the lemmings remain oblivious to the realities of the situation.

That's the wonderful thing about democracy: you don't have to try to fool all of the people; all you have to do is fool most of the people all of the time, and that's pretty easy to do when you control the mass media. You can just ignore the few who refuse to go along with the act, and the great majority of the voters will never notice.

So why do I care that the system is crooked? Why should you care? Why not just pretend not to notice the crookedness and go along with it, like everyone else? Pretend to be a lemming, but stay alert to possibilities for profiting from the fact that, unlike the lemmings, you really are secretly aware of who's who and what's what. That's what the big shots do. That's what the people do who care only about themselves and don't give a damn what happens to their country or their race or the civilization built by their race, as long as they personally are able to turn a profit from events. That's what George Bush does. He pretends to care about all sorts of things. He pretends to be outraged by terrorism, but he shakes Ariel Sharon's hand and gives him a big hug whenever Sharon shows up in Washington. He pretends not to be aware of Sharon's record as a mass murderer, a war criminal, a terrorist, a man who sends out teams of assassins and orders the Israeli police to torture prisoners.

A lot of people think and behave the way George Bush does. A lot of people believe that's the only smart way to be. We're living in a society in which a great many people are completely alienated, completely disconnected from any sense of responsibility to race or nation or to anyone but themselves: amoral people, people willing to do anything they believe is personally advantageous, people for whom every public expression is simply an act. And because there are so many people like that, including virtually everyone in the government and in the media, America is very, very sick.

I'll go further: individuals who think and behave that way are sick. George Bush is a very sick man. Anyone who consciously and deliberately betrays his own race or his own nation, anyone who commits treason, is a defective person, a sick person. And George Bush, by consciously following a policy he knows is not in the interests of America but only serves Israel's interests, a policy he knows is responsible for the September 11 attack against America, a policy he continues to follow despite that knowledge, is a traitor. That's George Bush I'm talking about, the President of the United States. He may look stupid, but he knows what he's doing. George Bush believes he's a smart guy, a guy who knows which side his bread is buttered on, a guy who can get away with anything as long as the Jewish media will back him up. And so far he has been getting away with it. In a democracy, hypocrisy works; lying works. As long as you have the mass media on your side you can get away with anything, because the majority of the voters never will figure it out.

What has been happening in Mazar-i-Sharif and Kabul and other northern cities in Afghanistan this week is a good example. The big act put on by George Bush and his British counterpart Tony Blair and all of their media supporters since the campaign to destabilize Afghanistan began last month -- the big act was that the Taliban is a bunch of tyrannical fanatics who brutalize women, sponsor terrorism, and do lots of other bad things, and the Northern Alliance, which was supplied with weapons and money by the U.S. government while we bombed the Taliban to smithereens, is a bunch of Sunday school teachers and Boy Scouts. The United States will deliver Afghanistan into the hands of the Northern Alliance, and then everything will be rosy and peaceful and democratic. The people who had been tyrannized by the Taliban will be free and happy under the Northern Alliance. The Americans will be the good guys, who have made this wonderful improvement possible.

Well, of course, it hasn't worked out that way. As soon as the Northern Alliance took over each city it began rounding up people it didn't like, people who belonged to the wrong tribe, for example, and raping and killing them. There have been dozens of mass executions and mass rapes by the Northern Alliance troops this week. There are a lot of people they don't like. And the ones who just get raped or shot are the lucky ones. Eyes are being gouged out, breasts are being cut off, prisoners are being castrated and impaled and skinned alive or burned to death. That's the way things are done in the Middle East. When the British tried to pacify the country in the 19th century, the rule was never to let yourself be taken alive. If you were wounded and left behind, you always saved your last cartridge for yourself. Rudyard Kipling wrote about that:

"When you're wounded and left on Afghanistan's plains,

"And the women come out to cut up what remains,

"Jest roll to your rifle and blow out your brains

"An' go to your Gawd like a soldier."

The Russians learned the same lesson, to their sorrow, just a little over a decade ago. And the military people around George Bush certainly were aware of the experiences of the British and the Russians. The Taliban indeed may be a rough and brutal bunch, but no more rough and brutal than the people paid and armed by the U.S. government. When the Taliban was in charge at least there was peace and stability. There were no massacres or gang rapes. The U.S. government, with its bombing campaign and its mercenary troops in the Northern Alliance, has succeeded in destabilizing large portions of Afghanistan, and the rapes and mutilations and mass executions have started.

But the lemmings won't hear enough about that for it to sink in. George Bush will continue lying and smirking and pretending that the Northern Alliance are the good guys, and America is bringing freedom and democracy and happiness to Afghanistan. What the United States actually is trying to do is set up a government a little more corrupt than that of the Taliban: a government that we can control with bribes and threats and that will not be a danger to Israel. That's the whole purpose of our war against Afghanistan.

It's the same sort of crookedness that we saw in connection with the Second World War. The pretext that the British government used for declaring war against Germany in 1939 was the safeguarding of Poland's freedom. When the Roosevelt government in the United States finally was able to use the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor as an excuse for jumping into the war against Germany, the act by the media and the politicians here was that Americans were being the good guys and would bomb the Germans to smithereens in order to protect American freedom and the freedom of Europe. And the people to whom we shipped military supplies so they could help us were the Soviets under good old Uncle Joe Stalin, that kind and fatherly fellow who also was being threatened by the wicked Germans.

Of course, what we did, after carpet-bombing German cities and killing enough Germans to make them surrender, was turn Poland and the Baltic states and half the rest of Europe over to communist rule for half a century. It had never been the intention of either the British government or the U.S. government to free anybody. We knew what sort of people the communists were. We knew that they had butchered the cream of the Polish nation in the Katyn forest and elsewhere - 25,000 Polish military officers and professors and physicians and engineers and writers - but our government and media people pretended that it was the Germans who had done it and that we were "liberating" Europe from the Germans and protecting American freedom, which never was threatened by the Germans.

It was all an act. The aim was not to safeguard anybody's freedom; it was to destroy Germany because the Germans had gotten the Jews off their backs and out of their country. We made war against Germany in order to make Europe safe for the Jews and for no other reason. We are making war against Afghanistan now in order to make the Middle East safe for the Jews, and for no other reason. Everything else is an act to keep the public fooled. And the public will be fooled: just as they never figured out what World War Two was all about, they won't figure out what the war against Afghanistan is all about. They may hear rumors about the massacres being carried out now by the Northern Alliance, but the television people won't spell it out for them, won't show them gory pictures of the piles of corpses, and so the public won't get it.

So again, why should you care? Why not just go along with the act, the way the big shots do?

That's a hard question to answer, in this sense: If you're like George Bush or any of the other big shots who think they're being smart by going along with the act and collaborating with the Jews against their own people - if you think that's the smart way to behave - then you won't understand my answer, no matter how carefully I explain it. If you're a person who already is totally alienated - if you're an amoral person who already is completely disconnected from your race and its traditions and values and you think of yourself solely as an individual scrambling to get an advantage over other individuals by any means that will work - you won't understand my answer.

But if you still have some sense of being a part of something larger and more permanent than yourself -- if you still have a sense of racial identity, a sense of kinship with a larger family of fellow Europeans, of fellow White men and women with whom you share traditions and values and a way of looking at the world - if you value the civilization your ancestors built over the last 5,000 years, if you think of it as your civilization - then my answer is superfluous. You already know the answer. You already understand why you must not collaborate with creatures who secretly sneer at your values, who are contemptuous of the traditions and history of your people, who have been working for thousands of years to corrupt your civilization, and who are determined to annihilate your race. You already understand why men who do collaborate with these creatures must not be permitted to make laws and set policies governing your people. You understand that instead of being applauded and looked at with respect, they should be hanged as traitors and as a warning to others who might be tempted also to betray our people. You already understand that truthfulness and righteousness are their own reward.

From Chucles the Klown....

Not sure about this, not sure that I wanted to know.
In some cases it's an invasion of privacy (alcoholism and psychiatric problems) people with these will only get my pity, in others it's good to know racism and pedophilia.

Racism sucks big time, and civilised people should have not time for it, side note: recognising racial differences and cultural differences is not racism. I have no time for racists.

Pedophiles have an illness, however it's an illness that they know they have and they know it's wrong. Basically having sex with children is not acceptable.

I used to look at these people with a hope that they could be salvaged, and I could imagine only someone with a poor sense of humor on the other end of the cable.

After seeing the above list I can only feel sorrow at something that is in most cases nonredeemable. In a way I wish I didn't know.

The whole discussions that come to these groups are highly inappropriate, and worse off topic.

None of the above is about knives, cooking, Thai culture, or shortwave

That's an exaggeration. The Tea Party is basically grass roots, and a lot of the members are mad at the GOP too, although they understandably have a particularly strong hatred for the left. But FOX and the GOP certainly do encourage the Tea Party, just as the Dems and most of the other (left-wing) news media encourage liberal and so-called "progressive" (Jewish communist and non-White communist) organizations ..... the ones that you seem to be working for, comrade.

What is the Golden Come-Along Award?

The Golden Come-Along Award is given to that individual who has been deemed to have had his/her head stuck so far up their ass during the previous year that it would require the assistance of a come-along to pull it out.

This year's recipient is of course Michael W. Bryant, representing Louisville, Kentucky, who really had a late start, but certainly edged the Canucks out with his special brand of faux PhD fakery.

Congratulations Michael, what a stellar performance!

The Canucks, valiantly vied for first place honours, but in typical dumbass Canuck fashion, couldn't cut the mustard.

Better luck next year, CanaDuh!

Thanks to all the participants who took place in this years awards!

David,

It's interesting that you seem to know so much about your subject and that you've dedicated so much time to your advanced searches and research on Steve Kramer.

You say the trolls are lying about Kramer's deportation but I think that's because you havent done enough research on the man himself.

Notice how he hasn't posted in a few years? Notice how the website shows the business has closed down?

Can you find any newspaper articles stating Kramer is still in the Kingdom and enjoying the same lifestyle as previously?

For someone with such apparent celebrity status in Chiang Mai (as he might have you believe) it seems he's gone very quiet.

In this case I have to use my own judgement as to the truth and the evidence points to his deportation. A disgraced snapper thrown out of Thailand for unscrupulous activities.

Communism and the Obama Connection

http://www.usasurvival.org/obama.html

What Barack Obama learned from the Communist Party

http://www.americanthinker.com/2008/07/what_barack_obama_learned_from.html

Who is Mike Klonsky?

Mike Klonsky is one of the founders of Communist Party (Marxist-Leninist) (USA) and the Students for a Democratic Society a fervent Obama supporter, friend and former member of the terrorist group the Weatherman.

http://archive.redstate.com/blogs/steve_foley/2008/jun/25/introducing_mike_klonsky_another _communist_terrorist_friend_of_obama

(...) a notorious ally of Bill Ayers for many years, Mike Klonsky, is an open member of the Obama campaign. Klonsky runs a blog on the official Obama website here where he claims to be a "professor of education"... and says he blogs for Obama on "education politics and teaching for social justice."

Who is Mike Klonsky? Well, on one level, he might just appear to be a protege of Bill Ayers in the education world. He received, as I detail below, a $175,000 grant from the Ayers/Obama-led Annenberg Challenge to run the Small Schools Workshop that he and Ayers started in Chicago to push their school reform agenda.

But that is only half the story. Klonsky was one of the most destructive hardline maoists in the SDS in the late 60's who emerged from SDS to form a pro-Chinese sect called the October League that later became the Beijing-recognized Communist Party (Marxist-Leninist). As chairman of the party, Klonsky travelled to Beijing itself in 1977 and, literally, toasted the Chinese stalinist leadership who, in turn, "hailed the formation of the CP(ML) as 'reflecting the aspirations of the proletariat and working people,' effectively recognizing the group as the all-but-official US Maoist party." (Elbaum, Revolution in the Air, 228).

I know of no indications that Klonsky has ever expressed any regrets about that activity. Perhaps like his SDS comrade, Ayers, he, too, thinks he did not do enough back then. In my view they did more than enough.

An excellent profile of that maoist milieu is available in a book called Revolution in the Air by Max Elbaum,
http://www.amazon.com/Revolution-Air-Sixties-Radicals-Lenin/dp/1844675637/ref=sr_1_13?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1214282892&sr=8-13
a first hand participant whose sympathy for the maoism of the period does not get in the way of an excellent account of these idiot savants of the left.

How is it possible that someone of Klonsky's ilk would now be playing a visible role in the Obama campaign itself on such an important issue as education policy - apparently with free reign to push his authoritarian "social justice" agenda?

David,

I wont insult you as it seems you are misguided individual and in a state of confusion.

However, I will point out that your research is flawed and that you are barking up the wrong tree. Maybe your advanced search criteria needs to be adjusted?? I've no idea who Scott Koplin is or what relationship he has with yourself or Steve Kramer.

Don't worry though, Steve Kramer can have that affect on people. Kind of like usenet's version of Hannibal Lecter.

Maybe you should hook up with the Question Guy and compare notes. Question Guy was compiling dossiers on the trolls and is sure to have some useful information to aid your research.

The dismissal of the voter intimidation lawsuit against armed New Black Panthers in Philadelphia is the most prominent example of this hostility toward race-neutral enforcement of civil rights laws. But that dismissal is far from the only manifestation of the beliefs infesting the Department. Many other cases and decisions — some of which I will detail below — are in question and deserve scrutiny.

On Election Day 2008, armed men wearing the uniforms and jackboots of the New Black Panther Party were posted in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at the entrance to a polling site. They brandished a weapon and intimidated voters. After the election, the Civil Rights Division at the U.S. Department of Justice brought a voter intimidation case against the New Black Panther Party and these armed thugs. I, and other Justice lawyers, obtained an entry of default after the defendants ignored the case against them.

Before a final judgment could be entered, however, our superiors ordered dismissal of the claims.

Congress has sought answers from the Department about why the Black Panther case was dismissed. The Department has repeatedly claimed the “facts and law” did not support the case — which of course is false. Others have speculated about a White House involvement. But I believe the best explanation for the corrupt dismissal of the case is the profound hostility by the Obama Civil Rights Division in the Justice Department towards a race-neutral enforcement of civil rights laws.

This hostility was — and is — on open display within the Department of Justice.

Make no mistake, the Democrat Party is the Red Carpet of the Communist Party International and big-name Democratic fundraisers.

David Axelrod is a left-leaning Democratic political consultant who’s mother was once a journalist on the pro-communist paper PM.

PM was considered the alternative paper in Communist Party circles to the Daily Worker.

Plenty of hits about Robert Johnson. It looks as if he was pretty much

Go ahead, Steve, you can't even make me mad, today!
I had a great Fourth attending the free concert, yesterday, at Louisville's Waterfront. Three awesome acts were there - Bettye LeVett, Arrested Development, and Michael Franti & Spearhead. three acts which coincidentally which all played at Obama's inauguration.
The crowd was huge, somewhere between 150 to 200 thousand. It was a great time being with a huge multiethnic crowd, where everyone got along and went wild every time Obama's name was mentioned. Franti saw me boogeying with my walker (used since the stroke), jumped a fence and came over and danced with me.
Then he did a song out in the audience standing just a few feet from my daughter, her friend, and I. I'm recovering today from the heat (Heat Index was 108!), but not even YOU can dent my mood.

All I got is love in my heart for you, Steve.

There's little hope of that! Their track record is proof! Gregg invited them in and they are here to stay! RRS, in and of itself, was a little lacking in excitement so Gregg thought to liven it up! Well, in that he succeeded!

Are you kidding? There are posts from him almost every day. He just doesn't post to Usenet. You can find his posts in several different moderated groups such as ThaiVisa. In fact, he posted there yesterday and the day before yesterday. He also posts almost daily in some knife moderated knife forums.

Man, you don't know how to do research, do you.

Notice how the website shows > the business has closed down?

It appears you can't read either. His website says that he's no longer offering 'lessons' in the Chiang Mai area, but instead concentrating on commercial photojournalism. With the virtual collapse of tourism in Thailand, that makes a lot of sense.

> Can you find any newspaper articles stating Kramer is still in the

No, other than the last newspaper article about him being inducted into the Thai Tourist Police, there have been no newspaper articles about him.

Not to those who know how to listen.

You seem to be in a dilemma, Larbgai. You say;
Tom Smith is Steve Kramer

You say;
Steve Kramer has been kicked out of Thailand

But Tom Smith is posting FROM WITHIN Thailand. As Thailand doesn't permit proxy servers, how can someone you say is not in Thailand by posting from inside of Thailand?

You'll have to choose. Either Tom Smith isn't Kramer or Kramer isn't in Thailand. You can't have both!

What makes you think this is some sort of evidence? This is a picture showing him sitting in a chair. He could be applying for a marriage licence, a drivers license, a dog license or just paying a parking ticket. This is no more eveidence of anything than http://img694.imageshack.us/i/scottgun.jpg/ proves it's a fully automatic machine gun with a silencer on it!

Not sure if I like Eureka. Some shows were good. Some had so much romance you forgot it was a sci-fi show. Crossovers usually indicate someone has writers block.

Thailand to deport Australian facing sex charges
By South-East Asia correspondent Peter Lloyd

A convicted Australian sex offender has been arrested on child sex charges in Thailand.
David Leonard Arthur, 47, was arrested in a hotel near Thailand's second city of Chiang Mai.
He was in the company of three teenage boys from neighbouring Burma.
During a subsequent search of Arthur's home, Police found pornography and sex toys.
Thai authorities are holding the New South Wales man for obscenity and harbouring illegal migrants.
Arthur is a convicted sex offender in Australia.
He was working in Chiang Mai.
Immigration officials say he will be deported back to Australia and blacklisted from re-entering Thailand.

Thanks, but I just pushed the button on his website, which connected to

You are correct in that he is back an forth often, actually, according to his message, all over S.E.Asia not just Singapore and Bangkok. His ISP was a Bangkok server when he wrote to me the other day, but I'm sure he uses local servers where ever he goes. He can still use his same

CONSERVATIVES: REPUBLICANS AND TEA PARTIERS

On November 2, remember to bring your video cameras, cell phones, baseball bats, and shotguns to the polls just in case more illegal

Obama voter intimidation occurs, and use these items in the same order presented. First, document fascist Obama's violators with video, then call the police on your cell. If the police won't come, you'll have to scare these fascist bastards off yourselves with the last two items, but it's best if there are several voters confronting the fascists rather than just one, so team up with others. Just video taping them to give to the press or post on YouTube and leaving the violators there is not enough. Confrontation is necessary when law enforcement refuses to enforce the law.
Just like Arizona had to do, the only way to exact justice from this Obama presidency that is hell bent on dividing the country along racial lines is to force the issue.

According to Google archives, they 'promised' to stop posting both rec.knives and soc.culture.thai. History proves they lied.

They never even slowed down. When one target left, they just chose another. When things slowed down, they forged addresses to have someone to fight with. Now that Gregg has invited them here, they are here to stay. They still post to rec.knives and that group has been dead for the last six months. They forge their own addresses then complain that someone else is forging their addresses. It's a sickness.

Tom Smith is posting from Thailand because Kraven told him to post.
Kraven tell lots of people to post and it's not fair to us poor trolls.
We four have to do all the work ourselves, while Kraven get help from so many different people. It's just not fair and we won't quit.

Eurkea like, all of the shows on SyFy had good and bad episodes. Sometimes there was a while there where most of their shows had a good season opener, a good finale and a lot of crap in between.

After watching Battlestar Galactica's, middle episodes I began to hate the humans, and Caprica paints them so badly that what made me happy is it has a happy ending (the first episode of B.G., where the cylons blow them all to hell).

Wharehouse 13 got a little weird at the end , but not too bad.

The crossover makes sense, but I won't say anymore here, except that Eureka is America's smartest people who work for the government* and Wharehouse 13 is a place that needs them.

* In the Eureka pilot, it was mentioned that global warming was caused by an accident at Global Dynamics.

Hah. Back in Christmas of 1962 my Sister gave me a KOBE/KYO AM radio. It was so directive I could either line it pu for the weak signal or block the interfering one. Late at night I got some Mississippi stations and one from Texas. At 14 I was happy to get that.

Notice how he's playing on the "walker" thing, typical ploy of the While it's true that Gregg called the trolls into rec.radio, and continues to call different people names, he seems to be avoiding talking with the trolls, trying to hid his association. Frankly, I don't think he can hide it. He's the one who brought them here, and he's the one responsible for all this noise they are making.

I doubt it's going to stop until they drop. It doesn't seem to matter who they attack, just so long as they are keeping their names out in front. Reality has no impact on them. Facts have no impact on them. They can contradict themselves in the same post and not blink an eye. All they want to do is get noticed.

Gregg gave them the perfect opportunity to do this when he invited them over to rec.radio. After completely destroying rec.knives and soc.culture.thai, they will now do the same to rec.radio.

You can receive 700 WLW can't you? Do you ever get to catch the personalities on that station? They lost Mike McConnell (Midday Show) to Chicago - they were trying to lure Bill Cunningham there also - but he decided to stay in the Nati'. Thank God.

LOL - Oh quit it :-D (OK- I "fell into your trap so I could say this<rolling my eyes>) I didn't post ANY of this stuff here in RRS. But Krypsie Kreme would follow me around from RecKnives and whenever I responded he cut and pasted and sent it right here into RRS. Like he was sexually spanking my bare bottom (his old fag ass wished) and teaching ole' Gwegg a wesson.<heh> Fruitloop/CoccoPuffs wishes.

Bruce even asked him Robin (not verbatim) "why are you a troll'? "What is it our business what Gregg does in another group"? ETC ETC ETC ETC. Do you want me to provide those links also?<shaking my head>

Once I knew he was going to follow me around (like a sick old supposed - perverted man) - I decided to unpaste the other four groups that my responses would be cross posted to like RK, and post just here - as to not include the other groups. I mean, he was doing it anyhow, that is why Bruce said what he did, but apparently it didn't bother anyone else here so I don't see why anyone would complain about Mike/Krypsies/Batman plan to inundate this group with trash....I mean....is it really surprising? Not to me.

I hope everyone is enjoying it, because no one really responded when Robin brought it (me responding into RK) right into this group. ;-) So, this bogus Matt crap saying "thanks" what the &*^% ever - lolololol- you are part of it and anyone with sense knows it. I hope you are enjoying it. :-D IN a weird way I can't help but roll my eyes on many of these posts...lol...only on usenet.

- You should really keep this up.
- It helps the Dems to see how insane
- Obama's enemies are. Keep it up!

MWB -why- the use of the term Obama's Enemies ?

MWB One begins to wonder -if- Prez Obama and the Obama Regime have/are compiling an Enemies List like Nixon . . .

MWB Did Prez Clinton have Enemies ?
Obsessed {White Water & Lewinsky} Political Opposition Yes -but- no one in the Clinton Administration was talking about Enemies of the Prez Clinton. {Presidential Enemies List}

MWB Did Prez Bush have Enemies ?
Rabid and Hateful Anti-Bush Political Opposition Yes -but- no one in the Bush Administration was talking about Enemies of the Prez Bush.
{Presidential Enemies List}
-ok- may be a vp 'cheney' enemies list

MWB
? Are your so-called Obama's Enemies :
Enemies of The State ?

MWB
? Is Prez Obama just a 'temporary' 4-Year
Employee of the People -or- Has Prez Obama
Now Become "The State" and President-for-Life ?

? What Should Prez Obama Do With These Enemies of The State {Himself} ?
? Interment Camps for Insane Enemies of The State ?
? Gulags {Work Camps} for Criminal Enemies of The State ?
? Send Enemies of The State All Back To Europe ?
? Executions for Dangerous Enemies of The State ?
* Note even John Hinckley, Jr got a Fair Trial; went to Jail/Hospital {Insanity} and is alive today.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John_Hinckley,_Jr.

MWB Since when did having and expressing Political Views that are opposed to any US President make American Citizens Enemies of The State {President} ? --- After all the First Amendment to the United States Constitution provides for :
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First_Amendment_to_the_United_States_Constitution
* Abridging the Freedom of Speech,

I'm just glad that I was able to finally get out of the wheelchair and return to work. Remember, the whole dialogue between Steve Lare and I over me turning down a full disability? While I was in the hospital doing physical therapy after my stroke, they told me I'd never be able to return to teaching due to being unable to walk. I stayed off of RRS during that period, because I was too busy to deal with the likes of you and Lare. The hospital told me that they had applied on my behalf for a disability.
I turned it down because I wasn't going to give up trying to get back to teaching.

Well, God gave me enough strength to get through that rehab.
Not the revengeful God that you worship, Gwegg. But the merciful God that heals and loves us all. I can now get around with just a cane most of the time. But the open air Waterfront Concert on the 4th necessitated a walk further than the cane, alone, would have supported. I had to use a walker with wheels. When Michael Franti saw me getting into the concert despite having to use a walker, he came out into the audience and danced with me. I was overwhelmed. Thank God that there are still some folks in this world with love in their hearts. If the world was full of people like you, there'd be little reason to go on.

I think you've shown enough of your true nature over the past few days to show everyone in this newsgroup who you are and what you represent. As usual, YOU demonstrated more about yourself, than I ever could. All I can suggest to you is that you try love, instead.

Thanks,

Mike

Uh, Roy, unless you believe that I am really President Obama, you can calm down. Those were my words, not Obama's. I should have used the words "political opponents" instead of enemies.

But thanks for your warning about the internment camps that Obama is planning for his enemies. I'll start watching for the unmarked black helicopters and the troops with blue helmets. I hear they're looking for someone named
"Roy Fisk," but they can't find him thanks to your tinfoil hat!

Have a nice day, Roy!

Bill Cunningham is on WLS on Sunday nights from I believe 10 PM -1 AM.

Mike McConnell is on WOOD 1300 on Saturdays in the afternoon, Noon to 3 sounds about right.

Best off adding him to your killfle list David. Thanks to a recommendation from Steve many years ago, I now utilise a neat little program called Thunderbird. Basically lets folk see only the posts they WANT to read. Give it a try, it just may make your time here bearable...I DID say 'may mind you.

Not having to read irrelevant posts from trolls like the ones that

One other thing, there is no 'partial disability' when it comes to Social Security. It's all or nothing. So, there is no way one can turn down a 'full disability' and receive a partial disability at least with Social Security.

Also, there is no way you could have turned it down unless you had gone through the whole process and were actually awarded the disability.

The hospital would have unlikely been in a position to take you through the whole process on it's own.

'Teaching', at least in your case, 'tard boy, only requires the use of your mouth for 'Dramatic Lecturing'.

Heck, isn't 'Dramatic Lecturing' just exactly what Obama does?

Hmmmmm... gonna have to consider him as a possible entrant for the Golden Come-Along Award for 2011.

Yeah, just had them on here. Not too strong of a daytime signal, but certainly

What trap? You fell into your own trap Gregg. You planned to get at Mike by bringing in the trolls and now it's backfired on you. Can't blame me for that Gregg. It was your own trap that you've become ensnared in!

> But Krypsie Kreme would follow me around from RecKnives and whenever I

I didn't "follow" you from rec.knives Gregg. I was always lurking here.
You came into rec.knives, allied yourself with the trolls and then brought them here in your war with Mike Bryant.

Gregg, the only one here with a sexual fetish is you! You are the one always bringing up the topic of "bare bottom". Whatever floats your boat! Just don't bring me into your sexual perversions!

I "unpaste" other groups from crossposting and your good friends, the trolls, repaste them back again. One such group is rec.scuba, a group which I have no interest in whatsoever, another is rec.food.cooking, a group I figure doesn't need the trash from the trolls.

People here are hoping that the trolls, including you, just simply go away. Knowing these trolls, I know that simply isn't going to happen. They have killed off 2 groups that were the object of their desires and now they need fresh meat. You, by you invite, provided them with their fresh meat. No matter how you wriggle and squirm and play the innocent poster, you brought them here, it's your fault and it's too late for any poster to complain. They should have had a go at you way back but now the trolls have their claws well dug in.

I notice that even Bruce has given up on you! Quite rightly so after you made him look foolish with his defence of you!

> trash....I mean....is it really surprising? Not to me.

Gregg, 99% of the trash currently in RRS is due to YOU calling the trolls in here! You'll have noted by now that the trolls post whether I post or not so you cannot say they come here because of me. You invited them to HELP YOU in YOUR FIGHT with Mike Bryant! Remember? You should since you confessed to it publicly and had the trolls agreeing, also publicly! There was no plan to inundate this group with trash unless it was YOUR PLAN.

Back when I bought it, the Yupiteru MVT7100 was reputed to be the best portable wideband for SW, but while it has narrower filters, the shape factor isn't so great. You can still end up listening to 2 stations at once. :(

That's why I ended up installing my 7030+ in a cabinet with a couple of NIMH battery packs and a rapid charger for "portable" use. With the Racal crystal filters I installed, that radio is incredibly nice for camping trips, but it fills most of a briefcase.

I've never thought about taking my 7030+ into the woods. But the HF-150 is a good performer there. '

I had a Yupi 9000, and while it was ok filter wise, not great, it's main problems were CPU hash, and it overloaded with anything more than a 20 foot wire on it.

I took the Icom 735 I had up to a friend's cabin in the winter once, running it on a big battery on a huge longwire and an attenuator I made to control the input level, and it was great. It was so quiet..'

> That is, when I'm not dragging the SW-8 with me.

I fished a large foam padded case out of the dumpster at work and replaced the foam with new foam that I cut to fit the 735, a speaker, the power cord, a very lightweight longwire, and the attenuator. It wasn't too bad to lug around. Probably 20 pounds.

Tell me Steve, what's YOUR reason for the hundreds of posts you have made here over the last week?

As your jungle safari photography tour business in CM has gone bust it's obviously NOT to try and drum up trade, which is the only reason you used to post here, so tell the group the reason for all these posts.

You're not trying to start up again are you? It was your wife Nobuko who set you up the first time in business, and she lost a lot of money when the business went bust. You surely wouldn't be stupid enough to try it again. Or would you? smirk

4471. The Left-Fascist Axis. Again.

We are seeing another Left-fascist axis in our time, recapitulating Stalin's (and worldwide communism's) embrace of Hitler's Germany. The Gaza flotilla crisis was set up by the radical Left (Bill Ayers, Bernardine Dohrn, Jodie Evans, and other Obama buds) in collusion with Hamas, which is about as fascist as they get.
http://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2010/06/hamas_losing_gaza_flotilla_stu.html
If you doubt it, watch Hamas TV on the MEMRI website.
http://www.memritv.org/clip/en/1625.htm
They are the worst. They teach toddlers about the glories of dying for Allah. Even Fatah thinks Hamas is a throwback to the Dark Ages.

In the Gaza flotilla, the Turks, who yelled out "Khaibar! Khaibar!" as they were trying to kill Israeli soldiers, were members of the Turkish branch of Hamas, the Muslim Brotherhood.
http://michellemalkin.com/2010/06/01/all-aboard-the-peace-thug-flotilla-the-army-of-muhammad-will-return/
They yelled out "Khaibar!" because that massacre of Jews was Mohammed's own Auschwitz. That doesn't leave any doubt about who they are. Martyrdom is just a means to an end, and that end is "Khaibar." The media always forget to tell us that part.

Words matter, which is why the Left is always making up new words for themselves -- to disguise who they really are. The Left isn't Communist anymore; they are "progressive" -- which leaves the rest of us back in 1776.
http://www.plp.org/challenge/2010/6/11/communist-revolution-will-smash-racist-police-terror.html
"Progressives" always know which way to find "progress," and it always comes down to stomping on the rest of us. Because if you're not "progressive," you must be an enemy of "progress."

http://www.marxists.org/subject/stalinism/origins-future/index.htm

The Left is a throwback to all the ancient utopian cults -- the Mayans, Genghis Khan and the Yellow Emperor of China, Idi Amin Dada and Robert Mugabe. It's the ancient Egyptian priesthood, which was also a cult run by a totalitarian clique. In ancient Egypt, you had to die to get to utopia, but the psychology is always the same. Utopian cults always appeal to suckers. They are a very nasty part of the human condition. But there's nothing new there, and they are certainly not "progressive." They are a throwback.

http://www.factnet.org/singer.htm

Obama doesn't look like a normal American because he is a High Priest. Harry Truman wouldn't recognize him, but King Tut would. Obama has all the arrogance and ignorance of a Pharaoh.
http://www.google.com/images?q=obama+pharaoh&oe=utf-8&rls=org.mozilla:en-US:official&client=firefox-a&um=1&ie=UTF-8&source=univ&ei=qWovTPr9MIHlnAfjmODcAw&sa=X&oi=image_result_group&ct=title&resnum=1&ved=0CCkQsAQwAA

So here are two ways to simplify the daily media circus. First, the media are the cult of the Left, trying to twist your mind. The "Left" equals global totalitarianism, which is Stalinism, which is Leninism, which is radical feminism, which is the hateful racism of the Reverend Wright and Louis Farrakhan. Same story, different labels. Keep it simple.

Whatever mask they try on, radical leftists are internationalists -- meaning that they are against America as a sovereign nation. That's Obama's real beef against us, and it's why he will never enforce our borders. Sure, leftists are all "patriots" in their own minds, because they worship the prairie flowers and the pretty mountains. And they all despise McDonald's hamburgers and eat arugula, because at bottom they are the most amazing snobs. America is just one little piece of Planet Gaia, where everybody will live in peace and harmony because Obama or Algore will rule us with an iron fist. It's all for our own good.
http://www.isj.org.uk/index.php4?id=427&issue=118

So the Left hasn't changed since ancient times. That's why Harvard has a "speech code," courtesy of the likes of Elena Kagan and the PC Commissars. People can't be trusted to say what's on their minds. They might hurt somebody's feelings. Speech codes are an ancient way to control people. All the prehistoric little Hitlers had speech taboos.
http://www.thefire.org/spotlight/schools/harvard-university.html

The second useful word is "fascist." Academics spend their lives trying to define that word. But if you believe in killing people until they surrender to your totalitarian hokum; if you want to enslave women, kids, Jews, Christians, nonconformist Muslims (like the Bahai'is), gays, Africans in the Sudan, Marxists (yes), Trotskyites, liberals, and anybody who thinks the U.S. Constitution is a good idea, you're a fascist. Simple, reasonable definition.
http://www.amazon.com/Liberal-Fascism-American-Mussolini-Politics/dp/0767917189/

So we are seeing the Hitler-Stalin Pact, Take 2. The motivation is identical. These people hate the modern world, just like the Nazis and Lenin did. Hitler wanted to go back to the Nordic gods. His utopia was in a fantasy past. Lenin placed his utopia in the distant future. If you're a coercive utopian, you have to dream of a long-ago past or a misty future, as long as it's impossible to see what it's really like.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Molotov%E2%80%93Ribbentrop_Pact

Today the Saudis want to go back to Mohammed in the 7th century, and the Twelvers in Iran want to go back to the Hidden Mahdi in the 11th century. They all want to make utopia by force and terror.

The Left-fascists are intolerant of individualism, liberty, free speech, and electoral legitimacy, which is why they always try to sabotage constitutional government. Kagan on the Supreme Court. Obama as Pharaoh in the Oval. Why bow down to the King of Saudi and the Emperor of Japan? They are both medieval reactionaries. Obama bowed down to them, but he was really giving the high sign to America. That's Obama's shtick.

We are seeing a rerun of the Hitler-Stalin Pact of 1938. That Left-Fascist alliance fell apart when Hitler flipped and decided to send tanks into Poland and Russia instead.
http://uk.answers.yahoo.com/question/index?qid=20091227060016AA86mWS

It is what Freud called a "repetition compulsion." It happens over and over again because these people don't live in reality. That's why they are dangerous. They can never figure out what went wrong last time, so they keep trying it again. They live in egomaniacal fantasies, and real people keep getting in their way. Off with their heads!

The last time a Left-Fascist Axis rose to power, it led to World War Two and the Cold War. Maybe the only way to win is to make them fight each other. That's how we came out of it before.

I don't know how decent people will prevail this time. I think we will, because we have done so over the centuries. But we are in another Long War with some real bad hot spots. The enemy today is both the Left and the fascists.

http://books.google.com/books?id=nEpe4DvOZSUC&printsec=frontcover&dq=Long+War&source=bl&ots=47cf7IA9HN&sig=N13IKIRgWG9wniqm2G7quI9pTT0&hl=en&ei=cWwvTIioJJWNnQeK7qTgAw&sa=X&oi=book_result&ct=result&resnum=11&ved=0CFIQ6AEwCg#v=onepage&q&f=false

Read the news and you'll see it every day.

They're baaaaack!

You are such a phoney bologney. Getting busted for getting high with a male student at Weber St. didn't humble you at all. You came back to this group blaming everyone but yourself and threatening legal action on everyone.

HOPEFULLY- your brush with mortality would have knocked your brain/ mouth down a peg and humbled you. All one has to do is read this group to see what a freeking head game you are. That didn't even work from what I read here, but then you play the "God Card" when it fits your "arguement". But yet you attack and make fun of that same God or someones belief on another post. Looks like the Lord still has some work to do with you to get you where he wants. I'll include you in my prayers, I really will. Good luck in your recovery, and I mean that.

Steve, we both know that his story has more holes than a slice of swiss cheese. There are truths and half truths and omissions and exagerrations, anyone that has read him in here for years knows he is a walking contradiction. That is in part to his debated "mind" - - I asked two people that I trust whole heartedly and they said that people in debate or that teach debate, that the mindset of debating is actually an illness and addictive in many cases. Just read up about it a bit and watch a clip of the last debate in the collegiate finals. I just shake my head when I see it, a good analogy would be like some of those churches that get to dancing in the aisles and falling down and shaking - follow me? It's definitely "different" and to think, he taught these young kids this...lol....only in America I suppose. The debate continues. ;-)

Gregg,

I believe in the God of love and mercy. Your attempts to pervert the word of God show you for the blasphemer you are. How can you claim to be a Christian when you align yourself with scum like the trolls. I thank you for your prayers, but I do not believe we worship the same God. Your interpretation of Revelations remains, at best, entertaining.

And the word is "argument", not "arguement". Look it up!

You were obviously low grade material. Really successful people get their name on the OUTSIDE of the bathroom door.

So, what was your crime? Turn over your Union meeting notes to McCarthy? CIA? FBI?

I imagine the guys wouldn't have been anywhere near so p*ssed at you if you hadn't been the Local President.

Oh, Steve, let's leave to others who is truly "pathological". Your posting history, as usual, speaks for itself. The fact that you are now siding with Gregg and cast of troll sockpuppets says more about you than I ever could.

There were obviously many more problems that I had to deal with besides just walking when I had my stroke. My throat muscles were also paralyzed. My eyes wouldn't even focus properly. Part of entering long-term rehab involved signing power-of-attorney over to an assigned rehab counselor who was responsible for co-ordinating my re-entry into society. She filed the papers for my disability when I was in a state where I couldn't even feed myself. I wasn't capable of even going to the bathroom. I not only had to learn to walk, again, but also had daily speech and occupational therapy. It took multiple throat surgeries to restore my ability to lecture.

So, make all the fun of me you want, dude. After being in the hell I had to fight out of, dealing with you is simply a joke. You took a disability when there was nothing more wrong with you than your attitude. You sit around and cuss at the golden gov't tit you suck on everyday. You might be the biggest hypocrite I've ever met in my whole life.

Good luck, Steve. We both know you need that luck more than I do.

Mike

Unfortunately RHF, you are wasting your time. God himself could come down and say what's really going on and MB is going to argue. You DO realize that, don't you?

All Hail to Our Lord and Savior Prez Obama !
http://votingfemale.files.wordpress.com/2009/11/obama-i-am-god.jpg

- Uh, Roy, unless you believe that I am really President
- Obama, you can calm down.

Dang you was impersonating Prez Obama MWB you got him down real good
* How's Your Elvis ?

- Those were my words, not Obama's.

But you sound just like Prez Obama/Rahm Emanual MWB did you come by that naturally ?
-or- you been practicing . . .

- I should have used the words "political opponents"
- instead of enemies.

Doesn't Prez Obama/Rahm Emanual thunk that they are all one and the same :
-wrt- Political Opponents = Enemies of The State

MWB - I thunk that you was 'channeling' Prez Obama
* well at least Rahm {Dead Fish} Emanuel

- But thanks for your warning about the internment camps
- that Obama is planning for his enemies.

Every kid wants to go 'to kamp' in the summer
-so- now as adults they will get to stay all year hey - it's just an endless vacation . . .
for those in need of a long rest.

- I'll start watching for the unmarked black helicopters

Nah the formerly plain black helos have the ObamaCorps symbol on them now
http://bennettcarnahan.files.wordpress.com/2009/02/obamalogo.jpg

- and the troops with blue helmets.

? Troops ? & "Blue Helmets" Nah just Obama Death Squad Red Caps http://rlv.zcache.com/obama_skull_cap_red_hat-p148157908720077400trp1_210.jpg

- I hear they're looking for someone named
- "Roy Fisk,"

They should check MVC in Oakland

- but they can't find him thanks to your tinfoil hat!

Yeah the Obama-Rays are everywhere . . .

Yeah, we are roughly four months away from his anniversary. Oct. 6th was the day he was caught in the hotel room with a male student smoking and toking and puff- puff- passing. He hasn't reached the status of the "Bankok Banger".....YET IMO and doesn't warrant a day.
Now if Ace wants to commemorate {sp} the day....then I would second that. But he has had a stroke and trying to get it together so too speak, maybe I'm just a softy.

Well there's really no point, to giving them any further attention.

If there is an impending investigation concerning child sex offenses it's best to distance yourself, from those involved.

So I will take your advice for legal grounds.

I gave them a chance to refute the allegation of sex offender, and it wasn't done.

They can go an talk to themselves and anyone silly enough to listen.

Hi Guys,

I'll see you on moderated forums.

Troll boyz you win, I do not wish to associate with sex offenders, or those that condone their actions. You have not disputed the allegations, so there must be some truth to them,

Reason does not work with you, as does appealing to any normal human virtue. Treating you with any form of decency is a mistake, as you do not have any concept of honour.

I've had my say, you can reply, but I wont be listening.

Bye.

Regards Charles

You got a good point there.
It's sorta like talking to pigs. The pigs don't bother listening. If they did listen they wouldn't understand. And if they did understand, they'd still just want to roll around in pig shit.

Let the trolls roll around in their own shit. That seems to make them happiest.

> I've had my say, you can reply, but I wont be listening.

Oh, you can be sure they will reply. They will reply to you even if they have yo make up your post first to reply to it! Or name everyone who disagrees with them as a sock puppet of Kramer's. That let's them say that they have good reason to splatter shit all over everything. Most people realize what's going on though.

Like you said, moderated groups are the way to go. No monkeys there.

Years ago I saw a USA soil conductivity map from the FCC. IIRC the southwest basin and range desert areas had poor conductivity, implying shorter ground wave coverage areas, among other things.

It was literally a Balls Out 4th of July Kombat Klown-Fest as we were introduced to "David" (a new Kombat sockie) who researched (lol) a bogus list of Troll Identities by way of Google Advance Search and produced the following drivel grin...

Bob Johnson (alcoholic)
Dave Arthur (child molester)
Scott Koplin (psychopath)
Kevin Willis (alcoholic)
K Michael Young(psychotic)
(see thread for David's comments/opinions of each suspected Troll) http://img694.imageshack.us/i/scottgun.jpg/

Don't SHOOT Pinkie...Its not us!

The Distinguished Troll Society is pleased with the support it received over the weekend from the following who will most surely become DTS members;

Rick Armstrong
kopscotlin
Rod Shaftenauer
Veronica Karrlsen
Checkmate
Tholen's Penis
kb9

To name just a few that participated in the festivities
If I forgot any newbies I apologise
And of course from our Distinguished Troll Members

Chuckles the Klown made headline news when he revealed to the group that "his brother is gay, but a bit snippy" and was quick to point out that he himself is "not gay"...Odd that he would engage Troll Tholen's Penis in a thread and stare at the link of a midget and discussing the size of his tiny "Johnson";, were "balls out" Chuckles?...Caught you hook, line and sinker ehhh?...:-)

David promised a "free Skype call" to harrass the Trolls for ridiculing his "expert research" but of course we haven't heard a peep out of "Dave" as yet..I've even invited him over for a drink if he's in my area but cautioned him to wear a "vest" before driving to my rural property...Hate for ya to catch a "stray" on the way in Dave, and feel free to bring "Tom Smith and Mike" with you (2 more of Pinkies play pals)...Take out 3 birds with one stone... :-) Poor old Krypsis, he didn't even get a mention or a headline over the entire weekend...The poor old Sod couldn't even pour a cup of tea :-(

And just when you think all the stoops had crawled back under their collective rocks along comes Annoymouse (another Kombat sock puppet) with his very own brand of stupidity, accusing me of being Scott Koplin (and posting a picture of some stiff with a machine gun) and insinuating that Rod Shaftenauer is actuially Cheesy Bob Johnson in Chaing Mai. Can't fix stupid Pinkie!

Well that's the Troll RECAP for the 4th of July Kombat KlownFest! Hope you will all be there for next years festivities! :o)

Yes I have. I used to work on towers and their systems. Do you want to know how multiple towers are phased?

It's just funny to see it directly from overhead and in the middle of a residential area. What happened was the system was in place out in the middle of nowhere for years, but as growth occured it built up around the transmitter site.

What at one time must have been a vacant {Desert} lot {patch of ground} surrounded by nothing -is- now surround by the suburban sprawl of Las Vegas, NV http://maps.google.com/maps?f=q&hl=en&q=36.15611,+-115.25667+%28KKVV-AM%29&om=1

-note- The close-up Satellite Image sure does appear to show a lot of ground scaring radiating out from the Antenna {Ground Radials} .

You can clearly see the trenches for the radials. Under requirement per FCC regulations 120 radials must be buried for each vertical radiator.

As far as I known nobody has complained about a tower in their neighborhood in this town. I'm certain that when they came in or checked the neighborhood they saw it sticking up, all 200 feet of it, and maybe said something to the realtor and they said it's been there before you and it will be there no matter what you say. The smart ones latched on to it and knew what was said. It never affected the dumber ones since they weren't concerned about it in the first place.

I also recall seeing a 3 or 4 tower array along Silverado Ranch Road between Gillespie and Bermuda. The area has been built up but you can clearly see where the building was and the foundations for the 4 towers along with some ground trenching for the radials. I don't have the the lat-long but look on google maps for Silverado Ranch Road east of LV BLVD. The last tower came down in 2003. I've been trying to find out what station it was but not having any luck.

You can interpret that pic any way you like but the truth behind it is that Cheesy Bob was getting his backside kicked by the local constabulary and Kramer was merely giving evidence along with two other witnesses.

The fact that YOU think the "pic says it all" shows merely your total lack of maturity not forgetting a total absence of objectivity. Luckily for you, there are plenty of ditches to dig as you'd never make a living as a private detective!

I notice though that you ducked for cover when Kombat brought out the

A good radial system reduces the ground losses and make the system more

You can prove that those "holes" exist??

The half truths, omissions and exaggerations are those that you proselytize!

You Gregg, are the walking contradiction.

I can see where you could view debating in that manner. It's just a pity that your friends seem about as brain dead as you! Blind leading the blind, so to speak!

> a bit and watch a clip of the last debate in the collegiate finals. I > just shake my head when I see it, a good analogy would be like some of

Why do you not like debating? If your church allowed debating, there may be less of your kind involved in it and that could only be a good thing!
But then, debating requires one to use logic and this, as has been ably demonstrated, use of logic is not one of your strong points.

> those churches that get to dancing in the aisles and falling down and > shaking - follow me?

Your analogy is totally and utterly flawed, as is your logic.

> It's definitely "different" and to think, he > taught these young kids this...lol....only in America I suppose. The

Your analogy relates more properly to your church and its activities than it does to any form of debating. Debating is a healthy pastime as it foster clear and logical thought processes.

> debate continues. ;-)

You don't even understand the word, much less the concept. Here are a few points where you trip up EVERY TIME you post on RRS.
---
1. Logic - to say that the other side is wrong is not enough. You have to show why the other side is wrong. This is best done by taking a main point of the other side's argument and showing that it does not make sense. Because a lot of the thinking for this needs to be done quickly this is one of the most challenging and enjoyable aspects of debating.

2. Pick the important points - try to rebut the most important points of the other side's case. You will find that after a while these are easier and easier to spot. One obvious spot to find them is when the first speaker of the other team outlines briefly what the rest of the team will say. But do not rebut those points until after they have actually been presented by the other team.

3. `Play the ball' - do not criticise the individual speakers, criticise what they say. To call someone fat, ugly or a nerd does not make what they say wrong and it will also lose you marks.

Well, can you see where you go wrong Gregg???

Logic, we've determined that logic and you are not good bedfellows so we'll move on.

Important points! More issues. You seem to focus on the trivial. You don't even know what an important point is, much less how to find it!

"Play the ball"? You're always playing the man, not the ball so you're on an obvious losing streak here Gregg! You are criticising the art of debating yet you have displayed little if any understanding of it. Two people you "trust" told you a few things about debating and that, to you, is now gospel. Gregg, the reason you shook your head while viewing a debate is that you were simply unable to get beyond the superficial. It's way above your intellectual level. Don't can something you don't understand Gregg! It leaves you wide open for derision!

Here's the rest of that info on debating! Have a read and broaden your mind! heaven knows it needs it!

Come Alongs are useful thingys.Last year I used one of my cable type Come Alongs and two old pieces of rusty Catwalks (which I bought at a scrap iron yard over thirty years ago, I figured they would come in handy some day) for ramps to pull my 1914 Ford Model T Runabout Roadster car onto my old trailer.That old country boy B HO Butt Kisse from Edwards,Mississippi said, That wheel is going to drop in that hole!

It wasen't a hole, there was about a four inches ''drop'' when the left rear wheel of my Model T was about to come off of that ramp and plop down onto the steel floor of my trailer.I had already saw that before old country boy from Edwards saw that,I put a few bricks, one brick behind the other brick, three bricks total, there.Even so, if I haden't put the bricks there, my Model T's left rear wheel would have only plopped down about four inches.

Sheeeeeeeeeitttttt,,,, that STUPID old country boy from Edwards,Mississippi couldn't even find the oil drain plug on his pawn shop lawn mower!!! That MOFO B HO Butt Kisser, he pushed his pawn shop lawn mower over here and he rattled my front screen door and he said,,, Show me where that oil drain plug is!!! Took me about two seconds to show him that lawn mower oil drain plug.

720 has a 4 tower array in Henderson, but I think they've always been there. I got a contact at Cox in LV, he'd know. I'll try to remember his name...

You don't! He even gives us headaches here in Aus!

Do us a favour and keep him off the media!

Mechanical Measurements (6th Ed., Beckwith, Marangoni & Lienhard)
Measurement and Data Analysis for Engineering and Science (Patrick Dunn)
Design and Analysis of Lean Production Systems (Askin & Goldberg)
Work Systems : The Methods, Measurement & Management of Work (Mikell P. Groover)
Automation, Production Systems, and Computer-Integrated Manufacturing (2nd Ed., Groover)
Automation, Production Systems, and Computer-Integrated Manufacturing (3rd Ed., Groover)
Fundamentals of Modern Manufacturing : Materials, Processes, and Systems (3rd Ed., Mikell Groover)
Fundamentals of Modern Manufacturing : Materials, Processes, and Systems (4th Ed., Mikell Groover)
Materials and Processes in Manufacturing (9th Ed., E. Paul DeGarmo, J. T. Black, Ronald A. Kohser)
DeGarmo's Materials and Processes in Manufacturing (10th Ed., E. Paul DeGarmo, J. T. Black, Ronald A. Kohser)
Principles of Metal Manufacturing Processes (Beddoes & Bibby)
Design for Manufacturing : A Structured Approach (Corrado Poli)
Fundamentals of Manufacturing (2nd Ed., Philip D. Rufe)
Engineering Materials Science (Milton Ohring)
Engineering Materials : Properties and Selection (8th Ed., Budinski)
Engineering Materials : Properties and Selection (9th Ed., Budinski)
Materials Science for Engineering Students (Traugott Fischer) Essentials of Modern Materials Science and Engineering (James Newell)
Science and Design of Engineering Materials (2nd Ed., Schaffer, Saxena, et al)
Structure and Properties of Engineering Materiales (5th Ed., Daniel Henkel & Alan Pense)
Materials Selection in Mechanical Design (3rd Ed., Michael Ashby)
Materials : Engineering, Science, Processing and Design (1st Ed., Michael Ashby, Hugh Shercliff & David Cebon)
Materials : Engineering, Science, Processing and Design (2nd Ed., Michael Ashby, Hugh Shercliff & David Cebon)
Engineering Materials Vol. 1 : An Introduction to Properties, Applications and Design (3rd Ed., Michael Ashby & David Jones)
Engineering Materials Vol. 2 : An Introduction to Microstructures, Processing and Design (3rd Ed., Michael Ashby & David Jones)
Materials Science and Engineering : An Introduction (6th Ed., William Callister)
Materials Science and Engineering : An Introduction (7th Ed., William Callister)
Materials Science and Engineering : An Introduction (8th Ed., William Callister)

Fundamentals of Materials Science and Engineering : Integrated Approach (2nd Ed., William Callister)
Fundamentals of Materials Science and Engineering : Integrated Approach (3rd Ed., William Callister)
Foundations of Materials Science and Engineering (3rd Ed, Smith)
Foundations of Materials Science and Engineering (4th Ed, Smith & Hashemi)
Foundations of Materials Science and Engineering (5th Ed, Smith & Hashemi)
Introduction to Materials Science for Engineers (6th Ed., Shackelford)
Introduction to Materials Science for Engineers (7th Ed., Shackelford)
Introduction to Materials Science for Engineers - International Edition (7th Ed., Shackelford)
Manufacturing Facilities Design and Material Handling (3rd Ed., Meyers & Stephens) Manufacturing Facilities Design and Material Handling (4th Ed., Stephens & Meyers)
Manufacturing Processes for Engineering Materials (5th Ed. Kalpakjian & Smith)
Manufacturing Processes for Engineering Materials - SI Units (5th Ed. Kalpakjian, Smith & Chih-Wah Kok)
Manufacturing, Engineering & Technology (5th Ed. Kalpakjian & Smith)
Manufacturing, Engineering & Technology (6th Ed. Kalpakjian & Smith)
Manufacturing, Engineering & Technology - SI Units (6th Ed. Kalpakjian & Smith)
Principles of Corrosion Engineering and Corrosion Control (Zaki Ahmad)
Steels : Microstructure and Properties (3rd Ed. Bhadeshia & Honeycombe)
Analysis and Performance of Fiber Composites (3rd Ed., Bhagwan Agarwal, Lawrence Broutman & K. Chandrashekhara)
Nanoengineering of Structural, Functional and Smart Materials (Mark Schulz, Ajit Kelkar, Mannur Sundaresan)
Applied Manufacturing Process Planning : With Emphasis on Metal Forming and Machining (Nelson, Schneider)
Mastering CAD/CAM (1st Ed., Ibrahim Zeid)
Computer Numerical Control : Operation and Programming (3rd Ed., Stenerson & Curran)
Introduction to Computer Numerical Control (4th Ed., Valentino & Goldenberg)
Linear State-Space Control Systems (Robert L. Williams, II & Douglas A. Lawrence)
Gas Turbine Theory (6th Ed., H.I.H. Saravanamuttoo, G.F.C. Rogers, H. Cohen & Paul Straznicky)
Rocket Propulsion Elements (7th Ed., George P. Sutton & Oscar Biblarz)
Rocket Propulsion Elements (8th Ed., George P. Sutton & Oscar Biblarz)
Orbital Mechanics for Engineering Students (1st Ed., Howard Curtis)
Orbital Mechanics for Engineering Students (2nd Ed., Howard Curtis)
Atmospheric and Space Flight Dynamics : Modeling and Simulation with MATLAB and Simulink (Ashish Tewari)

Flight Dynamics Principles (2nd Ed., by Cook)
Mechanics of Flight (1st Ed., Warren F. Phillips)
Mechanics of Flight (2nd Ed., Warren F. Phillips)
Fundamentals of Airplane Flight Mechanics (David G. Hull) Dynamics of Flight : Stability and Control (3rd Ed., Bernard Etkin & Lloyd Duff Reid)
Aircraft Rescue and Firefighting (5th Ed., IFSTA)
Aircraft Propulsion (Saeed Farokhi)
Aircraft Performance (Maido Saarlas) Flight Performance of Fixed and Rotary Wing Aircraft (Antonio Filippone)
Fundamentals Of Aircraft Structural Analysis (Howard Curtis)
Aircraft Control and Simulation (2nd Ed., Brian Stevens & Frank Lewis)
Aircraft Structures for Engineering Students (3rd Ed., T.H.G. Megson)
Aircraft Structures for Engineering Students (4th Ed., T.H.G. Megson)
Introduction to Aircraft Structural Analysis (T.H.G. Megson)
Mechanics of Aircraft Structures (2nd Ed, C. T. Sun)
Principles of Helicopter Aerodynamics (1st Ed., Leishman)
Fundamentals of Aerodynamics (2nd Ed., Anderson)
Fundamentals of Aerodynamics (3th Ed., Anderson)
Fundamentals of Aerodynamics (4th Ed., Anderson)
Fundamentals of Aerodynamics (5th Ed., Anderson)
Aerodynamics for Engineers (5th Ed., John Bertin & Russell Cummings)
Introduction to Flight (5th Ed., Anderson)
Introduction to Flight (6th Ed., Anderson)
Mechatronics : Principles and Applications (Godfrey Onwubolu)
Mechatronics (Sabri Cetinkunt)
Introduction to Mechatronics and Measurement Systems (2nd Ed., David Alciatore & Michael Histand)
Introduction to Mechatronics and Measurement Systems (3rd Ed., David Alciatore & Michael Histand)
Introduction to Engineering Experimentation (2nd Ed., Wheeler & Ganji)
Introduction to Engineering Experimentation (3rd Ed., Wheeler & Ganji)
Gas Dynamics (3rd Ed., John & Keith) Fundamentals of Gas Dynamics (2nd Ed, Robert D. Zucker)
Theory of Ground Vehicles (3rd Ed., J. Y. Wong)
Theory of Ground Vehicles (4th Ed., J. Y. Wong)
Vehicle Dynamics : Theory and Application (Reza Jazar) Internal Combustion Engines : Applied Thermosciences (2nd Ed., Ferguson & Kirkpatrick)
Advanced Engine Performance Diagnosis (4th Ed., James Halderman)
Automotive Engines (8th Ed., Crouse)
Automotive Heating & Air Conditioning (5th Ed., Tom Birch) Diagnosis and Troubleshooting of Automotive Electrical, Electronic, and Computer Systems (5th Ed., James Halderman)
Automotive Brake Systems Package (4th Ed., Rehkopf)
Automotive Brake Systems (4th Ed., Halderman)
Automotive Engine Performance (2nd Ed., Halderman)
Automotive Engines : Theory and Servicing (6th Ed., James Halderman) Automotive Fuel and Emissions Control Systems (2nd Ed., James Halderman & James Linder)

Automotive Science and Mathematics (Allan Bonnick)
Automotive Mathematics (Jason Rouvel)
Automotive Service Management (Andrew Rezin)
Automotive Technology : Principles, Diagnosis, and Service (3rd Ed., Halderman)
Automotive Steering, Suspension, and Alignment (4th Ed., Halderman)
Automatic Transmissions & Transaxles (4th Ed., Tom Birch & Chuck Rockwood)
Hybrid and Alternative Fuel Vehicles (Halderman & Martin)
Manual Drivetrains and Axles (5th Ed., Birch & Rockwood)
Blueprint Reading for the Machine Trades (6th Ed., Schultz & Smith)
Modern Welding Technology (6th Ed., Cary & Helzer)
Tissue Engineering (Bernhard O. Palsson & Sangeeta N. Bhatia) Tissue Engineering (Clemens van Blitterswijk, et al.)
Tissue Mechanics (Cowin, Doty)
Technology and Society (3rd Ed., Hjorth, Eichler, Khan & Morello)
BTEC First Engineering Curriculum Support Pack (Mike Tooley)
BTEC First Engineering (Mike Tooley)
Exploring Engineering : An Introduction to Engineering and Design (1st Ed., Philip Kosky, George Wise, Robert Balmer & William Keat)
Exploring Engineering : An Introduction to Engineering and Design (2nd Ed., Philip Kosky, Robert Balmer, William Keat & George Wise)
Engineering Science (5th Ed., W. Bolton)
Principles of Energy Conversion (2nd Ed., Archie W. Culp)
Fundamentals of Renewable Energy Processes (1st Ed., Aldo da Rosa) Fundamentals of Renewable Energy Processes (2nd Ed., Aldo da Rosa) Alternative Energy Systems (B. K. Hodge)
Solar Energy Engineering : Processes and Systems (Soteris Kalogirou)
Solar Engineering of Thermal Processes (2nd Ed., John Duffie & William Beckman)
Solar Engineering of Thermal Processes (3rd Ed., John Duffie & William Beckman)
Energy Technology and Directions for the Future (Fanchi)
Power Generation Technologies (Paul Breeze) Concepts in Engineering (Holtzapple & Reece) Concepts in Engineering (2nd Ed., Holtzapple & Reece)
Foundations of Engineering (2nd Ed, Holtzapple & Dan Reece)
Industrial Mechanics and Maintenance (3rd Ed., Larry Chastain)
Mechanical and Electrical Equipment for Buildings (10th Ed., Stein, Reynolds, Grondzik, Kwok)
Mechanical and Electrical Equipment for Buildings (11th Ed., Grondzik, Kwok, Stein & Reynolds)
Mechanical & Electrical Systems in Buildings (4th Ed., Richard Janis & William Tao)
Engineering Drawing And Design (7th Ed., Jensen, Helsel & Short)
Autodesk Inventor (James M. Leake)
Engineering Design Graphics : Sketching, Modeling, and Visualization (1st Ed., James Leake & Jacob Borgerson)
Orthopaedic Biomechanics : Mechanics and Design in Musculoskeletal

Systems (Donald Bartel, Dwight Davy & Tony Keaveny)
Science for Engineering (3rd Ed., John Bird)

- Electrical, Electronics & Computer Engineering :

Design for Electrical and Computer Engineers (J. Eric Salt & Robert Rothery)
Electrical Engineering : Principles and Applications (3rd Ed., Hambley)
Electrical Engineering : Principles and Applications (4th Ed., Hambley)
Electrical Engineering : Principles and Applications (5th Ed., Hambley)
Electronics (2nd Ed., Hambley)
Electronics and Communications for Scientists and Engineers (Martin Plonus)
Cryptography & Network Security (Behrouz A Forouzan)
Data Communications and Networking (3rd Ed., Behrouz A. Forouzan)
Data Communications and Networking (4th Ed., Behrouz A. Forouzan)
TCP/IP Protocol Suite (2nd Ed., Behrouz Forouzan)
TCP/IP Protocol Suite (3rd Ed., Behrouz Forouzan)
TCP/IP Protocol Suite (4th Ed., Behrouz Forouzan)
Local Area Networks (Behrouz A Forouzan)
Analog Integrated Circuits for Communication : Principles, Simulation and Design (2nd Ed., Donald Pederson & Kartikeya Mayaram)
Satellite Communications (2nd Ed, Pratt, Bostian, Allnutt)
Business Data Communications (Behrouz A Forouzan)
Logic and Computer Design Fundamentals (4th Ed., Mano & Kime)
Linear Robust Control (Michael Green, David J. N. Limebeer)
Adaptive Control (2nd Ed., Karl Johan Astrom, Bjorn Wittenmark)
Digital Control Engineering : Analysis and Design (M. Sami Fadali & Antonio Visioli)
Computer-Controlled Systems : Theory and Design (3rd Ed., Karl Johan Astrom & Bjorn Wittenmark)
Electric Circuits (7th Ed., Nilsson & Riedel)
Electric Circuits (8th Ed., Nilsson & Riedel)
Electric Circuits (9th Ed., Nilsson & Riedel)
Introductory Circuits for Electrical and Computer Engineering (James Nilsson, Susan Riedel)
Electromagnetic Noise and Quantum Optical Measurements (Hermann A. Haus)
Applied Electromagnetics : Early Transmission Lines Approach (Stuart Wentworth)
Fundamentals of Electromagnetics with Engineering Applications (Stuart Wentworth)
Electromagnetics for Engineers : With Applications to Digital Systems and Electromagnetic Interference (Clayton Paul) MEMS & Microsystems : Design and Manufacture (1st Ed., Tai-Ran Hsu)
MEMS & Microsystems : Design, Manufacture, and Nanoscale Engineering (2nd Ed., Tai-Ran Hsu)

Probability and Statistics for Engineering and the Sciences (7th Ed., Jay L. DeVore)
Probability and Stochastic Processes : A Friendly Introduction for Electrical and Computer Engineers (2nd Ed., Roy Yates & David Goodman)
Process Systems Analysis and Control (3rd Ed. Donald Coughanowr, Steven LeBlanc)
Fuel Cell Fundamentals (1st Ed., Ryan O'Hayre, et. al)
Fuel Cell Fundamentals (2nd Ed., Ryan O'Hayre, Whitney Colella, Suk-Won Cha, Fritz Prinz)
Control Systems Engineering (4th Ed., Norman Nise)
Control Systems Engineering (5th Ed., Norman Nise)
Automatic Control Systems (8th Ed., Benjamin C. Kuo, Farid Golnaraghi)
Automatic Control Systems (9th Ed., Farid Golnaraghi, Benjamin C. Kuo)
Basic Engineering Circuit Analysis (8th Ed., Irwin & Nelms)
Basic Engineering Circuit Analysis (9th Ed., Irwin & Nelms)
A Brief Introduction to Circuit Analysis (J. David Irwin)
Semiconductor Devices : Basic Principles (Jasprit Singh)
Semiconductor Device Fundamentals (Robert F. Pierret)
Device Electronics for Integrated Circuits (3rd Ed., Richard S. Muller, Theodore I. Kamins)
Fundamentals of Semiconductor Devices (Anderson)
Scientific Computing (2nd Ed., Michael T. Heath)
Scientific Computing with Case Studies (Dianne P. O'Leary)
Pattern Recognition and Machine Learning (Christopher M. Bishop)
Modern Semiconductor Devices for Integrated Circuits (Chenming C. Hu)
Analysis and Design of Analog Integrated Circuits (4th Ed., Paul Gray, et al.)
Analysis and Design of Analog Integrated Circuits (5th Ed., Paul Gray)
Analysis and Design of Digital Integrated Circuits (3rd Ed., Hodges)
Introduction to Electric Circuits (6th Ed., Dorf & Svoboda)
Introduction to Electric Circuits (7th Ed., Dorf & Svoboda)
Introduction to Electric Circuits (8th Ed., Dorf & Svoboda)
Modulation, Detection and Coding (Tommy Öberg)
Principles of Communications: Systems, Modulation, and Noise (5th Ed., R.E. Ziemer & W.H. Tranter)
Principles of Communications (6th Ed., R.E. Ziemer & W.H. Tranter)
The Analysis and Design of Linear Circuits (4th Ed, Thomas & Rosa)
The Analysis and Design of Linear Circuits : Laplace Early (4th Ed, Thomas & Rosa)
The Analysis and Design of Linear Circuits (5th Ed, Thomas)
The Analysis and Design of Linear Circuits (6th Ed, Thomas, Rosa & Toussaint)
Dynamic Modeling and Control of Engineering Systems (2nd Ed., J. Lowen Shearer, Bohdan Kulakowski, John Gardner)
Modern Control Systems (11th Ed., Dorf)
System Dynamics (1st Ed., William Palm III)
System Dynamics (2nd Ed., William Palm III)
System Dynamics and Response (S. Graham Kelly)
Optimal Control (2nd Ed., Frank Lewis & Vassilis Syrmos)
Optimal Control Theory : An Introduction (Donald E. Kirk)

Intuitive Probability and Random Processes using MATLAB (Steven Kay)
Analog Signals and Systems (Erhan Kudeki & David C. Munson, Jr.)
Continuous and Discrete Time Signals and Systems (Mrinal Mandal, Amir Asif)
Digital Signal and Image Processing (Tamal Bose)
Digital Image Processing (2nd Ed., Rafael Gonzalez, Richard Woods)
Discrete-Time Signal Processing (2nd Ed., Alan Oppenheim, Ronald Schafer, John Buck)
Discrete-Time Signal Processing (3rd Ed., Alan Oppenheim & Ronald Schafer)
Signal Processing First (James H. McClellan, Ronald W. Schafer, Mark A. Yoder) Statistical Digital Signal Processing and Modeling (Monson Hayes)
Digital Signal Processing (Thomas J. Cavicchi)
Digital Signal Processing System Design : LabVIEW-Based Hybrid Programming (2nd Ed., Kehtarnavaz)
Digital Signal Processing (2nd Ed., Mitra)
Digital Signal Processing (3rd Ed., Mitra)
Digital Signal Processing (4th Ed., John G. Proakis, Dimitris K Manolakis)
Digital Signal Processing (Charles Schuler & Mahesh Chugani)
Digital Signal Processing : Fundamentals and Applications (Li Tan)
Digital Signal Processing : An Experimental Approach (Shlomo Engelberg)
Digital Signal Processing : System Analysis and Design (Paulo S. R. Diniz)
Digital Signal Processing : A Modern Introduction (Ashok Ambardar)
Applied Optimization with MATLAB Programming (1st Ed., P. Venkataraman)
Applied Optimization with MATLAB Programming (2nd Ed., P. Venkataraman)
Introduction to Applied Optimization (2nd Ed., Urmila Diwekar) Logic Synthesis and Verification Algorithms (Gary Hachtel & Fabio Somenzi)
Adaptive Filtering : Algorithms and Practical Implementation (3rd Ed., Paulo S. R. Diniz)
Introduction to Scientific Computation and Programming (Daniel T. kaplan) Principles of Signal Detection and Parameter Estimation (Bernard C. Levy)
Electric Machines Analysis and Design Applying MatLab (Cathey)
Fundamentals of Electrical Engineering (Giorgio Rizzoni)
Principles and Applications of Electrical Engineering (4th Ed, Rizzoni)
Principles and Applications of Electrical Engineering (5th Ed, Rizzoni)
Fundamentals of Electric Circuits (2nd Ed., Alexander & Sadiku)
Fundamentals of Electric Circuits (3rd Ed., Alexander & Sadiku)
Fundamentals of Electric Circuits (4th Ed., Alexander & Sadiku)
MSP430 Microcontroller Basics (John Davies)

Programming Massively Parallel Processors : A Hands-on Approach (David Kirk & Wen-mei Hwu)
Embedded DSP Processor Design : Application Specific Instruction Set Processors (Dake Liu)
Embedded Microcontrollers and Processor Design (Charles Greg Osborn)
Embedded System Design : A Unified Hardware/Software Introduction (Vahid & Givargis)
Embedded Microcomputer Systems : Real Time Interfacing (2nd Ed., Jonathan W. Valvano)
Matlab : A Practical Introduction to Programming and Problem Solving (Stormy Attaway)
Principles of Computer System Design : An Introduction (Jerome Saltzer & M. Frans Kaashoek)
The Illustrated Network : How TCP/IP Works in a Modern Network (Walter Goralski)
Electronic Design Automation : Synthesis, Verification, and Test (Laung-Terng Wang, Yao-Wen Chang & Kwang-Ting Cheng)
Digital Design (Frank Vahid)
Digital Logic Design Principles (Balabanian & Carlson)
Fundamentals of Logic Design (5th Ed., Charles H. Roth)
Real-Time Systems and Software (Alan Shaw)
Introduction to VLSI Circuits and Systems (John P. Uyemura)
Chip Design for Submicron VLSI : CMOS Layout & Simulation (John Uyemura)
Classical Electrodynamics (2nd Ed., John David Jackson)
Objects, Abstraction, Data Structures and Design : Using C++ (Elliot B. Koffman & Paul A. T. Wolfgang)
Objects, Abstraction, Data Structures and Design Using Java Version 5.0 (Elliot B. Koffman & Paul A. T. Wolfgang)
Computer Architecture and Organization : An Integrated Approach (Murdocca & Heuring)
Wiley Pathways Networking Basics (1st Ed., Ciccarelli, Faulkner, FitzGerald, Dennis & Miller)
Software Engineering : Principles and Practice (3rd Ed., Hans van Vliet)
Software Design : From Programming to Architecture (Eric Braude)
Software Engineering : An Object-Oriented Perspective (Eric Braude)
Software Engineering : Modern Approaches (2nd Ed., Eric Braude & Michael Bernstein)
Neural and Adaptive Systems : Fundamentals through Simulations (José Principe, Neil Euliano & W. Curt Lefebvre)
Fundamentals of Electronic Circuit Design (David J. Comer & Donald T. Comer)
Microelectronic Circuit Design (2nd Ed., Jaeger & Blalock)
Microelectronic Circuit Design (3rd Ed., Jaeger & Blalock)
Microelectronic Circuit Design (4th Ed., Jaeger & Blalock)
Introduction to Microelectronic Fabrication : Volume 5 of Modular Series on Solid State Devices (2nd Ed., Richard Jaeger)
Microelectronic Circuits (5th Ed., Adel S. Sedra, K. C. Smith)
VHDL for Engineers (Kenneth Short)

Fundamentals of Digital Logic with VHDL Design (1st Ed., Brown & Vranesic)
Fundamentals of Digital Logic with VHDL Design (2nd Ed., Brown & Vranesic)
Fundamentals of Digital Logic with VHDL Design (3rd Ed., Brown & Vranesic)
CMOS Analog Circuit Design (2nd Ed., Phillip E. Allen, Douglas R. Holberg)
Design of Analog CMOS Integrated Circuits (Behzad Razavi)
Design of Integrated Circuits for Optical Communications (Behzad Razavi)
Fundamentals of Microelectronics, Preliminary Edition (Behzad Razavi)
Fundamentals of Microelectronics (1st Ed., Behzad Razavi)
Design with Operational Amplifiers and Analog Integrated Circuits (3rd Ed., Sergio Franco)
Your UNIX : The Ultimate Guide (1st Ed., Sumitabha Das)
Your UNIX : The Ultimate Guide (2nd Ed., Sumitabha Das)
Microwave Engineering (Annapurna Das)
Microwave Engineering (3rd Ed., David M. Pozar)
Microwave and RF Design of Wireless Systems (David M. Pozar)
Introduction to Wireless Systems (P. M. Shankar)
Microwave Transistor Amplifiers : Analysis and Design (2nd Ed., Guillermo Gonzalez) Control Systems (Madan Gopal)
A First Lab in Circuits and Electronics (Yannis Tsividis) Power Electronic Circuits (Issa Batarseh)
Power System Analysis : Analysis and Design (John Grainger)
Power Systems Analysis (2nd Ed., Hadi Saadat)
Power Systems Analysis and Design (4th Ed., J.Duncan Glover and Mulukutla S. Sarma)
Power Electronics : Converters, Applications, and Design (3rd Ed., Ned Mohan, Tore Undeland & William Robbins)
An Introduction to Digital and Analog Communications (2nd Ed., Simon Haykin & Michael Moher)
Communication Systems (4th Ed., Simon Haykin)
Communication Systems (5th Ed., Simon Haykin)
Communication Systems (4th Ed., A. Bruce Carlson, Paul B. Crilly, Janet Rutledge)
Communication Systems (5th Ed., A. Bruce Carlson, Paul B. Crilly)
Signals and Systems (2nd Ed., Simon Haykin & Barry Van Veen)
Introduction to Computing Systems : From bits & gates to C & beyond (1st Ed., Patt and Patel)
Introduction to Computing Systems : From bits & gates to C & beyond (2nd Ed., Patt and Patel)
Introduction to Languages and the Theory of Computation (3rd Ed., John Martin)
Introduction to Languages and the Theory of Computation (4th Ed., John Martin)
Mechanical & Electrical Systems in Buildings (4th Ed., Richard Janis & William Tao)

Silicon VLSI Technology : Fundamentals, Practice, and Modeling (Plummer, Deal & Griffin)
Dynamic Electromagnetics (Paul Diament)
Engineering Electromagnetics (2nd Ed., Nathan Ida) Engineering Electromagnetics (Kenneth Demarest)
Field and Wave Electromagnetics (1st Ed., David Cheng)
Fundamentals of Engineering Electromagnetics (David Cheng)
Information Modeling and Relational Databases (2nd Ed., Terry Halpin & Tony Morgan)
Probability, Statistics, and Random Processes For Electrical Engineering (3rd Ed., Alberto Leon-Garcia)
Detection and Estimation Theory (Thomas Schonhoff & Arthur Giordano)
The Intel Microprocessors (8th Ed., Barry B. Brey)
Wireless Networking (Kumar, Manjunath & Kuri)
Wireless Communications : Principles and Practice (2nd Ed., Theodore S. Rappaport)
Digital Electronics and Design with VHDL (Volnei A. Pedroni)
System-on-Chip Test Architectures : Nanometer Design for Testability (Wang, Stroud & Touba)
Digital Design (Verilog) : An Embedded Systems Approach Using Verilog (Peter Ashenden)
Digital Design (VHDL) : An Embedded Systems Approach Using VHDL (Peter Ashenden)
Computer Organization and Design : The Hardware/Software Interface (3rd Ed., Patterson & Hennessy)
Computer Organization and Design : The Hardware/Software Interface (4th Ed., Patterson & Hennessy)
Fundamentals of Computer Organization and Design (Sivarama P. Dandamudi)
Wireless Communications & Networking (Vijay Garg)
Network Flows : Theory, Algorithms, and Applications (Ravindra K. Ahuja, Thomas L. Magnanti, James B. Orlin)
Network Analysis, Architecture, and Design (3rd Ed., James McCabe)
Computer Networks : A Systems Approach (4th Ed., Peterson & Davie)
Computer Networks ISE : A Systems Approach (4th Ed., Peterson & Davie)
Digital Design and Computer Architecture (David Harris & Sarah Harris)
Fault-Tolerant Systems (Israel Koren & C. Krishna)
Computer Architecture : Pipelined and Parallel Processor Design (Michael J. Flynn)
Computer Architecture : A Quantitative Approach (4th Ed., Hennessy & Patterson)
High-Performance Embedded Computing : Architectures, Applications, and Methodologies (Wayne Wolf)
Pattern Recognition (3rd Ed., Theodoridis & Koutroumbas)
Pattern Recognition (4th Ed., Theodoridis & Koutroumbas)
Data Mining : Concepts and Techniques (2nd Ed., Han & Kamber)
Commonsense Reasoning (Erik Mueller)
Introduction to Data Compression (3rd Ed., Khalid Sayood) Programming Language Pragmatics (2nd Ed., Michael Scott) Programming Language Pragmatics (3rd Ed., Michael Scott)

Computer Graphics for Java Programmers (2nd Ed., Leen Ammeraal & Kang Zhang)
Database Modeling and Design : Logical Design (4th Ed., Teorey, Lightstone & Nadeau)
Computers As Components : Principles of Embedded Computing System Design (1st Ed., Wayne Wolf)
Computers As Components : Principles of Embedded Computing System Design (2nd Ed., Wayne Wolf)
Virtual Machines : Versatile Platforms for Systems and Processes (Jim Smith & Ravi Nair)
Comprehensive Functional Verification : The Complete Industry Cycle (Wile, Goss & Roesner)
User Interface Design and Evaluation (Stone, Jarrett, Woodroffe & Minocha)
Network Algorithmics : An Interdisciplinary Approach to Designing Fast Networked Devices (George Varghese)
Data Modeling Essentials (3rd Ed., Simsion & Witt)
A Student Guide to Object-Oriented Development (Carol Britton & Jill Doake)
Routing, Flow, and Capacity Design in Communication and Computer Networks (Pioro & Medhi)
Knowledge Representation and Reasoning (Brachman & Levesque)
Communication Networking : An Analytical Approach (Anurag Kumar, D. Manjunath & Joy Kuri)
Principles and Practices of Interconnection Networks (Dally & Towles)
Game Physics (David Eberly)
Engineering a Compiler (Keith Cooper & Linda Torczon)
Constraint Processing (Rina Dechter)
Design Methods for Reactive Systems : Yourdon, Statemate, and the UML (R. J. Wieringa)
Temporal Data & the Relational Model (C.J. Date, Darwen & Lorentzos)
Java Made Simple (2nd Ed., P. K. McBride)
The Firmware Handbook (Jack Ganssle)
Optical Networks : A Practical Perspective (2nd Ed., Ramaswami & Sivarajan)
Optical Networks : A Practical Perspective (3rd Ed., Ramaswami, Sivarajan & Sasaki)
Usability Engineering : Scenario-Based Development of Human-Computer Interaction (Rosson & Carroll)
The Designer's Guide to VHDL (2nd Ed., Peter Ashenden)
Transactional Information Systems : Theory, Algorithms, and the Practice of Concurrency Control and Recovery (Weikum & Vossen)
Parallel Computer Architecture : A Hardware/Software Approach (Culler, Singh & Gupta)
Advanced Compiler Design and Implementation (Steven Muchnick)
Parallel Programming with MPI (Peter Pacheco) Distributed Algorithms (Nancy Lynch)
Electrical and Electronic : Principles and Technology (3rd Ed., John Bird)
Electrical Circuit Theory and Technology (3rd Ed., John Bird)

Electronic Circuits : Fundamentals & Applications (3rd Ed., Mike Tooley)
A Practical Guide to SysML : The Systems Modeling Language (Friedenthal, Moore & Steiner)
Multidimensional Signal, Image, and Video Processing and Coding (John Woods)
Bioelectrical Signal Processing in Cardiac and Neurological Applications (Leif Sörnmo & Pablo Laguna) Foundations of Analog and Digital Electronic Circuits (Anant Agarwal & Jeffrey Lang)
Introduction to Linear Circuit Analysis and Modelling : From DC to RF (Luis Moura & Izzat Darwazeh)
Embedded Systems Architecture : A Comprehensive Guide for Engineers and Programmers (Tammy Noergaard)
Bioimpedance and Bioelectricity Basics (2nd Ed., Grimnes & Martinsen)
Simulation Modeling and Analysis with ARENA (Tayfur Altiok & Benjamin Melamed)
The Visual Story : Creating the Visual Structure of Film, TV and Digital Media (2nd Ed., Bruce Block)
The Shut Up and Shoot Documentary Guide : A Down & Dirty DV Production (Anthony Artis)
Portable Video : ENG & EFP (5th Ed., Medoff & Fink)
Voice and Vision : A Creative Approach to Narrative Film and DV Production (Mick Hurbis-Cherrier)
Writing for Multimedia and the Web : A Practical Guide to Content Development for Interactive Media (3rd Ed., Timothy Garrand)
Developing and Maintaining a Design-Tech Portfolio : A Guide for Theatre, Film & TV (Rafael Jaen)
Producing for TV and Video : A Real-World Approach (Cathrine Kellison)
Producing for TV and New Media : A Real-World Approach for Producers (2nd Ed., Cathrine Kellison)
Placing Shadows : Lighting Techniques for Video Production (3rd Ed., Gloman & Tom LeTourneau)
Film Directing Fundamentals : See Your Film Before Shooting (3rd Ed., Nicholas Proferes)
Introduction to Media Production : The Path to Digital Media Production (3rd Ed., Musburger & Kindem)
Introduction to Media Production : The Path to Digital Media Production (4th Ed., Kindem & Musburger)
Directing the Documentary (5th Ed., Michael Rabiger) Video Production Handbook (4th Ed., Gerald Millerson & Jim Owens)
Making Media : Foundations of Sound and Image Production (Jan Roberts-Breslin)
Prepare to Board! Creating Story and Characters for Animation Features and Shorts (Nancy Beiman)
Light and Lens : Photography in the Digital Age (Robert Hirsch)
The Radio Station : Broadcast, Satellite & Internet (7th Ed., Michael Keith) Developing Story Ideas (2nd Ed., Michael Rabiger) Radio Production Worktext : Studio and Equipment (5th Ed., Reese, Gross & Gross)

Broadcast News Writing, Reporting, and Producing (4th Ed., Ted White) Problem Solving and Programming Concepts (7th Ed., Sprankle)
Problem Solving and Programming Concepts (8th Ed., Sprankle & Hubbard)
A Balanced Introduction to Computer Science (2nd Ed., David Reed)
Introduction to Computing and Programming with Java : A Multimedia Approach (Guzdial & Ericson)
Starting Out with Programming Logic and Design (Tony Gaddis)
Starting Out with Programming Logic and Design (2nd Ed., Tony Gaddis)
Tools For Structured and Object-Oriented Design (7th Ed., Bohl & Rynn) Programming with Alice and Java (Lewis & DePasquale)
e-Business and e-Commerce How to Program (Harvey M. Deitel, Paul J. Deitel, Tem R. Nieto)
XML How to Program (Harvey M. Deitel, Paul J. Deitel, Tem R. Nieto, Ted Lin, Praveen Sadhu)
Python How to Program (Harvey M. Deitel, Paul J. Deitel, Jonathan P. Liperi Ben Wiedermann)
Perl How to Program (Harvey M. Deitel, Paul J. Deitel, Tem R. Nieto, D. C. McPhie)
C How to Program (4th Ed., Harvey & Paul Deitel)

Java Software Solutions : Foundations of Program Design (6th Ed., Lewis & Loftus)

Starting Out with Java : From Control Structures through Data Structures (Gaddis & Muganda)
Object of Java, The: Introduction to Programming Using Software Engineering Principles (2nd Ed, David Riley)
Object-Oriented Programming in Java : A Graphical Approach, Preliminary Edition (Kathryn E. Sanders & Andy van Dam)
Starting Out with Java 5 : Control Structures to Objects (Tony Gaddis)
Starting Out with Java 5 : Early Objects (Tony Gaddis)
Introduction to Programming Using Java : An Object-Oriented Approach (2nd Ed., David Arnow, Scott Dexter & Gerald Weiss)
Computing with Java (2nd Ed., Art Gittleman)
Problem Solving with Java, Update (2nd Ed., Elliot B. Koffman & Ursula Wolz)
Starting Out with Alice : A Visual Introduction to Programming (Tony Gaddis)
Problem Solving and Program Design in C (4th Ed., Jeri Hanly & Elliot Koffman)
Problem Solving and Program Design in C (5th Ed., Jeri Hanly & Elliot Koffman)
Problem Solving and Program Design in C (6th Ed., Jeri Hanly & Elliot Koffman)
Starting Out with Visual Basic 2005 (3rd Ed., Tony Gaddis & Kip Irvine)
Starting Out with Visual Basic 6 (Tony Gaddis, Kip Irvine & Bruce Denton)
Starting Out with Visual Basic.Net (2nd Ed., Tony Gaddis, Kip Irvine & Bruce Denton)
Computer Programming Fundamentals with Applications in Visual Basic® 6.0 (Mitchell Kerman & Ronald Brown)
Advanced VB.NET Alternate with VB.Net CD's (3rd Ed., Kip Irvine & Tony Gaddis)
Advanced Visual Basic 2005 (4th Ed., Kip Irvine & Tony Gaddis)
C# Software Solutions : Foundations of Program Design (John Lewis) Problem Solving, Abstraction and Design Using C++, Visual C++.NET Edition (Frank Friedman & Elliot Koffman)
Ada 95 : Problem Solving and Program Design (3rd Ed., Michael Feldman & Elliot Koffman)
Programming and Problem Solving with Delphi (Mitchell Kerman)
C Program Design for Engineers (2nd Ed., Jeri Hanly & Elliot Koffman)
Data Abstraction & Problem Solving with C++ (5th ed., Frank Carrano)
Data Structures and Algorithm Analysis in C++ (2nd Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)
Data Structures and Algorithm Analysis in C++ (3rd Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)
Data Abstraction and Problem Solving with C++ : Walls and Mirrors (4th Ed., Frank Carrano)
Data Structures and Problem Solving Using C++ (2nd Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)
Data Structures and Algorithm Analysis in Java (2nd Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)

Data Structures in Java : From Abstract Data Types to the Java Collections Framework (Simon Gray)
Data Abstraction and Problem Solving with Java (2nd Ed., Frank Carrano & Janet Prichard)
Data Structures and Other Objects Using Java (3rd Ed., Michael Main)
Data Structures and Problem Solving Using Java (3rd Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)
Data Structures and Problem Solving Using Java (4th Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)
Java Software Structures : Designing and Using Data Structures (2nd Ed., John Lewis, Joseph Chase)
The Object of Data Abstraction and Structures (using Java) (David Riley) Classic Data Structures in Java (Timothy Budd)
Data Structures in Java (Thomas A. Standish)
Data Structures, Algorithms and Software Principles in C (Thomas A. Standish)
Introduction to the Design and Analysis of Algorithms (1st Ed., Anany Levitin)
Introduction to the Design and Analysis of Algorithms (2nd Ed., Anany Levitin)
Algorithm Design (Jon Kleinberg & Éva Tardos)
Data Structures and Algorithm Analysis in C (2nd Ed., Mark Allen Weiss)
Computer Algorithms : Introduction to Design and Analysis (3rd Ed., Sara Baase & Allen Van Gelder)
Artificial Intelligence : Structures and Strategies for Complex Problem Solving (6th Ed., George Luger)
Artificial Intelligence : A Modern Approach (2nd Ed., Stuart Russell & Peter Norvig)
The Complete A+ Guide to PC Repair (3rd Ed., Cheryl Schmidt)
The Complete A+ Guide to PC Repair (4th Ed., Cheryl Schmidt)
Complete Computer Repair Textbook (4th Ed., Cheryl Schmidt)
Computer Systems Organization and Architecture (John D. Carpinelli)
CMOS VLSI Design: A Circuits and Systems Perspective (3rd Ed., Neil Weste & David Harris)
Interactive Computer Graphics : A Top-Down Approach Using OpenGL (4th Ed., Edward Angel)
Interactive Computer Graphics : A Top-Down Approach Using OpenGL (5th Ed., Edward Angel)
File Structures : An Object-Oriented Approach with C++ (3rd Ed., Michael J. Folk, Bill Zoellick & Greg Riccardi)
Oracle 10g Programming : A Primer (Rajshekhar Sunderraman)
Databases, Types and the Relational Model (3rd Ed., C. J. Date & Hugh Darwen)
Fundamentals of Database Systems (5th Ed., Ramez Elmasri & Shamkant Navathe)
Database Systems : An Application-Oriented Approach, Introductory Version (2nd Ed., Michael Kifer, Arthur Bernstein & Philip M. Lewis) Database Systems : An Application Oriented Approach, Complete Version

(2nd Ed., Michael Kifer, Arthur Bernstein & Philip M. Lewis)
DataBase Systems : A Practical Approach to Design, Implementation and Management (4th Ed., Thomas M. Connolly & Carolyn E. Begg)
DataBase Systems : A Practical Approach to Design, Implementation and Management (5th Ed., Thomas M. Connolly & Carolyn E. Begg)
Database Systems : The Complete Book (2nd Ed., Hector Garcia-Molina, Jeffrey D. Ullman, Jennifer Widom)
A First Course in Database Systems (3rd Ed., Jeffrey D. Ullman, Jennifer Widom)
Fundamentals of Database Systems/Oracle 9i Programming (4th Ed., Ramez Elmasri, Shamkant B. Navathe & Rajshekhar Sunderraman)
An Introduction to Database Systems (8th Ed., C.J. Date)
Oracle 9i Programming : A Primer (Rajshekhar Sunderraman) Elements of Information Theory (1st Ed., Thomas M. Cover & Joy A. Thomas) Principles of Database Systems with Internet and Java Applications (Greg Riccardi)
Introduction to Data Mining (Pang-Ning Tan, Michael Steinbach & Vipin Kumar)
Data Mining: A Tutorial Based Primer (Richard Roiger & Michael Geatz)
Learning SQL : A Step-by-Step Guide Using Access (Sikha Bagui, Richard Earp)
Learning SQL : A Step-By-Step Guide Using Oracle (Richard Earp, Sikha Bagui)
Access 2007 Guidebook (6th Ed., Maggie Trigg & Phyllis Dobson)
Access 2003 Guidebook for Office XP (5th Ed., Maggie Trigg & Phyllis Dobson)
Implementing Databases in Oracle 9i (John Day & Craig Van Slyke)
Web 101: Making the Net Work for You (2nd Ed., Wendy Lehnert)
Web 101 (3rd Ed., Wendy G. Lehnert & Richard L. Kopec)
Web Developer Foundations : Using XHTML (2nd Ed., Terry Felke-Morris)
Web Development & Design Foundations With XHTML (3rd Ed., Terry Felke-Morris)
Web Development and Design Foundations with XHTML (4th Ed., Terry Felke-Morris) Internet Effectively : A Beginner's Guide to the World Wide Web (Tyrone Adams & Sharon Scollard)
Light on the Web : Essentials to Making the 'Net Work for You (Wendy G. Lehnert)
Programming the World Wide Web (3rd Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
Programming the World Wide Web (4th Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
Programming the World Wide Web (5th Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
Programming the World Wide Web (6th Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
XML: Language Mechanics and Applications (Dwight Peltzer)
Practical Perl with CGI Applications (Elizabeth Chang)
Developing Web Applications with Active Server Pages (Thom Luce)
Structure and Interpretation of Signals and Systems (Edward A. Lee & Pravin Varaiya)
Languages and Machines : An Introduction to the Theory of Computer Science (2nd Ed., Thomas Sudkamp)

Languages and Machines : An Introduction to the Theory of Computer Science (3rd Ed., Thomas Sudkamp)
How to Break Software Security (James A. Whittaker & Herbert H. Thompson)
Software Quality Assurance : From Theory to Implementation (Daniel Galin)
Object Oriented Software Development Using Java (2nd Ed., Xiaoping Jia)
Introduction to the Team Software Process (Watts S. Humphrey)
Software Project Management : A Real-World Guide to Success (Joel Henry)
Software Engineering (7th Ed., Ian Sommerville)
Software Engineering (8th Ed., Ian Sommerville)
Software Engineering (9th Ed., Ian Sommerville)
Software Engineering (3rd Ed., Shari Lawrence Pfleeger & Joanne Atlee)
Software Engineering : Theory and Practice (4th Ed., Shari Lawrence Pfleeger & Joanne Atlee)
Object-Oriented Programming featuring Graphical Applications in Java (Michael Laszlo)
Project-Based Software Engineering : An Object-Oriented Approach (Evelyn Stiller & Cathie LeBlanc)
Engineering of Software, The: A Technical Guide for the Individual (Dick Hamlet & Joe Maybee)
Concepts of Programming Languages (7th Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
Concepts of Programming Languages (8th Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
Concepts of Programming Languages (9th Ed., Robert W. Sebesta)
Advanced Java : Internet Applications (2nd Ed., Art Gittleman)
Objects to Components with Java 2 Platform (Art Gittleman)
C for Java Programmers (Tomasz Muldner)
Pointers on C (Kenneth Reek)
C++ Programming with Design Patterns Revealed (Tomasz Muldner)
The C++ Programming Language (3rd Ed., Bjarne Stroustrup) Operating Systems : A Systematic View (6th Ed., William S. Davis & T.M. Rajkumar)
Unix: The Textbook (2nd Ed., Syed Mansoor Sarwar, Robert Koretsky & Syed Aqeel Sarwar) Operating Systems (3rd Ed., Gary Nutt)
LINUX & UNIX Programming Tools : A Primer for Software Developers (Syed Mansoor Sarwar & Khaled H. Al-Saqabi)
Addison-Wesley's Interactive Linux Tutorial and Reference (Edutrends, Inc.)
Linux : The Textbook (Syed Mansoor Sarwar, Robert Koretsky & Syed Aqeel Sarwar)
Kernel Projects for Linux (Gary Nutt)
OSP : An Environment for Operating System Projects (Michael Kifer & Scott A. Smolka)
Distributed Computing : Principles and Applications (M.L. Liu) Distributed Operating Systems and Algorithm Analysis (Randy Chow & Theodore Johnson) Mastering Networks : An Internet Lab Manual (Jorg Liebeherr & Magda El Zarki)

Computer Networking Complete Package (3rd Ed., James Kurose & Keith Ross)
Computer Networking : A Top-Down Approach Featuring the Internet (3rd Ed., James Kurose & Keith Ross)
Computer Networking : A Top-Down Approach (4th Ed., James Kurose & Keith Ross)
Computer Networking : A Top-Down Approach (5th Ed., James Kurose & Keith Ross)
Producing Great Sound for Film and Video (3rd Ed., Jay Rose) Network Management : Principles and Practice (Mani Subramanian)
Computer Security : Art and Science (Matt Bishop)
Introduction to Computer Security (Matt Bishop)
How to Break Software Security (James A. Whittaker & Herbert H. Thompson)
Parallel Programming in C with MPI and Open MP (Michael Quinn)
Modern Recording Techniques (6th Ed., Miles Huber & Runstein)
Creating Powerful Radio : Getting, Keeping and Growing Audiences News, Talk, Information & Personality Broadcast, HD, Satellite & Internet (Valerie Geller)
Electronic Media Law and Regulation (5th Ed., Kenneth Creech)
Electronic Media Management, Revised (5th Ed., Pringle & Starr)
Convergent Journalism an Introduction: Writing and Producing Across Media (Quinn & Filak)
Flash Journalism : How to Create Multimedia News Packages (Mindy McAdams)

- Math, Statistics & Probability

Advanced Engineering Mathematics (8th Ed., Erwin Kreyszig)
Advanced Engineering Mathematics (9th Ed., Erwin Kreyszig)
Advanced Engineering Mathematics (2nd Ed, Michael Greenberg)
Advanced Engineering Mathematics (6th Ed., Peter O'Neil)
Advanced Modern Engineering Mathematics (3rd Ed., Glyn James) Modern Engineering Mathematics (4th Ed., Glyn James)
A Modern Introduction to Differential Equations (2nd Ed., Henry J. Ricardo) Elementary Differential Equations (7th Ed., Boyce)
Elementary Differential Equations (8th Ed., Boyce & Diprima)
Elementary Differential Equations (9th Ed., Boyce & Diprima)
Elementary Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems (7th Ed., Boyce & Diprima)
Elementary Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems (8th Ed., Boyce & Diprima)
Elementary Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems (9th Ed., Boyce & Diprima)
Differential Equations : An Introduction to Modern Methods and Applications (James Brannan & William Boyce)

Differential Equations with Boundary Value Problems : An Introduction to Modern Methods and Applications (James Brannan & William Boyce)
Calculus : Early Transcendentals Combined (8th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Early Transcendentals Combined (9th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Multivariable (8th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Multivariable (9th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Early Transcendentals Single Variable (8th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Early Transcendentals Single Variable (9th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Late Transcendentals Combined (8th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Late Transcendentals Combined (9th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Late Transcendentals Single Variable (8th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Calculus : Late Transcendentals Single Variable (9th Ed., Anton, Bivens & Davis)
Introduction to the Finite Element Method: Theory, Programming and Applications (Erik G. Thompson)
Mathematics for Engineers : A Modern Interactive Approach (3rd., Anthony Croft & Robert Davison) Measurement and Data Analysis for Engineering and Science (Patrick F Dunn)
Elementary Linear Algebra (4th Ed., Stephen Andrilli & David Hecker)
Elementary Linear Algebra Edition Abridged (9th Ed., Anton & Rorres)
Elementary Linear Algebra (9th Ed., Anton)
Elementary Linear Algebra with Applications (9th Ed., Anton & Rorres)
Boundary Value Problems and Partial Differential Equations (6th Ed., David Powers)
Introductory Statistics : Using Technology (5th Ed., Prem S. Mann)
Introductory Statistics (6th Ed., Prem S. Mann)
Introductory Statistics (7th Ed., Prem S. Mann)
Modern Algebra : An Introduction (6th Ed., John Durbin)
The Art and Craft of Problem Solving (2nd Ed., Paul Zeitz)
Introductory Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences (6th Ed., Welkowitz, Cohen & Ewen)
Statistics : Principles and Methods (5th Ed., Richard Johnson)
Statistics : Principles and Methods (6th Ed., Richard Johnson)
Statistical Bioinformatics : with R (Sunil K. Mathur)
Parameter Estimation and Inverse Problems (Richard Aster, Brian Borchers & Clifford Thurber)
Codes : An Introduction to Information Communication and Cryptography (Norman L. Biggs)
Geometry and Its Applications (2nd Ed., Walter A. Meyer)
Elementary Differential Geometry (2nd Ed., A.N. Pressley)
Fractal Geometry : Mathematical Foundations and Applications (2nd Ed., Kenneth Falconer)

Analytical and Computational Methods of Advanced Engineering Mathematics (Grant B. Gustafson & Calvin H. Wilcox)
How to Read and Do Proofs : An Introduction to Mathematical Thought Processes (4th Ed., Daniel Solow)
How to Read and Do Proofs : An Introduction to Mathematical Thought Processes (5th Ed., Daniel Solow)
Intuitive Probability and Random Processes using MATLAB (Steven Kay)
Modeling Random Processes for Engineers and Managers (James Solberg)
Probability, Statistics, and Random Processes For Electrical Engineering (3rd Ed., Alberto Leon-Garcia)
Probability Concepts in Engineering : Emphasis on Applications to Civil and Environmental Engineering (2nd Ed., Ang & Tang)
Applied Statistics for Engineers and Physical Scientists (3rd Ed., Johannes Ledolter & Robert Hogg)
Applied Statistics and Probability for Engineers (3rd Ed., Montgomery & Runger)
Applied Statistics and Probability for Engineers (4th Ed., Montgomery & Runger)
Applied Statistics and Probability for Engineers (5th Ed., Montgomery & Runger)
Engineering Statistics (3rd Ed., Montgomery, Runger & Hubele)
Engineering Statistics (4th Ed., Montgomery, Runger & Hubele)
Introduction to Statistical Quality Control (5th Ed., Montgomery)
Introduction to Statistical Quality Control (6th Ed., Montgomery)
Calculus : One Variables (10th Ed., Salas, Hille, Etgen)
Calculus : One and Several Variables (8th Ed., Salas, Hille, Etgen)
Calculus : One and Several Variables (10th Ed., Salas, Hille, Etgen)
Squaring the Circle : Geometry in Art and Architecture (Paul Calter)
Technical Mathematics (5th Ed., Paul Calter & Michael Calter)
Technical Mathematics with Calculus (5th Ed., Paul Calter & Michael Calter)
Technical Mathematics with Calculus, Canadian Edition (Paul Calter & Michael Calter)
Techniques of Problem Solving (Luis Fernández, Haedeh Gooransarab)
Probability and Statistics in Engineering (4th Ed., Hines, Montgomery, Goldsman & Borror)
A First Course in Design and Analysis of Experiments (Gary W. Oehlert)
Design and Analysis of Experiments (6th Ed., Douglas Montgomery)
Design and Analysis of Experiments (7th Ed., Douglas Montgomery)
Introduction to Engineering Experimentation (2nd Ed., Wheeler & Ganji)
Introduction to Engineering Experimentation (3rd Ed., Wheeler & Ganji)
Introduction to the Design & Analysis of Experiments (Canavos & Koutrouvelis)
Modern Methods For Quality Control and Improvement (2nd Ed., Wadsworth, Stephens, Godfrey) Essential Statistics for Economics, Business and Management (Teresa Bradley)
Statistics and Econometrics : Methods and Applications (Ashenfelter, Levine & Zimmerman)
Applied Combinatorics (5th Ed., Alan Tucker)

Vector Calculus (Miroslav Lovric)
Applied Multivariate Techniques (Subhash Sharma)
Mathematical Modeling (3rd Ed., Mark Meerschaert)
Discrete Mathematics : Mathematical Reasoning and Proof with Puzzles, Patterns, and Games (Douglas Ensley, J. Winston Crawley) Probability, Random Variables and Random Signal Principles (4th Ed., Peyton Z., Jr. Peebles)
Introduction to C++, Excel MATLAB & Basic Engineering Numerical Methods V1.1 (Harvey Stenger & Charles Smith)
Numerical Methods for Engineers and Scientists : An Introduction with Applications Using MATLAB (1st Ed., Amos Gilat & Vish Subramaniam)
Numerical Methods for Engineers and Scientists : An Introduction with Applications Using MATLAB (2nd Ed., Amos Gilat & Vish Subramaniam)
MATLAB : An Introduction with Applications (2nd Ed., Amos Gilat)
MATLAB : An Introduction with Applications (3rd Ed., Amos Gilat)
Matlab : A Practical Introduction to Programming and Problem Solving (Stormy Attaway)
Data, Statistics, and Decision Models with Excel (Harnett & Horrell) Understanding Analysis (Stephen Abbott)
Time Series Analysis With Applications in R (2nd Ed., Jonathan D. Cryer & Kung-Sik Chan)
Time Series Analysis and Its Applications : With R Examples (2nd Ed., Robert Shumway & David Stoffer)
Doing Statistics for Business with Excel : Data, Inference, and Decision Making (2nd Ed. Pelosi & Sandifer)
Engineering with Excel (3rd Ed., Ronald W. Larsen)
Spreadsheet Tools for Engineers Using Excel 2007 (Byron Gottfried)
Spreadsheet Tools for Engineers using Excel (2nd Ed. Byron Gottfried)
Spreadsheet Tools for Engineers using Excel (3rd Ed. Byron Gottfried)
Introduction to Matlab 7 (Etter, Kuncicky & Moore)
Introduction to Matlab 6 for Engineers (1st Ed., William J Palm III)
Introduction to Matlab 7 for Engineers (2nd Ed., William J Palm III)
A Concise Introduction to MATLAB (William J Palm III)
Numerical Methods for Engineers (4th Ed. Steven Chapra, Raymond Canale)
Numerical Methods for Engineers (5th Ed. Steven Chapra, Raymond Canale)
Numerical Methods for Engineers (6th Ed. Steven Chapra, Raymond Canale)
Applied Numerical Methods with MATLAB for Engineers and Scientists (1st Ed., Steven Chapra)
Applied Numerical Methods with MATLAB for Engineers and Scientists (2nd Ed., Steven Chapra)
MATLAB for Engineers (1st Ed., Holly Moore)
MATLAB for Engineers (2nd Ed., Holly Moore)
Statistics for Engineers and Scientists (1st Ed., William Navidi)
Statistics for Engineers and Scientists (2nd Ed., William Navidi)
Statistics for Engineers and Scientists (3rd Ed., William Navidi) Principles of Statistics for Engineers and Scientists (William Navidi)
Probability (Jim Pitman)

Basic Probability Theory (Robert B. Ash)
Stochastic Calculus for Finance (Steven E. Shreve)
Markov Processes for Stochastic Modeling (Oliver Ibe)
Mathematical Statistics with Applications (K.M. Ramachandran & Chris Tsokos) Probability : A Graduate Course (Allan Gut)
Linear Algebra Done Right (2nd Ed., Sheldon Axler)
Precalculus : A Prelude to Calculus (Sheldon Axler)
Statistics for Business (Derek Waller)
An Introduction to the Mathematics of Financial Derivatives (2nd Ed., Salih Neftci)
Elementary Number Theory with Applications (2nd Ed., Thomas Koshy)
Introduction to Probability Models (9th Ed., Sheldon Ross)
Introduction to Probability Models (10th Ed., Sheldon Ross)
Introductory Statistics (2nd Ed., Sheldon Ross)
Introduction to Probability and Statistics for Engineers and Scientists (4th Ed., Sheldon Ross)
Basic Mathematics through Applications (4th Ed. by Akst, Bragg)
Developmental Mathematics (6th Ed., Bittinger & Beecher)
Developmental Mathematics (7th Ed., Bittinger & Beecher)
Developmental Mathematics : Basic Mathematics and Algebra (1st Ed., Lial, Hornsby, McGinnis, Salzman & Hestwood)
Developmental Mathematics : Basic Mathematics and Algebra (2nd Ed., Lial, Hornsby, McGinnis, Salzman & Hestwood)
Essential Mathematics (2nd Ed., Margaret Lial & Stanley Salzman)
Essential Mathematics (3rd Ed., Margaret Lial & Stanley Salzman)
Prealgebra & Introductory Algebra (2nd Ed. by Elayn El Martin-Gay)
Prealgebra (5th Ed., Bittinger, Ellenbogen & Johnson)
Prealgebra (5th Ed., Elayn El Martin-Gay)
Prealgebra : An Integrated Approach (Lial & Hestwood)
Integrated Arithmetic and Basic Algebra (4th Ed., Jordan & Palow)
Introductory Algebra through Applications (1st Ed., Akst & Bragg)
Introductory Algebra through Applications (2nd Ed., Akst & Bragg)
Beginning Algebra (10th Ed., Lial, Hornsby & McGinnis) Elementary Algebra Early Graphing for College Students (3rd Ed., Allen R. Angel)
Intermediate Algebra with Applications & Visualization (3rd Ed., Rockswold & Krieger)
Intermediate Algebra (10th Ed., Lial, Hornsby & McGinnis) Beginning and Intermediate Algebra (4th Ed., Lial, Hornsby & McGinnis) Elementary and Intermediate Algebra : Graphs & Models (3rd Ed., Bittinger, Ellenbogen & Johnson)
Algebra for College Students (4th Ed., Mark Dugopolski)
Algebra for College Students (5th Ed., Mark Dugopolski)
Algebra For College Students (6th Ed., Robert F Blitzer)
Algebra for College Students (3rd Ed., Allen R. Angel)
Algebra for College Students (6th Ed., Lial, Hornsby & McGinnis) Statistics, Data Analysis, and Decision Modeling (3rd Ed., James Evans) Statistics, Data Analysis, and Decision Modeling (4th Ed., James Evans)

College Geometry : A Discovery Approach (2nd Ed., David Kay) College Geometry : Using The Geometer's Sketchpad - Preliminary Edition (Barbara Reynolds & William Fenton)
College Geometry : A Problem Solving Approach with Applications (2nd Ed., Musser, Trimpe & Maurer)
A Survey of Mathematics with Applications (8th Ed., Angel, Abbott & Runde)
A Survey of Mathematics with Applications: Expanded Edition (8th Ed., Angel, Abbott & Runde)
Mathematical Ideas (11th Ed., Miller, Heeren & Hornsby)
Mathematical Ideas: Expanded Edition (11th Ed., Miller, Heeren & Hornsby)
Mathematical Thinking : Problem-Solving and Proofs (2nd Ed., John P. D'Angelo & Douglas B. West)
Thinking Mathematically (4th Ed., Robert F. Blitzer)
Introduction to Mathematical Thinking: Algebra and Number Systems (Will J. Gilbert & Scott A. Vanstone)
Mathematical Reasoning : Writing and Proof (1st Ed., Ted A. Sundstrom)
Mathematical Reasoning : Writing and Proof (2nd Ed., Ted A. Sundstrom)
Mathematical Reasoning for Elementary Teachers (4th Ed., Calvin T. Long & Duane W. DeTemple)
Mathematical Reasoning for Elementary Teachers (5th Ed., Long, DeTemple & Millman)
Mathematics for Elementary School Teachers (4th Ed., O'Daffer, Charles, Cooney, Dossey & Schielack)
Mathematics for Elementary Teachers (2nd Ed., Sybilla Beckmann)
Finite Mathematics and Calculus with Applications (7th Ed., Lial, Greenwell & Ritchey)
Finite Mathematics and Calculus with Applications (8th Ed., Lial, Greenwell & Ritchey)
Additional Calculus Topics (11th Ed., Barnett, Ziegler & Byleen)
College Mathematics for Business, Economics, Life Sciences & Social Sciences (11th Ed., Barnett, Ziegler & Byleen)
Introductory Mathematical Analysis for Business, Economics and the Life and Social Sciences (12th Ed., Haeussler, Paul & Wood)
Finite Mathematics for Business, Economics, Life Sciences and Social Sciences (11th Ed., Barnett, Ziegler, Byleen)
Finite Mathematics (9th Ed., Lial, Greenwell & Ritchey)
Calculus and Its Applications (9th Ed., Bittinger & Ellenbogen)
Calculus for Business, Economics, Life Sciences & Social Sciences (11th Ed., Barnett, Ziegler & Byleen)
Calculus with Applications (9th Ed., Lial, Greenwell & Ritchey)
Calculus with Applications : Brief Version (9th Ed., Lial, Greenwell & Ritchey)
Concepts of Calculus with Applications (Martha Goshaw)
University Calculus : Elements with Early Transcendentals (Hass, Weir & Thomas, Jr.)
Thomas' Calculus, Early Transcendentals: Media Upgrade (11th Ed., Thomas Jr., Weir, Hass & Giordano)

Thomas' Calculus: Media Upgrade (11th Ed., Thomas Jr., Weir, Hass & Giordano)
University Calculus : Alternate Edition (Hass, Weir & Thomas, Jr.)
Differential Equations Computing and Modeling (4th Ed., Edwards & Penney)
Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems : Computing and Modeling (4th Ed., Edwards & Penney)
Elementary Differential Equations with Boundary Value Problems (6th Ed., Edwards & Penney)
Elementary Differential Equations (6th Ed., Edwards & Penney)
Fundamentals of Differential Equations (7th Ed., Nagle, Saff & Snider)
Fundamentals of Differential Equations with Boundary Value Problems (5th Ed., Nagle, Saff & Snider)
Differential Equations and Linear Algebra (3rd Ed., Goode & Annin)
Discrete Mathematical Structures (6th Ed., Kolman, Busby & Ross)
College Algebra Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (5th Ed., Sullivan & Sullivan III)
College Algebra (10th Ed., Lial, Hornsby & Schneider)
College Algebra : Graphs and Models (4th Ed., Bittinger, Beecher, Ellenbogen & Penna)
College Algebra Essentials (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
College Algebra (3rd Ed., Judith A. Beecher, Judith A. Penna & Marvin L. Bittinger)
College Algebra (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
Algebra and Trigonometry for College Readiness (Margaret L. Lial & John Hornsby)
Algebra and Trigonometry Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (5th Ed., Sullivan & Sullivan III)
Algebra and Trigonometry : Graphs & Models (4th Ed., Bittinger, Beecher, Ellenbogen & Penna)
Trigonometry : A Unit Circle Approach (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus (3rd Ed., Lial, Hornsby & Schneider)
Precalculus (4th Ed., Lial, Hornsby & Schneider)
Precalculus : Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (5th Ed., Sullivan & Sullivan III)
Precalculus : Functions and Graphs (3rd Ed. Mark Dugopolski)
Precalculus : Graphs & Models and Graphing (4th Ed., Bittinger, Beecher, Ellenbogen & Penna)
Discrete and Combinatorial Mathematics (5th ed., Ralph P. Grimaldi)
Discrete Mathematics (Sherwood Washburn, Thomas Marlowe & Charles T. Ryan) Discrete Mathematics (5th ed., John Dossey, Albert Otto, Lawrence Spence & Charles Vanden Eynden)
Mathematics for New Technologies (Don Hutchison & Mark Yannotta)
Fundamental Finite Element Analysis and Applications: with Mathematica and Matlab Computations (Asghar Bhatti)
Advanced Topics in Finite Element Analysis of Structures: With Mathematica and MATLAB Computations (Asghar Bhatti)
The Finite Element Method in Engineering (4th Ed., by Rao)
An Introduction to the Finite Element Method (3rd Ed., J. N. Reddy)

Fundamentals of Finite Element Analysis (1st Ed., David V. Hutton)
Simulation Modeling and Analysis (3rd Ed., Averill Law & David Kelton)
Simulation Modeling and Analysis (4th Ed., Averill Law)
The Finite Element Method : Its Basis and Fundamentals (6th Ed., Zienkiewicz, R. L. Taylor & J.Z. Zhu)
Algebra : Form and Function (William McCallum, Eric Connally & Deborah Hughes-Hallett)
Algebra : Form and Function, Preliminary Edition (William McCallum, Eric Connally & Deborah Hughes-Hallett)
Applied Calculus (2nd Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Applied Calculus (3rd Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Applied Calculus (4th Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Calculus : Multivariable (3rd Ed., William G. McCallum, Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Calculus : Multivariable (4th Ed., William G. McCallum, Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Calculus : Multivariable (5th Ed., William G. McCallum, Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Calculus : Single Variable (3rd Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, Andrew M. Gleason, et al.)
Calculus : Single Variable (4th Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, Andrew M. Gleason, et al.)
Calculus : Single Variable (5th Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, Andrew M. Gleason, et al.)
Calculus : Single and Multivariable (3rd Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, Andrew M. Gleason, et al.)
Calculus : Single and Multivariable (4th Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett, Andrew M. Gleason, et al.)
Calculus : Single and Multivariable (5th Ed., Deborah Hughes-Hallett) Functions Modeling Change : A Preparation for Calculus - Texas Edition (2nd Ed., Eric Connally, Deborah Hughes-Hallett & Andrew M. Gleason)
Functions Modeling Change : A Preparation for Calculus (2nd Ed., Eric Connally, Deborah Hughes-Hallett, et al.)
Functions Modeling Change : A Preparation for Calculus (3rd Ed., Eric Connally)
Differential Equations (A. King, J. Billingham, S. Otto) Regression Methods in Biostatistics : Linear, Logistic, Survival, and Repeated Measures Models (Eric Vittinghoff, David Glidden, Stephen Shiboski, Charles McCulloch)
A Modern Introduction to Probability and Statistics : Understanding Why and How (F.M. Dekking, C. Kraaikamp, H.P. Lopuhaä, L.E. Meester)
Statistical Methods for the Analysis of Repeated Measurements (Charles S. Davis)
Bayesian Core : A Practical Approach to Computational Bayesian Statistics (Jean-Michel Marin, Christian Robert)
The Bayesian Choice : From Decision-Theoretic Foundations to Computational Implementation (2nd Ed., Christian Robert)
Essentials of Stochastic Processes (Rick Durrett)
Methods of Multivariate Statistics (Muni Srivastava) Regression Analysis : Theory, Methods, and Applications (Ashish Sen & Muni Srivastava)

Applied Probability and Statistics (Mario Lefebvre)
Basic Probability Theory with Applications (Mario Lefebvre)
Foundations of Hyperbolic Manifolds (2nd Ed., John Ratcliffe) Fourier and Laplace Transforms (R. J. Beerends , H. G. ter Morsche)
Infinite-Dimensional Dynamical Systems (James C. Robinson)
Mathematical Methods for Physics and Engineering, (3rd Ed., Riley, Hobson & Bence)
Numerical Methods in Engineering with MATLAB (Jaan Kiusalaas)
Numerical Methods in Engineering with Python (Jaan Kiusalaas)
An Introduction to Numerical Analysis (Endre Suli and David Mayers)
Fundamentals of Engineering Numerical Analysis (Parviz Moin)
Statistical Design (George Casella)
Statistical Inference (2nd Ed., George Casella, Roger L. Berger)
Monte Carlo Statistical Methods (2nd Ed., Christian P. Robert, George Casella)
Introducing Monte Carlo Methods with R (Christian Robert & George Casella)
Introduction to Mathematical Structures and Proofs (Larry J. Gerstein)
Analyzing Categorical Data (Jeffrey S. Simonoff)
Fundamentals of Complex Analysis with Applications to Engineering, Science, and Mathematics (3rd Ed., E. Saff & Arthur Snider)
Probability & Statistics for Engineers & Scientists (8th Ed., Walpole, Myers, Ye) Statistics for Engineering and the Sciences (5th Ed., Mendenhall & Sincich)
A Second Course in Statistics : Regression Analysis (6th Ed., Mendenhall & Sincich)
Miller & Freund's Probability and Statistics for Engineers (7th Ed., Johnson, Miller, Freund)
Miller & Freund's Probability and Statistics for Engineers (8th Ed., Johnson, Miller, Freund)
Numerical Methods Using Matlab (4th Ed., Mathews & Fink)
Applied Numerical Analysis Using MATLAB (2nd Ed., Laurene v. Fausett) Applied Numerical Analysis (7th Ed., Curtis F. Gerald, Patrick O. Wheatley)
Friendly Introduction to Numerical Analysis (Bradie)
Elementary Linear Algebra (2nd Ed., Spence, Insel & Friedberg)
Elementary Linear Algebra with Applications (9th Ed., Kolman & Hill)
Introductory Linear Algebra : An Applied First Course (8th Ed., Kolman & Hill)
Linear Algebra with Applications (6th Ed., S. Leon)
Linear Algebra with Applications (7th Ed., S. Leon)
Linear Algebra for Engineers and Scientists Using Matlab (Hardy)
Linear Algebra with Applications (3rd Ed., Bretscher)
Linear Algebra with Applications (4th Ed., Bretscher)
Modern Matrix Algebra (Hill & Kolman)
Matrix Methods : Applied Linear Algebra (3rd Ed., Richard Bronson & Gabriel B. Costa)
A Transition to Abstract Mathematics : Learning Mathematical Thinking and Writing (2nd Ed., Randall Maddox)

Partial Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems with Fourier Series (2nd ed., Asmar)
Applied Partial Differential Equations (4th Ed., Haberman)
Technical Calculus (5th Ed., Dale Ewen, Joan S. Gary & James E. Trefzger)
Technical Mathematics (2th Ed., Dale Ewen, Joan S. Gary & James E. Trefzger)
Technical Mathematics with Calculus (2th Ed., Dale Ewen, Joan S. Gary & James E. Trefzger)
Introductory Mathematics (4th Ed., Cook)
Mathematics for the Technical Trades (Cook) College Mathematics (7th Ed., Cleaves & Hobbs)
Fundamentals of Statistics (2nd Ed., Michael III Sullivan)
Fundamentals of Statistics (3rd Ed., Michael III Sullivan)
Statistics : Informed Decisions Using Data (2nd Ed., Michael III Sullivan)
Modern Elementary Statistics (12th Ed., John E. Freund, Benjamin M. Perles)
Statistics : The Art and Science of Learning From Data (Agresti & Franklin)
Statistics : The Art and Science of Learning From Data (2nd Ed., Agresti & Franklin)
Elementary Statistics : Picturing the World (3rd Ed., Larson & Farber) Elementary Statistics : Picturing the World (4th Ed., Larson & Farber)
A First Course in Statistics (9th Ed., McClave & Sincich)
A First Course in Statistics (10th Ed., McClave & Sincich)
Statistics (10th Ed., McClave & Terry Sincich)
Statistics (11th Ed., McClave & Terry Sincich & William Mendenhall)
Interactive Statistics (3rd Ed., Martha Aliaga & Brenda Gunderson)
Statistics for the Life Sciences (3rd Ed., Samuels & Witmer)
Applied Statistics and the SAS Programming Language (5th Ed., Cody & Smith)
Biostatistics for the Health Sciences (R. Clifford Blair & Richard Taylor)
Biostatistics : How It Works (Steve Selvin)
Business Statistics : First Course (4th Ed., Levine, Krehbiel & Berenson)
Business Statistics : First Course (5th Ed., Levine, Krehbiel & Berenson)
Course in Business Statistics (4th Ed., Groebner, Shannon, Fry & Smith)
Business Statistics : A Decision Making Approach (6th Ed., Groebner, Shannon, Fry & Smith)
Business Statistics : A Decision-Making Approach (7th Ed., Groebner, Shannon, Fry & Smith)
Business Statistics : A Decision-Making Approach (8th Ed., Groebner, Shannon, Fry & Smith)
Statistics for Business & Economics (10th Ed., McClave, Benson & Sincich)

Statistics for Managers Using Excel (5th Ed., Levine)
Statistics for Managers Using Microsoft Excel (4th Ed., Levine, Stephan, Krehbiel & Berenson)
Statistics for Business and Economics (5th Ed., Newbold, Carlson & Thorne)
Statistics for Business and Economics (6th Ed., Newbold, Carlson & Thorne)
Statistics for Business and Economics (7th Ed., Newbold, Carlson & Thorne)
Basic Business Statistics : Concepts and Applications (10th Ed., Berenson, Krehbiel & Levine)
Basic Business Statistics (11th Ed., Berenson, Levine & Krehbiel)
John E. Freund's Mathematical Statistics with Applications (7th Ed., Miller)
Probability and Statistical Inference (7th Ed., Hogg & Tanis)
Probability and Statistical Inference (8th Ed., Hogg & Tanis)
Introduction to Mathematical Statistics (6th Ed., Hogg, Craig & McKean)
Introduction to Mathematical Statistics and Its Applications (4th Ed., Larsen & Marx)
A Brief Course in Mathematical Statistics (Hogg & Tanis)
Fundamentals of Probability, with Stochastic Processes (3rd Ed., Saeed Ghahramani)
A First Course in Probability (7th Ed., Sheldon Ross)
A First Course in Probability (8th Ed., Sheldon Ross)
Applied Multivariate Statistical Analysis (6th Ed., Johnson & Wichern)
Multivariate Data Analysis (6th Ed., Hair, Black, Babin, Anderson & Tatham)
Multivariate Data Analysis (7th Ed., Hair, Black, Babin, Anderson)
Essential MATLAB for Engineers and Scientists (3rd Ed., Brian Hahn & Dan Valentine) Essential MATLAB for Engineers and Scientists (4th Ed., Brian Hahn & Dan Valentine)
Introduction to Applied Statistical Signal Analysis : Guide to Biomedical and Electrical Engineering Applications (3rd Ed. Richard Shiavi)
Construction Mathematics (Surinder Virdi & Roy Baker)
Numerical Methods in Biomedical Engineering (Stanley Dunn, Alkis Constantinides & Prabhas Moghe) Probability and Statistics with Integrated Software Routines (Ronald Deep) Finite Element Analysis with Error Estimators : An Introduction to the FEM and Adaptive Error Analysis for Engineering Students (J. Akin)
Basic Engineering Mathematics (4th Ed., John Bird)
Engineering Mathematics (4th Ed., John Bird)
Engineering Mathematics (5th Ed., John Bird)
Higher Engineering Mathematics (5th Ed., John Bird)
Construction Mathematics (Virdi & Baker)
Mathematics for Electrical Engineering and Computing (Mary Attenborough)

Probability and Random Processes : With Applications to Signal Processing and Communications (Miller & Childers)
Introductory Statistics for Engineering Experimentation (Peter Nelson, Karen Copeland & Marie Coffin)
Understanding Engineering Mathematics (Bill Cox)
Statistics And Probability For Engineering Applications With Microsoft Excel (Decoursey)
Business Math Using Calculators : With 10-Key Computer Assisted Instruction (Burton)
Mathematics for Economics and Business (5th Ed., Ian Jacques)
Business Math, Brief (7th Ed., Cleaves & Hobbs)
Math for Merchandising: A Step-by-Step Approach (3rd Ed., Moore)
Mathematics for Business (7th Ed., Salzman , Miller & Clendenen)
Mathematics for Business (8th Ed., Salzman , Miller & Clendenen)
Basic College Mathematics with Early Integers (K. Elayn Martin-Gay) Developmental Mathematics (K. Elayn Martin-Gay)
An Introduction to Analysis (3rd Ed., William Wade)
An Introduction to Analysis (4th Ed., William Wade)
A Friendly Introduction to Analysis (2nd Ed., Witold A.J. Kosmala)
Advanced Calculus (Gerald Folland)
Analysis : With an Introduction to Proof (4th Ed., Steven R. Lay) Essentials of Basic College Mathematics (John Jr Tobey, Jr., Jeffrey Slater)
Basic College Mathematics (5th Ed., John Tobey & Jeffrey Slater)
Prealgebra (3rd Ed., Jamie Blair, John Tobey & Jeffrey Slater)
Elementary Algebra Early Graphing for College Students (3rd Ed., Allen Angel)
Elementary Algebra (Michael Sullivan III, Katherine R. Struve & Janet Mazzarella)
Elementary Algebra for College Students (7th Ed., Allen R. Angel) Experiencing Introductory and Intermediate Algebra Through Functions and Graphs (3rd Ed., JoAnne Thomasson & Robert Pesut)
Introductory Algebra (3rd Ed., K. Elayn Martin-Gay)
Beginning Algebra (6th Ed., John Jr Tobey & Jeffrey Slater)
Beginning Algebra : Early Graphing (Jamie Blair, John Tobey & Jeffrey Slater)
Beginning and Intermediate Algebra (2nd Ed., Jamie Blair, John Tobey & Jeffrey Slater)
Introductory Algebra (4th Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Introductory and Intermediate Algebra (2nd Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Intermediate Algebra for College Students (7th Ed., Allen Angel)
Intermediate Algebra (Michael Sullivan III & Katherine Struve)
Intermediate Algebra (3rd Ed., K. Elayn Martin-Gay)
Essentials of Intermediate Algebra for College Students (Robert Blitzer)
Intermediate Algebra (4th Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Intermediate Algebra for College Students (5th Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Algebra A Combined Approach (3rd Ed., K. Elayn Martin-Gay)
Elementary & Intermediate Algebra (Michael Sullivan III, Katherine R. Struve & Janet Mazzarella)

Essentials of Introductory and Intermediate Algebra for College Students (Robert F. Blitzer)
Algebra for College Students (3rd Ed., Allen R. Angel)
Algebra for College Students (5th Ed., Robert F Blitzer)
College Algebra (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
College Algebra Essentials (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
College Algebra (4th Ed., Robert Blitzer)
College Algebra Essentials (2nd Ed., Robert F. Blitzer)
College Algebra : An Early Functions Approach (Robert F. Blitzer)
College Algebra : Concepts Through Functions (1st Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
College Algebra : Concepts Through Functions (2nd Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
College Algebra Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (4th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Essentials of College Algebra : Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (4th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan) Algebra and Trigonometry (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
Algebra and Trigonometry (3rd Ed., Robert F. Blitzer)
Algebra and Trigonometry: An Early Functions Approach (Robert Blitzer)
Algebra & Trigonometry (7th Ed., Michael Sullivan) Algebra and Trigonometry Enhanced With Graphing Utilities (4th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Trigonometry (7th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
Trigonometry (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
Trigonometry Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (4th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus (8th Ed., Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus (3rd Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Precalculus (4th Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Precalculus (1st Ed., J. S. Ratti & Marcus S. McWaters)
Precalculus : A Right Triangle Approach (2nd Ed., J. S. Ratti & Marcus S. McWaters)
Precalculus Essentials (2nd Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Precalculus Essentials (3rd Ed., Robert Blitzer)
Precalculus : Concepts Through Functions, A Unit Circle Approach to Trigonometry (1st Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus : Concepts Through Functions, A Unit Circle Approach to Trigonometry (2nd Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus : Concepts Through Functions, A Right Triangle Approach to Trigonometry (1st Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus : Concepts Through Functions, A Right Triangle Approach to Trigonometry (2nd Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (4th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (5th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)
Precalculus Essentials : Enhanced with Graphing Utilities (4th Ed., Michael Sullivan III & Michael Sullivan)

Excursions in Modern Mathematics (5th Ed., Peter Tannenbaum)
Excursions In Modern Mathematics with Mini-Excursions (6th Ed., Peter Tannenbaum)
Quantitive Reasoning & the Environment (Greg Langkamp & Joseph Hull)
Fundamentals of Mathematics (10th Ed., William M Setek & Michael A Gallo)
Learning Math in Elementary and Middle School & IMAP Package (4th Ed., Cathcart, Pothier, Vance & Bezuk)
Understanding the Math You Teach: Content and Methods for Prekindergarten Through Grade 4 (Anita C. Burris)
Algebra Connections (Ira J. Papick & UMO University of Missouri)
Calculus Connections (Asma Harcharras, Dorina Mitrea)
Data Analysis and Probability Connections: Mathematics for Middle School Teachers (Debra A. Perkowski & Michael Perkowski)
Geometry Connections (John K. Beem)
Elementary Math Modeling Updated (2nd Ed., Mary Ellen Davis & C. Henry Edwards)
Additional Calculus Topics (11th Ed., Raymond Barnett, Michael Ziegler & Karl Byleen)
Finite Math and Its Application (9th Ed., Larry J Goldstein, David I Schneider & Martha J. Siegel)
Finite Mathematics and Its Application (10th Ed., Larry J Goldstein, David I Schneider & Martha J. Siegel)
Introductory Mathematical Analysis for Business, Economics and the Life and social Sciences (11th Ed., Haeussler, Paul & R.J. Wood)
Introductory Mathematical Analysis for Business, Economics and the Life and Social Sciences (12th Ed., Haeussler, Paul & R.J. Wood)
Additional Calculus Topics (9th Ed., Raymond Barnett, Michael Ziegler & Karl Byleen)
College Mathematics for Business, Economics, Life Sciences and Social Sciences (10th Ed., Raymond Barnett, Michael Ziegler & Karl Byleen)
Brief Calculus and Its Applications (11th Ed., Larry Goldstein, David Schneider, David Lay & Nakhle Asmar)
Brief Calculus and Its Applications (12th Ed., Larry Goldstein, David Schneider, David Lay & Nakhle Asmar)
Calculus and its Applications (10th Ed., Larry Goldstein, David Schneider, David Lay)
Calculus and its Applications (11th Ed., Larry Goldstein, David Schneider, David Lay & Nakhle Asmar)
Calculus and its Applications (12th Ed., Larry Goldstein, David Schneider, David Lay & Nakhle Asmar)
Calculus for Business, Economics, Life Sciences and Social Sciences (10th Ed., Raymond Barnett, Michael Ziegler & Karl Byleen)
Calculus, Early Transcendentals (6th Ed., C. Henry Edwards & David Penney)
Calculus, Early Transcendentals (7th Ed., C. Henry Edwards & David Penney)
Calculus (9th Ed., Dale Varberg, Edwin Purcell & Steve Rigdon)
Calculus Early Transcendentals (Dale Varberg, Edwin Purcell & Steve Rigdon)

Calculus (3rd Ed., Monty Strauss, Gerald Bradley & Karl Smith)
Calculus (6th Ed., Henry Edwards & David E. Penney)
Single Variable Calculus (3rd Ed., Monty Strauss, Gerald Bradley & Karl Smith)
Vector Calculus (3rd Ed., Susan Colley)
Applied Linear Algebra (Peter Olver & Cheri Shakiban)
Differential Equations and Linear Algebra (2nd Ed., Jerry Farlow, James E. Hall, Jean Marie McDill & Beverly West)
Differential Equations and Linear Algebra (2nd Ed., C. Henry Edwards & David Penney)
Differential Equations and Linear Algebra (3rd Ed., C. Henry Edwards & David Penney)
Differential Equations (2nd Ed., John Polking, Al Boggess & David Arnold)
Differential Equations with Boundary Value Problems (2nd ed., John Polking, Al Boggess & David Arnold)
Discrete Mathematics with Graph Theory (3rd Ed., Edgar Goodaire & Michael Parmenter)
Essential Discrete Mathematics (Todd Feil & Joan Krone)
Statistical Methods for the Social Sciences (4th Ed., Agresti & Finlay)
A Brief Course in Mathematical Statistics (Tanis & Hogg)
Business Mathematics, 10th Ed. (Miller, Salzman & Clendenen)
Elementary Statistics (6th Ed., Weiss)
Elementary Statistics (7th Ed., Weiss)
Elementary Statistics Using the Graphing Calculator: For the TI-83/84 Plus (Mario Triola)
Elementary Statistics Using the TI-83/84 Plus Calculator (2nd Ed., Mario Triola)
Elementary Statistics Using the TI-83/84 Plus Calculator (3rd Ed., Mario Triola)
Elementary Statistics Update (9th Ed., Mario Triola)

Stats: Data and Models, (2nd Ed., De Veaux, Velleman & Bock)
Elementary Statistics Using Excel (2nd Ed., Mario Triola)
Elementary Statistics Using Excel (3rd Ed., Mario Triola)
Elementary Statistics Using Excel (4th Ed., Mario Triola)
Stats : Modeling the World (2nd Ed., Bock, Velleman & De Veaux)
Stats : Modeling the World (3rd Ed., Bock, Velleman & De Veaux)
Statistical Reasoning for Everyday Life (2nd Ed., Bennett, Briggs & Triola)

Statistical Reasoning for Everyday Life (3rd Ed., Bennett, Briggs & Triola)
Business Statistics (Triola & Franklin)
Business Statistics (Sharpe, De Veaux & Velleman)
Business Statistics : A First Course (Sharpe, De Veaux & Velleman)
Biostatistics for the Biological and Health Sciences with Statdisk (Marc Triola & Mario Triola)
Biostatistics : A Guide to Design, Analysis and Discovery (2nd Ed., Ronald Forthofer, Eun Lee, Mike Hernandez)
A Course in Probability (Neil A. Weiss)
Probability and Statistics (3rd Ed., DeGroot & Schervish)
Statistics for Science and Engineering (John Kinney)
Mathematical Proofs : A Transition to Advanced Mathematics (1st Ed., Chartrand, Polimeni & Zhang)
Mathematical Proofs : A Transition to Advanced Mathematics (2nd Ed., Chartrand, Polimeni & Zhang)
Elementary Number Theory (5th Ed., Kenneth H. Rosen)
History of Mathematics : Brief Version (Victor J. Katz) Geometry : An Investigative Approach (2nd Ed., Phares G. O'Daffer & Stanley Clemens)
A First Course in Abstract Algebra (7th Ed., John Fraleigh)
Complex Variables with Applications (3rd Ed., David Wunsch)
Numerical Analysis with CD-ROM (Timothy Sauer)
Numerical Analysis and Scientific Computation (Jeffery Leader)
Linear Algebra and Differential Equations (Gary Peterson & James Sochacki)
Elementary Differential Equations (2nd Ed., Werner Kohler & Lee Johnson)
Elementary Differential Equations with Boundary Value Problems (2nd Ed., Werner Kohler & Lee Johnson)
Fundamentals of Differential Equations (6th Ed., Kent B. Nagle, Late, Edward B. Saff & Arthur David Snider)
Fundamentals of Differential Equations and Boundary Value Problems (4th Ed., Kent B. Nagle, Late, Edward B. Saff & Arthur David Snider)
Linear Algebra and Its Applications with CD-ROM, Update (3rd Ed., David C. Lay)
Introduction to Linear Algebra (5th ed., Lee W. Johnson, R. Dean Riess & Jimmy T. Arnold)
Calculus for the Life Sciences (Marvin L. Bittinger, Neal Brand & John Quintanilla)
Calculus with Applications for the Life Sciences (Raymond N. Greenwell, Nathan P. Ritchey & Margaret L. Lial)
Calculus : An Integrated Approach to Functions and Their Rates of Change, Preliminary Edition (Robin J. Gottlieb) Calculus (9th Ed., George B. Thomas, Jr. & Ross L. Finney)
Thomas' Calculus, Alternate Edition (9th Ed., George B. Thomas, Jr. & Ross L. Finney)
Calculus : A Complete Course (2nd Ed., Ross L. Finney, Franklin D. Demana, Bert K. Waits & Daniel Kennedy)
Calculus (Elgin H. Johnston & Jerry Mathews)

Thomas' Calculus, Updated (10th Ed., George B. Thomas, Jr., Ross L. Finney, Maurice D. Weir & Frank R. Giordano)
Thomas' Calculus (11th Ed., George B. Thomas, Jr., Maurice D. Weir, Joel D. Hass & Frank R. Giordano)
Thomas' Calculus Early Transcendentals (11th Ed., George B. Thomas, Jr., Maurice D. Weir, Joel D. Hass & Frank R. Giordano)
University Calculus (Joel D. Hass, Maurice D. Weir & George B. Thomas, Jr.)

Measure Theory and Filtering : Introduction and Applications (Lakhdar Aggoun & Robert J. Elliott)
Mathematical Models in Biology : An Introduction (Elizabeth S. Allman & John A. Rhodes)
Insurance Risk and Ruin (David C. M. Dickson)
Data Analysis and Graphics Using R : An Example-based Approach (2nd Ed., John Maindonald & John Braun)
Applied Optimization with MATLAB Programming (1st Ed., P. Venkataraman)
Applied Optimization with MATLAB Programming (2nd Ed., P. Venkataraman)
Convex Optimization (Stephen Boyd & Lieven Vandenberghe)
Concrete Abstract Algebra : From Numbers to Gröbner Bases (Niels Lauritzen)
A Concrete Approach to Abstract Algebra : From the Integers to the Insolvability of the Quintic (Jeffrey Bergen) Calculus : Concepts and Methods (Ken Binmore & Joan Davies)
An Introduction to Partial Differential Equations (Yehuda Pinchover & Jacob Rubinstein)
An Introduction to Ordinary Differential Equations (James C. Robinson)
An Introduction to Mathematical Physiology and Biology (2nd Ed., J. Mazumdar)
An Introduction to Financial Option Valuation : Mathematics, Stochastics and Computation (Desmond Higham)
An Interactive Introduction to Mathematical Analysis (Jonathan Lewin)
An Introduction to Mathematical Finance: Options and Other Topics (1st Ed., Sheldon M. Ross)

- Physics & Astronomy :

Introduction to Solid State Physics (8th Ed., Charles Kittel)
Quantum Physics (3rd Ed., Stephen Gasiorowicz)
Fundamentals of Nuclear Reactor Physics (Elmer Lewis)
Nuclear Energy : An Introduction to the Concepts, Systems, and Applications of Nuclear Processes (6th Ed., Raymond L. Murray)
Fundamentals of Electromagnetics with Engineering Applications (Stuart M. Wentworth)
Physics (7th Ed. by Paul E. Tippens)

Physics (6th Ed., Cutnell & Johnson)
Physics (7th Ed., Cutnell & Johnson)
Physics (8th Ed., Cutnell & Johnson)
Essentials of Physics (Cutnell & Johnson)
Understanding Physics (1st Ed., Cummings, Laws, Redish & Cooney)
Introductory Physics : Building Understanding (Jerold Touger)
Physics Matters : An Introduction to Conceptual Physics (James Trefil & Robert Hazen)
How Things Work : The Physics of Everyday Life (3rd Ed., Louis Bloomfield)
An Introduction to Modern Astrophysics (2nd Ed., Bradley W. Carroll & Dale A. Ostlie)
Foundations of Astrophysics (Barbara Ryden & Bradley Peterson)
Physics (5th Ed., Halliday, Resnick, Krane)
Fundamentals of Physics (6th Ed., David Halliday, Robert Resnick & Jearl Walker)
Fundamentals of Physics (7th Ed., David Halliday, Robert Resnick & Jearl Walker)
Fundamentals of Physics (8th Ed., David Halliday, Robert Resnick & Jearl Walker)
Fundamentals of Physics (9th Ed., David Halliday, Robert Resnick & Jearl Walker)
The Physics of Everyday Phenomena : A Conceptual Introduction to Physics (3rd Ed., Thomas Griffith)
The Physics of Everyday Phenomena : A Conceptual Introduction to Physics (4th Ed., Thomas Griffith)
The Physics of Everyday Phenomena : A Conceptual Introduction to Physics (5th Ed., Thomas Griffith)
Physics of Everyday Phenomena : A Conceptual Introduction to Physics (6th Ed., W. Thomas Griffith & Juliet W. Brosing)
Integrated Science (2nd Ed., Tillery et al.)
Integrated Science (3rd Ed., Tillery et al.)
Integrated Science (4th Ed., Tillery et al.)
Physical Science (5th Ed., Tillery)
Physical Science (6th Ed., Tillery)
Physical Science (7th Ed., Tillery)
Physical Science (8th Ed., Tillery)
The Physical Universe (11th Ed., Konrad Krauskopf & Arthur Beiser)
The Physical Universe (12th Ed., Konrad Krauskopf & Arthur Beiser)
Physics of the Life Sciences (Jay Newman)
Physics in Biology and Medicine (3rd Ed., Paul Davidovits)
Optics (1st Ed., Ajoy Ghatak)
Optics (4th Ed., Eugene Hecht)
Nonlinear Optics (3rd Ed., Robert Boyd)
Introduction to Optics (3rd Ed., Frank L Pedrotti, Leno M Pedrotti & Leno S Pedrotti) Principles of Physical Optics (Charles Bennett) Optics : Principles and Applications (Kailash Sharma)
Continuum Electromechanics (James R. Melcher) Electromagnetic Noise and Quantum Optical Measurements (Hermann A.

Haus)
Matter and Interactions I : Modern Mechanics (2nd Ed., Ruth W. Chabay & Bruce A. Sherwood)
Matter and Interactions : Volume 1 : Modern Mechanics (3rd Ed., Ruth W. Chabay & Bruce A. Sherwood) Matter and Interactions II : Electric and Magnetic Interactions (2nd Ed., Ruth W. Chabay & Bruce A. Sherwood) Matter and Interactions : Volume 2 : Electric and Magnetic Interactions (3rd Ed., Ruth W. Chabay & Bruce A. Sherwood)
Thermal Stresses (2nd Ed., Noda, Hetnarski & Tanigawa)
Introduction to Statistical Physics (Kerson Huang)
Extended Irreversible Thermodynamics (3rd Ed., D. Jou, J. Casas-Vazquez & G. Lebon)
An Introduction to Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics (2nd Ed, Keith Stowe)
Equilibrium and Non-Equilibrium Statistical Thermodynamics (Michel Le Bellac, Fabrice Mortessagne & G. George Batrouni)
Elements of Statistical Mechanics: With an Introduction to Quantum Field Theory and Numerical Simulation (Ivo Sachs & Siddhartha Sen)
Quantum Transport (2nd Ed., Supriyo Datta)
Ocean Waves and Oscillating Systems (Johannes Falnes)
Statistical Mechanics (2nd Ed., R.K. Pathria)
Quantum Mechanics (Gennaro Auletta, Mauro Fortunato & Giorgio Parisi)
Applied Quantum Mechanics (1st Ed., A. F. J. Levi)
Applied Quantum Mechanics (2nd Ed., A. F. J. Levi)
Fundamentals of Quantum Mechanics (C.L. Tang)
Astronomy : A Physical Perspective (2nd Ed., Marc L. Kutner) Classical Mechanics (Douglas Gregory)
Electromagnetic Field Theory Fundamentals (2nd Ed., Singh Guru & Hiziroglu)
Special Relativity : From Einstein to Strings (P.M. Schwarz & J.H. Schwarz)
Gravity : An Introduction to Einstein's General Relativity (James Hartle)
A Short Course in General Relativity (James Foster & J. David Nightingale)
Statistical Thermodynamics (Normand Laurendeau)
Statistical Thermodynamics and Microscale Thermophysics (Van P. Carey)
Thermal Physics (Ralph Baierlein)
Topics in Atomic Physics (Charles E. Burkhardt, Jacob J. Leventhal)
Foundations of Quantum Physics (Charles E. Burkhardt, Jacob J. Leventhal)
Applied Physics (8th Ed., Dale Ewen, Ronald Nelson, Neill Schurter & Erik Gundersen)
Applied Physics (9th Ed., Dale Ewen, Neill Schurter & Erik Gundersen)
Analytical Mechanics (7th Ed., Grant R. Fowles, George Cassiday)
Orbital Mechanics for Engineering Students (1st Ed., Howard Curtis)
Orbital Mechanics for Engineering Students (2nd Ed., Howard Curtis)
Diagnostic Ultrasound Imaging : Inside Out (Thomas Szabo) Astronomy : A Beginner's Guide to the Universe (5th Ed., Eric Chaisson & Steve McMillan)

The Cosmic Perspective (5th Ed., Jeffrey O. Bennett, Megan Donahue, Nicholas Schneider & Mark Voit)
The Cosmic Perspective Media Update (4th Ed., Jeffrey O. Bennett, Megan Donahue, Nicholas Schneider & Mark Voit)
The Essential Cosmic Perspective Media Update (4th Ed., Jeffrey O. Bennett, Megan Donahue, Nicholas Schneider & Mark Voit)
The Essential Cosmic Perspective Media Update (3rd Ed., Jeffrey O. Bennett, Megan Donahue, Nicholas Schneider & Mark Voit)
The Essential Cosmic Perspective (3rd Ed., Jeffrey O. Bennett, Megan Donahue, Nicholas Schneider & Mark Voit)
Astronomy Today (5th Ed., Eric Chaisson & Steve McMillan)
Astronomy Today (6th Ed., Eric Chaisson & Steve McMillan)
Conceptual Physical Science (3rd Ed., Paul G. Hewitt, John A. Suchocki & Leslie Hewitt)
Conceptual Physical Science (4th Ed., Paul G. Hewitt, John A. Suchocki & Leslie Hewitt)
Conceptual Integrated Science (Paul G. Hewitt, Suzanne Lyons, John A. Suchocki & Jennifer Yeh)
Physics : Concepts & Connections (4th Ed., Art Hobson)
Conceptual Physics (10th Ed., Paul Hewitt)
Conceptual Physics Fundamentals (Paul G. Hewitt)
College Physics (6th Ed., Jerry Wilson, Anthony Buffa & Bo Lou)
College Physics (7th Ed., Jerry Wilson, Anthony Buffa & Bo Lou)
College Physics (8th Ed., Young & Geller)
Modern Physics (2nd Ed., Randy Harris)
Modern Physics for Scientists and Engineers (John Morrison)
Solid State Physics : Essential Concepts (David Snoke)
Physics with Mastering Physics (3rd Ed., James Walker)
Physics with Mastering Physics (4th Ed., James Walker)
Active Learning Guide (Alan Van Heuvelen & Eugenia Etkina)
E&M TIPERs : Electricity & Magnetism Tasks (C. J. Hieggelke, D. P. Maloney, T. L. O'Kuma & Steve Kanim)
Physics : Principles with Applications (6th Ed., Douglas C. Giancoli)
Physlet® Physics : Interactive Illustrations, Explorations and Problems for Introductory Physics (Wolfgang Christian & Mario Belloni)
University Physics with Modern Physics with Mastering Physics (11th Ed., Hugh Young & Roger Freedman)
University Physics with Modern Physics with Mastering Physics (12th Ed., Hugh Young & Roger Freedman)
Physics for Scientists and Engineers (3rd Ed., Douglas C. Giancoli) Physics for Scientists and Engineers with Modern Physics (3rd Ed., Douglas Giancoli) Physics for Scientists and Engineers with Modern Physics (4th Ed., Douglas Giancoli)
Physlet® Quantum Physics : An Interactive Introduction (Mario Belloni, Wolfgang Christian & Anne Cox)
Introduction to Electrodynamics (3rd Ed., David J. Griffiths)
Introduction to Quantum Mechanics (2nd Ed., David Griffiths)
Quantum Mechanics : An Accessible Introduction (Robert Scherrer)

Modern Quantum Mechanics (J. J. Sakurai)
The Physics of Sound (3rd Ed., Richard Berg & David Stork)
Electromagnetism : Principles and Applications (1st Ed., Paul Lorrain, Dale R. Corson)
Classical Electromagnetism (Jerrold Franklin)
Classical Electrodynamics (2nd Ed., John David Jackson)
Nanoengineering of Structural, Functional and Smart Materials (Mark Schulz, Ajit Kelkar, Mannur Sundaresan)
Introduction to Color Imaging Science (Hsien-Che Lee)
An Introduction to Astrobiology (Iain Gilmour & Mark Sephton)
An Introduction to Galaxies and Cosmology (Mark HJones & Robert Lambourne)
An Introduction to the Solar System (Neil McBride & Iain Gilmour)
Quantum Physics (Michel Le Bellac)
Laser Fundamentals (2nd Ed., William T. Silfvast)
Laser Electronics (3rd Ed., Joseph T. Verdeyen)
Introductory Quantum Optics (Christopher Gerry & Peter Knight)
Introduction to Plasma Physics: With Space and Laboratory Applications (D. A. Gurnett & A. Bhattacharjee)
A Short Introduction to Quantum Information and Quantum Computation (Michel Le Bellac)
A Quantum Approach to Condensed Matter Physics (Philip L. Taylor & Olle Heinonen)
A First Course in String Theory (Barton Zwiebach)
A First Course in Computational Physics and Object-Oriented Programming with C++ (David Yevick)
A Course in Modern Mathematical Physics : Groups, Hilbert Space and Differential Geometry (Peter Szekeres)
Ultrasonic Nondestructive Evaluation Systems: Models and Measurements (Lester W. Schmerr & Sung-Jin Song)
Explorations : Stars Galaxies and Planets (1st Ed. Updated, Thomas Arny)
Explorations : An Introduction to Astronomy (2nd Ed., Thomas Arny)
Explorations : An Introduction to Astronomy (3rd Ed. Updated, Thomas Arny)
Explorations : An Introduction to Astronomy (4th Ed. Updated, Thomas Arny)
Explorations : An Introduction to Astronomy (5th Ed. Updated, Thomas Arny)
Astronomy : Journey to the Cosmic Frontier (3rd Ed., John D. Fix)
Astronomy : Journey to the Cosmic Frontier (4th Ed., John D. Fix)
Astronomy : Journey to the Cosmic Frontier (5th Ed., John D. Fix)
Pathways to Astronomy with Starry Night Pro (Steven Schneider & Thomas T Arny)
From Molecules to Networks (2nd Ed., John Byrne & James Roberts)
Biotechnology (David Clark & Nanette Pazdernik)
Light and Video Microscopy (Randy Wayne)

NOTE : "THIS SERVICE IS NOT AVAILABLE FOR : CHINA, INDIA, PAKISTAN, IRAQ, IRAN, PHILIPPINES, NORTH KOREA, NEPAL, BANGLADESH, SRI LANKA, MALDIVES & BHUTAN".

If your wanted solutions manual is not in this list, also can ask me if is available (They are some only). Then if you need solutions manual only contact me by email.

This same "list of titles" of texts with availables solutions manual is for download from :

I do not review the forums, just send me an email.

- Civil Engineering and Architecture :

Mechanical and Structural Vibrations : Theory and Applications (by Jerry H. Ginsberg)
Fundamentals of Structural Analysis (1st Ed., Leet & Uang)
Fundamentals of Structural Analysis (2nd Ed., Leet & Uang)
Fundamentals of Structural Analysis (3rd Ed., Leet & Uang)
A Structures Primer (Harry F. Kaufman)
Steel Design (4th Ed., William T. Segui)
Structural and Stress Analysis (2nd Ed., Megson)
Structural Steel Design ASD Method (4th Ed., Jack McCormac)
Structural Steel Design (4th Ed., Jack McCormac)
Structural Steel Design : A Practice Oriented Approach (Abi Aghayere & Jason Vigil)
Unified Design of Steel Structures (Louis Geschwindner)
Steel Structures : Behavior and LRFD (1st Ed., Ramulu Vinnakota)
The Engineering of Foundations (1st Ed., Rodrigo Salgado)
Mechanics of Materials : A Modern Integration of Mechanics and Materials in Structural Design (Christopher Jenkins & Sanjeev Khanna)
Analysis and Design of Shallow and Deep Foundations (Lymon Reese, William Isenhower & Shin-Tower Wang)

Elementary Structures for Architects and Builders (5th Ed., Ronald Shaeffer)
Statics and Strength of Materials for Architecture and Building Construction (3rd Ed., Onouye & Kane)
Finite Element Techniques in Structural Mechanics (C. T. F. Ross)
Fundamental Finite Element Analysis and Applications: with Mathematica and Matlab Computations (Asghar Bhatti)
Advanced Topics in Finite Element Analysis of Structures : With Mathematica and MATLAB Computations (Asghar Bhatti)
Adjustment Computations : Spatial Data Analysis (4th Ed., Charles Ghilani & Paul Wolf)
Adjustment Computations : Spatial Data Analysis (5th Ed., Charles Ghilani)
Surveying (5th Ed., Jack McCormac)
Surveying with Construction Applications (6th Ed., Barry Kavanagh)
Surveying with Construction Applications (7th Ed., Barry Kavanagh)
Surveying : Principles and Applications (8th Ed., Barry Kavanagh)
Surveying Fundamentals and Practices (6th Ed., Jerry Nathanson, Michael Lanzafama & Philip Kissam)
Structural Analysis (5th Ed., Hibbeler)
Structural Analysis (7th Ed., Hibbeler)
Structural Analysis - SI Units (7th Ed., Hibbeler)
Dynamics of Structures (3rd Ed., Chopra)
Principles of Geotechnical Engineering (6th Ed., Braja M. Das)
Geotechnical Engineering: Principles and Practices (2nd Ed., Donald P. Coduto, Man-chu Ronald Yeung & William A. Kitch)
Fundamentals of Structural Stability (George Simitses & Dewey Hodges)
Fundamentals of Structural Mechanics (2nd Ed., keith D. Hjelmstad)
Fundamentals of Structural Dynamics (2nd Ed., Roy Craig & Andrew Kurdila)
Design of Concrete Structures (13th Ed., Nilson, Darwin & Dolan)
Design of Concrete Structures (14th Ed., Nilson, Darwin & Dolan)
Structures (6th Ed., Daniel Lewis Schodek & Martin Bechthold)
Concrete Structures (Mehdi Setareh & Robert Darvas)
Reinforced Concrete Design : A Practical Approach (Brzev & Pao)
Reinforced Concrete : A Fundamental Approach (6th Ed., Edward Nawy)
Reinforced Concrete Design (6th Ed., Chu-Kia Wang, Charles Salmon)
Reinforced Concrete Design (7th Ed., Chu-Kia Wang, Charles Salmon & José Pincheira)
Reinforced Concrete Design (6th Ed., George Limbrunner & Abi Aghayere)
Reinforced Concrete Design (7th Ed., George Limbrunner & Abi Aghayere)
Reinforced Concrete : Mechanics and Design (4th Ed., James MacGregor & James Wight)
Reinforced Concrete : Mechanics and Design (5th Ed., James Wight & James MacGregor)
Reinforced Concrete : Mechanics and Design - International Version (5th Ed., James Wight & James MacGregor)
Structural Concrete : Theory and Design (3rd Ed., M. Nadim Hassoun & Akthem Al-Manaseer) Structural Concrete : Theory and Design (4th Ed., M. Nadim Hassoun & Akthem Al-Manaseer)

Design of Reinforced Concrete (6th Ed., Jack McCormac & James Nelson)
Design of Reinforced Concrete (7th Ed., ACI 318-05 Code Edition, by Jack McCormac)
Design of Reinforced Concrete (8th Ed., Jack McCormac & Russell Brown) Structural Analysis : Using Classical and Matrix Methods (3rd Ed., James Nelson, Jr., Jack McCormac)
Structural Analysis : Using Classical and Matrix Methods (4th Ed., Jack McCormac)
Pavement Design and Materials (A. T. Papagiannakis, E. A. Masad)
Principles of Highway Engineering and Traffic Analysis (3rd Ed., Fred Mannering, Walter Kilareski & Scott Washburn) Principles of Highway Engineering and Traffic Analysis (4th Ed., Fred Mannering, Walter Kilareski & Scott Washburn)
Highway Engineering (7th Ed., Paul Wright & Karen Dixon)
Soil Mechanics : Concepts and Applications (2nd Ed., William Powrie)
Unsaturated Soil Mechanics (Ning Lu & William Likos)
Soil Mechanics and Foundations (2nd Ed., Muniram Budhu)
Soils and Foundations - SI Units (6th Ed., Liu & Evett)
Soils and Foundations (7th Ed., Liu & Evett)
Fundamentals of Soil Mechanics for Sedimentary and Residual Soils (Laurence Wesley) Essentials of Soil Mechanics and Foundations : Basic Geotechnics (7th Ed., David McCarthy)
Foundations and Earth Retaining Structures (Muniram Budhu)
Design Analysis in Rock Mechanics (William G. Pariseau)
Probability Concepts in Engineering : Emphasis on Applications to Civil and Environmental Engineering (2nd Ed., Ang & Tang)
Hydraulic Control Systems (Noah Manring)
Open Channel Hydraulics (A. Osman Akan)
Open Channel Hydraulics (Terry Sturm)
Open Channel Hydraulics (2nd Ed., Terry Sturm)
Open-Channel Flow (2nd Ed., M. Hanif Chaudhry)
Frozen Ground Engineering (2nd Ed., Orlando Andersland & Branko Ladanyi)
Hydraulics in Civil and Environmental Engineering (4th Ed. Andrew Chadwick)
Fundamentals of Hydraulic Engineering Systems (4th Ed., Robert Houghtalen, A. Osman Akan, Ned H. C. Hwang)
Introduction to Transportation Engineering (2nd Ed., Banks)
Urban Transportation Planning (2nd Ed., Meyer & Miller)
Transportation Engineering and Planning (3rd Ed., Papacostas & Prevedouros)
Structural Wood Design : A Practice-Oriented Approach (Abi Aghayere & Jason Vigil)
Simplified Design of Wood Structures (6th Ed., James Ambrose & Patrick Tripeny)
Simplified Design of Steel Structures (8th Ed., James Ambrose & Patrick Tripeny) Materials and Components of Interior Architecture (7th Ed., J.

Rosemary Riggs)
Olin's Construction : Principles, Materials, and Methods (8th Ed., H. Leslie Simmons)
Basic Construction Materials (8th Ed., Theodore Marotta, John C. Coffey, Cynthia LaFleur-Brown & Christine LaPlante)
Fundamentals of Residential Construction (2nd Ed., Edward Allen & Rob Thallon)
Fundamentals of Building Construction : Materials and Methods (4th Ed., Edward Allen & Joseph Iano)
Fundamentals of Building Construction : Materials and Methods (5th Ed., Edward Allen & Joseph Iano)
Composites for Construction : Structural Design with FRP Materials (Lawrence Bank) Building Construction : Principles, Materials, and Systems (Madan Mehta, Diane Armpriest & Walter Scarborough)
Construction Contracts (2nd Ed., Jimmie Hinze)
Sustainable Construction and Design (Regina Leffers)
Global Engineering and Construction (J. K. Yates)
Construction Mathematics (Virdi & Baker)
Materials for Civil and Construction Engineers (3rd Ed., Michael S. Mamlouk & John P. Zaniewski)
Construction Management (3rd Ed., Daniel Halpin)
Construction Management Fundamentals (1st Ed., Schexnayder & Mayo)
Construction Management Fundamentals (2nd Ed., Knutson, Schexnayder, Fiori & Mayo)
Construction Planning, Equipment, and Methods (6th Ed., Peurifoy & Schexnayder)
Construction Planning, Equipment, and Methods (7th Ed., Peurifoy, Schexnayder & Shapira)
Construction Planning, Equipment, and Methods (8th Ed., Peurifoy, Schexnayder, Shapira & Schmitt)
Construction Methods and Management (7th Ed., Stephens Nunnally)
Construction Methods and Management (8th Ed., Stephens Nunnally)
Construction Project Administration (8th Ed., Edward Fisk, Wayne Reynolds)
Construction Project Administration (9th Ed., Edward Fisk, Wayne Reynolds)
Construction Project Management (3rd Ed., Gould & Joyce)
The Management of Construction : A Project Lifecycle Approach (F. Lawrence Bennett) Construction Accounting and Financial Management (1st Ed., Steven Peterson)
Construction Accounting and Financial Management (2nd Ed., Steven Peterson) Principles and Practices of Commercial Construction (8th Ed., Cameron K. Andres & R.C. Smith)
Cost Analysis and Estimating for Engineering and Management (Phillip Ostwald & Timothy McLaren) Construction Estimating Using Excel (Stephen J. Peterson) Heating and Cooling of Buildings : Design for Efficiency (2nd Ed., Jan Kreider, Peter Curtiss & Ari Rabl)

Heating, Cooling, Lighting : Sustainable Design Methods for Architects (3rd Ed., Norbert Lechner)
Mechanical and Electrical Systems in Architecture, Engineering and Construction (5th Ed., Frank R. Dagostino & Joseph B. Wujek)
Mechanical and Electrical Equipment for Buildings (10th Ed., Stein, Reynolds, Grondzik, Kwok)
Mechanical and Electrical Equipment for Buildings (11th Ed., Grondzik, Kwok, Stein & Reynolds)
Mechanical & Electrical Systems in Buildings (4th Ed., Richard Janis & William Tao)
Introduction to Naval Architecture : Formerly Muckle's Naval Architecture for Marine Engineers (4th Ed., E.C. Tupper)
Architectural Drawing and Light Construction (8th Ed., Philip A. Grau, III & Edward J. Muller)
NEW Autodesk Civil 3D : Procedures & Applications (Harry O. Ward)
Structural Health Monitoring with Piezoelectric Wafer Active Sensors (Victor Giurgiutiu)
Architecture Design Notebook (2nd Ed., Peter Fawcett)
Civil Drafting Technology (7th Ed., David A. Madsen, Terence M. Shumaker & David P. Madsen)
Introduction to Homeland Security (2nd Ed., Bullock & George Haddow)

- Environmental Engineering, Earth and Environmental Sciences :

Principles of Environmental Engineering and Science (1st Ed., Mackenzie Davis & Susan Masten)
Principles of Environmental Engineering and Science (2nd Ed., Mackenzie Davis & Susan Masten)
Introduction to Environmental Engineering (Richard Mines & Laura Lackey)
Introduction to Environmental Engineering (4th Ed., MacKenzie Davis & David Cornwell)
Introduction to Environmental Engineering and Science (2nd Ed., Gilbert Masters)
Introduction to Environmental Engineering and Science (3rd Ed., Gilbert Masters & Wendell Ela)
Solar Energy Engineering (Soteris Kalogirou)
Solar Engineering of Thermal Processes (2nd Ed., John Duffie & William Beckman)
Solar Engineering of Thermal Processes (3rd Ed., John Duffie & William Beckman)
Energy Technology and Directions for the Future (Fanchi)
Environmental Engineering : Fundamentals, Sustainability, Design (James Mihelcic, Julie Zimmerman)
Environmental Engineering Science (Nazaroff & Alvarez - Cohen)
Environmental Engineering (4th Ed., Ruth Weiner & Robin Matthews)
Environmental Pollution and Control (4th Ed., Peirce, Vesilind & Weiner) Introduction to Engineering and the Environment (1st Ed., Edward Rubin)

Basic Environmental Technology : Water Supply, Waste Management & Pollution Control (5th Ed., Jerry Nathanson)
Water and Wastewater Technology - SI Units (5th Ed., Mark J. Hammer, Sr. & Mark Hammer, Jr.)
Water and Wastewater Technology (6th Ed., Mark J. Hammer, Sr. & Mark Hammer, Jr.)
Water and Wastewater Engineering (Mackenzie L. Davis)
Water Supply and Pollution Control (8th Ed., Viessman Jr., Hammer, Perez & Chadik)
Water Supply and Pollution Control - International Version (8th Ed., Viessman Jr., Hammer, Perez & Chadik)
Water Treatment : Principles and Design (2nd Ed., by MWH)
Water Resources Engineering 2005 Edition (Larry W. Mays) Water Resources Engineering (2nd Ed., Chin)
Water Chemistry (Benjamin)
Plant Pathology (5th Ed., George Agrios)
Radiation Detection and Measurement (3rd Ed., Glenn Knoll) Principles of Sequence Stratigraphy (Octavian Catuneanu)
The Earth's Ionosphere : Plasma Physics & Electrodynamics (2nd Ed., Michael Kelley) Atmosphere, Ocean and Climate Dynamics : An Introductory Text (Marshall & Plumb)
Atmospheric Science : An Introductory Survey (2nd Ed., John Wallace, Peter Hobbs)
Environmental Issues : An Introduction to Sustainability (3rd Ed., McConnell & Abel)
Environmental Science : Toward A Sustainable Future (10th Ed., Wright & Nebel)
Hazard City : Assignments in Applied Geology (3rd Ed., King, Carpenter & Wilson)
Introduction to Environmental Geology (4th ERd., Edward Keller)
The Science of Grapevines : Anatomy and Physiology (Markus Keller)
Geoenvironmental Engineering : Site Remediation, Waste Containment, and Emerging Waste Management Technologies (Hari Sharma & Krishna Reddy)
Natural Hazards : Earth's Processes as Hazards, Disasters and Catastrophes (2nd Ed., Keller & Blodgett)
Essentials of Oceanography (9th Ed., Trujillo & Thurman)
Exercises for Weather and Climate (6th Ed., Greg Carbone)
Fundamentals of Ground Water (Franklin Schwartz & Hubao Zhang)
Practical Problems in Groundwater Hydrology (Scott Bair & Terry Lahm)
Groundwater Hydrology (3rd Ed., David Keith Todd & Larry Mays)
Groundwater Science (Charles Fitts)
Frozen Ground Engineering (2nd Ed., Orlando Andersland & Branko Ladanyi)
Stormwater Management for Land Development : Methods and Calculations for Quantity Control (Thomas A. Seybert)
Urban Hydrology, Hydraulics, and Stormwater Quality : Engineering Applications and Computer Modeling (A. Osman Akan & Houghtalen)

Hydraulics in Civil and Environmental Engineering (4th Ed. Andrew Chadwick)
Fundamentals of Hydraulic Engineering Systems (4th Ed., Robert Houghtalen, A. Osman Akan, Ned H. C. Hwang)
Agriculture's Ethical Horizon (Robert Zimdahl)
Environmental Contaminants : Assessment and Control (Daniel Vallero)
A Problem-Solving Approach to Aquatic Chemistry (James Jensen)
Hazardous Waste Management (2nd Ed., Michael LaGrega, Phillip Buckingham & Jeffrey Evans)
Environmental Biotechnology : Principles and Applications (1st Ed., Bruce Rittmann & Perry McCarty) Chemistry for Environmental Engineering and Science (5th Ed., Clair Sawyer, Perry McCarty & Gene Parkin)
Geology for Engineers and Environmental Scientists (3rd Ed., Alan Kehew)
Ocean Waves and Oscillating Systems (Johannes Falnes)
Radiation Detection and Measurement (3rd Ed., Glenn Knoll)
Probability Concepts in Engineering : Emphasis on Applications to Civil and Environmental Engineering (2nd Ed., Ang & Tang)
Hydrology : Water Quantity and Quality Control (2nd Ed., Wanielista, Kersten & Eaglin)
Hydrology and Floodplain Analysis (4th Ed., Philip Bedient, Wayne Huber & Baxter Vieux)
Hydrology : An Introduction (Brutsaert)
Applied Atmospheric Dynamics (Amanda H. Lynch & John J. Cassano)
Mid-Latitude Atmospheric Dynamics : A First Course (Jonathan E. Martin)
Adjustment Computations : Spatial Data Analysis (4th Ed., Charles Ghilani & Paul Wolf)
Adjustment Computations : Spatial Data Analysis (5th Ed., Charles Ghilani)
Ecology (4th Ed., Manuel C. Molles)
Industrial Ecology and Sustainable Engineering (T. E. Graedel & Braden R. Allenby)
Principles of Environmental Science : Inquiry and Applications (4th Ed., Cunningham)
Principles of Environmental Science : Inquiry and Applications (5th Ed., Cunningham)
Environmental Science : A Global Concern (9th Ed., Cunningham)
Environmental Science : A Global Concern (10th Ed., Cunningham)
Essential Environmental Science (1st Ed., Edward Keller & Daniel Botkin)
Environmental Science : Earth as a Living Planet (6th Ed., Daniel Botkin & Edward Keller)
Environmental Science : Earth as a Living Planet (7th Ed., Daniel Botkin & Edward Keller)
Environmental Science : Earth as a Living Planet, Canadian Edition (Daniel Botkin & Edward Keller & Isobel Heathcote)
Introduction to Marine Biogeochemistry (2nd Ed., Susan Libes) Farm Management (5th Ed., Ronald Kay, William Edwards & Patricia Duffy)

Farm Management (6th Ed., Ronald Kay, William Edwards & Patricia Duffy)
Environmental Geology (6th Ed., Carla Montgomery)
Environmental Geology (7th Ed., Carla Montgomery)
Environmental Geology (8th Ed., Carla Montgomery)
Natural Disasters (4th Ed., Patrick Abbott)
Natural Disasters (5th Ed., Patrick Abbott)
Natural Disasters (6th Ed., Patrick Abbott)
Geography Information Systems (2nd Ed., Kang-tsung Chang)
Meteorology (2nd Ed., Danielson et al.)
Fundamentals of Oceanography (4th Ed., Duxbury, Sverdrup)
Fundamentals of Oceanography (5th Ed., Duxbury, Sverdrup)
Introduction to Geography (8th Ed., Getis et al.)
Introduction to Geography (9th Ed., Getis et al.)
Introduction to Geography (10th Ed., Getis et al.)
Introduction to Geography (11th Ed., Getis et al.)
Physical Geology : The Earth Revealed (4th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Physical Geology : The Earth Revealed (6th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Physical Geology : Earth Revealed (7th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Physical Geology (9th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Physical Geology (10th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Physical Geology (11th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Physical Geology (12th Ed., Plummer, McGeary & Carlson)
Exploring the World Ocean (W. Sean Chamberlin & Tommy Dickey)
Mastering ArcGIS (3rd Ed., Maribeth Price)
Mastering ArcGIS (4th Ed., Maribeth Price)
An Introduction to the World's Oceans (7th Ed., Sverdrup et al.)
An Introduction to the Worlds Oceans (8th Ed., Sverdrup et al.)
An Introduction to the Worlds Oceans (9th Ed., Sverdrup & Armbrust)
An Introduction to the Worlds Oceans (10th Ed., Sverdrup & Armbrust)
Laboratory Studies in Earth History (8th Ed., Brice et al.)
Laboratory Studies in Earth History (9th Ed., Brice et al.)
Exploring Geology (1st Ed., Reynolds et al.)
Manual of Mineral Science (23rd Ed., Cornelis Klein & Barbara Dutrow)
Isotopes : Principles and Applications (3rd Ed., Gunter Faure & Teresa Mensing)
Earth Science : Understanding Environmental Systems (Edgar Spencer)
Fundamentals of Weed Science (3rd Ed., Robert Zimdahl)
Field and Laboratory Exercises in Animal Behavior (Tillberg, Breed & Hinners)
Soils : An Introduction (6th Ed., Michael Singer & Donald Munns)
Soils, Land, and Life (Stan Buol)
Soils in Our Environment (10th Ed., Raymond Miller & Duane Gardiner)
Soils in Our Environment (11th Ed., Raymond Miller & Duane Gardiner)
Soil Microbiology, Ecology and Biochemistry (3rd Ed., Eldor Paul) Soil in the Environment : Crucible of Terrestrial Life (Daniel Hillel)

Design Analysis in Rock Mechanics (William G. Pariseau)
Forest Management and Planning (Bettinger, Boston, Siry & Grebner)
Agricultural Systems : Agroecology and Rural Innovation for Development (Sieglinde Snapp & Barry Pound)
Plant Systematics (Michael Simpson)
The Nature and Properties of Soils (14th Ed., Nyle Brady & Raymond Weil)
Elements of the Nature and Properties of Soils (2nd Ed., Nyle Brady & Ray Weil)
Materials and the Environment : Eco-informed Material Choice (Michael Ashby)

- Chemistry and Chemical Engineering :

An Introduction to Mass and Heat Transfer : Principles of Analysis and Design (Stanley Middleman) Principles and Modern Applications of Mass Transfer Operations (Jaime Benitez)
Diffusion : Mass Transfer in Fluid Systems (2nd Ed., Cussler)
Separation Process Principles (1st Ed, Seader & Henley)
Separation Process Principles (2nd Ed, Seader & Henley)
Analysis, Synthesis and Design of Chemical Processes (3rd Ed., Turton, Bailie, Whiting & Shaeiwitz) Principles of Chemical Separations with Environmental Applications (Richard D. Noble)
Product and Process Design Principles : Synthesis, Analysis, and Evaluation (2nd Ed., Seider, Seader & Lewin)
Product and Process Design Principles : Synthesis, Analysis, and Design (3rd Ed., Seider, Seader, Lewin & Widagdo)
Principles and Practices of Automatic Process Control (3rd Ed., Smith & Corripio)
Process Systems Analysis and Control (3rd Ed. Donald Coughanowr, Steven LeBlanc)
Process Dynamics and Control (2nd Ed., Seborg & Edgard)
Process Control : A First Course with MATLAB (P.C. Chau)
Plant Design and Economics for Chemical Engineers (5th Ed., Peters & Timmerhaus)
Basic Principles and Calculations in Chemical Engineering (7th Ed., Himmelblau)
Unit Operations of Chemical Engineering (6th Ed., McCabe & Smith)
Unit Operations of Chemical Engineering (7th Ed., McCabe & Smith)
Transport Phenomena in Biological Systems (1st Ed., George Truskey, Fan Yuan & David Katz) Transport Phenomena in Biological Systems (2nd Ed., George Truskey, Fan Yuan & David Katz) Transport Phenomena : A Unified Aprroach (Robert S. Brodkey & Harry C. Hershey)
Modeling in Transport Phenomena : A Conceptual Approach (2nd Ed., Ismail Tosun)
Transport Phenomena (2nd Ed., Bird & Stewart)

Solutions to Class 1&2 - Transport Phenomena (Bird)
Chemical Engineering Design (Gavin Towler)
Chemical Engineering Design (Coulson & Richardson's Chemical Engineering - Volume 6) - (4th Ed., Sinnott)
Chemical Engineering Design - SI Edition (5th Ed., Sinnott & Towler)
Fundamentals of Nuclear Reactor Physics (Elmer Lewis)
Nuclear Energy : An Introduction to the Concepts, Systems, and Applications of Nuclear Processes (6th Ed., Raymond L. Murray)
Chemical Engineering Design and Analysis : An Introduction (Duncan & Reimer)
Introduction to Chemical Reactor Analysis (R.E. Hayes)
Kinetics of Catalytic Reactions (Albert Vannice)
An Introduction to Chemical Engineering Kinetics and Reactor Design (Charles G. Hill)
Chemical Reactions and Chemical Reactors (George W. Roberts)
Chemical Reaction Engineering (3rd Ed., Levenspiel)
Fundamentals of Chemical Reaction Engineering (1st Ed., Davis)
Conceptual Design of Distillation Systems (1st Ed., Doherty & Malone)
Fluid Mechanics for Chemical Engineers (3rd Ed., Noel de Nevers)
Introduction to Chemical Processes : Principles, Analysis, Synthesis (1st Ed., Regina M. Murphy)
Optimization of Chemical Processes (2nd Ed., Edgar & Himmelblau)
Two-Phase Flow : Theory and Applications (Clement Kleinstreuer)
Chemical and Engineering Thermodynamics (3rd Ed., Stanley I. Sandler)
Chemical, Biochemical, and Engineering Thermodynamics (4th Ed., Stanley I. Sandler)
Introduction to Chemical Engineering Thermodynamics (6th Ed., Smith & Van Ness)
Introduction to Chemical Engineering Thermodynamics (7th Ed., Smith & Van Ness)
Engineering and Chemical Thermodynamics (Koretsky) Introduction to Chemical Principles (9th Ed., Stephen Stoker)
Basic Chemistry (2nd Ed., K. Timberlake & W. Timberlake)
Phase Equilibria, Phase Diagrams and Phase Transformations : Their Thermodynamic Basis (2nd Ed., Mats Hillert)
Principles of Chemical Kinetics (2nd Ed., James House)
Elementary Principles of Chemical Processes (3rd Ed., Felder & Rousseau)
Elements of Chemical Reaction Engineering (3rd Ed., Fogler)
Principles Of Polymer Systems (5th Ed., by Ferdinand Rodriguez, Claude Cohen, Christopher Ober, Lynden Archer)
Group Theory with Applications in Chemical Physics (Patrick Jacobs)
Food Analysis (3rd Ed., Suzanne Nielsen)
Introduction to Physical Chemistry (3rd Ed., Ladd)
General Chemistry: Principles and Modern Applications (10th Ed., Ralph H. Petrucci, F. Geoffrey Herring, Jeffry D. Madura, Carey Bissonnette)
Virtual ChemLab : General Chemistry Student Lab Manual / Workbook, v2.5, 3rd Ed. (Brian Woodfield & Matthew Asplund)
Introductory Chemistry (2nd Ed., Nivaldo J. Tro)
Introductory Chemistry (3rd Ed., Nivaldo J. Tro)

Conceptual Integrated Science (Hewitt, Lyons, Suchocki & Yeh)
Introductory Chemistry: Concepts and Connections (4th Ed., Charles Corwin) Prentice Hall Lab Manual Introductory Chemistry (4th Ed., Charles Corwin)
Modern Organic Synthesis : An Introduction (George S. Zweifel, Michael H. Nantz)
General, Organic and Biological Chemistry : Structures of Life (2nd Ed., Karen Timberlake)
Chemistry : An Introduction to General, Organic, and Biological Chemistry (9th Ed., Karen Timberlake)
Chemistry : An Introduction to General, Organic, and Biological Chemistry (10th Ed., Karen Timberlake)
Conceptual Chemistry (3rd Ed., John A. Suchocki)
Explorations in Conceptual Chemistry : A Student Activity Manual (Jeffrey Paradis)
Criminalistics : An Introduction to Forensic Science (9th Ed., Richard Saferstein)
Physical Chemistry (Thomas Engel & Philip Reid)
Physical Chemistry for the Life Sciences (Engel, Drobny & Reid)
Quantum Chemistry and Spectroscopy with Spartan Student Physical Chemistry Software (Thomas Engel & Philip Reid)
Themodynamics, Statistical Thermodynamics, and Kinetics (Thomas Engel & Philip Reid)
Physical Chemistry (7th. Ed., Peter Atkins & Julio de Paula) Physical Chemistry (2nd Ed., Robert Mortimer)
Physical Chemistry (3rd Ed., Robert Mortimer)

Some lawn mowers don't have an oil drain plug, Honda is one of the companies which makes some lawn mowers that don't have oil drain plugs.
WTF! no oil drain plug!?

One time, Martha Stewart was HIGHLY ticked off about something.She got back home in her SUV and she had her gardener guy pinned between the outside mirror of her SUV and the snail mail box (he haden't done anything wrong) and she commenced to HIGHLY cussin him out.

One time, Roger Fredinburg (Roger Fredinburg radio talk show http://www.regularguy.com) said Martha Stewart is so frigid if she sat down in a puddle of water it would turn to ice.

It's actually a 3 tower array. Plug these co-ordinates into Google Maps and it is smack right on.

There was a station back in Pennsylvania, WESA, that used to be daytime only. Then they were granted permission for night time transmissions. Their night time power was 10 watts down from their 250 daytime power. Not sure how it ever faired but it was interesting to even think if anybody copied them outside of 200 miles or so.

When the new (at the time) station in Milwaukie (suburb of Portland, OR) came on the air on 1010 KHz a couple decades or so ago, it had a daytime power of 10KW, and a nighttime power of 10W. I couldn't figure out why they bothered. They may have been heard within a few blocks of the tower site (omni stick), but further than that they would have been destroyed by splatter from KOMO 1000 in Seattle, which puts in a 'local' level signal at night.

Here in the ROK, RCI's signal on 5955 KHz can be heard at 20dB over S9 without an antenna on the radio. Listening to the evening repeat of China Drive is like listening to a local station (in fact, better, since our local station has a nasty hum to it.)

I'd have to wonder why bother either at 10 watts. Then again, you have alot of people who are up all night and you never know who will be tuning in. However, 10 watts on even a somewhat open frequency and depending on the surround terrain, hills, flat, etc., coverage could be further than you anticipate, even with a regional powerhouse like KOMO on a nearby frequency.

During the winter months I can copy KFI-640 at 10am or even at 11am without much of a problem. After that, I loose it for a bit then very late in the afternoon it comes in again.

I used to work in the building on the extreme left. That's where K-Weiner is. They are #1.

My station's antenna is on the northernmost tower photo. It is the 12 bay UHF antenna on the lower left. One of the microwave dishes was mine as well.

* ROTFLMAO. Kramer and the Sockies fade off stage right and leave Krypto to fight the rearguard action.

That's a giggle in itself. A 75 year old retired tart defending the most detested old fart that's ever been deported from Thailand.

It's over Krypto you can stop trying to ignite the ashes. Go to the hell you so richly deserve.

RULES FOR FOREIGN HAM, RESIDENTS OR IN TEMPORARY STAY IN PORTUGAL, TAKE IN TO CONSIDERATION.

ATTENCION PLEASE: THIS IS NOT A PRECISE TRANSLATION OF THE ORIGINAL LEGAL DOCUCUMENT OR THE OFFICIALLY ADOPTED TEXT FOR ENGLISH. Only the version published in "Diário da República" (the official Portuguese legislation journal) and in the Official Journal of the European Communities (for E.C. regulations) are considered to be authentic.

RULES FOR FOREIGN HAM, RESIDENTS OR IN TEMPORARY STAY IN PORTUGAL, BASED ON THE PROVISIONS OF DECREE-LAW NO. 53/2009, DATED 2 MARCH, WHICH DEFINES THE RULES OF THE AMATEUR RADIO AND AMATEUR- SATELLITE RADIO COMMUNICATIONS SERVICES.

Article 2

Definitions

1 - For the purposes of this Decree-Law, the following definitions shall apply:

a) "Amateur service": a radio communications service that aims for personal training, intercommunication and technical studies carried out by amateurs;

b) "Amateur-satellite service": a radio communications service that uses space stations installed on Earth satellites, for the same purposes as those of an amateur service;

c) "Amateur" or "radio amateur": one who is qualified pursuant hereto;

d) "Amateur station": radio communications station of the amateur service or amateur-satellite service, which may have a fixed, mobile or portable nature;

e) "Fixed amateur station": amateur station which is intended to be used permanently in a specific fixed location;

f) "Mobile amateur station": amateur station which is intended to be used in motion or in non-determined locations, and which requires an external power supply;

g) "Portable amateur station": amateur station which is intended to be used in motion or in non-determined locations, and which is autonomous as far as power supply is concerned;

h) "Individual amateur station": amateur station associated to a national amateur certificate or to a license issued pursuant to applicable recommendations of the European Conference of Postal and Telecommunications Administrations (CEPT) or of the International Telecommunication Union (ITU);

i) "Non-proprietary amateur station": amateur station that operates under a station license and which may be used by a group of amateurs;

j) "Portuguese National Amateur Certificate (NAC)": document issued by ICP-ANACOM which qualifies the holder thereof to use amateur stations;

l) "HAREC": Harmonized Amateur Radio Examination Certificate, according to the applicable recommendation of CEPT;

m) "Amateur station license": administrative qualifying document granted by ICP - ANACOM, which bestows on the holder thereof the right to operate a non-proprietary amateur station, in compliance with conditions and limits set out therein.

2 - Definitions laid down in the radio communications Regulation, published pursuant to the Constitution and ITU Convention, also apply hereto.

RULES TO KEEP IN MAIND FOR FOREIGN HAM RESIDENTS

Article 5

Amateur categories

6 - ICP-ANACOM shall define and publicize procedures to be followed as regards access to amateur categories by holders of valid qualifying documents issued by CEPT, ITU or a country with which Portugal has a reciprocity agreement.

Article 8

Use of stations

1 - Without prejudice to limits set out in the law, NAC holders, except for those in category 3, are entitled to:

a) Use their individual amateur stations, both fixed stations, not exceeding one main station and one additional station, and mobile or portable stations, in compliance herewith and with all performance and procedure rules approved and publicized by ICP-ANACOM pursuant hereto;

b) Use non-proprietary stations;

c) Use, according to their category, individual amateur station of other amateurs, except for amateur stations of category 3;

d) Share the use of their individual stations with other amateurs, according to their category.

3 - To holders of valid qualifying documents issued by CEPT, ITU or a country with which Portugal has a reciprocity agreement shall apply rules provided for in paragraph 1.

4 - It is incumbent upon ICP-ANACOM to publicize the list of valid qualifying documents referred to in the preceding paragraph as well as of specific procedures to which the use of stations by respective holders is subject.

RULES TO KEEP IN MIND FOR FOREIGNER HAM RADIO OPERATORS STAYING TEMPORARILY IN PORTUGAL

Chapter VI

Indication of qualifying documents enabling the use of stations and specific procedures with which the respective holders must comply – paragraph 4 of article 8 of Decree-Law no. 53/2009

1. The following documents qualify the respective holders for the use of amateur stations, during temporary stays in Portugal:

a) CEPT license issued by another administration which adopted CEPT Recommendation T/R 61-01;

b) CEPT novice license issued by another administration which adopted Recommendation CEPT ECC/REC/(05)06;

c) Radio-amateur Station Operator Certificate (COER), of Classes A and B, issued by the Government of the Federative Republic of Brazil.

2. Holders of valid qualifying documents are entitled to use their own stations or those of other amateurs, according to applicable laws and acknowledging, in particular, provisions in the National Frequency Allocation Plan (QNAF) on conditions for the use of frequency bands, as well as in paragraphs 13, 14 and 15 of Part IX hereof on use of station call signs.

Chapter IX

Rules for the assignment and use of station call signs (IC, ICO and ICOA) – paragraph 5 of article 16 of Decree-Law no. 53/2009

12. When establishing a communication, the amateur shall comply with the following procedures:

a) To transmit its station Call at the beginning and end of each call;

b) In order to use an amateur station of which the amateur is not the holder, he/she must transmit the Call of the operated station followed by its own station Call, except in the situations provided for in paragraph 3 e) and 4 d);

c) When using a mobile amateur station, the amateur must transmit the Call followed by the word "mobile" or the characters "/M" and the respective location;

d) When using a portable amateur station, the amateur must transmit the Call followed by the word "portable" or the characters "/P" and the respective location.

13. Where an amateur establishes communications under a CEPT license issued by another Administration, in addition to compliance with the provision in the preceding paragraph, he/she shall also transmit its amateur station Call with the following leading prefixes:

a) "CT7" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the POR geographical area;

b) "CT8" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the AZR geographical area;

c) "CT9" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the MDR geographical area.

14. Where an amateur establishes communications under a CEPT novice license issued by another Administration, in addition to compliance with the provision in paragraph 12, he/she shall also transmit its amateur station Call with the following leading prefixes:

a) "CS7" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the POR geographical area;

b) "CS8" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the AZR geographical area;

c) "CS9" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the MDR geographical area.

15. Where an amateur establishes communications under a valid qualifying document, issued by a country with which Portugal has a reciprocity agreement, in addition to compliance with the provision in paragraph 12, he/she shall also emit its amateur station Call with the following leading prefixes:

a) "CR7" where the operation takes place in an amateur station located in the POR geographical area;

Seriously though, are you gay(?), 'cause that's acceptable these days.
It's just all these homosexual references aren't appropriate even if you are gay. [Chuckles get hot and bothered] Look if you really want someone to touch you I could arrange a date with my brother, he's gay... a bit snippity, but I think you'd get on well,

Partly Dave

There once upon a time was a man who was partly Dave ï¿½ he had a mission in life. ï¿½Iï¿½m partly Daveï¿½ he would growm in the morning which was half the battle. Over breakfast he would again say ï¿½I am partly Daveï¿½ which always unnerved Betty. ï¿½Your in a rut Daveï¿½ a voice would say on his way to work, which turned out to be a coloured conductor! ï¿½Itï¿½s alright for you.ï¿½ Dave used to think, little realising the coloured problem.

Partly Dave was a raving salesman with the gift of the gob, which always unnerved Mary. ï¿½I seem to have forgotten my bus fare, Cobber,ï¿½ said Dave not realising it. ï¿½Gerroff the bus thenï¿½ said Basubooo in a voice that bode not boot, not realising the coloured problem him self really. ï¿½O.K.ï¿½ said partly Dave, humbly not wishing to offend. ï¿½But would you like your daughter to marry one ?ï¿½ a voice seem to say as Dave lept off the bus like a burning spastic.

SB PROP ARL ARLP027
ARLP027 Propagation de K7RA

Average daily sunspot numbers for this week rose from 11.7 to 16, back to the level of two weeks ago. Geomagnetic indices have quieted down, with average mid-latitude A index dropping over five points from the previous week.

Sunspot group 1084 has continued to dominate. It first appeared on June 27, and has continued for 12 days. For June 27 through July 8 the relative size of the sunspot group (in millionths of a solar hemisphere) was 90, 90, 100, 110, 110, 100, 150, 110, 100, 110, 100 and 50.

In addition, there was a single day appearance of sunspot group 1085 on June 29 with a relative size of 10, and group 1086 made a three day appearance with a relative size of 10 on July 5-7.

Just as sunspot group 1084 fades it looks like old group 1082 is making a reappearance. It last was on this side of our Sun on June 17-25, and it is now visible over the eastern limb.

The latest NOAA/USAF forecast shows a rising solar flux for July 9-15 of 76, 78, 78, 78, 80, 80 and 78, accompanied by low planetary A index for the same period of 6, 5, 5, 5, 8, 12 and 8.

Geophysical Institute Prague predicts quiet to unsettled conditions July 9-10, quiet July 11-12, and unsettled July 13-15.

Jeff Hartley, N8II of Shepherdstown, West Virginia reports that on Friday, July 2 around 2300z six meters was open to 9Y4VU (Trinidad and Tobago), CO8LY (Cuba), FG5FR (Guadeloupe) and a TI5 (Costa Rica) station.

Jeff also sent an update for the weekend: "I spent a lot of time on the radio over the holiday weekend. Conditions were spectacular for multi-hop sporadic E at times. The evening of the 2nd your area in

NW WA was in the bull's eye for double hop Es on 6M. Signals from the Seattle area were actually over S9 from several stations, but no VE7's heard. Also southern CA and AZ were in for long stretches. A few stations were worked scattered around the Rockies in NV, UT, ID as well as NM. 5 new grids were worked, all double hop except for K7RE in SD.

Saturday morning July 3rd, I was awake early and found a couple of EU on 15M, so tried a CQ on 28400 SSB and was immediately answered by DO6AN at 1149Z. Between then and 1254Z, I worked in order of first QSO with country 8 - DL's, 2 LZ including LZ2JR/qrp, 9 G, 5B4AIX, 3 ON, 3 PA, 6 I, 15 F, 2 EA, 2 GW, EI.

I was tuning 6M off and on during my run on 10 to no avail and finally found F6KHM calling CQ, then worked GJ4FDM first call for a new country, and ON4GG. By the time breakfast was over 20 minutes later both 6 and 10M were closed to EU. 6M was open to W0, and W5, and sometimes FL most of day until 21Z.

On Monday the 5th, I heard a beacon from EU as well as several from Seattle and VE7 very loud at 6 AM PDT on 10M. I called a couple of CQ's towards EU with no luck, tuned and found a loud F8KHF running a big station then CQ'ed again on 28455. Between 1305-1404Z and again 1450-1515Z (band never closed in between), the following were worked in order of first QSO with country: 11 F's, 17 G, 11 I, 5 DL, GM, 4O3A, OM3LZ, RA6XV at 1332Z, RZ6AW, GU4LJC, 5 PA, 2 EA, RV1AC, LZ4OC, YO2MIL, OK2AOP, 3 SP, 3 GW, SV2NCG, ON5EH, MI0TFK, MD0MDI. The band was still open well to G when I QRT'd.

Quite a few new ops missed an opportunity to work new countries on 10M; the USA activity was surprisingly low. Be alert for beacons and don't be afraid to call CQ. I also heard the EA4Q beacon Sunday afternoon, but couldn't raise anyone on CQ's".

Rod Vorndam, K9ROD of Rye, Colorado lives at 7,000 feet elevation in a rare grid square. He writes, "Seems like there is a lot more 6 meter activity during the day this year. When I worked 6 meters 3 to 4 years ago, most of the activity was in the evening hours. I loved working a pile up on July 1 in the evening hours (54 contacts in 1 1/2 hours). I live in DM77 which is 40 on the rare list (Many thanks to the people that did the Fish Memorial Study to determine grid square rarity). I can't image not living in a rare grid square. Looking forward to 6 meters getting even better."

I believe the Fish Memorial Study refers to Fred Fish, and a report on rare grid squares is at http://www.arrl.org/files/file/FFMA/FFMA_Survey_2007.pdf.

Peter Laws, N5UWY of Norman, Oklahoma wrote about odd, short path propagation during Field Day on 10 and 15 meters. "From N5UWY, I worked K5PXP on 10 meters, 375 km (233 miles) to my east. More surprisingly, to me at least, I worked W5MRC on 15 meters, a mere 226 km (140 miles) to my south. A few minutes later, a few kHz up, I worked N3IC at 1869 km (1161 miles). All contacts were all around 0330 UTC on June 27. I don't think I've ever made a contact that short (375 km) on 15, save for a few contacts in my own county".

John Tudenham, W0JRP of Joplin, Missouri mentioned more short skip on 15 meters during Field Day. He wrote, "You didn't mention about the good E skip on 15 meters on field day. I worked mostly 15 meter CW from Joplin MO ARC field day station W0IN made over 60 contacts on CW on 15 and about 20 on 15SSB from here in SW Missouri, E skip was as close as IL, KY, TN and NTX. Good signals, also worked on F2 two stations in Hawaii and one Virgin Islands, running 100 watts to a homebrew ground mounted vertical, also a few contacts on 10 and 6 loading 15 meter antenna".

Also from Missouri, Kent Doucey, N0IRM of Galena, Missouri reports "I wanted to drop you a line about the nice band openings here in Southwest Missouri on July 4. Early in the day, around 1300z to 1400z great contacts were made on 20 meters to South Korean stations DS5FNE, HL5NLQ, and HL4CBX with solid 57 signals. Also a nice contact with V85RY from Brunei was made at the same time with a fair 54 signal. Signals seemed to be solid with little fade on a very quiet band. It was nice to see these stations since the conditions have been poor for the past bit.

Then on the afternoon of July 4th at around 2100z to 2200z contacts were made with HA4FF, 4O3A, IK4GRO, CT1DVV, and F5BZB on 10 meters. Signals ranged from 53 to 57 with QSB into Southwest Missouri, but were all workable. It was nice to see 10 meters open to Europe again".

Terry Anderson died of cancer this week. Terry lived in South Central Los Angeles, a community that changed rapidly as wave after wave of illegal immigrants moved in. Most blacks simply moved away, but not Terry. A big man, Terry was well known for his classic overalls and booming voice – a voice that became more and more articulate as he spoke out against illegal immigration. He was a working-class black who refused to remain silent, as his community was being ripped apart. Leftists feared him as they do all who speak the truth about illegal immigration, but even more so because he was black.

In London last week, I had dinner with an old friend, Ambrose Evans-Pritchard, one of the world's most well-known journalists who currently writes the financial news column for the Daily Telegraph.

A few days later (7/04), Ambrose unloaded a column that made a headline on Drudge, that the US is headed for a repeat of the 1932 Great Depression.

http://www.telegraph.co.uk/finance/comment/ambroseevans_pritchard/7871421/With-the-US-trapped-in-depression-this-really-is-starting-to-feel-like-1932.html

Here's the question to make sense of this: Did the Great Depression result in an expansion of economic freedom or an expansion of government control?

It's a rhetorical question, of course. The Great Depression ushered in a sea-change shift away from individual liberty to massive unconstitutional government interference in American lives. It also launched the Democrats' monopoly control of political power in Congress, most specifically in the House where all the money is initially spent, that lasted sixty-two years, from 1932 to 1994.

We are now on the verge of a Second Great Depression. As the apparatchiks in the Kremlin of the Soviet Union would say when confronted with a curious convergence of events, "This is no accident, Comrades."

Dechucka, don't you realize that you are talking to Scott Koplin? He is the voice behind Nurk_fred2000. Why do you think "Nurk" hates Kramer so much. He's been the voice behind 'Nurk-fred2000' all along, and was the one who began calling Kramer 'pinkie.' Where do you think he got that from, eh?

And you, Nurkwipe, YOU were the ORIGINAL "Pinkie." So named because of the photo Kramer posted of you in your pink ballerina tutu. He used the face from this photo http://img694.imageshack.us/i/scottgun.jpg/ and pasted it on to a photo of some lovely ballet dancers wearing pink costumes. I'm sure you remember it. After all, it's in the archives too. I'll have to see if I can dig it out for you.

Well, yes...it's so fishy, it smells out loud.

Why are -any- of the four that we got in the "trade" even still alive???
Most everyone else that Richard Hanssen ratted out are D-E-A-D, for example Valerie Motorin (sp?), a Russian spying for us that the Russians put against the wall and shot. One of the four we got, a Russian colonel, said on the radio tonight that he was accused of treason! -- which is indeed what he committed -- and yet he is still here to talk about it.

So:

a) the Russians did not execute the colonel for treason. Why not?

b) the Russians are letting a fairly high ranking Russian officer move to America! Why?

What is wrong with those two pictures???

Cuhu, your nose knows! Something -does- stink to high heaven!!!

What about this anniversary Bob?

http://img149.imageshack.us/img149/1969/johnson1z.jpg

Nice pic of YOU at YOUR ARREST! I notice you don't look quite so "cheesy" in this pic!!

Let me see, what do we have. Well, there's Bob Johnson under arrest by two of Thailand's finest. We have one of the policeman saying "no pictures", another holding the arrest warrants and Bob caught so unawares he's managed to piss his pants! Must have been a scary experience Bob! What were you being arrested for? It wouldn't be because of your close association with David Leonard Arthur, the notorious paedophile, would it?

http://img8.imageshack.us/f/johnsondw.jpg/

This is a picture of a successful business owner in Chiang Mai, Thailand?? I don't think so. Your cover's been blown Bob! Now tell us what your "business" was a front for? Certainly it looks like yoghurt and pickles weren't the "main game" in town! I guess that explains the high fence around your house, the barbed wire, the security cameras. A "normal business" wouldn't need all that, even in Thailand!
Maybe, just maybe, all the security measures around your home weren't to keep people "out" but to keep them "in", locked up as it were! let's do some extrapolation here. David Leonard Arthur was last seen in the company of 3 underaged Burmese boys. Was Bob Johnson's home a "prison" for such victims of sex crimes? Was Bob Johnson's "successful" business a "front" for illegal activities with children? After all, how successful could a business manufacturing yoghurt and pickles be in a place like Thailand where the product does not figure in the diet of Thais and the expat community is way too small to warrant such a manufacturing operation! In fact, Thais, like most Asians, tend towards a lactose intolerance. Did Bob Johnson close the business down voluntarily or did the police close it down after his arrest as pictured???

Given the above, this pic (link below) looks more like Steve Kramer being called to the police station to "give a statement" about the activities of Bob Johnson.

http://www.flickr.com/photos/28097437@N05/3144643501/in/photostream/

Certainly Kramer does not appear to be under duress. I don't notice any handcuffs and, unlike Bob Johnson, he hasn't pissed his pants.

I suppose one would wonder why the trolls are so desperate to spread so much misinformation on usenet. Well, if one of them is running a nefarious business with involvement in paedophilia, I'm not surprised there would be "distractions" to the main game being tossed around.

Of course, there is the question of why the pickle and yoghurt business would need a fleet of trucks given the size of the target market, a few shops and supermarkets around Chiang Mai. Did you have a fleet Box bodied Vans Bob? Your deliveries and pick ups would have been ably catered for by a simple "pickup", a Thai term for a standard utility vehicle of around 1 ton capacity.
So, why the fleet of trucks? Were you making clandestine trips to the Burmese border to pick up a different cargo, a cargo that your friend, David Leonard Arthur, might be more interested in? Seems quite logical to me.

Then there's the fact that Nurk Fred (aka Scott Koplin) always rushes to your defence. Why is that Bob? Would his skills in making machine guns with silencers be useful to you? I think they would if you were involved in clandestine smuggling operations. I always figured that Scott's gun making skills wouldn't be appreciated in the US. I'm sure that the FBI wouldn't appreciate his manufacture of machine guns with silencers as they have enough trouble with gun toting clowns already. It therefore makes sense that Scott's guns are intended to be sent overseas. I wouldn't mind betting that, when broken down into components, it wouldn't be too difficult to disguise the fact that the parts are for a gun, especially when shipped with multiple assorted non-related machine components. I'm sure such weaponry would come in quite useful for intimidating "human" cargoes. Since smuggling operations are, by definition, clandestine, a silencer would come in extremely handy. Quite machine guns attract far less attention!

Another interesting point of note is that Scott's pic of him holding his home made machine gun was taken down from the rec.scuba archives a day or so AFTER the link to it was posted in the newsgroups. Surely it must be seen as entirely coincidental that the FBI are in the process of questioning rec.scuba posters at this time! Wouldn't be a link to Scott and his home made gun? Nah! Surely not! Does Scott have access to and/or control over the rec.scuba archives? Does he have links to the people in charge of the rec.scuba archives? Every interesting little detail begats more intriguing questions!

Say Hey Stevie:

Do you recall the pun I made regarding you and the former U.S. Consulate (Chiang Mai) Eric J Rubin sharing a pickled pigs foot and a bottle of beer together? You posted the email to the consulate who replied, "That Made My Day" ROTFFLMFAO. Stevie can't win for losing. Always the guy who gets the flat wheel trolley at the supermarket. Always the poor soul that claims to always be there, done it, but never manages to get the t-shirt. Always the poor soul who claims the title ofl, "Boot Mouth".

Stevie I never sold any business in Thailand. Simply because I never owned any business. No one accepts your brand of bullshit. And neither did the police at the station house on January 8, 2004. Whereas you were under arrest for sending abusive faxes from Hillside Condo in Chiang Mai to the Pickle King business. You played and you paid the price. I had to sign a police report enabling your release. Bet'cha you had a change of underwear that day. Such a pity your photography business went belly up in the, "very small town of Chiang Mai". As you continue to leach off of your wife's rental property in Osaka, Japan. I take this opportunity to say, "rots 'o ruck buddy". LMAO!

182 days to go for your 7th year anniversary arrest at the Changpuak police station in Chiang Mai, Thailand. January 8, 2004. A day that shall live in infamy.

I love it... Robert Johnson so drunk he doesn't even have bladder control!

I wonder if Johnson is now helping the terrorists in Thailand? How about it, Robert? Supplying illegal arms to the Southern Muslims?

I think they would if you were involved

Would that be these guns? http://img694.imageshack.us/i/scottgun.jpg/

Not even 24 hours after. Gone... just as if someone from rec.scuba asked the archive keeper to remove it. But hey, don't worry. We've got copies... as do half a dozen different servers all over the world now.
Just because the scuba archive keeper removed it from HIS directory, it certainly wasn't removed from his SERVER'S directory nor is ISP's archives. Scott's doofus face proudly holding his home-made machine gun complete with silencer will live on forever!

Here goes Scott Koplin threatening people yet again. Haven't you learned your lesson by now? I've seen in the Google archives where you threatened Kramer, and he took you up on it and boosted the ante so you punked out. You threatened to 'kick his ass.' He offered to meet you with steel. You punked out like a chicken shit coward. It's all there in the archives, Scott. Along with the wonderful photos...

Scott, if you're going to cross-post, at least have the decency to let your friends (opps... friend) see it.
According to Google, Scott, only you four showed up. Once each. Must have been a hell of a bonzer. Between the four of you, you couldn't pull off a wet dream. You're a dribbler, Scott, not a shooter.

Scott, if you learn to read, you can see that David said that he was going to call neighbors around the addresses for K.Michael Young. He never said he was going to call the trolls. It must be difficult to feed yourself when you are this stupid. But by all means, keep holding your breath. At least it might clean out a gene pool a bit.

Hey Zen Boy:

Same old Kramer.. maybe posting under a different alias but the same bullshit and cowardly lies.

Keyboard Warrior Kramer, the most Kombat experience he's seen is fighting on the internet behind sock puppets.

What about those Vietnam credentials then Steve? Has "David" managed to find any PROOF of these yet in his research?

"Though it is hard to prove, the CoreLogic data suggest that many of the well-to-do are purposely dumping their financially draining properties, just as they would any sour investment.

"'The rich are different: they are more ruthless,' said Sam Khater, CoreLogic’s senior economist.

He's read Fitzgerald, obviously.

And Marx.

No wonder he writes for the NYT.

The "rich" aren't different. Deconstructing Fitzgerald doesn't even require any real effort. Fitzgerald was rich.

Besides, most of the people you know whom you consider to be "rich," would be astonished that you'd consider them rich.

"No, I'm certainly not rich. I do okay, sure; maybe I'm what you'd call 'affluent' or 'well off,' but I'm not /rich/."

I bet if you compared what you make and how you live to what David Streitfeld (the author of the New York Times article you linked to) makes, and how he lives--well, I'd bet you'd think he was "rich," too.

You see, "rich" is only relative. And my misfortune was that none of mine have any money.

:-(

The fact remains, if you buy a million dollar property, and suddenly you find it's only worth $700,000 and and the price is declining rapidly, you're gonna have to find a way to get rid of it.

Fast.

If you bought it as an investment property, and you borrowed the capital in the first place, you'll just walk away from it.

You don't live there, so what's the big deal?

Well, if you default on a million dollar loan, you're pretty much done being an investor for the next 10 years...and beyond.

Which is why the market works.

Markets correct.

Stop trying to fool them--stop trying to pass laws against corrections; stop manipulating the markets. You ain't smart enough.

* His deportation from Thailand for associating with known felons like David Leonard Arthur has hit him hard.

What other ways can a mediocre snapper make a dollar once his primary customer has also been deported.

Might be 1/2 a mile from the gate but it's quite a few thousand miles from here to your gate. You see, I am in "Australia". You are in the USA. Lots of water between us. I see no reason to make the crossing quite frankly!

Sounds like a threat to me Scott! Your feds will like to read that!
It's OK, I sent your pic with the "toy" gun! That's just in case they can't find it. ;-)

Nope, my ID is mine alone and Kramer doesn't post here any more! Just you trolls and your numerous sock puppets. How many is it now? 20? 30?
Can you keep track of them all. Oh, that's right, every now and then you slip up and sign with a wrong name so I guess you really can't keep up with them all!

You should do as I do and just have one or two! Life is so much easier then!

Yeah, in fact of the business,,, back in the 1960's - 1970's, U.S.Navy experimented with some 'silent' Shotgun shells.I once read about them wayyyyyy back then.No add on sound suppressors was needed.

One time, when I was doing night Guard Duty at the ammo dump where I worked a few miles North of the Tan Son Nhut North Gate, I was issued a U.S.Navy Shotgun.

The Trillion-Dollar Bank Shakedown That Bodes Ill for Cities

The Community Reinvestment Act funnels billions to left-wing activists, while threatening to destabilize lower-middle-class neighborhoods.

Winter 2000

The Clinton administration has turned the Community Reinvestment Act, a once-obscure and lightly enforced banking regulation law, into one of the most powerful mandates shaping American cities—and, as Senate Banking Committee chairman Phil Gramm memorably put it, a vast extortion scheme against the nation's banks. Under its provisions,

U.S. banks have committed nearly $1 trillion for inner-city and low-income mortgages and real estate development projects, most of it funneled through a nationwide network of left-wing community groups, intent, in some cases, on teaching their low-income clients that the financial system is their enemy and, implicitly, that government, rather than their own striving, is the key to their well-being.

The CRA's premise sounds unassailable: helping the poor buy and keep homes will stabilize and rebuild city neighborhoods. As enforced today, though, the law portends just the opposite, threatening to undermine the efforts of the upwardly mobile poor by saddling them with neighbors more than usually likely to depress property values by not maintaining their homes adequately or by losing them to foreclosure. The CRA's logic also helps to ensure that inner-city neighborhoods stay poor by discouraging the kinds of investment that might make them better off.

The Act, which Jimmy Carter signed in 1977, grew out of the complaint that urban banks were "redlining" inner-city neighborhoods, refusing to lend to their residents while using their deposits to finance suburban expansion. CRA decreed that banks have "an affirmative obligation" to meet the credit needs of the communities in which they are chartered, and that federal banking regulators should assess how well they do that when considering their requests to merge or to open branches. Implicit in the bill's rationale was a belief that CRA was needed to counter racial discrimination in lending, an assumption that later seemed to gain support from a widely publicized 1990 Federal Reserve Bank of Boston finding that blacks and Hispanics suffered higher mortgage-denial rates than whites, even at similar income levels.

In addition, the Act's backers claimed, CRA would be profitable for banks. They just needed a push from the law to learn how to identify profitable inner-city lending opportunities. Going one step further, the Treasury Department recently asserted that banks that do figure out ways to reach inner-city borrowers might not be able to stop competitors from using similar methods—and therefore would not undertake such marketing in the first place without a push from Washington.

None of these justifications holds up, however, because of the changes that reshaped America's banking industry in the 1990s. Banking in the 1970s, when CRA was passed, was a highly regulated industry in which small, local savings banks, rather than commercial banks, provided most home mortgages. Regulation prohibited savings banks from branching across state lines and sometimes even limited branching within states, inhibiting competition, the most powerful defense against discrimination. With such regulatory protection, savings banks could make a comfortable profit without doing the hard work of finding out which inner-city neighborhoods and borrowers were good risks and which were not. Savings banks also had reason to worry that if they charged inner-city borrowers a higher rate of interest to balance the additional risk of such lending, they might jeopardize the protection from competition they enjoyed. Thanks to these artificially created conditions, some redlining of creditworthy borrowers doubtless occurred.

The insular world of the savings banks collapsed in the early nineties, however, the moment it was exposed to competition. Banking today is a far more wide-open industry, with banks offering mortgages through the Internet, where they compete hotly with aggressive online mortgage companies. Standardized, computer-based scoring systems now rate the creditworthiness of applicants, and the giant, government-chartered Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have helped create huge pools of credit by purchasing mortgage loans and packaging large numbers of them together into securities for sale to bond buyers. With such intense competition for profits and so much money available to lend, it's hard to imagine that banks couldn't instantly figure out how to market to minorities or would resist such efforts for fear of inspiring imitators. Nor has the race discrimination argument for CRA held up. A September 1999 study by Freddie Mac, for instance, confirmed what previous Federal Reserve and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation studies had found: that African-Americans have disproportionate levels of credit problems, which explains why they have a harder time qualifying for mortgage money. As Freddie Mac found, blacks with incomes of $65,000 to $75,000 a year have on average worse credit records than whites making under $25,000.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas had it right when it said—in a paper pointedly entitled "Red Lining or Red Herring?"—"the CRA may not be needed in today's financial environment to ensure all segments of our economy enjoy access to credit." True, some households—those with a history of credit problems, for instance, or those buying homes in neighborhoods where re-selling them might be difficult—may not qualify for loans at all, and some may have to pay higher interest rates, in reflection of higher risk. But higher rates in such situations are balanced by lower house prices. This is not a conspiracy against the poor; it's how markets measure risk and work to make credit available.

Nevertheless, until recently, the CRA didn't matter all that much. During the seventies and eighties, CRA enforcement was perfunctory. Regulators asked banks to demonstrate that they were trying to reach their entire "assessment area" by advertising in minority-oriented newspapers or by sending their executives to serve on the boards of local community groups. The Clinton administration changed this state of affairs dramatically. Ignoring the sweeping transformation of the banking industry since the CRA was passed, the Clinton Treasury Department's 1995 regulations made getting a satisfactory CRA rating much harder. The new regulations de-emphasized subjective assessment measures in favor of strictly numerical ones. Bank examiners would use federal home-loan data, broken down by neighborhood, income group, and race, to rate banks on performance. There would be no more A's for effort. Only results—specific loans, specific levels of service—would count. Where and to whom have home loans been made? Have banks invested in all neighborhoods within their assessment area? Do they operate branches in those neighborhoods?

Crucially, the new CRA regulations also instructed bank examiners to take into account how well banks responded to complaints. The old CRA evaluation process had allowed advocacy groups a chance to express their views on individual banks, and publicly available data on the lending patterns of individual banks allowed activist groups to target institutions considered vulnerable to protest. But for advocacy groups that were in the complaint business, the Clinton administration regulations offered a formal invitation. The National Community Reinvestment Coalition—a foundation-funded umbrella group for community activist groups that profit from the CRA—issued a clarion call to its members in a leaflet entitled "The New CRA Regulations: How Community Groups Can Get Involved." "Timely comments," the NCRC observed with a certain understatement, "can have a strong influence on a bank's CRA rating."

The Clinton administration's get-tough regulatory regime mattered so crucially because bank deregulation had set off a wave of mega-mergers, including the acquisition of the Bank of America by NationsBank, BankBoston by Fleet Financial, and Bankers Trust by Deutsche Bank. Regulatory approval of such mergers depended, in part, on positive CRA ratings. "To avoid the possibility of a denied or delayed application," advises the NCRC in its deadpan tone, "lending institutions have an incentive to make formal agreements with community organizations." By intervening—even just threatening to intervene—in the CRA review process, left-wing nonprofit groups have been able to gain control over eye-popping pools of bank capital, which they in turn parcel out to individual low-income mortgage seekers. A radical group called ACORN Housing has a $760 million commitment from the Bank of New York; the Boston-based Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America has a $3-billion agreement with the Bank of America; a coalition of groups headed by New Jersey Citizen Action has a five-year, $13-billion agreement with First Union Corporation. Similar deals operate in almost every major U.S. city. Observes Tom Callahan, executive director of the Massachusetts Affordable Housing Alliance, which has $220 million in bank mortgage money to parcel out, "CRA is the backbone of everything we do."

In addition to providing the nonprofits with mortgage money to disburse, CRA allows those organizations to collect a fee from the banks for their services in marketing the loans. The Senate Banking Committee has estimated that, as a result of CRA, $9.5 billion so far has gone to pay for services and salaries of the nonprofit groups involved. To deal with such groups and to produce CRA compliance data for regulators, banks routinely establish separate CRA departments. A CRA consultant industry has sprung up to assist them. New financial-services firms offer to help banks that think they have a CRA problem make quick "investments" in packaged portfolios of CRA loans to get into compliance.

The result of all this activity, argues the CEO of one midsize bank, is that "banks are promising to make loans they would have made anyway, with some extra aggressiveness on risky mortgages thrown in." Many bankers—and even some CRA advocates—share his view. As one Fed economist puts it, the assertion that CRA was needed to force banks to see profitable lending opportunities is "like saying you need the rooster to tell the sun to come up. It was going to happen anyway." And indeed, a survey of the lending policies of Chicago-area mortgage companies by a CRA-connected community group, the Woodstock Institute, found "a tendency to lend in a wide variety of neighborhoods"—even though the CRA doesn't apply to such lenders.

If loans that win banks good CRA ratings were going to be made anyway, and if most of those loans are profitable, should CRA, even if redundant, bother anyone? Yes: because the CRA funnels billions of investment dollars through groups that understand protest and political advocacy but not marketing or finance. This amateur delivery system for investment capital already shows signs that it may be going about its business unwisely. And a quiet change in CRA's mission—so that it no longer directs credit only to specific places, as Congress mandated, but also to low- and moderate-income home buyers, wherever they buy their property—greatly extends the area where these groups can cause damage.

There is no more important player in the CRA-inspired mortgage industry than the Boston-based Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America. Chief executive Bruce Marks has set out to become the Wal-Mart of home mortgages for lower-income households. Using churches and radio advertising to reach borrowers, he has made NACA a brand name nationwide, with offices in 21 states, and he plans to double that number within a year. With "delegated underwriting authority" from the banks, NACA itself—not the banks—determines whether a mortgage applicant is qualified, and it closes sales right in its own offices. It expects to close 5,000 mortgages next year, earning a $2,000 origination fee on each. Its annual budget exceeds $10 million.

Marks, a Scarsdale native, NYU MBA, and former Federal Reserve employee, unabashedly calls himself a "bank terrorist"—his public relations spokesman laughingly refers to him as "the shark, the predator," and the NACA newspaper is named the Avenger. They're not kidding: bankers so fear the tactically brilliant Marks for his ability to disrupt annual meetings and even target bank executives' homes that they often call him to make deals before they announce any plans that will put them in CRA's crosshairs. A $3 billion loan commitment by Nationsbank, for instance, well in advance of its announced merger with Bank of America, "was a preventive strike," says one NACA spokesman.

Marks is unhesitatingly candid about his intent to use NACA to promote an activist, left-wing political agenda. NACA loan applicants must attend a workshop that celebrates—to the accompaniment of gospel music—the protests that have helped the group win its bank lending agreements. If applicants do buy a home through NACA, they must pledge to assist the organization in five "actions" annually—anything from making phone calls to full-scale "mobilizations" against target banks, "mau-mauing" them, as sixties' radicals used to call it. "NACA believes in aggressive grassroots advocacy," says its Homebuyer's Workbook.

The NACA policy agenda embraces the whole universe of financial institutions. It advocates tough federal usury laws, restrictions on the information that banks can provide to credit-rating services, financial sanctions against banks with poor CRA ratings even if they're not about to merge or branch, and the extension of CRA requirements to insurance companies and other financial institutions. But Marks's political agenda reaches far beyond finance. He wants, he says, to do whatever he can to ensure that "working people have good jobs at good wages." The home mortgage business is his tool for political organizing: the Homebuyer's Workbook contains a voter registration application and states that "NACA's mission of neighborhood stabilization is based on participation in the political process. To participate you must register to vote." Marks plans to install a high-capacity phone system that can forward hundreds of calls to congressional offices—"or Phil Gramm's house"—to buttress NACA campaigns. The combination of an army of "volunteers" and a voter registration drive portends (though there is no evidence of this so far) that someday CRA-related funds and Marks's troop of CRA borrowers might end up fueling a host of Democratic candidacies. During the Reagan years, the Right used to talk of cutting off the flow of federal funds to left-liberal groups, a goal called "defunding the Left"; through the CRA, the Clinton administration has found a highly effective way of doing exactly the opposite, funneling millions to NACA or to outfits like ACORN, which advocates a nationalized health-care system, "people before profits at the utilities," and a tax code based "solely on the ability to pay."

Whatever his long-term political goals, Marks may well reshape urban and suburban neighborhoods because of the terms on which NACA qualifies prospective home buyers. While most CRA-supported borrowers would doubtless find loans in today's competitive mortgage industry, a small percentage would not, and NACA welcomes such buyers with open arms. "Our job," says Marks, "is to push the envelope." Accordingly, he gladly lends to people with less than $3,000 in savings, or with checkered credit histories or significant debt. Many of his borrowers are single-parent heads of household. Such borrowers are, Marks believes, fundamentally oppressed and at permanent disadvantage, and therefore society must adjust its rules for them. Hence, NACA's most crucial policy decision: it requires no down payments whatsoever from its borrowers. A down-payment requirement, based on concern as to whether a borrower can make payments, is—when applied to low-income minority buyers—"patronizing and almost racist," Marks says.

This policy—"America's best mortgage program for working people," NACA calls it—is an experiment with extraordinarily high risks. There is no surer way to destabilize a neighborhood than for its new generation of home buyers to lack the means to pay their mortgages—which is likely to be the case for a significant percentage of those granted a no-down-payment mortgage based on their low-income classification rather than their good credit history. Even if such buyers do not lose their homes, they are a group more likely to defer maintenance on their properties, creating the problems that lead to streets going bad and neighborhoods going downhill. Stable or increasing property values grow out of the efforts of many; one unpainted house, one sagging porch, one abandoned property is a threat to the work of dozens, because such signs of neglect discourage prospective buyers.

A no-down-payment policy reflects a belief that poor families should qualify for home ownership because they are poor, in contrast to the reality that some poor families are prepared to make the sacrifices necessary to own property, and some are not. Keeping their distance from those unable to save money is a crucial means by which upwardly mobile, self-sacrificing people establish and maintain the value of the homes they buy. If we empower those with bad habits, or those who have made bad decisions, to follow those with good habits to better neighborhoods—thanks to CRA's new emphasis on lending to low-income borrowers no matter where they buy their homes—those neighborhoods will not remain better for long.

Because many of the activists' big-money deals with the banks are so new, no one knows for sure exactly which neighborhoods the community groups are flooding with CRA-related mortgages and what effect they are having on those neighborhoods. But some suggestive early returns are available from Massachusetts, where CRA-related advocacy has flourished for more than a decade. A study for a consortium of banks and community groups found that during the 1990s home purchases financed by nonprofit lenders have overwhelmingly not been in the inner-city areas where redlining had been suspected. Instead, 41 percent of all the loans went to the lower-middle-class neighborhoods of Hyde Park, Roslindale, and Dorchester Center/Codman Square—Boston's equivalent of New York's borough of Queens—and additional loans went to borrowers moving to the suburbs. In other words, CRA lending appears to be helping borrowers move out of inner-city neighborhoods into better-off areas. Similarly, not-yet-published data from the state-funded Massachusetts Housing Partnership show that many new Dorchester Center, Roslindale, and Hyde Park home buyers came from much poorer parts of the city, such as the Roxbury ghetto. Florence Higgins, a home-ownership counsellor for the Massachusetts Affordable Housing Alliance, confirms the trend, noting that many buyers she counsels lived in subsidized rental apartments prior to buying their homes.

This CRA-facilitated migration makes the mortgage terms of groups like NACA particularly troubling. In a September 1999 story, the Wall Street Journal reported, based on a review of court documents by Boston real estate analyst John Anderson, that the Fleet Bank initiated foreclosure proceedings against 4 percent of loans made for Fleet by NACA in 1994 and 1995—a rate four times the industry average. Overextended buyers don't always get much help from their nonprofit intermediaries, either: Boston radio station WBUR reported in July that home buyers in danger of losing their homes had trouble getting their phone calls returned by the ACORN Housing group.

NACA frankly admits that it is willing to run these risks. It emphasizes the virtues of the counselling programs it offers (like all CRA groups) to prepare its typical buyer—"a hotel worker with an income of $25K and probably some past credit problems," says a NACA spokesman—and it operates what it calls a "neighborhood stabilization fund" on which buyers who fall behind on payments can draw. But Bruce Marks says that he would consider a low foreclosure rate to be a problem. "If we had a foreclosure rate of 1 percent, that would just prove we were skimming," he says. Accordingly, in mid-1999, 8.2 percent of the mortgages NACA had arranged with the Fleet Bank were delinquent, compared with the national average of 1.9 percent. "Considering our clientele," Marks asserts, "nine out of ten would have to be considered a success."

The no-down-payment policy has sparked so sharp a division within the CRA industry that the National Community Reinvestment Coalition has expelled Bruce Marks and NACA from its ranks over it. The precipitating incident: when James Johnson, then CEO of Fannie Mae, made a speech to NCRC members on the importance of down payments to keep mortgage-backed securities easily salable, NACA troops, in keeping with the group's style of personalizing disputes, distributed pictures of Johnson, captioned: "I make $6 million a year, and I can afford a down payment. Why can't you?" Says Josh Silver, research director of NCRC: "There is no quicker way to undermine CRA than through bad loans." NCRC represents hundreds of smallish community groups, many of which do insist on down payments—and many of which make loans in the same neighborhoods as NACA and understand the risk its philosophy poses. Still, whenever NACA opens a new branch office, it will be difficult for the nonprofits already operating in that area to avoid matching its come-one, come-all terms.

Even without a no-down-payment policy, the pressure on banks to make CRA-related loans may be leading to foreclosures. Though bankers generally cheerlead for CRA out of fear of being branded racists if they do not, the CEO of one midsize bank grumbles that 20 percent of his institution's CRA-related mortgages, which required only $500 down payments, were delinquent in their very first year, and probably 7 percent will end in foreclosure. "The problem with CRA," says an executive with a major national financial-services firm, "is that banks will simply throw money at things because they want that CRA rating." From the banks' point of view, CRA lending is simply a price of doing business—even if some of the mortgages must be written off. The growth in very large banks—ones most likely to sign major CRA agreements—also means that those advancing the funds for CRA loans are less likely to have to worry about the effects of those loans going bad: such loans will be a small portion of their lending portfolios.

Looking into the future gives further cause for concern: "The bulk of these loans," notes a Federal Reserve economist, "have been made during a period in which we have not experienced an economic downturn." The Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America's own success stories make you wonder how much CRA-related carnage will result when the economy cools. The group likes to promote, for instance, the story of Renea Swain-Price, grateful for NACA's negotiating on her behalf with Fleet Bank to prevent foreclosure when she fell behind on a $1,400 monthly mortgage payment on her three-family house in Dorchester. Yet NACA had no qualms about arranging the $137,500 mortgage in the first place, notwithstanding the fact that Swain-Price's husband was in prison, that she'd had previous credit problems, and that the monthly mortgage payment constituted more than half her monthly salary. The fact that NACA has arranged an agreement to forestall foreclosure does not inspire confidence that she will have the resources required to maintain her aging frame house: her new monthly payment, in recognition of previously missed payments, is $1,879.

Even if all the CRA-related loans marketed by nonprofits were to turn out fine, the CRA system is still troubling. Like affirmative action, it robs the creditworthy of the certain knowledge that they have qualified by dint of their own effort for a first home mortgage, a milestone in any family's life. At the same time, it sends the message that this most important milestone has been provided through the beneficence of government, devaluing individual accomplishment. Perhaps the Clinton White House sees this as a costless way to use the banking system to create a new crop of passionate Democratic loyalists, convinced that CRA has delivered them from an uncaring Mammon—when, in all likelihood, banks would have been eager to have most of them as customers, regulation or no.

CRA also serves to enforce misguided views about how cities should develop, or redevelop. Consider the "investment" criterion—the loans to commercial borrowers rather than individual home buyers—that constitutes 25 percent of the record on which banks are judged in their compliance review. The Comptroller of the Currency's office makes clear that it is not interested in just any sort of investment in so-called underserved neighborhoods. Investment in a new apartment building or shopping center might not count, if it would help change a poor neighborhood into a more prosperous one, or if it is not directly aimed at serving those of low income. Regulators want banks to invest in housing developments built through nonprofit community development corporations. Banks not only receive CRA credit for such "investment"—which they can make anywhere in the country, not just in their backyard —but they also receive corporate tax credits for it, through the Low Income Housing Tax Credit. Banks have little incentive to make sure such projects are well managed, since they get their tax credits and CRA credits up front.

This investment policy misunderstands what is good for cities and for the poor. Cities that are alive are cities in flux, with neighborhoods rising and falling, as tastes and economies change. This ceaseless flux is a process, as Jane Jacobs brilliantly described it in The Economy of Cities, that fuels investment, creates jobs, and sparks innovative adaptation of older buildings to new purposes. Those of modest means benefit both from the new jobs and from being able to rent or purchase homes in once-expensive neighborhoods that take on new roles. The idea that it is necessary to flash-freeze certain neighborhoods and set them aside for the poor threatens to disrupt urban vitality and the renewal that comes from the individual plans and efforts of a city's people.

But keeping these neighborhoods forever poor is the CRA vision. CRA will help virtually any lower-income family that can come close to affording a mortgage payment to purchase a home, often in a non-poor neighborhood. Thanks to CRA-driven bank investment, poor neighborhoods would then fill up with subsidized rental complexes, presumably for those poor families who can't earn enough even to get a subsidized, easy credit mortgage. The effects of all this could be to undermine lower-middle-class neighborhoods by introducing families not prepared for home ownership into them and to leave behind poor neighborhoods in which low-income apartments, filled with the worst-off and least competent, stand alone—hardly a recipe for renewal.

It will take a Republican president to change or abolish CRA, so firmly wedded to it is the Clinton administration and so powerfully does it serve Democratic Party interests. When Senator Gramm attacked the CRA for its role in funding advocacy groups and for the burden it imposes on banks, the Clinton administration fought back furiously, willing to let the crucial Financial Services Modernization Act, to which Gramm had attached his CRA changes, die, unless Gramm dropped demands that, for instance, CRA reviews become less frequent. In the end, Gramm, despite his key position as the chairman of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs (even the committee's name reflects a CRA consciousness) and his willingness to hold repeal of the Glass-Steagal Act hostage to CRA reform, could only manage to require community groups to make public their agreements with banks, disclosing the size of their loan commitments and fees.

A new president should push for outright abolition of the CRA. Failing that, he could simply instruct the Treasury to roll back the compliance criteria to their more relaxed, pre-Clintonian level. But to make the case for repeal—and ensure that some future Democratic president couldn't simply reimpose Clinton's rules—he might test the basic premise of the Community Reinvestment Act: that the banking industry serves the rich, not the poor. He could carry out a controlled experiment requiring no CRA lending in six Federal Reserve districts, while CRA remains in force in six others. A comparison of lending records would show whether there is any real case for CRA. In addition, CRA regulators should require nonprofit groups with large CRA-related loan commitments to track and report foreclosure and delinquency rates. For it is these that will reflect the true threat that CRA poses, a threat to the health of cities.

Ha! Yeah, looks like Bob is happy and can't wait to get there. Funny,
I never seen any piss down his pants (Bob) like they're saying....lol.
I guess if you look at an apple and call it a orange enough, the thinking is that you'll really start to think of it that way. I bet they could look at a pic of a baseball and say it's a softball and they'd argue for months/years that is was indeed a softball though everyone that is normal knows it's a baseball. Ha! Yep, Bob looks ready to deliver to them "The Bankok Banger" - you can tell in Kraven's pic that he in none too pleased in being there - while in Bob's pic he has a smile on. It's a no doubter.:-D

Cite the section in the Community Reinvestment Act that "....funnels billions to left-wing activists.....".

Come filth ridden pig, come up with the section. Or is it that you can't do it. You were told that this happened but you just don't know how.

So why do we obey a law that doesn't exist? Interesting.......

While we are waiting for pig boui to come up with the appropriate legal section we can all wonder at the repugs. They claim that there is wording in the Community Reinvestment Act that makes banks give money to evil doers, what they haven't done in the two years I've been asking the same question is come up with the code section, heck, any code section.

Maybe they just can't because there is no code section, it's all a lie. They lied, they lose. Or perhaps its a question of timing. They are too busy sucking off their boy friends, they just don't have the time.

Freedom means consequences.

A bank won't loan $1 million to you again. Next time you go begging for a loan, you'll have to be 70%+ collateralized before they'll even give http://www.city-journal.org/html/10_1_the_trillion_dollar.html

The Clinton administration has turned the Community Reinvestment Act, a once-obscure and lightly enforced banking regulation law, into one of the most powerful mandates shaping American citiesï¿½and, as Senate Banking Committee chairman Phil Gramm memorably put it, a vast extortion scheme against the nation's banks. Under its provisions, U.S. banks have committed nearly $1 trillion for inner-city and low-income mortgages and real estate development projects, most of it funneled through a nationwide network of left-wing community groups, intent, in some cases, on teaching their low-income clients that the financial system is their enemy and, implicitly, that government, rather than their own striving, is the key to their well-being.

The CRA's premise sounds unassailable: helping the poor buy and keep homes will stabilize and rebuild city neighborhoods. As enforced today, though, the law portends just the opposite, threatening to undermine the efforts of the upwardly mobile poor by saddling them with neighbors more than usually likely to depress property values by not maintaining their homes adequately or by losing them to foreclosure. The CRA's logic also helps to ensure that inner-city neighborhoods stay poor by discouraging the kinds of investment that might make them better off.

The Act, which Jimmy Carter signed in 1977, grew out of the complaint that urban banks were "redlining" inner-city neighborhoods, refusing to lend to their residents while using their deposits to finance suburban expansion. CRA decreed that banks have "an affirmative obligation" to meet the credit needs of the communities in which they are chartered, and that federal banking regulators should assess how well they do that when considering their requests to merge or to open branches. Implicit in the bill's rationale was a belief that CRA was needed to counter racial discrimination in lending, an assumption that later seemed to gain support from a widely publicized 1990 Federal Reserve Bank of Boston finding that blacks and Hispanics suffered higher mortgage-denial rates than whites, even at similar income levels.

In addition, the Act's backers claimed, CRA would be profitable for banks. They just needed a push from the law to learn how to identify profitable inner-city lending opportunities. Going one step further, the Treasury Department recently asserted that banks that do figure out ways to reach inner-city borrowers might not be able to stop competitors from using similar methodsï¿½and therefore would not undertake such marketing in the first place without a push from Washington.

None of these justifications holds up, however, because of the changes that reshaped America's banking industry in the 1990s. Banking in the 1970s, when CRA was passed, was a highly regulated industry in which small, local savings banks, rather than commercial banks, provided most home mortgages. Regulation prohibited savings banks from branching across state lines and sometimes even limited branching within states, inhibiting competition, the most powerful defense against discrimination. With such regulatory protection, savings banks could make a comfortable profit without doing the hard work of finding out which inner-city neighborhoods and borrowers were good risks and which were not. Savings banks also had reason to worry that if they charged inner-city borrowers a higher rate of interest to balance the additional risk of such lending, they might jeopardize the protection from competition they enjoyed. Thanks to these artificially created conditions, some redlining of creditworthy borrowers doubtless occurred.

The insular world of the savings banks collapsed in the early nineties, however, the moment it was exposed to competition. Banking today is a far more wide-open industry, with banks offering mortgages through the Internet, where they compete hotly with aggressive online mortgage companies. Standardized, computer-based scoring systems now rate the creditworthiness of applicants, and the giant, government-chartered Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have helped create huge pools of credit by purchasing mortgage loans and packaging large numbers of them together into securities for sale to bond buyers. With such intense competition for profits and so much money available to lend, it's hard to imagine that banks couldn't instantly figure out how to market to minorities or would resist such efforts for fear of inspiring imitators. Nor has the race discrimination argument for CRA held up. A September 1999 study by Freddie Mac, for instance, confirmed what previous Federal Reserve and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation studies had found: that African-Americans have disproportionate levels of credit problems, which explains why they have a harder time qualifying for mortgage money. As Freddie Mac found, blacks with incomes of $65,000 to $75,000 a year have on average worse credit records than whites making under $25,000.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas had it right when it saidï¿½in a paper pointedly entitled "Red Lining or Red Herring?"ï¿½"the CRA may not be needed in today's financial environment to ensure all segments of our economy enjoy access to credit." True, some householdsï¿½those with a history of credit problems, for instance, or those buying homes in neighborhoods where re-selling them might be difficultï¿½may not qualify for loans at all, and some may have to pay higher interest rates, in reflection of higher risk. But higher rates in such situations are balanced by lower house prices. This is not a conspiracy against the poor; it's how markets measure risk and work to make credit available.

Nevertheless, until recently, the CRA didn't matter all that much. During the seventies and eighties, CRA enforcement was perfunctory. Regulators asked banks to demonstrate that they were trying to reach their entire "assessment area" by advertising in minority-oriented newspapers or by sending their executives to serve on the boards of local community groups. The Clinton administration changed this state of affairs dramatically. Ignoring the sweeping transformation of the banking industry since the CRA was passed, the Clinton Treasury Department's 1995 regulations made getting a satisfactory CRA rating much harder. The new regulations de-emphasized subjective assessment measures in favor of strictly numerical ones. Bank examiners would use federal home-loan data, broken down by neighborhood, income group, and race, to rate banks on performance. There would be no more A's for effort. Only resultsï¿½specific loans, specific levels of serviceï¿½would count. Where and to whom have home loans been made? Have banks invested in all neighborhoods within their assessment area? Do they operate branches in those neighborhoods?

Crucially, the new CRA regulations also instructed bank examiners to take into account how well banks responded to complaints. The old CRA evaluation process had allowed advocacy groups a chance to express their views on individual banks, and publicly available data on the lending patterns of individual banks allowed activist groups to target institutions considered vulnerable to protest. But for advocacy groups that were in the complaint business, the Clinton administration regulations offered a formal invitation. The National Community Reinvestment Coalitionï¿½a foundation-funded umbrella group for community activist groups that profit from the CRAï¿½issued a clarion call to its members in a leaflet entitled "The New CRA Regulations: How Community Groups Can Get Involved." "Timely comments," the NCRC observed with a certain understatement, "can have a strong influence on a bank's CRA rating."

The Clinton administration's get-tough regulatory regime mattered so crucially because bank deregulation had set off a wave of mega-mergers, including the acquisition of the Bank of America by NationsBank, BankBoston by Fleet Financial, and Bankers Trust by Deutsche Bank. Regulatory approval of such mergers depended, in part, on positive CRA ratings. "To avoid the possibility of a denied or delayed application," advises the NCRC in its deadpan tone, "lending institutions have an incentive to make formal agreements with community organizations." By interveningï¿½even just threatening to interveneï¿½in the CRA review process, left-wing nonprofit groups have been able to gain control over eye-popping pools of bank capital, which they in turn parcel out to individual low-income mortgage seekers. A radical group called ACORN Housing has a $760 million commitment from the Bank of New York; the Boston-based Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America has a $3-billion agreement with the Bank of America; a coalition of groups headed by New Jersey Citizen Action has a five-year, $13-billion agreement with First Union Corporation. Similar deals operate in almost every major U.S. city. Observes Tom Callahan, executive director of the Massachusetts Affordable Housing Alliance, which has $220 million in bank mortgage money to parcel out, "CRA is the backbone of everything we do."

In addition to providing the nonprofits with mortgage money to disburse, CRA allows those organizations to collect a fee from the banks for their services in marketing the loans. The Senate Banking Committee has estimated that, as a result of CRA, $9.5 billion so far has gone to pay for services and salaries of the nonprofit groups involved. To deal with such groups and to produce CRA compliance data for regulators, banks routinely establish separate CRA departments. A CRA consultant industry has sprung up to assist them. New financial-services firms offer to help banks that think they have a CRA problem make quick "investments" in packaged portfolios of CRA loans to get into compliance.

The result of all this activity, argues the CEO of one midsize bank, is that "banks are promising to make loans they would have made anyway, with some extra aggressiveness on risky mortgages thrown in." Many bankersï¿½and even some CRA advocatesï¿½share his view. As one Fed economist puts it, the assertion that CRA was needed to force banks to see profitable lending opportunities is "like saying you need the rooster to tell the sun to come up. It was going to happen anyway." And indeed, a survey of the lending policies of Chicago-area mortgage companies by a CRA-connected community group, the Woodstock Institute, found "a tendency to lend in a wide variety of neighborhoods"ï¿½even though the CRA doesn't apply to such lenders.

If loans that win banks good CRA ratings were going to be made anyway, and if most of those loans are profitable, should CRA, even if redundant, bother anyone? Yes: because the CRA funnels billions of investment dollars through groups that understand protest and political advocacy but not marketing or finance. This amateur delivery system for investment capital already shows signs that it may be going about its business unwisely. And a quiet change in CRA's missionï¿½so that it no longer directs credit only to specific places, as Congress mandated, but also to low- and moderate-income home buyers, wherever they buy their propertyï¿½greatly extends the area where these groups can cause damage.

There is no more important player in the CRA-inspired mortgage industry than the Boston-based Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America. Chief executive Bruce Marks has set out to become the Wal-Mart of home mortgages for lower-income households. Using churches and radio advertising to reach borrowers, he has made NACA a brand name nationwide, with offices in 21 states, and he plans to double that number within a year. With "delegated underwriting authority" from the banks, NACA itselfï¿½not the banksï¿½determines whether a mortgage applicant is qualified, and it closes sales right in its own offices. It expects to close 5,000 mortgages next year, earning a $2,000 origination fee on each. Its annual budget exceeds $10 million.

Marks, a Scarsdale native, NYU MBA, and former Federal Reserve employee, unabashedly calls himself a "bank terrorist"ï¿½his public relations spokesman laughingly refers to him as "the shark, the predator," and the NACA newspaper is named the Avenger. They're not kidding: bankers so fear the tactically brilliant Marks for his ability to disrupt annual meetings and even target bank executives' homes that they often call him to make deals before they announce any plans that will put them in CRA's crosshairs. A $3 billion loan commitment by Nationsbank, for instance, well in advance of its announced merger with Bank of America, "was a preventive strike," says one NACA spokesman.

Marks is unhesitatingly candid about his intent to use NACA to promote an activist, left-wing political agenda. NACA loan applicants must attend a workshop that celebratesï¿½to the accompaniment of gospel musicï¿½the protests that have helped the group win its bank lending agreements. If applicants do buy a home through NACA, they must pledge to assist the organization in five "actions" annuallyï¿½anything from making phone calls to full-scale "mobilizations" against target banks, "mau-mauing" them, as sixties' radicals used to call it. "NACA believes in aggressive grassroots advocacy," says its Homebuyer's Workbook.

The NACA policy agenda embraces the whole universe of financial institutions. It advocates tough federal usury laws, restrictions on the information that banks can provide to credit-rating services, financial sanctions against banks with poor CRA ratings even if they're not about to merge or branch, and the extension of CRA requirements to insurance companies and other financial institutions. But Marks's political agenda reaches far beyond finance. He wants, he says, to do whatever he can to ensure that "working people have good jobs at good wages." The home mortgage business is his tool for political organizing: the Homebuyer's Workbook contains a voter registration application and states that "NACA's mission of neighborhood stabilization is based on participation in the political process. To participate you must register to vote." Marks plans to install a high-capacity phone system that can forward hundreds of calls to congressional officesï¿½"or Phil Gramm's house"ï¿½to buttress NACA campaigns. The combination of an army of "volunteers" and a voter registration drive portends (though there is no evidence of this so far) that someday CRA-related funds and Marks's troop of CRA borrowers might end up fueling a host of Democratic candidacies. During the Reagan years, the Right used to talk of cutting off the flow of federal funds to left-liberal groups, a goal called "defunding the Left"; through the CRA, the Clinton administration has found a highly effective way of doing exactly the opposite, funneling millions to NACA or to outfits like ACORN, which advocates a nationalized health-care system, "people before profits at the utilities," and a tax code based "solely on the ability to pay."

Whatever his long-term political goals, Marks may well reshape urban and suburban neighborhoods because of the terms on which NACA qualifies prospective home buyers. While most CRA-supported borrowers would doubtless find loans in today's competitive mortgage industry, a small percentage would not, and NACA welcomes such buyers with open arms. "Our job," says Marks, "is to push the envelope." Accordingly, he gladly lends to people with less than $3,000 in savings, or with checkered credit histories or significant debt. Many of his borrowers are single-parent heads of household. Such borrowers are, Marks believes, fundamentally oppressed and at permanent disadvantage, and therefore society must adjust its rules for them. Hence, NACA's most crucial policy decision: it requires no down payments whatsoever from its borrowers. A down-payment requirement, based on concern as to whether a borrower can make payments, isï¿½when applied to low-income minority buyersï¿½"patronizing and almost racist," Marks says.

This policyï¿½"America's best mortgage program for working people," NACA calls itï¿½is an experiment with extraordinarily high risks. There is no surer way to destabilize a neighborhood than for its new generation of home buyers to lack the means to pay their mortgagesï¿½which is likely to be the case for a significant percentage of those granted a no-down-payment mortgage based on their low-income classification rather than their good credit history. Even if such buyers do not lose their homes, they are a group more likely to defer maintenance on their properties, creating the problems that lead to streets going bad and neighborhoods going downhill. Stable or increasing property values grow out of the efforts of many; one unpainted house, one sagging porch, one abandoned property is a threat to the work of dozens, because such signs of neglect discourage prospective buyers.

A no-down-payment policy reflects a belief that poor families should qualify for home ownership because they are poor, in contrast to the reality that some poor families are prepared to make the sacrifices necessary to own property, and some are not. Keeping their distance from those unable to save money is a crucial means by which upwardly mobile, self-sacrificing people establish and maintain the value of the homes they buy. If we empower those with bad habits, or those who have made bad decisions, to follow those with good habits to better neighborhoodsï¿½thanks to CRA's new emphasis on lending to low-income borrowers no matter where they buy their homesï¿½those neighborhoods will not remain better for long.

Because many of the activists' big-money deals with the banks are so new, no one knows for sure exactly which neighborhoods the community groups are flooding with CRA-related mortgages and what effect they are having on those neighborhoods. But some suggestive early returns are available from Massachusetts, where CRA-related advocacy has flourished for more than a decade. A study for a consortium of banks and community groups found that during the 1990s home purchases financed by nonprofit lenders have overwhelmingly not been in the inner-city areas where redlining had been suspected. Instead, 41 percent of all the loans went to the lower-middle-class neighborhoods of Hyde Park, Roslindale, and Dorchester Center/Codman Squareï¿½Boston's equivalent of New York's borough of Queensï¿½and additional loans went to borrowers moving to the suburbs. In other words, CRA lending appears to be helping borrowers move out of inner-city neighborhoods into better-off areas. Similarly, not-yet-published data from the state-funded Massachusetts Housing Partnership show that many new Dorchester Center, Roslindale, and Hyde Park home buyers came from much poorer parts of the city, such as the Roxbury ghetto. Florence Higgins, a home-ownership counsellor for the Massachusetts Affordable Housing Alliance, confirms the trend, noting that many buyers she counsels lived in subsidized rental apartments prior to buying their homes.

This CRA-facilitated migration makes the mortgage terms of groups like NACA particularly troubling. In a September 1999 story, the Wall Street Journal reported, based on a review of court documents by Boston real estate analyst John Anderson, that the Fleet Bank initiated foreclosure proceedings against 4 percent of loans made for Fleet by NACA in 1994 and 1995ï¿½a rate four times the industry average. Overextended buyers don't always get much help from their nonprofit intermediaries, either: Boston radio station WBUR reported in July that home buyers in danger of losing their homes had trouble getting their phone calls returned by the ACORN Housing group.

NACA frankly admits that it is willing to run these risks. It emphasizes the virtues of the counselling programs it offers (like all CRA groups) to prepare its typical buyerï¿½"a hotel worker with an income of $25K and probably some past credit problems," says a NACA spokesmanï¿½and it operates what it calls a "neighborhood stabilization fund" on which buyers who fall behind on payments can draw. But Bruce Marks says that he would consider a low foreclosure rate to be a problem. "If we had a foreclosure rate of 1 percent, that would just prove we were skimming," he says. Accordingly, in mid-1999, 8.2 percent of the mortgages NACA had arranged with the Fleet Bank were delinquent, compared with the national average of 1.9 percent. "Considering our clientele," Marks asserts, "nine out of ten would have to be considered a success."

The no-down-payment policy has sparked so sharp a division within the CRA industry that the National Community Reinvestment Coalition has expelled Bruce Marks and NACA from its ranks over it. The precipitating incident: when James Johnson, then CEO of Fannie Mae, made a speech to NCRC members on the importance of down payments to keep mortgage-backed securities easily salable, NACA troops, in keeping with the group's style of personalizing disputes, distributed pictures of Johnson, captioned: "I make $6 million a year, and I can afford a down payment. Why can't you?" Says Josh Silver, research director of NCRC: "There is no quicker way to undermine CRA than through bad loans." NCRC represents hundreds of smallish community groups, many of which do insist on down paymentsï¿½and many of which make loans in the same neighborhoods as NACA and understand the risk its philosophy poses. Still, whenever NACA opens a new branch office, it will be difficult for the nonprofits already operating in that area to avoid matching its come-one, come-all terms.

Even without a no-down-payment policy, the pressure on banks to make CRA-related loans may be leading to foreclosures. Though bankers generally cheerlead for CRA out of fear of being branded racists if they do not, the CEO of one midsize bank grumbles that 20 percent of his institution's CRA-related mortgages, which required only $500 down payments, were delinquent in their very first year, and probably 7 percent will end in foreclosure. "The problem with CRA," says an executive with a major national financial-services firm, "is that banks will simply throw money at things because they want that CRA rating." From the banks' point of view, CRA lending is simply a price of doing businessï¿½even if some of the mortgages must be written off. The growth in very large banksï¿½ones most likely to sign major CRA agreementsï¿½also means that those advancing the funds for CRA loans are less likely to have to worry about the effects of those loans going bad: such loans will be a small portion of their lending portfolios.

Looking into the future gives further cause for concern: "The bulk of these loans," notes a Federal Reserve economist, "have been made during a period in which we have not experienced an economic downturn." The Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America's own success stories make you wonder how much CRA-related carnage will result when the economy cools. The group likes to promote, for instance, the story of Renea Swain-Price, grateful for NACA's negotiating on her behalf with Fleet Bank to prevent foreclosure when she fell behind on a $1,400 monthly mortgage payment on her three-family house in Dorchester. Yet NACA had no qualms about arranging the $137,500 mortgage in the first place, notwithstanding the fact that Swain-Price's husband was in prison, that she'd had previous credit problems, and that the monthly mortgage payment constituted more than half her monthly salary. The fact that NACA has arranged an agreement to forestall foreclosure does not inspire confidence that she will have the resources required to maintain her aging frame house: her new monthly payment, in recognition of previously missed payments, is $1,879.

Even if all the CRA-related loans marketed by nonprofits were to turn out fine, the CRA system is still troubling. Like affirmative action, it robs the creditworthy of the certain knowledge that they have qualified by dint of their own effort for a first home mortgage, a milestone in any family's life. At the same time, it sends the message that this most important milestone has been provided through the beneficence of government, devaluing individual accomplishment. Perhaps the Clinton White House sees this as a costless way to use the banking system to create a new crop of passionate Democratic loyalists, convinced that CRA has delivered them from an uncaring Mammonï¿½when, in all likelihood, banks would have been eager to have most of them as customers, regulation or no.

CRA also serves to enforce misguided views about how cities should develop, or redevelop. Consider the "investment" criterionï¿½the loans to commercial borrowers rather than individual home buyersï¿½that constitutes 25 percent of the record on which banks are judged in their compliance review. The Comptroller of the Currency's office makes clear that it is not interested in just any sort of investment in so-called underserved neighborhoods. Investment in a new apartment building or shopping center might not count, if it would help change a poor neighborhood into a more prosperous one, or if it is not directly aimed at serving those of low income. Regulators want banks to invest in housing developments built through nonprofit community development corporations. Banks not only receive CRA credit for such "investment"ï¿½which they can make anywhere in the country, not just in their backyardï¿½but they also receive corporate tax credits for it, through the Low Income Housing Tax Credit. Banks have little incentive to make sure such projects are well managed, since they get their tax credits and CRA credits up front.

This investment policy misunderstands what is good for cities and for the poor. Cities that are alive are cities in flux, with neighborhoods rising and falling, as tastes and economies change. This ceaseless flux is a process, as Jane Jacobs brilliantly described it in The Economy of Cities, that fuels investment, creates jobs, and sparks innovative adaptation of older buildings to new purposes. Those of modest means benefit both from the new jobs and from being able to rent or purchase homes in once-expensive neighborhoods that take on new roles. The idea that it is necessary to flash-freeze certain neighborhoods and set them aside for the poor threatens to disrupt urban vitality and the renewal that comes from the individual plans and efforts of a city's people.

But keeping these neighborhoods forever poor is the CRA vision. CRA will help virtually any lower-income family that can come close to affording a mortgage payment to purchase a home, often in a non-poor neighborhood. Thanks to CRA-driven bank investment, poor neighborhoods would then fill up with subsidized rental complexes, presumably for those poor families who can't earn enough even to get a subsidized, easy credit mortgage. The effects of all this could be to undermine lower-middle-class neighborhoods by introducing families not prepared for home ownership into them and to leave behind poor neighborhoods in which low-income apartments, filled with the worst-off and least competent, stand aloneï¿½hardly a recipe for renewal.

It will take a Republican president to change or abolish CRA, so firmly wedded to it is the Clinton administration and so powerfully does it serve Democratic Party interests. When Senator Gramm attacked the CRA for its role in funding advocacy groups and for the burden it imposes on banks, the Clinton administration fought back furiously, willing to let the crucial Financial Services Modernization Act, to which Gramm had attached his CRA changes, die, unless Gramm dropped demands that, for instance, CRA reviews become less frequent. In the end, Gramm, despite his key position as the chairman of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs (even the committee's name reflects a CRA consciousness) and his willingness to hold repeal of the Glass-Steagal Act hostage to CRA reform, could only manage to require community groups to make public their agreements with banks, disclosing the size of their loan commitments and fees.

A new president should push for outright abolition of the CRA. Failing that, he could simply instruct the Treasury to roll back the compliance criteria to their more relaxed, pre-Clintonian level. But to make the case for repealï¿½and ensure that some future Democratic president couldn't simply reimpose Clinton's rulesï¿½he might test the basic premise of the Community Reinvestment Act: that the banking industry serves the rich, not the poor. He could carry out a controlled experiment requiring no CRA lending in six Federal Reserve districts, while CRA remains in force in six others. A comparison of lending records would show whether there is any real case for CRA. In addition, CRA regulators should require nonprofit groups with large CRA-related loan commitments to track and report foreclosure and delinquency rates. For it is these that will reflect the true threat that CRA poses, a threat to the health of cities.

I've been married to the same wonderful woman for 40 years. My sexuality isn't in doubt.

Now do you want to discuss Limbaugh's sexuality? How about Foley and Craig? Or Junior Report Jeff Gannon?

Look, hypocrite, you are happy to be in a party of closet queens, you are happy to be in a party of tea bagger segregationists and you are happy to be in a party of Mexican hating racist. So when you and your repug buddies decide to just talk, I would be happy to have a discussion with you.

But would you really be happy not to be a hypocrite? Would you admit that the Bush years were an abysmal mistake? Would you admit that the tea party is a classic political mistake?

Or are you just another repug?

If all illegal immigration were stopped NOW, you'd be complaining of the

That only happens in a corporatist system.

I guess the nice thing in corporatism is you and I and our $trillions (and, of course, our childens' $trillions) were there to cushion the fall.

Not according to me--according to you it was a "nice thing."

You're the one who wants safety nets...to protect you from yourself.

No, just your sanity - and trust me YOU are an emotional wreck.

At your age I suspect it's a toxic mix of low testosterone, prostate troubles, and concomitant impotence that has you raging at everything here like a rabid Chihuahua.

What a sad, angry old fart you are.

You'd die of a heart attack if someone here called you on your sick insults in person, child.

How can anyone live to your age and have acquired so very little emotional maturity?

Seems that the management were also glad to be rid of Kramer and a Thailand is well rid of Kramer and his pal David Leonard Arthur.

I must protest in the strongest terms. Mister Guckert/Gannon is merely a business man. Why should his sexual orientation be challenged because of a few anal encounters with/by Heads of state?

For all we know, he even restricted his Bush appointments to simple oral stimulation of the Chief's shaft. He probably also performed janitorial service at night, so had access to the White House at any time.

The problem isn't that it's "legal" or "illegal" -- the problem will be exactly the same when the criminals in Washington get around to "legalizing" the invaders.

Except that the Fox News phonies will then no longer be able to claim that "it's not about race."

Actually, it _is_ about race -- about one people displacing and replacing another, biologically different people.

The invasion is favored by the international oligarchs because they like cheap peon labor, and also because they know that a multiracial and multicultural melange will never coalesce into a force that could challenge their power -- whereas a racially and culturally united people might well do so.

With all good wishes,

Kevin, WB4AIO.

Liberty Net: July 3, 2010

http://3950.net/2010/07/liberty-net-july-3-2010/

by Kevin Strom, WB4AIO

N2SAGï¿½s commentary on this weekï¿½s Liberty Net was an unusually powerful indictment of the international parasites who have set themselves up as oligarchs and illegally rule the Western world. Itï¿½s worthy of archiving permanently and sending to your friends. It starts about 1 hour and 19 minutes into the recording.

Here are a few examples of the literally dozens of subjects youï¿½ll hear on this weekï¿½s recording:

ï¿½ Everybody who isnï¿½t an oligarch agrees that the Afghanistan War is a disaster for America. So why are we still there? ï¿½ and why are neocons in the Republican party attacking their own leader for telling a small part of this obvious truth? ï¿½ and why did Obama break his promise to sign the order to bring the troops back ï¿½the day he was sworn into officeï¿½? (1 hour 7 minutes)

ï¿½ The ï¿½New World Orderï¿½ is really just a rehash of the very old world order of serfdom, and represents extreme social devolution. Serfdom under ï¿½democracyï¿½ is no better than serfdom under a king. (20 minutes)

ï¿½ Knowing that newly impoverished Americans often have to sell their family treasures at flea markets or on Ebay just to make ends meet these days, some of the thieves in Congress want to get their clutches on some of that money by imposing new sales taxes on these hurting folks. (22 minutes)

ï¿½ Knowing how Wall Street manipulators and criminals have crashed economies around the world, can we really blame Russia for wanting secret agents as their eyes and ears in New York City to see what these gangsters were up to? Since the U.S. media and government are the servants of the gangsters, itï¿½s not surprising how the ï¿½Russian spyï¿½ story is being promoted. (1 hour 19 minutes)

ï¿½ How does Switzerland manage to provide universal health care to its citizens while spending proportionally far less on it than the United States? Could it have anything to do with having a population of high biological quality? (3 hours 4 minutes)

ï¿½ Did Tony Hayward actually try to get fired as head of BP? (2 hours 58 minutes)

ï¿½ How many Americans who have opposed the criminals in government have ended up in Federal prison on phony charges ï¿½ hundreds? ï¿½ thousands? (2 hours 34 minutes)

ï¿½ Should Predator drones be withdrawn from the Middle East, where they are being used to murder innocents, and used instead to protect our southern border from invasion? (2 hours 48 minutes)

The Liberty Net ï¿½amateur radioï¿½s longest-running discussion net ï¿½ is on the air every Saturday night at 10PM Eastern Time on or around 3950 kHz (usually within 10 kHz) SSB.

Remember, thanks to N2SAG and N2IRJ and W1WCR, you can listen live ï¿½ and chat live ï¿½ via the Web whenever the Liberty Net is on the air. And, as always, you can download the Net right here at http://3950.net and listen at your leisure.

That's just a vicious circle. Legalized workers want more money. They'll be displaced by another wave of illegals willing to work for less. The employers have to start doing serious jail time..they're traitors. That won't happen because they make 'campaign contributions'.

Climate, war, disease, expulsion and starvation have caused most of the mass migrations over the years. When the destination is more attractive than what you have, you go. It's survival. When employers use any of those incentives to get cheaper labour, it's pure greed at work. It's also traitorous behaviour towards your fellow citizens.

I'm sure there can be more to a 'coalescence' of people than Race. I also realize that the 'melting pot' image of the US has been promoted by people who don't believe it themselves. Heck, even communities separated by a few blocks can have their own mini-ethnic variations. There are probably even noticeable language variations between two sides of the same State.

A national, standardized curriculum would be a start. Begin in Grade one. No exceptions, no mutant English, no unearned passing grades and no quotas adjusted on ethnicity or background.

Politicians will NEVER let that happen.

I did. This is what I get.

About Us
The AM-DX.COM site was started in December 2002. It's a place where information about the hobby of reception of distant AM Broadcast stations may be found. It is not associated with any of the clubs.

This site is primarily interested in AM broadcast stations in the 150kHz to 1800 kHz range. Some mention of beacons or point to point stations may be made, though it's not the major thrust here.

It is hoped that this site will be a center for exchange of tips and information about the hobby.

This is somewhat of a census I suppose but I got my first Arbitron Rating envelope with two crisp one dollar bills. They say fill it out and they send you five dollars. I guess that's a way to get someone to take action.

So now it's "must have"! A change of tune Scott? Funnily enough, I don't see it that way. Who's to say it's even in a police station. Could be at the local bank, local municipal offices or even the post office. From what I've seen, the people there often wear uniforms too.
On the other hand, it's definitely a picture of Bob, surrounded by 2 police officers and looking decidedly uncomfortable! Maybe if he put his tetth in there might have been a modest improvement. Say, maybe they caught him unawares and he didn't have time to get them out of the glass of water near his bed. Certainly took the "cheese" out of "Cheesy Bob"!!

New name for Robert Johnson! He will now be hereinafter and henceforth known as "GUMMY BOB".

I think it was back about then! I'm sure there are numerous copies in other usenet archives.

> The Original Pinkie!! I was wondering where that all fit in.

I'm trying to figure out where the gun fits in with the tutu! Seems like polar opposites to me! Maybe it's Scott's "pink side" trying to emerge through the pretend tough guy image he would like to project! The crooked cleft chin detracts from that image and makes him look more like a crazy nerd ready to go out and blast up a school!

Oh crap! You mentioned Arbitron and that's a sure fire way to get David 'Eduardo' back in here after all the hard work I did.

Just a short while ago you said he WAS him. Now you think he's his sycophant? You really don't have a clue, do you? How many different people have you now said is Kramer? From how many different countries? Since I've been listening in, there have been 4 different people from three different countries.

I think the real issue is; how many are you? Since everyone now realizes that Nurk_fred2000 is Scott Koplin, that leaves you free to be David Leonard Arthur, the pedophile. Supposedly he was some sort of computer wiz running the computer center for a large hotel. That would give enough knowledge for you to remain underground and posting through proxies. I think you are him.

Ain't that the truth!! With Robert Johnson boycotted and shut down, and David Leonard Arthur (aka Larbgai) deported, a lot of good people celebrated.

By the way, David... in another post you commented on Johnson's wonderful Stilton cheese. Remember? You need to ask Johnson what he made. If you look at the product list for the Pickle King's business, you will notice that he didn't make Stilton Cheese....
He made Laban Cheese. Quite a different process.

I don't think Bob is all that aware of what he's drinking after the drinks merely serving to top up his almost permanent state of inebriation.

Johnson's "factory", which was OWNED AND OPERATED by his wife, made the Laban Cheese. Bob's wife was quite pissed off when her drunken husband destroyed her "potentially successful" business. It never had a chance as long as Bob had any involvement. For sure, Bob's efforts as the "publicity department" of his wife's company sure had a negative effect on profits! I heard his wife kicked him out of the family home just after the business folded. Why am I not surprised!!

Hmmm....

A male homosexual prostitute that was a -fake- reporter being given a free pass to the Bush White House. The American public certainly was owed an explanation -- which they NEVER received.

While we are on the subject, if someone would have told me that G.W. Bush had a fetish for bald male heads, I would have just written it off as political sour grapes.

However, it is clear that G.W. Bush does have a fetish for bald male heads. I never would a thunk it until the URLs posted above show numerous public domain press pictures of Bush kissing, fondling and otherwise man-handling a variety of bald heads.

I wonder how all the Bush lovers out there in net-land will try and spin all those pictures...???

Heck of job, Georgie!

What I have is basic morality and courage. You lack both. For instance I use my real name, I'm not a gutless coward afraid to use my real name, I didn't have to make up a name to hide behind. Then there is the fact that I have fought honorably against the scourge of war. You haven't the guts, the basic courage, to go and fight in a war you support.

Face, scum, you are a hypocrite at best.

Maybe I'm just late noticing this, but I've just come across this page of printable six-monthly programme schedules for each of the BBC WS regional streams for the current broadcast period:

Hopefully, it'll be of interest to some.

Not so fast, Super Hero.

Before the invasion of Afghanistan, I used my real name. I even used my real email address. Once the newsgroup lunatics discovered they couldn't get me to jump on the 'Let's Bomb Islamics' bandwagon, they started sending me literature.

That literature was mainly in the form of pornographic filth, covering everything from paedophilia to bestiality. To this day I can't see how that was supposed to sway my opinion. It had the opposite effect.

Not ONE of your fellow travelers had the 'basic courage' to use THEIR real names.

That whole needless Afghan/Iraq episode was started by deviants in the pursuit of big money. The Taliban were in Texas two weeks before the declaration of war, trying to get the Texans to match the Brazilian offer on those two pipelines. Osama Bin Ladin also supported the Brazilian's offer. The Texans didn't want to diminish their earnings and TOLD the Taliban what would come down if they didn't sign.

Do your homework.

It is to laugh, your amorality is the beacon of your posting here.

> You lack both.

Rage on, you impotent OLD coot.

> For instance I use my real name,

So you CLAIM, but then how we would we verify that, sans an address and home phone number?

> I'm not a gutless coward afraid to use my > real name,

No, you're a gutless coward who thinks using a name will render your impotent name-calling and threats somehow morally palatable.

> I didn't have to make up a name to hide behind.

Yet you are hiding behind a name - one we have no real world address to attach to nor telephone number.

Until you supply those your claims are summarily REJECTED as evidence of nothing more than a made up identity.

> Then there > is the fact that I have fought honorably against the scourge of war.

So you CLAIM...which, given your spittle-laden rants may or may not be truth.

You must despise the elderly, disabled, and EMTs and housewives who also support our troops, if not every political decision made for them, am I right rager?

> Face, scum, you are a hypocrite at best.

And you are an impotent old man whose life has degenerated into senile dementia - this medium providing little more than a virtual whipping post for your own irrelevance and rage.

You have made yourself into a risible charicature of the hateful curmudgeon down the block who yells at the kids playing in the street and curses the m,mailman for not bringing him more catalogs.

Truly, you are a pitiful laughing stock here.

The country was EXTREMELY divided (or as you would say, "politicized") under G.W. Bush, more so than any President since Lincoln and the Civil War.

Corrupt? If you want to address "corrupt", why don't you start with telling us why Gannon/Guckert, the homosexual male prostitute pretending to be a reporter, had a free pass to the Bush White House. Just in case you have a short (or no) memory, the Bush regime had plenty of corruption to go around, eight year's worth compared to Obama's one year.

Pollution? Did your short (or non-existent) memory forget about Bush wanting to pass legislation that would allow mountain tops to be stripped bare? That he supported legislation weakening the EPA?

My, my...how (conveniently) forgetful of you.

> The Obama [BP] Oil Spill of 2010...

The "Obama" oil spill?

Really now...

Please explain why it is "Obama's oil spill". Did he give the North Korean sub the coordinates to the well so they could blow it up?
Bwahahahaha...

Was he on the platform and told them to keep drilling, even though there were indications of trouble?

Did the drilling rules change in the one year Obama was in Office?
Answer: No!

Were they drilling under the rules in place when Bush was in office?
Answer: Yes!

So, why wouldn't this then be "Bush's oil spill", hmmm?

Roy, you whine about "politicized" and yet when I look up the word in my dictionary, they have -your- picture! :-)

 ROTFLMAO. Nice try Steve, but as usual not quite good enough.
David Arthur Leonard the (paedophile) was, as we all know and if we in fact much of the photography Leonard had done was by Kombat

 They were delivered unwrapped so that all could see what he was getting.
He was'nt too thrilled but the staff at the condo had a great laugh.
They also had a great party when he slunk out after the great deporting incident.
Seems he was a hated man there but the Thai's are too polite to say anything.
Bob sent around a couple of bottles of Sang Thip to wash the taste of Kombat out of their mouths.
Was well appreciated.

Just a friendly suggestion before you dig yourselves in any deeper.
We've watched you giggling about this for some weeks now, and even I can't let you do this to yourselves any longer.

I suggest that you learn a bit about Thai culture regarding Colon detox before you embarrass yourselves further. It's offered at virtually every expensive resort and spa in S.E. Asia, and they charge high prices for it. Getting one for free? They'd think it was a nice gift from a friend.
They wouldn't giggle about it like western primary school children. Your lack on knowledge about Asian culture is pathetic.

It is notable that Robert Johnson, a man who lived in Thailand for many years, was able to live there and yet learn absolutely nothing about Thai culture. I guess when they say 'he lived inside a bottle' they were being quite accurate. He certainly didn't live inside the community.

Yep, they (''they'', census) are still caseing the hoods.
Yesterday evening was the third time I have seen them caseing my neighborhood.
They (''they'') are worse than hemorrohids.

Versus Prez Obama allowing BP to Strip Bare the Eco-System of the Entire Gulf of Mexico for the $20B of pocket 'change' from BP . . .
-did- Prez Obama give you some-change ? ? ?

Prez Obama the Biggest Environmental Criminal obliterate the truth PREZ OBAMA HAS DONE nothing, Nothing. NOTHING !

TO STOP THE "BP" OIL SPILL IN THE GULF
TO CLEAN-UP THE "BP" TROXIC MESS IN THE GULF
-while- Taking 'BP's Hush Money . . .
-that-is-why- It Is Now The Obama [BP] Oil Spill !

Say Hey:

Steve never joined nor attempted to join the Chiang Mai Photographic Group while holeing up at the Hillside Condo. In addition, he never had any of his photos displayed at any exhibits in Thailand. PERIOD! Born to lose! While under arrest at the police station he paniced and called two fat ladies for back up. They were both a big laugh at the station house. January 8, 2004 was an extremely fun day for Pickle Bob. I had to have a few extra drinks that day.

What ever are you talking about? The $20B is in escrow...for the citizens and businesses that were damaged. Obama doesn't get a nickel of it.

And what ever do you mean that Obama "allowed it"? Are you claiming he WANTED the spill to happen? If you are saying that, what is his reason, his motive? And even assuming your lunatic theory is true (and it isn't), why ever would BP agree to go along with it? Why would they put their entire corporation at risk of being taken over or going bankrupt???

Roy...in all honesty, all I can say is "Huh?"

What in heaven's name are you even talking about?

Like with any "crime", there has to be a -motive-. What is in it for Obama or BP to purposely wreck the Gulf of Mexico? I am 110% sure that Obama would have preferred this NOT to have happened on his watch. I am also 110% sure that BP would rather be MAKING money selling you the oil that is leaking rather than SPENDING money to clean it up.

Please get back on your meds. They can do wonders for your paranoia.

Photographic groups are typically hobby groups and are of little interest to professional photographers. In fact, the professionals avoid them like the plague as they would spend all their time answering questions from hobbyists. Far better to run a photographic training business and make money from answering the questions.

> Group while holeing up at the Hillside Condo. In addition, he never

But he did have them published in magazines. Far more lucrative! Only photographic hobbyists strive to get their photos "exhibited", a sign that they've "arrived". The professionals, on the other hand, want them "published". A rather significant difference!

Why would he? That is an amateur group, isn't it? They hold meetings and invite guest photographers to speak, to help them improve their skills.

Do you know who was their very FIRST professional to be invited to speak there? Yep, you guessed it. Your very own idol and owner of your soul. Check it out. It makes good reading!

No cash prizes, right? Nope... didn't think so. Why would he? Have any members of that group had their photos published in magazines and newspapers? Have any members of that group been regular magazine columnists with photos and articles published every month for years? You should read some of the columns. They are available on line.

How much money did the Police make Kramer pay you for all your fax paper? Not a penny, eh? Too bad. It probably was a really BIG box of fax paper wasted. How much did that paper cost you, Robert? Besides your company, that is. *

That says more about Fascism than it does about Obama. About the only thing he can do is nationalize them. Otherwise they will ignore him (and you, I might add).

Yes, it takes more than just being of the same race, as Bosnia amply proves.

But being of the same race is one of the _essential_ conditions of peoplehood, and only a united people are likely to throw off the chains of the oligarchs. Without it, you have no chance.

A mish-mash of tribes with no sense of peoplehood or historical destiny is more likely to snipe at each other in between bouts of meaningless fornication, consumption of carcinogenic corporate products, and watching television sets on which Big Brother constantly tells them to embrace "equality" and "there's no such thing as race."

Which is exactly the way the international parasites (who, by the way, are one of the most racially exclusive peoples on Earth) like it. They know that such a mass of contemptible peons is very unlikely to ever make a revolution.

That is why the rulers of empires, from the Assyrians to the one now centered in New York and Tel Aviv, preach the idea of "tolerance" and "oneness" and "diversity" to their slaves. It keeps the slaves confused, ignorant of who they really are, and ignorant of their true condition. If the "multiculturalism" goes on long enough, many of the slaves will mix randomly and will actually cease to be, biologically, what they were before. That's one way that empires commit genocide.

Look at what's happening in Tibet. The empire there may not use precisely the same terminology used here in the former West, but for all practical purposes they accuse the Tibetans who want their children to remain Tibetan of "racism" and "hate."

With all good wishes,

Kevin Alfred Strom.

Don't you mean the pic where Bob quite clearly pissed his pants?

http://img149.imageshack.us/img149/1969/johnson1z.jpg

In fact, it looks to me like Bob is wearing his pyjamas! They would have to be his pyjamas surely! No one in their right mind wears "street attire" that looks like that!!! I've certainly never seen a 'successful businessman who walks round in his pyjamas anyway. Chiang Mai's finest seem to have dragged Bob out of bed so they could arrest him. The police probably didn't even give Bob time to "point percy at the porcelain" so it's not surprising he lost bladder control. All the drinking the night before would have only added to the pressure! Then, of course, there was the media crush outside as the police were about to bundle Bob into the car and take him off down to the police station for questioning! No wonder Bob looks so down in the mouth! No time to even put his false choppers in! How utterly humiliating! I'll bet there's a lot of similar pictures taken that day, a day that will live in infamy!

I thought the police constable was saying "no photos" but, the more I look at the picture, the more I think he's saying, "Bob, you've been acting like a child this tall!". He's even indicating the height with his arm. The sergeant, the one holding Bob's arrest warrants, is looking on quite bemused!

Bob probably had to sell "his wife's business" to pay the bribes so he could stay out of jail! His wife should have kept the business and let the police keep Bob in jail, a much better deal in my estimation. His pyjamas already look a little like standard prison attire so he would have fitted in well.

Ha! I don't know, I'd have to go back and check. I know it wasn't loud at that time of day (from my post) but it was clear after maybe twenty seconds of hash. Surely they don't run the same amount of wattage on SW as they do the BCB, do they?

You heard them on 1520? Wouldn't that be 1519? That would be a great catch to hear them on the BCB - good job.

Well, Democrats (socialist or otherwise) DO try to get Democrats elected in the fall -- AND Republicans try and get Republicans elected in the fall. So, your point is...??? (and by the way, the BP $20B is NOT a "slush fund" anyway; it is an ESCROW account for the citizens/businesses that were damaged).

John Plimmer told me that it was a good catch, he said that 1520(Arabia)dominates his area of the world with their huge power. I think that they are 10KC apart. It was a very brief listen, maybe less than five minutes, Arabic chanting, music, etc.
When I first heard it, I thought, "What the hell is this?" It was John who verified it for me.

Banks look at tax as a cost of doing business and add that cost into their fees.... So "We The Taxpayers" will be paying more Fees/tax to pay ourselves back.

I have owned and run businesses and made payroll, your consumer cost of a product is directly affected by the cost of doing business, taxes are a cost of doing business.

Again I ask, where is our cash?

Isn't it strange how Amerindians, Blacks, Mestizos, Jews, etc are always praised for their desire to remain racially unique, yet Whites are told they must NEVER EVER remain racially unique, for that would be "racism" don'tcha know? If anyone doubts that Whites have swallowed the poison hook line and sinker, just look at how they care more about some barely sentient biped basketball "playa" who left the Cleveland Cavaliers for Miami than they care about their race's future. Truly sad.

The Berkeley/Oakland area was on high alert last week...but not because of a natural disaster, like an earthquake.

http://www.americanthinker.com/2010/07/liberal_racism.html

Liberal Fascists & Racism

Few combinations are more poisonous than race and politics. That combination has torn whole nations apart and led to the slaughters of millions in countries around the world.

You might think we would have learned a lesson from that and stay away from injecting race into political issues. Yet playing the race card has become an increasingly common response to growing public anger at the policies of the Obama administration and the way those policies have been imposed.

… In the name of conservation, a federal law limits the amount of water that can pass through a nozzle to 2.5 gallons per minute. The law was designed to limit both water and energy use related to pumping the water.

Until recently, a loophole that allowed multi-nozzled showerheads (with each individual nozzle meeting the flow-capacity limit) put this personal choice where it belongs: in the hands of consumers. Showerheads with three or even eight nozzles could be purchased by homebuilders to equip luxury bathrooms as long as the per-nozzle water-flow limit was followed. Regrettably, the DOE decided that alternatives to the standard showerhead could no longer be allowed and, in May, sought to close the legal gap. A redefinition of showerheads is expected.

Dictating the amount of water that is to be used in a shower has little bearing on energy policy and opens the door to far more invasive measures. If the DOE can limit the energy used in showering, it could just as easily involve itself in legislating how much energy any appliance can use, how long it can be used each day, or what kind of electronics can be sold.

In involving itself so closely in the American household, the DOE has overstepped its bounds. Showerheads simply don’t fit under electricity, fuel, or energy on a national scale. Which showerhead to use should be a personal choice made by individual households, not by a commission or national organization.

Your post makes it sound as if Obama is responsible for the 16 year old Federal restriction on new showerheads. Some dozen STATES as long ago as 1992 (that's 18 years ago) had put restrictions on new showerhead manufacture. Don't worry, you will not need to rip out your old showerhead and purchase a new one.

Speaking of research, Scott... or should I say Pinkie (after all, RESEARCH shows that YOU are the original. It's been almost three days since you announced another person from another country as being a Kramer sock puppet. Have you realized your mistake or are your just geographically challenged?

Honestly guys, why in the world do you even engage with him? It's the same old thing, he never has anything "new or bright" to say. Just scroll right past him like I do. I noticed he never takes RRS out of his posts. I'd post something in recknives and he would bring it back right here like a dumbass. What he does is wayyyy worse, CP/ answering to five different groups. Can you say "The REAL Troll"? He is definitely a piece.

It's sad when people are so desperate to say something bad about Obama that they have to stoop to claiming he's responsible for making showerheads "low flow". That's been happening, like you said, since REAGAN was in office.

And it's apparently too difficult for some of these people to drill the hole out and make your new showehead flow just like an old one.

Ah yes a so-called 'escrow' account that is in

* No US Government Federal Laws Control It

Previous to this the photographer turned up in Chiang Mai, busted and friendless after his mysterious departure from a well paid job in Japan. (His words)
For months he tried to set up a photo safari/ school in Chiang Mai fortunately with no success as the locals and the tourists thankfully saw through his underhanded methods and ignored him like the plague.
He tried (with his usual lack of success) to ingraciate himself with the Chiang Mai gentry by joining the local volunteer tourist police force but was soon given his marching orders when it was found out he was associating with known criminals.
Her was arrested for interferring with a Thai owned and operating business and dealt with accordingly.
His future was then assured, it was a matter of get out or be kicked out.
Sadly the fool chose the latter.

Just focusing on Sinclair's vids, I believe everything he is saying. I remember watching those when they came out. He got squashed fairly quickly, can you imagine what it would have been like if that had been Bush instead? I'm surprised Obama didn't blame Sinclair on the Bush

Earlier this year I met a person who did not like the design of American cars. He, in all seriousness, blamed it on Obama.

Only one problem...

Cars have a two to three year design cycle...but Obama has only been in office a little over -one- year.

Bottom line:

These racist, idiot, morons will blame anything, literally ANYTHING, on Obama -- yes, even their crabgrass.

Oh, did I mention that they were knee-jerk racists and morons?

Over to you Steve. Time now for you (or rather one of your grubby little sock puppets) to respond with the usual lies, fantasy and bullshit about how you retired from that well paid job as an English language Professor with a million-dollar pension, how you set up a jungle safari photography tour business in CM that was soooooooo successful that you had to turn away work, how you wrote for all the leading travel magazines in SE Asia, how your travel and photography features were published on all the major travel and tour websites, about the highly paid photo shoots you were sent to all over the world, how you wined and dined with all the rich and famous and the hi-so in CM, how you were head-hunted into the tourist police force in CM, and how famous you became as a photographer that even a doorman at a hotel in Bangkok recognised you and asked for your autograph! :o)

And don't forget the one about the international company who head-hunted you and set you up in Singapore in a million-dollar apartment. smirk

Off you go Steve.... grin

Well, you bring up a complex issue...

Without taking sides, let me point out that, although it "sounds bad" that they are asking the 'public' to reduce water usage for Dole, please remember that Dole is a MAJOR employer that provides jobs to the...PUBLIC.

Finally, please realize that Dole or no Dole, Hawaii has virtually no natural resources and that they have to bring in EVERY DROP of oil to make the electricity to run the municipal water processing plants -- so water conservation, Dole or not, is probably a good idea.

Interesting point, given that, being a volcanic archipeligo, geothermal energy is readily available, and easily tapped, as a source for power generation in virtually unlimited supply.

No Bob, you couldn't have said it! period!

I wonder why larbgai is trying to link Kramer with David Leonard Arthur? Could it be to divert attention away from himself? Is larbgai David Leonard Arthur gone to ground in New Zealand? Arthur is too well known in Australia. New Zealand would provide him with the degree of anonymity he needs to make a fresh start on his "hobbies". Standard behaviour of crims and paedophiles, point to someone else and say "it's him!". Not only say it but repeat it ad nauseum! Make it a mantra!

Bob, you seem to chant the same mantra. What was your pickle business a front for? Why the high walls, barbed wire, searchlights and cameras around your house in Chiang Mai? To keep people out? Thais are friendly people Bob! Other people manage to live in Thailand without the high walls, barbed wire, searchlights and cameras! More likely you are trying to keep people IN, not OUT! Were you supplying David Leonard Arthur and others like him with the "raw materials" from your (so called) "pickle" business?

So many questions!

I reckon they are a powder keg! I mean, you only need to look at Scott Koplin to realise that he's not the full quid! He's definitely got a few kangas loose in his top paddock, that's for sure. I'm wondering when he'll have his next psychotic episode! His last one got him sacked from his job though I hear this is quite a regular thing for him! Anyway, his next psychotic episode won't get him sacked as no one in their right mind will employ him any more. Who would blame them? The thought of employing a machine gun wielding psychotic would be enough to deter any prospective employer! Even without the machine gun in his hands, he looks quite "odd"!
I expect he'll achieve a degree of notoriety soon when he becomes the next person to shoot up a school! He fits the profile!!

Yes, I get that impression as well. I notice he's being "moderately" quiet of late. I reckon he got his backside spanked by some of the adult members of the forum and has been told to stick his head in the corner. Comes out with a mild snipe every now and then probably gets a whack around the earholes for his efforts.

You do know the government has Banned your old 3 gallon flush toilets didn't you.....

What's more is that to save that little bit of water in the flush, they force you to use the New toilets and they never updated the Waste lines and many older homes couldn't have pipes upgraded anyways. But that lower amount of water with each flush(and the 1/8 drop per foot) will create many more stoppages.... Stoppages mean a plumber being called and that costs many times the water and gas and money......

When computing the water saved, the cost is NOT just a new toilet with 1.5gal flush.

That's Fascism/Socialism..... Thank you Leftists, for micromanaging my life.

What a coincidence, that's how long Socialists have been pushing hard at getting rid of our freedom. Everything you push has the bonus that it takes away freedom and capitalism and creates more Socialism.

And it's Socialism and the Eco-Socialists that created the atmosphere that passed laws for water saver shower heads and other fixtures that are "water saver" rated and the idea to FORCE their use by law.

And yes Obama is one of those omnipotent Progressive-Socialists that presumes that he knows what is best for all humanity.... much like he is the "Lord thy God" who knows what is best for all. Typical Narcissist Socialist isn't he.

I quit the booze over a year ago, nearly a year and five months ago, in fact of the business.

Yesterday, I cleaned out my old wet/dry vacuum cleaner.Mostly, it was full of dog hair, several months worth of vacuuming up doggy's dog hair.Doggy is a Blue Heeler Australian Cattle Dog.
http://www.cattledog.com
http://www.acdca.org
Those dogs have two coats of hair.It is normal for them to sometimes shed a lot of hair.I have been giving doggy a Heartguard tablet on the first day of each month ever since she was a puppy.I hope it is only a wad of hair lodged in her gut somewhere.The vet will know what to do about that, or whatever.
Doggy is going to get her toenails trimmed at the vet too, she won't let me trim her toenails.

Doggy's appointment at the vet tomorrow morning is at 9:45 AM.We will be there.

Good for you. I worked in plumbing for a while and you're the lucky one.

You also missed the point that the sewer lines in existing houses and toilets were a matched system...... more /or/ less water needs different pitch and height and diameter on the lines that the water/crap travels through.

Why not install a maceration unit and make it all a slurry and flush 1/2 gal of water? or use a storage tank/maceration and a pump to push the sewage rather than allowing "gravity and water" to drag the sh!t to the sewer?

Fluid dynamics and gravity..... most people call the plumber more often thanks to incompetent government regulations. If all it took was placing a brick in any 3gal toilet why did the government need to regulate new toilets? 3gal toilets need 3 gal and sewer lines need enough water to flow correctly also.

Instead of "user" efficiency the government seeks some imaginary water efficiency....

Why not install a maceration unit?

Probably because gravity is a lot cheaper than the electricity required to run tens of millions maceration units.

Furthermore, in a previous post about the government requiring the use of 1 gallon flush toilets, you (Beam Me Up Scotty) said of the government:

> That's Fascism/Socialism..... Thank you Leftists, for micromanaging > my life.

Let me see if I've got this right...

If the government says use a 1 gallon flush toilet, "That's Fascism/Socialism".

If BMU Scotty (or the government) dictates a maceration unit, then that's OK? Pot/Kettle/Black it would seem.

Bwahahahaha...

Now Now Scott! It almost looks like you're trying to say you've been outside the US. That might be in your fantasies but the reality is you have never left the borders of the US. You have never done anything remotely resembling military service and even your own home guard rejected you as being too crazy for them. I doubt you would even be able to get (and keep) a job as a security guard at your local mall!

Next they will be smuggling 5-Gal Toilets across the Border like Freon http://www.nytimes.com/1996/11/10/us/a-chilling-change-in-the-contraband-being-seized-at-borders.html?pagewanted=all

Putting the Low-Flush Toilets Water Tank on/in the Wall with a 4~6 Foot Drop can make for a very effective Flushing Action.
http://starcraftcustombuilders.com/images/Bath/BathHighTankToilet.jpg

A Gallon of Water that only Drops a Foot has very little Energy {Mechanical Force} : Where as that same Gallon of Water that now Drops a 4 Feet has 4 Times the Energy and 4 Times the Mechanical Force to completely Flush the Toilet.

Installing a Urinal with a Pint-Size Flushing Action can reduce the overall amount of Water used to Flush Toilets by ~25%.

Some where at some time I heard that they were installing Flow Restrictors at the Wall :
So that the User would have to Wait a few minutes for the Tank to Fill for a 2nd Flush; and therefore you would leave and not make the 2nd Flush.

they see the partially un-flushed Toilet Bowel and they Flush-It before they use-it.

Some Bricks may deteriorate and cause problems

An old used 1/2 Gallon Plastic Milk Jug will do the same thing and not clog-up the works inside the tank.

Designing the House with the Landry Room at the far-end of the house's internal Sewer Line helps to keep the Sewer Pipes Flushed; also having Up-stairs Bathrooms {Bath-Tubs} can keep the Sewer Pipes within the House free and flowing.

Yes I was calling into question their decision, why not use a different method as long as they are forcing you to buy "something" for "environmental" reasons like saving water, why not choose a plan to save 2 and 1/2 gallons rather than just 1 1/2gallons?

You see they are environmentalists and not plumbers so they don't know shit about shit.

Their solution was to create more problems than they solved whereas a maceration lift station would have saved more water and probably cost you the same in service calls as all the backed up sewer lines.

For many years, physicists have tried to find a unified theory of everything. They have faith that somewhere out there, there is a theory that will explain the physical properties of all things, without any exceptions. I'm not sure that dream will be realized in the scientific arena, but I think I might have stumbled across a unified theory that underlies statist philosophies, whether they are socialist or theocratic: sex.

Before you get too excited, this article isn't going to be about voluptuous women in slinky, abbreviated clothes, or scantily clad men with rippling pecs and washboard abs. Sorry.

Instead, this article focuses on the sordid, depressing, government-controlled side of human sexuality. That is, it examines sex not from the viewpoint of any given individual's particular desires, but from the viewpoint of a state intent upon gaining maximum control over that same individual.

Those of us who came of age before the 1980s, when the Judeo-Christian, Western tradition, though battered, was still ascendant, view our sexuality as a private matter. We believe that our bodies are our own property, which means that we should not be touched or controlled sexually without our consent. A person raised with this worldview inevitably believes as well that his ability to control his body is the essence of his individuality. This physical individuality is the antithesis of slavery, which represents a person's ultimate lack of control over his body.

Statist regimes, of course, cannot tolerate self-ownership, which is the natural enemy of government control over the individual. The easiest example one can find of a statist regime using sexuality to deny individuality and dominate its citizens is, of course, Islam.

A wise friend of mine once opined that Islam's entire quarrel with the West rests on its fear that Western values will undermine Islam's control over its women and, with that, its control over the men who benefit from a system that subjugates one half of the population to the control of the other half. There's a great deal of truth in that observation.

Unlike most other conflicts, Islam's quarrel with the West does not revolve around borders, water supplies, or economic control over assets. Instead, it focuses on culture -- and the heart of the Islamic cultural difference with the West, at least in the Muslim mind, is Islam's statist determination to erase a woman's individuality through control over her sexuality.

In the Muslim world, women are viewed as temptresses, and men as feeble creatures incapable of resisting feminine wiles. The only way to control the anarchy that this perceived sexual imbalance creates is for the State -- and remember that Islam and the State are indistinguishable from each other -- to exert total dominion over the women within its reach.

The best way to regulate women is to remove them entirely from view. Islam has traditionally relied upon harems to isolate women from view (and, not coincidentally, from the body politic). This practice is still used in Saudi Arabia, where women may not leave the home unless they are accompanied by a male family member.

Should the imprisonment option be unavailable, however, wrapping the women in completely obscuring, shapeless mountains of cloth is an adequate substitute. Women so enveloped, aside from losing any individuality, are relatively dysfunctional and, therefore, are entirely dependent on men.

Women who seek to express (or are suspected of or falsely accused of expressing) their sexuality free of statist constraints are subject to exceptional cruelty in the Muslim world. This cruelty often comes directly from the State. Sakineh Mohammadie Ashtiani, an Iranian woman and mother of two, was due to be stoned to death for allegedly having an adulterous relationship. When an outcry arose, the Iranian government threw in a surprise murder conviction to justify making adultery a capital crime. Ashtiani is not alone: Twelve other women and three men await the same fate for having allegedly committed an act that, in Western culture, is not a crime against the State.

Islam also sanctions private actions to control women's sexuality in the form of so-called "honor killings." These"all in the family" murders are endemic wherever Muslims live, whether in the Middle East, Europe, England, or America.

The Islamic state manipulates men sexually, too. On the one hand, it theoretically offers men the benefit of an enslaved female population. On the other hand, though, the isolation it imposes on women means that vast numbers of Muslim men are deprived of any access, normal or otherwise, to women.

This deprivation enables Islamic leadership to use the mere promise of sex to entice men into committing suicide on behalf of the state. Islam assures men that, if they engage in suicidal attacks against nonbelievers in order to advance Islam, their reward in the afterlife will be unlimited sex with the famous seventy virgins (or, maybe, they'll enjoy sexual congress with seventy raisins, a much less titillating inducement to suicide).

What's interesting is that, because the Left expresses itself in terms of "freeing" people's sexuality, many people miss the fact that it is every bit as sexually controlling in its own way as Islam is. This control comes about because the Left works assiduously to decouple sex from a person's own sense of bodily privacy and, by extension, self-ownership. If a person has no sense of autonomy, that person is a ready-made cog for the statist machinery.

The practical problem for the Left when it tries to attack individuality as expressed through sexuality is the fact that a person's sense of an inviolate physical self develops quite early, during childhood:

Once a child individuates, he becomes aware of being his own self. ... The most basic thing one can own is one's own self, and not letting others touch that self in ways you don't like is an exercise in self-ownership. (Emphasis mine.)

The Left, therefore, needs to decouple self and body as early as possible in a person's development -- and it does this by bringing its own peculiar notions of sexuality into the realms of child-rearing and education.

Once upon a time, the radical Leftists were quite open about their agenda. In the late 1960s and early 1970s, German Leftists explicitly sought childhood "sexual liberation" as a political goal. In practice, this meant exposing children to adult sexual practices, focusing obsessively on the children's external sexual organs, speaking about sexual matters in the crudest terms, and, unsurprisingly, engaging in actual sexual molestation. The Leftists advocating this liberation framed it as a way to break free of stifling bourgeois notions of morality that enslaved people and prevented them from realizing full sexual pleasure.

Reading the Leftists' contemporaneous literature, however, reveals a more comprehensive aim than merely breaking those much-derided bourgeois sexual chains. The Leftists also intended to destroy the traditional nuclear family, with its bright lines between parent and child, and to bring down the capitalist system, which is dependent on a competitive, and therefore individualized, workforce:

For instance, "Revolution der Erziehung" ("The Revolution in Education"), a work published by Rowohlt in 1971, which quickly became a bestseller, addresses sexuality as follows: "The de-eroticization of family life, from the prohibition of sexual activity among children to the taboo of incest, serves as preparation for total assimilation -- as preparation for the hostile treatment of sexual pleasure in school and voluntary subjugation to a dehumanizing labor system." (Emphasis mine.)

Nor can the above ranting be excused as the thoughts of a radical fringe. For example, these same European Leftists infiltrated the Catholic Diocese in Mechelen-Brussels, in Belgium, creating a sickening environment that actively promoted pedophilia. In other words, this particular church's forays into perversion were not the secretive gropings of individual priests. Instead, there was a concerted effort, led by a liberal Belgian church hierarchy, to make pedophilia a routine practice within the Church.

Incidentally, Frank Marshall Davis, a radical Leftist who was Obama's surrogate father and mentor during his childhood years in Hawaii, fully supported this politically-driven hyper-sexualization, including sex with children. He engaged in and wrote about disturbing sexual practices such as bondage, simulated rape, undinism, and pedophilia (or, at the very least, pederasty). Since Obama's political ascendancy, both his poetic forays and his peculiar disassociative behavior have supported speculation that Davis, giving free rein to his personal preferences and his commitment to preventing the child from gaining ownership of his own body, may have practiced what he preached on the fatherless young boy given so unthinkingly into his care.

While the overheated Marxist rhetoric of the 1960s has died away, the Leftist preoccupation with childhood sexuality, and its relentless desire to have the state control a child's sexual development -- and, by extension, to deny the child self-ownership -- is still alive and well. The primary pathway the Left currently uses to decouple childhood sexual development from self-individuation is the gay rights agenda.

Many of us who believe that gays and lesbians should be free to pursue their personal lives free from discrimination have felt bewildered by our discomfort with and resistance to all of the homophilic programs that have suddenly invaded our children's schools. To use the language of the Left, though, we should "listen to our feelings."

Subconsciously, we recognize that these pro-homosexual programs have nothing to do with teaching tolerance, which is a virtue in a pluralistic society. Instead, the programs have everything to do with having the state substitute its goal of sexual, and therefore social, control in place of a parent's desire to inculcate his children with traditional Judeo-Christian values, values that focus on the inviolability of the individual, beginning with his body.

Examples abound of supposedly anti-discriminatory programs that, instead of focusing on tolerance, work to direct a child's sexual development away from the zone of privacy that is a hallmark of Western sexuality. Robin of Berkeley describes a group called "Gender Spectrum," which has the ostensible goal of allowing "transgender, gender bending, [and] gender nonconforming" children and teens to hang with each other and share their experiences. She rightly sees this not as an effort to promote tolerance, but as a way to make it "cool to dabble in polyamory and gender nonconformism," thereby "destroy[ing] the West by degrading traditional values."

Only four years ago, California narrowly escaped a legislative effort to pass a bill that would have required all California textbooks, starting in first grade, to include materials focusing on famous homosexuals -- with the focus not on the achievement that made them famous, but simply on the homosexuality itself. A parental outcry forced the legislature to retreat to something more in keeping with a free society, which is the requirement that children may not be exposed to material that is discriminatory to people based on their sexuality.

In Helena, Montana (Montana!), the school board is contemplating a K-12 sex ed program that repeatedly blurs the line between demanding tolerance, which should be an imperative in a free society, and advocating alternative sexuality, which is consistent with the Leftist agenda of separating sexuality from individuality. In Grade 2, children would be taught, appropriately, that "making fun of people by calling them gay (e.g. 'homo,' 'fag,' 'queer') is disrespectful and hurtful." By Grade 3, however, the focus is on breaking down traditional familial norms, as children are taught that to "[u]nderstand media often presents an unrealistic image of what it means to be male or female, what it means to be in love & what parenthood & marriages are like." And so it goes, with a proposed curriculum that veers wildly between respect and advocacy.

The relentless Leftist obsession with homosexuality and variations on traditional sexual gender roles is deeply embedded in the Obama administration. Last year, a vigilant blogger exposed the fact that Kevin Jennings, Obama's "Safe Schools Czar," as part of his leadership role in the Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network ("GLSEN"), aggressively promoted child pornography in the classroom. GLSEN's actions had nothing to do with creating a safe, non-discriminatory environment for young people with different sexual orientations and everything to do with using the government (i.e., public schools) to inculcate in children the notion that their bodies have no boundaries. A body with no boundaries, of course, is a body that can easily be decoupled from the individual's control and then ceded to the state.

While the gay agenda, which is cloaked in civil rights language that makes it hard to challenge, is the leading edge of the state's desire to control children's sexuality, Leftists also use the schools to manipulate heterosexual behaviors so as to destroy a child's physical boundaries. In England, parents were aghast to learn that a school was requiring its first-grade pupils to massage each other. In Iowa (Iowa!), one middle school has abandoned any pretense of traditional morality and, instead, is teaching its eighth-graders "how to perform female exams and to put a condom on a 3-D, anatomically correct male sex organ." The body is a tool, and nothing more.

Freud was right when he speculated that sex, perhaps because it is the least easily satisfied human need, may also be the most powerful physical need driving human beings. Freud, however, viewed sexuality through the spectrum of a given individual's desires. What the statists understand -- and have always understood -- is that our bodies are the first line in the battle between statism and individualism. If a person is allowed to develop a sense that his body is his own to control, he will never willingly yield to the demands of the state. Only by convincing its citizens that they have no personal autonomy, beginning with control over their own bodies, can a state completely subsume the individual to the bureaucracy.

So if you're getting an itchy feeling between your shoulderblades when you contemplate your child's hyper-sexualized reading list and gender-bending sex education curriculum, you need not fear that you have turned into a repressed, homophobic Victorian. Instead, there's an excellent chance that you are someone with a deep respect for individual freedom who resents the Leftists' efforts to co-opt your child's body as a necessary sacrifice to the State.

UPDATED

A couple of weeks ago, I did a very short post bringing to your attention some peculiarities of sexuality when it comes to the far Left. Thinking about that — and thinking about the wonderful comments you all left — led me to create a much longer post about Sex and the State. American Thinker published that post today. I have a few more things I want to add to it, things that came to my mind thanks to a vigorous and delightful conversation I had with Don Quixote.

DQ agreed with me about Sex, the State and Islam — namely, that Islam uses sex as a means of controlling its citizens (which is why adultery is a capital crime). He agreed with me about the Leftist obsessions with sex, with breaking down traditional boundaries, and with interfering with the family.

Where he and I parted ways was with my belief that the Left, by approaching sex as it does, is trying to break down individual will. His point of view is that it’s conservatives, who believe that sex should be done certain ways, who interfere more with individuality than do the Leftists. The latter, by believing sex should be boundary free seem to give more, not less, control to individuals. He has a point . . . except:

What I was trying to say in the article (and articulated much less well in conversation with DQ) is that the Leftist approach to sex implies that a person has no ownership over his body. The early German Leftist experiments had sex become a public spectacle, a notion they actively pushed onto the children in their care. Sex and the public were one.

This same notion of lack of control over ones own body is also inherent in pedophilia and pederasty. Faced with a dominant adult figure, the child is forced into “sharing” his body, whether or not that “sharing” is consistent with his individual desires.

This whole hypersexualization – this “anything goes” approach – has led to the hook-up culture that dominates American high schools and universities. Sex is unrelated to emotional relationships. It’s just something you do.

What we know from an increasing number of studies on the subject is that this culture is very damaging to girls’ self-esteem. (See this study, http://edis.ifas.ufl.edu/fy1002 for example.) They give their bodies away, not out of empowerment, but because they feel they have no control over this most personal of commodities. A girl who feels worthless, and who feels that her body is an object as to which she has no say is, to my mind, a malleable creature who will much more readily yield herself to the State. After all, by the time she’s 20 or so, there’s a good likelihood that she will have already yielded herself to a room full of strangers.

UPDATE: Here’s an apropos quotation:

“It is the duty of parents to maintain their children decently, and according to their circumstances; to protect them according to the dictates of prudence; and to educate them according to the suggestions of a judicious and zealous regard for their usefulness, their respectability and happiness.”

–James Wilson, Lectures on Law, 1791

UPDATE II: Melissa Clouthier took my idea and ran with it. http://libertypundits.net/article/the-islamists-and-liberals-fight-for-the-vagina-and-the-penis/

I love what she has to say. The only point where I part ways with her is her belief that second and third graders do not yet know about homosexuality, so that teaching true tolerance (as opposed to advocacy) is premature at that age. The sad fact is that, thanks to Hollywood, the kids do know about those things. TV shows (think: award shows), movies and especially music inundate these little people with sex. Although I would never have played it in my home, my third grader came home from school singing “I kissed a girl and I liked it,” a song he learned from his classmates. Hollywood, of course, is a liberal place….

Steve isn't posting here! Therefore he will not need to put up any money for legal services in Thailand, a country he only visits these days.
Bob, on the other hand, will need to (a) explain his involvement with a "known paedophile" and (b) his involvement with a "private" detention centre in Chiang Mai and (c) operating (not owning) a business in Thailand as a front for illegal immigration and slave trading!

Bob will need to post the escrow in UD$, not Thai baht once Thailand's finest get onto his case in a big way.

Say Hey:

Poor ole Stevie always cozying up to the Thai authorities. Bet'cha he thought he was gonna get back to me big time by joining up with farangs in blue (fib). Didn't materialize and he ended up hocking his klop outfit. Even brought his zionist fat lady and husband down to file complaint against me with the tourist police. They paid me a visit and we all had a big laugh together, especially when they described the colon detox kits that I delivered to Stevie's residence on three (3) different occasions. The Hillside Condo always would get a laugh out of it, especially the female manager. The klops departed with a load of pickle king products. They just loved the Whole Wheat pita bread. Poor ole Stevie....just can't win for losing.

No Bob, they were laughing at you for making a big deal out of something Thais regard as quite mundane. Remember, it was you who forked out the money for the colon detox kits. I reckon you bought a few dozen kits for yourself and these were leftover ones after you thoroughly cleaned yourself out. Given the amount of crap you spew here, you'd need ten times the detox of "real people"!

The joke is actually on you! After all, you're spending the money!

The only one arrested that day was YOU. No one else. The ladies were there to independently give evidence against YOU for your crimes against them! You really need to ease up on your drinking Bob. It might have multiple benefits! For instance, it might lift the fog from your mind!
Now that'd be a good start! It might also make you a little more aware of your surroundings. Like when you're at the police station being arrested! You might even stop pissing your pants! With a lot of luck, you might even begin to realise what clothes to wear and when. Would probably help if you could remember to change them, say, once a week at least! We live in hope!

> were glad to get home for a change of undies, eh? LMAO! The police

You needed a change of undies AND pyjama trousers 'cause you pissed in yours!

> were relieved that I signed your release. January 8, 2004. A day that Since when does the "arrested" sign a "release"? The way I heard it, Kramer and the ladies decided not to press further charges on the proviso that you behaved! You promised to be a good little boy and never play up again. YOU signed a pledge to that effect! Did you ACTUALLY BELIEVE it was a "release" for Kramer? Man, just how drunk were you that day??

Thank you... and that's quite a photograph.

I dispute the generally-held opinion that higher sunspot numbers mean "better propagation," though.

While the higher bands, say 7 MHz and above, improve -- the lower frequencies tend to get shorter and absorption gets higher. This bodes ill for 160 meters, for example, and 75 meters during the day goes almost silent (though it may be better at night for short to medium skip). And dramatic DX on longwave and mediumwave becomes less frequent.

No matter what, though, it's interesting, and the clouds we cannot see bring magic.

With my best,

Kevin, WB4AIO.

 WRONG Krypto. The idiots and the paedophiles have been deported (as we keep telling you) and Chiang Mai is a far better place for it.

What a busy day you have had at the keyboard today, defending Klown
Prince Kramer in what seems like hundreds of posts.
Those little pudgy tea lady fingers must be quite worn out with all the praises you are singing of your hero.

The question is WHY???

Why are you doing all this for someone you say you have never met?

Where has your in depth knowledge of all of Steve's pals come from all of a sudden?

Have you that much time to spare from your tribal duties to do all this "research" on Kramer?

Do you perhaps share the same interests as Steve and his fellow deportee?

One of those wimmin vets in particular at the Animal Medical Health center,,,, oooooo La La,,, she is soooooooo fine looking, I kid you not.She is the one who took doggy's temperture and trimmed doggy's toenails.

A tablet plus a half a tablet I have to give doggy twice each day.That other lady vet also handed me a bag of Pill Pockets.What it is, I put doggy's meds in a Pill Pocket and I give that to doggy.

ROFLMAO!

One could not be a successful Leftwinger without realizing that, in contrast to the popular conception supported by newspapers and mothers of Leftwingers, a goodly number of Leftwingers are not only narrow-minded and dull, but also just stupid.

I can only guess, but I have no doubt, he's on the top of the list!

I bet indirectly, the insurance industry is paying the tab on this one even though he does not have insurance. Shhh! It's a secret that he is owed a favor by the insurance industry.

Do you suppose..... Now that he has a heart......

Will he switch parties? Sell his stock in Muslim owned Haliburton? Be anti-war?

Let's see a former VP of the USA does not have Health Insurance - W R O N G -

Federal Employees Health Benefits Program [FEHB]
http://www.opm.gov/insure/health/

As long as former VP Cheney is alive, he will get a Big Fat US Federal Retirement Check from the US Government and have an automatic FEHB
Premiums deducted for his Cadillac Health Care Coverage and Medical Benefits.

PLUS because Cheney was a VP he will have that extra special access to US Government Health Facilities at 'no' or low cost that the FEHB will pay for.

Yeah it's no 'secret' that the 2010 Obama-Care Program will FORCE Millions of Americans to Pay Health Premiums to the Insurance Cos.
* thanks a lot Obama, Biden, Pelosi & Reid

the Obama-Care Ponzie Scheme run by Obama, Biden, Pelosi and Reid in 2010 and just 'why'
the Big Insurance Cos owe Cheney a 'favor' ?

Islam is the 6th woe put on mankind from the greatest deciever as your Koran admits.... you call him Allah, the Bible calls him Lucifer, the god of this world,
2 Corinthians 4:4 In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

Revelation 9:13 ﷺAnd the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.
15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.
16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.
17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire,*(suicide vests) and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.(fatwas,edicts and all the other virulent violence that foams out of the mouths of clerics, and imans (as toads out of their mouths in another place))
18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.
19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.
20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk

Islam the false prophet of Revelation 16:13, and here in the book of Daniel in the Old Testament. Beware those who have been decieved by this falehood.

Daniel 11:37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all. (Mohammed) 38 But in his estate shall he honour the God of forces: and a god whom his fathers(Abraham and the true Prophets) knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things (Mosques).
39 Thus shall he do in the most strong holds with a strange god (Allah), whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain.

40 And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him:
and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass over.
41 He shall enter also into the glorious land (Israel), and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, even Edom,
and
Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.
42 He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape.
43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.
44 But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him:
therefore he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many.
45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the seas in the glorious holy mountain(al aqsa in Jerusalem,oh yes and the dome of the rock...it did say tabernacles didn't it); yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

Yes, I know about the ionosphere. But what I am trying to say is that more radiation is not always "better." And there's always some, even at sunspot minima.

For example, during the bottom of the solar cycle, 75 meters is alive during the day, with stations heard many hundreds of miles away with good signals. Near the top of the cycle, the absorption is so high, you can hardly hear any stations at all daytimes on 75.

With all good wishes,

Kevin, WB4AIO.

As former VP he has a lifetime federal benefit of health insurance.
Also if he didn't have that benefit medicare would pick up 80% of the tab for any health care he received. I doubt if at 69 he would be a candidate for a HT.

I think the music between news items must be a leftover thing from the communist era. It is useful for some stations with poor audio - at least you hear the music and you know they are on the air.

I think that corona holes and the resulting solar windstream are the biggest disruption to propagation. At least here in the higher latitudes. We had an impact last night and the bands are in noticeably poorer condition today even though the K index is back to 2 (5 last night).

Seems to take about 2 days for things to get back to normal after particle impact. I look at that "current auroral oval" map at:

http://www.spaceweather.com/index.html

If there is a white mist covering the midwest, its usually bad news (like today).

There is a BP gas station across the highway (shopping mall area) from doggy's couch but I had forgotten to look and see if they were doing any business.There is another BP gas station about two miles from there I drove by on our way to the Animal Medical Health place.I saw two vehicles in the BP parking lot.I assume those two vehicles belong to the people who work there.

Burr,

I might be wrong, but I think I remember reading somewhere that many SE Asian counties prohibit the dissemination of UHF/VHF frequency assignments. The best route might be to put your scanner in search mode and see what you can figure out on your own.

Hope you're doing well!

You forgot to mention that like union members, Cheney will pay no taxes on his "Cadillac" health care benefits. Taxes are for little people, those without government/union/mafia connections.

5028. PPV Debate Idea Right vs Left

I would actually pay money to see a 8 hour debate of the "Right vs Left".
Though I don't find much on TV to watch, this would be something worth hosting a party to watch.

On the Right side... Ru$h and Bleck

On the Left side ... Olbermann and Maddow no rules other then stay on their side of the stage.

When the Left wins, profits would go to help pay for illegal immigrants.

If the right wins somehow, profits go to pay off the Iraq war debt.

A sample?

Apparently there are actually two battery companies fixing to start up here.

Of course, Wonder Boy was here yesterday for a 'ground breaking' ceremony, though I think construction had already begun on the that factory site, and I'm not sure just how far along the other currently is.

Without racial feelings that conduce to separation and differentiation, human evolution would have been impossible and you would not exist.

Races are always emerging and differentiating.

There was a time -- a momentous time, a time of great consequence -- when the first true humans no longer mated with the almost-humans around them.

On such moments of racial separation all human progress -- indeed all evolutionary progress in the universe -- depends.

With all good wishes,

Kevin Alfred Strom.

I will answer it now. I heard it from an Australian Federal Police officer who has been working in Thailand, Vietnam and Malaysia. I think he's currently working with some Indian or Pakistani law officials. He was here at a conference I attended some 6 - 8 weeks back. He has been based in Vietnam for some 20 years, has a residence there and is married to a rather nice Vietnamese lady who just happens to be my wife's niece!
What proof do I have that the information is correct? Trust! My nephew in law is not in the habit of bullshitting like you trolls!

LOL!!!!

All hearsay, bullshit, hot air and waffle. I could make a post accusing you of being a rapist and murderer, then when asked for the proof, post as you have now, with some pat and then say here's my proof.

YOU, Kryppy, are the real trouble maker and liar here, and you've just been caught out. You're just as bad as that spammer and troll Kramer. :-)

>From Tad Cook, K7RA
Seattle, WA July 16, 2010
To all radio amateurs

SB PROP ARL ARLP028
ARLP028 Propagation de K7RA

Two new sunspot groups appeared in the last week, groups 1087 and 1088. 1088 lasted just one day, on July 13, 2010 with a relative area of 10 (millionths of a solar hemisphere). Sunspot group 1087 had a relative area from July 9-15 of 30, 100, 120, 130, 70, 100 and 60.

Average daily sunspot numbers this reporting week (July 8-14) rose 2.9 points to 18.9, and average daily solar flux was up 6.4 points to 79.2. Predicted solar flux for July 16-23 is 76 on each day, then 74 on July 24-27. This is lower than recent forecasts predicted.

Predicted planetary A index for July 16 is 10, followed by 5 for each day through July 22. The next rise in planetary A index is July 23-28, when it is predicted to be 18, 12, 10, 8, 15 and 10.

Geophysical Institute Prague predicts quiet geomagnetic conditions July 16-21 and quiet to unsettled on July 22.

On Wednesday, July 14 there was an interruption at http://stereo.gsfc.nasa.gov/ in the portion of the STEREO image that faces earth, but by early Thursday morning it was restored. On July 18 around 1000z the STEREO mission coverage will reach 91 percent of the sun's surface. In February 2011 the Solar Dynamics Observatory (http://sdo.gsfc.nasa.gov/) will provide the data to the STEREO online display that appears around the zero degree meridian, and solar coverage should be at 100 percent.

Due to movement of the STEREO craft, as the gap closes on the far side, a new one facing earth will begin in January 2011. Eventually the two spacecraft will work their way around the sun and return to their original position by 2024.

In another example of sporadic-e propagation, Erik Beck, who I think might be N7FYO, reports "As I was driving outside Providence Rhode Island, at about 9:00 AM I was able to pull in loud and clear on 90.1 MHz, WXVS, Waycross, GA. By far the longest DX FM station I have encountered! This with a car radio and an in-window antenna!"

WXVS runs 79KW with a tower just north of the Okefenokee Swamp, around 1,000 miles from where Erik was driving.

Vince Varnas, W7FA of Aloha, Oregon wrote to say this about E-skip: "As the Sporadic E skip distance on the lower frequencies shortens, the E skip on higher (VHF) frequencies appears and is longer in distance (single hop). Thus, VERY short skip on 10 meters means longer skip on 6 meters and probably E skip on 2 meters at a still longer distance". He says that one way to spot 6 meter openings is to watch ten meters.

Sunspot numbers for July 8 through 14 were 11, 12, 18, 25, 22, 28, and 16 with a mean of 18.9. 10.7 cm flux was 75.6, 80, 79.9, 82.6, 80, 78.5 and 77.7 with a mean of 79.2. Estimated planetary A indices were 3, 5, 2, 5, 5, 3 and 11 with a mean of 4.9. Estimated mid-latitude A indices were 2, 4, 0, 2, 2, 1 and 7 with a mean of 2.6.

Last week (7/08) in This Is No Accident, Comrades, http://www.tothepointnews.com/content/view/4143/2/
we discussed this possibility:

"Our country is faced with an impending economic catastrophe, a Second Great Depression. It is being brought about on purpose by a political party that cares only for keeping and expanding its power, and looks upon prosperity as a threat to that power.

That party is now being threatened with being thrown out of power. If that party is evil enough and fascist enough to cause an economic catastrophe, it is certainly evil and fascist enough to cause a physical catastrophe, an Ultimate October Surprise, that will frighten and enrage voters enough to preserve its power in November.

What could this be? The most likely would be another 9/11, a massively horrific terrorist attack, perhaps even nuclear."

This week (7/13), the London Financial Times interviewed a key power-broker of the Democrat Party, Robert Shapiro, Clinton's Undersecretary of Commerce and founder of the hyper-liberal Progressive Policy Institute, on Democrat prospects in November.

http://www.precisionecon.com/Economists/bio_r_shapiro.htm
http://www.discoverthenetworks.org/groupProfile.asp?grpid=6901

Here's the money quote:

"The bottom line here is that Americans don't believe in President Obama's leadership. He has to find some way between now and November of demonstrating that he is a leader who can command confidence and, short of a 9/11 event or an Oklahoma City bombing, I can't think of how he could do that."

Did you just say, OMG?

Details
This software allows your PC to control up to 8 NRD535, RA6790, RA1792
(using the dedicated GPIB/RS232 converter) and TRC243, TRC241, TRC294, T264, EK085 (on request) receivers. It has been designed in such a way that all functions can be activated directly from the keyboard saving thus a lot of time and manipulations.

It allows to:
- Connect through any local serial port (COM1 to COM8) or through TCP/IP to RS232 connection,
- Drive the main receivers commands: frequency, mode, filters, agc, noise blanker and attenuator,
- Display in real time any receiver setting modification,
- Display the current frequency bandplan,
- Display wellknown frequency identifications,
- Automatically selects the appropriate filter bandwith and detection mode,
- Set current frequency from any number pasted in the clipboard,
- Save and Reload frequencies from a database file - and many other functions I will let you discover ...

This application has been written in Visual Basic language.

The package contains two Active/X components:
- The 'FrequencyCtl.dll' Active/X contains the frequency identification core functions.
- The 'ReceiverCtl.dll' Active/X acts as a generic wrapper for the dedicated receiver control commands.

Yep.. absolutely. What happens is that the preamp is being overloaded by high RF levels and drives the transistors (or IC) into clipping, which detects the AM signal from the strong station or stations. They would all come in at once, you would be unable to tune anything.

Ye, that's true...so you'd better sell your car, as I'm sure it has a battery in it, as do the tens of millions of existing cars in the country. For that matter, you'd better stop eating. The packaging that your food comes in is also, to quote you, a "Solid Waste Disposal Problem [.]"

Well, solar you say? The sun don't shine at night (or on cloudy days), so the solar energy is usually stored in...batteries.

I am glad to see that you are STILL not letting the facts get in your way. ;-)

All that is needed to detect AM is a CRUDE SEMICONDUCTOR JUNCTION and audio gain.

While we slept, America _became_ the Evil Empire, every bit as harmful to her own people and the peoples of the West as the Soviet Union ever was.

In fact, Russia today is more supportive of the survival of Western civilization and its founding peoples than any other nation on Earth. See

http://rt.com/Interview/2008-11-18/Interview_with_Dmitry_Rogozin.html

wherein Russia's ambassador to NATO publicly states:

"There is a new civilization emerging in the Third World that thinks that the white, northern hemisphere has always oppressed it and must therefore fall at its feet now. This is very serious. If the
